DEAN STANLEY, an English Churchman, said recently, in a sermon on Sunday,—"A State without Party, or a Church without difference or discussions, would not be a living thing!" This was sensibly said; and it is a fit rebuke to those hypocritical demagogues who pretend to be shocked by the utterance in the pulpit of opinions or judgment on acts of persons who live in the present century.

THOMAS GOADBY, the able English Correspondent of the Morning Star, confirms the statement that Spurgeon, the great preacher, has abandoned total abstinence. We did not believe the story, but so it is;—and his influence, henceforward is on the side of drinking wine and strong drink,—probably of drunkenness, tho' he may not see it. But wine is a mocker and strong drink is raging, nevertheless.

A POLITICIAN.—Colonel Watson, a well-known politician of Virginia, enjoyed great personal popularity on account of his affable manners, and whenever he was a candidate for office ran ahead of the ticket. He generally spoke to every body he met, professing to know them. On one occasion, during the last Presidential campaign, he met a countryman, whom he shook by the hand, and commenced:

"Why, how do you do, thir? I am very glad to thee you; a fine day, thir; I thee you thtill ride your fine bald grey, thir."

"No, Sir; this horse is one I borrowed this morning."

"Oh! ah! well, thir, how are the old gentleman and lady?"

"My parents have been dead about three years, Sir."

"But how ith your wife, thir, and the children?"

"I am an unmarried man, Sir."

"Thure enough. Do you thtill live on the old farm?"

"No, Sir; I have just arrived from Ohio, where I was born."

"Well, thir, I gueth I don't know you, after all. Good-morning, thir!"—Harper's Magazine.

JEFFERSON spoke freely of the political conduct of his opponents, but never commented on private character. He spoke freely of the good qualities of men. His habit was so marked in this respect that superficial observers supposed him defective in his appreciation of character. On one occasion, when he had spoken very favorably of some individual, I suggested the defective points in the man's character: he replied by asking me if I supposed he did not see these points as clearly as I did; that he always left to others to note defects of character.—T. J. Randolph.

A QUEER VISITOR.—A lady, residing on Eight street, Washington, was sitting in a back room on Thursday when she heard the front door bell of her residence ring. She hastened to the door, and was surprised to find there a large cow, which started toward her, and as she stepped to one side, the cow deliberately walked in and passed through the hall into the dining-room.

—An effort toward temperance organization and legislation, is being made in Illinois, in view of the freedom with which liquor is sold throughout the State; two thousand grog-shops being open in Chicago, seven days in the week; and a State Temperance Convention is to be held soon in Bloomington, having for its object the institution of a party that shall make prohibition its platform, and for its ultimate aim to carry a constitutional amendment making this principle the law for the State.

THE EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY
OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" [and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.
Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JAN. 1, 1869.

THE NEW YEAR.—Another Step of Old Time is marked, though not very plain to distinguish. The old year is out, and the new one in. The past is past,—not God himself hath power o'er it. The future, who can know it?—who would peiceal? The present we have, alone—let us all improve it.

The year 1868 has been an important one in the World's history,—and has gone on the record, with all its doings, public and private. Many a one who began it with us, has tired by the way and fallen out of the ranks; and so in the life campaign of the next twelve-month numerous others must be reported missing ere its close. What matter who it be,—those who are fit to live, must be prepared to die—and so that each acts well his part, what can there be to fear,—what not to hope, in either state of existence?

We congratulate our readers on the cheering prospect,—social, political and National; and give every one the kindest compliments of the season.

1868.—Good bye, old year, and we are not sorry you're gone. Memory calls to mind a year of earthquake, famine, flood, storm, murder and accident. December was the best month of ye, and that was doubtless an apology for the preceding eleven.

LIVE FOR SOMETHING.—Thousands of men breathe, move, and live, pass off the stage of life, and are heard of no more. Why? none were blessed by them; none could point to them as the means of their redemption; not a line they wrote, not a word they spoke could be recalled, and so they perished. Their light went out in darkness, and they were not remembered more than the insects of yesterday. Will you thus live and die, oh man immortal? Live for something. Do good, and leave behind you a monument of virtue that the storms of time can never efface. Write your name in kindness, love and mercy on the hearts of those you come in contact with, and you will never be forgotten. Good deeds will shine as brightly on the earth as the stars of Heaven.

☞ This is the usual time for making lots of fine resolves, to be broken next day—and for turning over plenty of new leaves, which won't stay turned, but will curl back into the same old creases and kinks again. But never mind, don't be discouraged—if at first you don't succeed, try, try again; and it is better to try and fail, than never attempt to improve.

THE NEWS.—The rear passenger cars of a train on the Sioux City and Dubuque (Iowa) Railroad, rolled down an embankment forty feet high, Dec. 22d, and no one was killed, though nearly every one of the 30 passengers were bruised.

A new census will be taken next year.

Leap year has departed.

One hundred and fifty horses were burned in a livery stable at New York, Wednesday night.

Negro outrages are reported in Georgia.

Turkey is making great preparations to fight Greece.

The new British Parliament met Dec. 29.

A battle between two bipeds, a citizen of Buffalo, N. Y., and a rooster, is reported to have terminated in favor of the latter.

Washington people call a half-and-half of snow and mud, good sleighing.

Commander Braine, of U. S. Steamer Shamokin, reports that he left Paymaster Edward Bellows in Brazil, to be tried by a court martial on the charge of swindling the Government in the matter of his bills of exchange cashed in Brazil. It is alleged that Bellows drew and disbursed the currency to the country, while he charged on his books American gold, and appropriated the difference in exchange to his own use.

Failures continue in New York. Old established firms are dropping like rows of bricks. The next three days will be full of anxiety to the shaky ones.

There are 900 Jews in Chicago.

Business in New York is terribly dull.

Antelope meat from Omaha sells for six cents a pound in Chicago.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE took place at Providence, R. I., Thursday morning at half-past 7, destroying the Printing office of the Press. About 35 printers were at work in the 4th story; and the sudden fire and smoke which filled the building, compelled them to come down, one by one, over a chain on the outside, which they did in safety. The Press Co. lose $40,000, with only $18,000 insurance. The building was worth $50,000; insured $20,000. Other parties, who had hay stored in the building, lose about $10,000, making the whole loss $100,000.—The fire was accidental. The Press will be issued as usual.

SUDDEN DEATH, PROBABLY BY FRIGHT. The Amherst Cabinet records the death of Mrs. Betsey Odell, widow of Luther Odell, of Mont Vernon, at the age of 85. On Friday night, (which will be remembered as cold and blustering,) she retired as well as usual. Accidentally the draft of the stove was left open, and during the night she was awoke by the light from the funnel in the room, which was a red heat. She was of course much startled, thinking the house on fire. Her son, Mr. William Odell, hearing a noise, came into the room, and was told by the mother that she thought the house to be on fire. He anticipated no danger except from the chimney, and, at her request, went out to examine the roof. After satisfying himself all was safe, he re-entered his mother's room, which had again become dark, and spoke to her. Receiving no answer, he concluded she had stepped into an adjoining room,—but he soon heard a gasp, and going across the room he found his mother, seated in her chair, dead.

☞ The Lowell Courier says that a new plan of giving large parties, without trouble to housekeepers and damage to furniture, carpets, &c., is coming into vogue in that city. It is to take a hall where there is ample room for dancing, laying out refreshments and furnishing all the accessories of a regular party, and inviting friends there. The plan is considered an excellent one, and is likely to be extensively adopted. Several such parties have been held, and those who have given them are delighted to be able to get up the next morning and find their domestic arrangements undisturbed.

MAGAZINES.—The Missionary Herald for Jan. has an outline Map of China; an article on China; and the "Annual Survey of the Missions of the Board." Aside from the religious bearing of these articles,—for the general information which they give, they are worth more than subscription price. The pronunciation of geographical names, as indicated in the "Annual Survey," is from the highest authority, and serves as a key to the pronounciation of all geographical names in the same countries.

Merry's Museum for January, with an attractive table of contents, is received. The Publisher gives as a premium, for every new subscriber, a patent self-binder: so that, for the small sum of $1.50, one can obtain an elegantly bound volume of nearly six hundred pages of entertaining reading, edited by Louisa M. Alcott, one of the most charming and brilliant writers for boys and girls that our country has hitherto produced.

Blackwood's Magazine, for December.—American Reprint, New York.

☞ The Herald of Health is an Original Magazine. The number for January contains many valuable articles.—Miller, Wood & Co., Publishers, New York.

PREs. SMITH'S SERMON.—Some friend has sent us the Annual Catalogue of Dartmouth College, for 1868—9; finely printed by McFarland & Jenks, Concord. And with it comes a noble sermon with this table. Gradualism of God's Working; A Baccalaurente Discourse, delivered at Dartmouth College, July 19, 1868; by Asa D. Smith, president." If his presidency is equal to his preaching, the College is highly favored by his government and guidance. The Sermon will pay for the most careful reading.

MURDER IN A CHURCH EDIFICE.—A Baltimore dispatch says:

During the annual festival of the colored people's Methodist Church at Cumberland, Md., Christmas evening, four men named Sykes, Sills, John McGirr, Michael Ryan and Thomas Sammons, with open knives and uplifted billies, rushed past both doorkeepers into the fair room, asking where Jones Cook, alias Jerry Bowles. Upon seeing these rowdies rush in, the colored people, men and women, became alarmed and commenced to retreat in all directions. Sills and McGirr caught Bowles, pushed him against the stove and stabbed him close to the heart, and as he fell McGirr pushed him to the floor and stamped on him. He died instantly. Three of the party were immediately arrested, viz., McGirr, Sills and Ryan. At the preliminary examination of the new State's Attorney, Mr. Semmes, said to the Justice that there was not sufficient evidence to hold Ryan. After the examination of another one of the party, McGirr was allowed to walk out with the crowd and escaped. As yet no great efforts have been made to recapture him.

This occurrence took place in Democratic Maryland.

—"May I ask the time of day, sir," said a stranger yesterday to Buffers.—"By all means, sir—by all means—but I can't tell you; I haven't watch-ed it lately."

— A fast boy on skates skated from Buffalo to Davenport, Iowa, a distance of ten miles, the other day, in forty minutes.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ A most absurd and malicious rumor was in circulation on Thursday, to the effect that a prominent merchant in this city had suspended payment. The report was wholly without foundation, and its author, or authors, whoever they may be, deserve the severest condemnation. What their object was in originating the slander is a mystery, as the subject of their attack is one of the most prudent and sagacious business men in the country.

POLICE COURT, Odell, J., Dec. 31.—William D. Grant, the minor who broke into the store of Lane & Hartshorn, was held in the sum of $300, to appear at the April term of the S. J. Court. Young Moses was discharged.

☞ We learn that Rev. Mr. Waterhouse of this city has accepted the call to the pastorship of the Unitarian Church at Clinton, Mass., and will enter on his duties immediately.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. 5 cents per copy. Only $2 for the year '69.

A NEW FAMILY PAPER.—The successful founder of illustrated papers in America, Frank Leslie, will issue this week a New Family Paper entitled "The New World," devoted to Romance, Travel, Discoveries, Hygiene, The Farm and the Kitchen, Art, Poetry and Humor. It is to contain several features of interest not found in any Family Newspaper now published, but required by modern wants and improvements, such as a record of recent scientific discoveries, by Prof. Joy of Columbia College; transactions of the Polytechnic and Farmers departments of the American Institute, illustrated; Health and its Laws by Dr. A. K. Gardner; Incidents of Travel and Reminiscences of Adventure by Hon. E. G. Squier and other travllers; Food and How to Cook it. The Dairy, the Orchard and the Garden. Each number is also to contain a Bill of Fare with directions for its preparation, adapted to the season, for each day of the week by the Lelands of the Metropolitan Hotel. The whole tastefully printed and illustrated.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

☞ How often do you hear the complaint from mother and father, that their son or daughter is not well; that they have no appetite; that they feel languid; that their head aches; that they are growing thin and feeble, and that they have no life or energy left. That they are low-spirited, and perfectly incapacitated to participate in any pleasures, or perform any mental or physical duty. And the question is often asked, what shall I give them? Our answer is let them try PLANTATION BITTERS moderately three times a day, and our word is for it they will recover.

HARPER'S
NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE!
"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."
Critical Notices of the Press:
The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.
We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 110,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts;—and it combines in itself the monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—TRUBNER'S Guide to the American Literature, London.
We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.
SUBSCRIPTIONS—1869.
Terms:
HARPER'S MAGAZINE one year.....$4 00
An Extra Copy of either the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $4.00 each, in one remittance; or Six copies for $20 00.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR, SELF-PRESERVATION.

A New Medical Book, the best in the world, written by Dr. A. H. Hayes, who has had more experience in dealing with disease treated upon in it than any other living physician. It treats upon the ERRORS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS and all DISEASES and ABUSES OF THE GENERATIVE ORGANS. It contains 240 pages bound in cloth, illustrated with beautiful engravings. This is no quack doctor's cheap advertising pamphlet, but a truly scientific and popular treatise by one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day. If the young and middle aged would avoid mental depression, all nervous diseases, premature decay and death, let them read Dr. Hayes' popular medical work, entitled 'The Science of Life.'—Medical and Surgical Jour.

Sent by mail, securely sealed, on receipt of price, only $1; in extra Morocco, $2. Address the Author, No. 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, (opposite the Revere House). N. B.—Dr. H. can always be consulted in the strictest confidence. INVIGORATING SECRECY and CERTAIN RELIEF. my6dly

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, combining very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.—Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa; nor is it a Syrup—for it is given can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully
H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 10 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business when others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Indistinct Vision, Nervous Forebodings of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration and Inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the debility of advanced life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, should use the remedy at once.

Too reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

☞ None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-similie of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed H. T. HELMBOLD.

JUSTLY CELEBRATED

Is the popularity of Dunstan's fine old London Dock Gin. In all parts of the world it is well known. Sold by grocers and druggists in bottles only. C. A. Richards & Co., 99 Washington St., Boston, largest Retail Wine and Spirit House in America. 43

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—STIFF JOINTS. One of the most remarkable attributes of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT is the rapidity and certainty with which it relaxes contracted ligaments and sinews. Joints that have been stiff for years have repeatedly been restored to activity by a persevering use of this matchless salve. Brisk friction should be used in applying it in such cases, so that its annealing influence may thoroughly penetrate the contracted fibres. Sold by all Druggists.

THE GREAT PICTORIAL ANNUAL.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1869, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for each of the latitudes and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive NATIONAL CALENDAR.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected.—Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the Central Manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Penn., or to the nearest dealer in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The BITTERS are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used thro'out the entire civilized world.

DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT.

Pint bottles at $1, for the cure of lameness, wind galls, scratches, sprains, bruises, splints, cuts, colic, slipping stifle, over-heating, sore throat, nail in the foot, &c. It is warranted cheaper and better than any other article ever offered to the public. Thousands of animals have been cured of the colic and over-heating by the Liniment; and hundreds that were crippled and lame have been restored to their former vigor. It is used by the first horsemen throughout the States. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for fresh supplies of this invaluable article. Over 2,500 testimonials have been received. Remember, one dollar laid out in time may save the life of your horse. Sold by all Druggists. Office, No. 10 Park Place, New York. d20 1m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS

whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the part where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried. Last Spring I heard of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the place where the pain. Relief for the pain three months I have had scarcely a twinge or the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful virtues.

THE LAST SENSATION

From using SONOMA WINE BITTERS is decidedly agreeable. No faintness, such as follows the reaction of other Bitters which are prepared with alcohol or poor whiskey. Try the SONOMA WINE BITTERS, which are sold everywhere. 72

Mortgages, bonds, deeds, costly laces, diamonds, jewelry, and all small articles of value, are received on deposit at the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston. The fear of their loss by theft or fire is thus obviated, the vaults being the best that could be devised, and guarded both day and night.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ The Chronicle commences the New Year with strong hopes and bright expectations, as usual—only more so. Our lists are increasing, and our Advertising columns always show for themselves. To the large number of patrons who are bringing us advance payment for Daily or Weekly papers, or who bestow advertising, or other patronage, we are always duly grateful; while the few, —the comparatively very few, croakers and growlers, who, because they take our paper, think they own us and should control our professional and personal opinions and actions, we most respectfully advise to attend to their own affairs; while to each, every and all.—We Wish You a Happy New Year!

☞ The Concert at the Middle Street Church, Wednesday evening, was a brilliant musical display, both vocal and instrumental. Mr. Wilcox is a thundering good player, literally and truly, for he brought thunder out of the organ, almost equal to Jove's own—in fact, so natural, that with the mind and the rain, and the expected lightning, a real storm was almost exactly simulated. Of course Mr. W. displayed all the beauties, powers, capabilities and possibilities of the elegant new Hook instrument.

And Mr. Barnabee, bass, Mr. Winch, tenor, and Miss Gates, soprano, from Boston, with songs, duets, and alto, all of a high order, made up a splendid programme. Mr. Barnabee, who was kind enough to act as master of ceremonies for the evening—improved the occasion to say a word of congratulation to the Society on the acquisition of the new instrument, which he hoped would prove auxiliary with the fine one at the Unitarian church, in increasing and developing musical taste in the city. It is almost unnecessary to add that Mr. Winch sang exceedingly well; and Miss Gates, who was unknown here, performed admirably, and was repeatedly encored, as were they all. The whole entertainment was a rich feast.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, the Committee appointed to examine the matter of encroachments on Bridge Street, reported that they found none on that Street, but that John Grimshaw's house on the corner built two or three years ago, does encroach on Hill Street fourteen inches. After considerable disgussion, as to ordering the removal of the house, &c., it was vote to simply enter the fact of the said encroachment on the City Records.

Mr. Hoyt presented a draft of a survey of the Street ordered to be laid out, connecting Summer Street with South Summer Street. It was voted to allow Mr. Hatch to urge, on the part of Mr. J. J. Pickering, opposition to the taking of any portion of his estate for said road. By the plan, a triangular strip of land would be cut off, eight feet front on Pickering, and running back on his garden 47 feet, to a point—removing a lamp-post, some elm, and several evergreen trees.

Mr. Frink appeared for Mr. Rundlett, and stated that probably his opposition to the street would be withdrawn, if the line of the old lane should be followed. After much discussion, it was voted that the old lane be followed as far back as Mr. Pickering's line, thence straight to So. Summer St. Yeas 5, nays 2. A committee of three (Gerrish, Spinney, Wendell) were appointed to assess the land damage, and report Saturday evening.

The reports of the City Marshal and Chief Engineer were accepted and placed on file.

Mayor Jones stated that he should present his last year's salary, $500, to the High School, the interest forever to be applied to the replenishing of the Library.

A SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF FANCY SHOE GOODS d9
For the Holidays, at J. O. CARR & CO.'S.

DEDICATION.—The following was the order of services at the re-dedication of the Middle Street Baptist Church, in this city, Thursday evening:

Anthem — "How beautiful are Thy dwellings;" Invocation by Rev. J. DeNormandie; Scripture Reading by Rev. H. L. Kelsey; Hymn; Dedication Sermon by Rev. Wm. Lamson, D. D.; — Dedication Hymn; Dedication Prayer by the Pastor of the Society; Anthem—"Guide me, O. thou Great Jehovah," &c.; Prayer by Rev. G. M. Adams; Benediction by the Pastor, Rev. W. H. Alden. Mr. Wilcox played the splendid new Organ, and the quartet choir of the Church presented a choice selection of music, which was performed very finely. The house was crowded, and the services highly enjoyed by the large audience.

The extra, free Organ Concert, so liberally given by Mr. Wilcox, to the waiting multitude, after the close of the services, will long be remembered by the delighted audience. Long live Wilcox! The singing of Miss Lizzie Ham, also showed again, that her voice heed never fear comparison with any other, for sweetness and purity.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,670. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. It is bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

And in NEW YORK, AT THE COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,

—AND BY—

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,

And by the Company's Advertised Agents thro'out the United States.

Bonds sents free, but parties subscribing thro' local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PROTECTING POLICY and REDUCED PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an income for life, equal to 20 per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or taking a further amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Children and their Sayings.

In the last number of Hours at Home, Charles H. Webb relates the following droll sayings of some little folks of his acquaintance:—

Very few parents realize how children—even at a comparatively tender age—cipher out the shallowness of parental excuses, and laugh in their tiny sleeves at parental inconsistencies. Instance in point, my little friend Willie.

He had just begun to go to school, but, strange to say, did not like it—for which reason I fear he can never become President of the United States. It was rather unfortunate, perhaps, that his first experience of school and of snow fell together. Temptation came to him in the shape of a sled, with red runners, and he fell an easy victim to it. So it was that about school-time he became subject to an accession of headache, which made confinement impossible, but did not at all interfere with his going out to slide after an hour or two at home.

One glorious morning, in particular, he came to his mother with a "drefful" head-ache—school was not to be thought of under such circumstances.

"Very well, Willie," said she, "if you have a bad headache you must stay at home, but remember you must not come afterwards and ask to go and slide."

Not a half-hour afterwards up came Willie—his "drefful" headache all gone—with his usual petition.

"No Willie, you know I told you if you staid at home I should not let you go out with your sled, and you wouldn't have me tell a lie, would you?"

Willie turned away thoughtfully, but a moment after his face brightened up as he saw a path out of the dilemma, and he sidled up to his mamma with a confidential whisper:

"I don't want you to tell a lie, mother, but couldn't you just fix it, you know, as you do when you put me to bed and say you are not going out, and then go?"

Not inaptly has "the faith of a little child" been held up as an example for the emulation of the grown. Harry had been told that whatever he asked for in earnestness of heart would be granted of God. It was raining one summer day, and he wanted to go out and paddle in the pitch-barrel in the pooh that had formed. "Mamma," he said, "do you think that Dod would stop raining a little while if I ask him?"

"Perhaps so," she replied.

Harry went to the window and put out his head as far as he could stretch it. "Dod! Dod!" he cried, "stop yainin' please; I want to go out and paddle."

A flash of lightning and a clap of thunder made him dodge in his head, as you've seen a terrapin retire into its shell. "Mamma," said he, "I guess Dod's angry because I didn't say mister."

By and by he tried it again: "I say Dod—Mr. Dod—won't you please stop yainin' a little?"

Coincidently, the sun looked out from the clouds, and the shower resolved itself into a few rattling drops: "That'll do, Mr. Dod," he said, waving his hand in a rather patronizing man ner, "I can put on my old hat."

A friend of mine has two bright little boys—Freddy between three and four years old, and Willie about five. A chronicle of their doings and sayings would fill volumes, but two specimens must suffice.

Both were fond of milk, and a mug of it always completed their supper. But, while in the country last summer, it so chanced that they one day saw the girl milking.

"There, Willie," said Freddy, "you see that, do you? I don't want any more milk after the cow's had it," and he withdrew very much disgusted.

That evening when their mugs of milk were placed on the table both stood untouched. A reason of this phenomenon being asked, Freddy simply declared that he did'nt want any milk after the cow had had it, but further refused to explain. Willie, however, told of the discovery of the morning.

The mother then explained to them that the milk did not come to them second-hand—that the cow ate grass, which was changed into milk by a wonderful chemical process, akin to that which produced everything in nature. In the light of this explanation Willie was satisfied, but Freddy still turned up his nose at the milk, sticking by the original proposition.

After supper, Willie, who on these important occasions always acted as expounder, took his brother aside into a corner. "It's all right, Freddy," he said, "and you can just go on drinking your milk again. The cow eats grass, and that's what makes it. Now if the cow did'nt eat the grass, you'd have to, you see. That's what the cow's for."

Freddy resumed his evening draughts. To his mind the only alternative was eating grass, and from that he shrank.

On another occasion the mother was telling Freddy about the proposed sacrifice of Isaac by Abraham, seeking his comprehension of it by the picture of it in the old family Bible. There lay the boy bound on the altar, while the patriarch brandished a huge knife, drawn back apparently within an inch of the nose of the ram, which stood looking out from the bushes as unconcernedly as though it were not his own funeral. The mother was expatiating on the greatness of the sacrifice and the opportuneness of the substitute, when Freddy, whose feelings were now worked up to fever-pitch, surprised her by shouting out, "Sheepy, sheepy, why don't you grab the knife and run?"

His sympathies lay wholly with the sheep, which will recall to the reader's mind the story of the little girl who was affected to tears on being shown the picture of Daniel in the den of lions. On being told that she need not cry, for the prophet was not devoured, it turned out that she was distressed for fear that one little lion in the corner would not get anything to eat, Daniel being evidently too small to go round.

Children, by the way, are generally great humorists—unconscious ones, often. Practical jokes, in particular, are their delight. They like, too, to provoke expectation and then disappoint it. And they do not very often commit the too common mistake of laughing at their own jokes:

"What are you going to do to-day, "Sherwood?" asked that sage grandfather. "Nothing." "Did you ever see nothing?" "Yes." "Where?" "Down a well."

"Isn't there something burning here?" asked his mother coming into the room one day where he sat. "Yes," replied Sherwood. "What is it?" (in alarm.) "Coal."

All this as grave as a judge, seemingly unaware that he was perpetrating "sells."

Breakfasting with a physician in the suburbs of New York not long since, during a pause in the conversation, little Julia began to talk very earnestly. Her father, quite stern disciplinarian, checked her in rather a nettled tone, by saying, "Who is it that you always talk so much?" "Cause I've got somesin to say," was the quick reply. So witty was the saying that the whole table greatly enjoyed it, and even the good Doctor was forced to join in the laugh. Pity that all talkers—public speakers at least—wouldn't see to it that they have "somesin to say" when they open their mouths.

What do you think of the little boy who, soon after his mother's second marriage, asked his step-father one evening for a second piece of sponge cake, which request was peremptorily refused. Fixing indignant eyes on the tyrant of the ten-table, he burst out with: "I don't care; we're sorry we married you, and mother says so, too!" He could scarcely prove a well spring of pleasure in that house.

Vindictiveness finds a resting place even in hearts which should be gentlest:

"I won't pray for you when I say my prayers," said a little girl to a companion who had vexed her, "and Jesus won't bless you—and he shan't redeem you either!" she added after a moment's pause to find a fitting culmination for her displeasure. There was a slight touch of Calvinism about the concluding threat, I think.

All children, I am sorry to say, are not good, and I know very few that are patterns of perfection. Ofte sometimes finds biographies of such in Sunday-school libraries, but not having encountered them living, and meeting them only in biographical reminiscences, I incline to think that they all die early.

"Golly!—Gosh!—Gracious!" shouted a little boy one day, something having occurred to rouse his enthusiasm.

"Why, where did you get such a word as that?" asked his mother.

"Oh, I've heard yon say gracious, and the golly gosh I just made up myself," he replied.

One little fellow whom I wot of, must have been born full of original sin, for he used the strangest adjectives and expletives as soon as he could lisp. At the time of which I write he was only three years old. His mother labored with him—and on him, occasionally—but with no lasting benefit, though she brought about spasms of repentance and promises of reformation. One day she told him she could bear him no longer; she couldn't have a little boy about her who used such language: she would put him away and get another little boy. In the bitterness and desolation of his heart, feeling himself discarded, another Ishmael, he went out into the yard and sat down on the grass to cry it out. A little bantam rooster, not appreciating the sadness of the surroundings, flew up on the fence and began a long, loud crow.

"Shut up, darn you," blubbered Bobby, through his tears; "I have trouble enough on my mind without you." He had just resolved and promised to never use that and cognate words again.

But finally it seemed that reformation was indeed affected. For two whole days he had said nothing to offend the most fastidious, and great was the rejoicing thereat. The compression, however, proved too great, the load of forbidden expletives—brickbats of the vocabulary, lay heavily on his brain and must be worked off. So one day he burst into the house in a real or simulated state of excitement. "Oh, mother!" he shouted, "what do you think? I was over across the way just now and a horse was tied there—the wickedest horse ever you did see. He just stood there and said by golly, and by gosh, and god darn you, and everything else you can think off. If you'd been there you'd a whipped him ever so hard, and so would I if I'd had a whip!"

Did ever you hear of such an expedient for relieving the overburdened mind?

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY,

102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON.

ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE.

It is a well known fact that many articles used in various families are more or less adulterated, but it is not generally known that Confectionery, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alba or White Earth" is used.

Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.

It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is adulterated.

Purchasers desirous of a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of Confectionery manufactured by me as pure as the very best Stuart's Crushed Sugar.

The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

THE

ORIENTAL

TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to Fine FLAVORED TEA, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best full-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them quite healthy pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $30 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and to be THOROUGHLY to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

85, 87 & 89 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as or more, concerning it.

SWETT'S PATENT

STOVE SHELF REST!

TO HOUSEKEEPERS!

Something New!

FOR YOUR

COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!

This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made drawing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.

THIS INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c, are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.

It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.

Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

The Chronicl

REV. JOHN P. HUBBARD.—The Providence Journal states that the result of the deliberations of the Ecclesiastical Court in this case, which has excited general interest as similar to that of Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., is a verdict of not guilty on both the charges. The decision of the majority of the Court is based upon the following considerations, viz:

1. That the Canon for violation of which the Rev. Mr. Hubbard was tried, was designed and intended to prevent the officiating of persons claiming improperly to be ministers of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and consequently does not apply to the acts of the accused in permitting the officiating of Mr. Denison.

2. That while a minister may be properly convicted of a violation of his engagement to conform to the doctrines and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church, he cannot be legally convicted of such violation under a charge of a violation of the 7th Article of the Constitution.

3. That a specification of a breach of Ordination vows cannot be considered as revelant to a charge of a breach of Article 7.

The opinions do not involve any approval of the course of Mr. Hubbard.

That is, if we understand the decision, they disapprove of Mr. Hubbard's conduct in mixing too freely with Baptist or other ministers, not Episcopal, in conducting public worship; but, as he has broken no laws, they do not depose nor condemn him. He gains the case; he did not expect to be approved in that court; but he had some reason to expect a condemnation; now that he is acquitted, he will probably pursue his chosen course, of a wider christian and ministerial fellowship than merely his own church. Such is Canon Law in Rhode Island.

JAMES I. — A Royal Portrait. — [By Chas. Dickens.]—"Our cousin of Scotland" was ugly, awkward and shuffling, both in mind and person. His tongue was much too large for his mouth; his legs were much too weak for his body, and his dull, goggle eyes stared and rolled like an idiot's. He was cunning, covetous, wasteful, idle, drunken, greedy, dirty, cowardly, a great swearer, and the most conceited man on earth.—His figure—what is commonly called ricketty from his birth—presented the most ridiculous appearance that can be imagined, dressed in thick padded clothes, as a safeguard against being stabbed—of which he lived in continual fear—of a grass green color from head to foot, with a hunting-horn dangling at the side instead of a sword, and his hat and feather sticking over one eye, or hanging on the back of his head, as he happened to throw it on.

He used to loll on the necks of his favorite courtiers, and slobber their faces, and kiss and pinch their cheeks; and the greatest favorite he ever had used to sign himself in his letters to his royal master, His Majesty's "dog and slave," and used to address his majesty as "his Sowship." His majesty was the worst rider ever seen, and thought himself the best. He was one of the most impertinent talkers (in the broadest Scotch) ever heard, and boasted of being unanswerable in all manner of argument.—He wrote some of the most wearisome treatises ever read, and thought himself a prodigy of authorship.

He thought, and wrote, and said, that a king had a right to make and unmake what laws he pleased, and ought to be accountable to nobody on earth. This is the plain, true character of the personage whom the greatest men about the court praised and flattered to that degree that I doubt if there be anything more shameful in the annals of human nature.

He came to the English throne with great ease. The miseries of a disputed succession had been felt so long and so dreadfully, that he was proclaimed within a few hours of Elizabeth's death, and was accepted by the nation even without being asked to give any pledge that he would govern well, or that he would redress crying grievances. He took a month to come from Edinburgh to London; and, by way, I suppose, of exerting his new power, hanged a pickpocket on the journey without any trial, and knighted everybody he could lay hold of. He made two hundred knights before he got to his palace in London, and seven hundred before he had been in it three months. He also shovelled sixty-two new peers into the House of Lords—and there was a pretty large sprinkling of Scotchmen among them, you may believe.

—Mr. John W. Richards of Newark, N. J., has recently invented a new apparatus called a "low-water detector." A most important arrangement, needed in connection with every steam-boiler, as some system of alarm by which it may be instantly known to the engineer when danger approaches, from the exhaustion of water in the boiler.

Cincinnati wants to extend its boundaries.

THE EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY
OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" [and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.
Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.
A. F. CRAIG, General Agent,

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headaches, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give rise to lingering days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquillity of advancing life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily fainting. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to make the healing of the ulcers in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had confidence before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains is soon told.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JAN. 2, 1869.

THE NEWS.—John Tripp, of Vermont sued C. B. Leland for libel (laying his damages at $10000), because Leland accused him of theft. John got one dollar damages for his injured reputation.

The Chicago Tunnel is finished.

The editor of the Marksville (Louisiana) Register, who is also Clerk of the Seventh Judicial District Court, reports the total destruction of his paper by a mob led on by the editor of the Marksville Villager, a Democratic paper published at the same place.

The great libel suit of Mrs. Wilkinson versus the Chicago Tribune, that has engaged the attention of the Circuit Court for seven days and excited intense local interest, was concluded on Thursday. Mrs. Wilson claimed $10,000 damages, and the jury awarded her $7500. Application has been made for a new trial.

Jerusalem has a steam mill. An American did it.

Newburyport suffers by incendiaries.

The Postmaster General is preparing a special report to Congess urging the union of the Telegraph with the Postal service and placing all the lines under the charge of the Government.

Another colliery explosion in England, at Wigan, killed 20 or 30 miners on the last day of last year.

The English Armstrong gun is a failure.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE CHIEF ENGINEER'S ANNUAL REPORT, represents that extensive repairs have been made during the year, on Steam Fire Engine No. 1, and that both the steamers are now in good order.—The new Hose Carriages are well built and run well, but it is complained that they do not carry hose enough.

The three Hand Engines are in good order. A call is made for 1000 feet more of steamer's hose. The hand engine hose is all poor. Hooks, ladders and carriage are in good order. Reservoirs generally good; but two are leaky, and four need cleaning out. A new reservoir is called for, near the house of Ex-Mayor Bailey. We have 224 firemen.

CITY MARSHAL'S REPORT, 1868.—Fines and Costs $260.10. Total receipts, $412.20. Less warrants and witnesses, $35.68. Balance paid into the Treasury, $376.52. The arrests were, for assault 17, brawl and tumult 4, breaking and entering 8, breaking glass 1, drunkenness 154, common drunkard 3, desertion U. S. service 8, deserting House of Correction 6, disorderly conduct 7, exposing person 1, found dead 1, lodgings 157, larceny 9, malicious mischief 3, obtaining goods on false pretenses 1, persons assisted to their homes 11, suspicious persons 1, safe keeping 1; total, 373.

☞ The Methodist Society in this city, Rev. H. L. Kelsey,—and that in Newcastle, Rev. Samuel Hoyt of Newington—held the usual Watch Meetings at New Year's, praying and exhorting the old year out and the new year in. The customary services were also held at the Unitarian Church in this city, on New Year's Eve.

☞ The annual Christmas Levee of the Unitarian Sabbath School, with Stereoptic Display, was held at Congress Hall Tuesday evening; and despite the storm without, pleasure reigned within.

☞ A Northeast Snow storm, Friday, gave us a few inches of snow, and our first sleighing for the winter. It was a pretty severe storm, and ushered in the New Year rather like a lion. The railroads were badly blocked and the evening trains were several hours late.—the first time this winter.

DEDICATION AT KITTERY.—The new Methodist Church at Kittery Foreside was dedicated on Thursday forenoon with the following order of exercises:

Voluntary by the Choir; Invocation, by Rev. S. Wright; Announcement by Rev. A. C. Manson; Hymn; Prayer by Rev. Dr. W. F. Warren of Boston; Reading of Scripture Lessons, by Rev. Joel Wilson of York, and Rev. O. W. Scott of Berwick; Hymn; Sermon, from Text, "The Lord reigneth," by Rev. J. Colby of Portland; Reading of the Psalms by the same, and Congregation; Presentation by the Trustees; Declaration and Consecration; Anthem by the Choir; Benediction by the Pastor, W. H. H. Pillsbury.

Chronicle Correspondence.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.

The year dies easily. The busy struggle of the financial year finds no reflex in the bright gilding of our almost summer sky. The smile on the face of Nature as she adds another to her list of buried years, shows that our great mothers has faith in the triumph of time, even though man may fail in its proper improvement.

The usual admixtures of holiday festivities and business perplexities prevail, and while one-half of our people are earnestly striving to adjust their "balances," the other half are as eagerly squandering their gifts or seeking to scale the outworks of the castle of pleasure.

Amusement seekers were never more bewildered by the multiplicity of good entertainments offered for their patronage, and each day swells the list of announcements of good things to come.

The continued fine weather has proved irksome to those having fast horses and fine sleighs, but the class to whom "Coal $11 a ton" means chilled bodies and pinched stomachs have just cause for thankfulness therein.

The ladies, too, have improved the long term of bright days, keeping our main streets brilliant with dress. Harlequin would hardly vie with some of them in the number, vividness and incongruity of colors selected for a full promenade costume.

As Burleigh says of business in New-York, "dull" does not express the state of trade here. Still people come and go, the streets are filled, hotels thronged, and places of amusement liberally patronized. All look for a better state of things after the January settlement, and doubtless this year would compare very favorably with many that have passed, had not the sudden fortunes made in and oil war given an additional impetus to man's haste to be rich.

Magnitude must reach its utmost limits now-a-days, in most things, to attract attention; a safe weighing seven and a half tons, en route to New York, and the raising a sign on Court Street extending from No. 53 to No. 63, have interested idlers within a day or two. In the musical line we are promised for the coming summer a larger aggregation of instrumental performance, and a numerically heavier chorus than the world has ever seen before. Come and hear it, bring but cotton to stuff in your ears.

"First and Last." I'm undecided whether to begin or end with this title, which strangers soon find to be applied to the store of Mr. S. F. Lothrop, (formerly of your city,) on Washington Street, near Boylston Market. Follen sells a little of everything, and a great deal of some things, especially in the line of dry goods and small ware; is at his store early and late—the first to open and last to close, he says—: and has already been sought out by many of his Eastern friends visiting the city for supplies. M.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—At Concord, Dec. 31, an explosion, occasioned by a loaded shell being thrown into the furnace, took place at Ford & Kimball's foundry; William Gallagher, a smelter, was badly, and it is feared, fatally injured. A spectator named William McNichols was wounded in his head. The furnace was shattered to atoms.

One hundred and two persons have died in the town of Walpole since 1845 who have attained the age of 80 years and upwards. Twenty-two of them exceeded 90 years.

A Building Association is about to be formed in Dover with a view to the erection of dwelling houses to meet the wants of those who come into the city to reside and do business. Tenements are obtained there with difficulty at present.

Geo. A. Wentworth, of Dover, attempted to cross the railroad track at Somersworth Junction with his bread cart, a few days since, after the engine had passed, and came in collision with a detached car. He was severely but not fatally injured. His cart was demolished and his horse killed.

A son of Edward Miller of Great Falls lately had an arm broken by coming in contact with boys coasting in the street.

Lieut. Henry R. Towle of U. S. Revenue Service, died on the 14th of Nov. last at the United States Marine Hospital, at Key West, Florida. Lieut. Towle is a son of Col. Gardner Towle of Exeter, and leaves a young wife who resides at Sag Harbor, Long Island.

Another defeat of the red-skins at Wachita Mountains is reported, and large numbers of Indians are reported killed.

Fifty European families have been murdered in New Zealand by the Maories.

The last of the insurgents on the Island of Crete has surrendered.

BEAUTIFUL SNOW.

[In the early part of the war, one dark Saturday morning in the dead of the winter, there died at the Commercial hospital, in Cincinnati, a young woman over whose head only two and twenty summers had passed. She had once been possessed of an enviable share of beauty, had been as she herself says, flattered and sought for the charms of her face; but alas! upon her fair brow had long been written that terrible word, prostitute! Once the pride of respectable parentage, her first wrong step was the small beginning of the "same old story over again," which has been the only life history of thousands. Highly educated and accomplished in manners, she might have shone in the best society. But the evil hour that proved her ruin was but the door from childhood; having spent a young life in disgrace and shame, the poor friendless one died the melancholy death of a broken-hearted outcast.

Among her personal effects was found in manuscript the "Beautiful Snow," which was immediately carried to Enos A. Reed, a gentleman of culture and literary tastes, who was at that time editor of the National Union. In the columns of that paper, on the morning of the day following the girl's death, the poem appeared in print for the first time. When the paper containing the poem came out on Sunday morning, the body of the victim had not yet received burial. The attention of Thomas Buchanan Reed, one of the first American poet, was directed to the newly published lines, who was so taken with their stirring pathos that he immediately followed the corpse to its final resting place.

Such are the plain facts concerning her whose "Beautiful Snow," will long be regarded as one of the brightest gems in American literature.]

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and the earth below!
Over the house tops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet,
Dancing,
Flirting,
Skimming along;
Beautiful snow! it can do no wrong;
Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek,
Clinging to lips in a frolicsome freak,
Beautiful snow from the heaven above,
Pure as an angel, gentle as love.

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow!
How the flakes gather and laugh as they go!
Whirling about in their maddening fun,
It plays in its glee with every one,
Chasing,
Laughing,
Hurrying by;
It lights on the face and it sparkles the eye,
And the dogs, with a bark and a bound,
Snap at the crystals that eddy around—
The town is alive and its heart aglow,
To welcome the coming of beautiful snow!

How wild the crowd goes swaying along,
Hailing each other with humor and song!
How the gay sledges like meteors flash by,
Bright for the moment, then lost to the eye!
Ringing,
Swinging,
Dancing they go,
Over the crust of the beautiful snow;
Snow so pure, when it falls from the sky,
To be trampled in mud by the crowd rushing by!
To be trampled and tracked by the thousands of feet,
Till it blends with the filth in the horrible street.

Once I was pure as the snow—but I fell!
Fell like the snow-flakes from heaven to hell;
Fell to be trampled as filth in the street,
Fell to be scoffed, to be spit on and beat;
Pleading,
Cursing,
Dreading to die,
Selling my soul to whoever would buy,
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread,
Hating the living and fearing the dead;
Merciful God! have I fallen so low?
And yet I was once like the beautiful snow.

Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
With an eye like its crystal, a heart like its glow;
Flattered and sought for the charms of my face!
Father,
Mother,
Sister, all,
God and myself I've lost by my fall;
The veriest wretch that goes shivering by,
Will make a wide sweep, lest I wander too nigh;
For all that is on or about me, I know
There is nothing as pure as the beautiful snow.

How strange it should be that the beautiful snow
Should fall on a sinner with nowhere to go!
How strange it would be when night comes again
If the snow and the ice strike my desperate brain,
Painting,
Freezing,
Dying—alone,
Too wicked for prayer, too weak for my moan
To be heard in the street of the crazy town,
Gone mad in the joy of the snow coming down;
To lie and to die in my terrible woe,
With a bed and a shroud of the beautiful snow.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

HARPER'S

NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE!

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the world."

Critical Notices of the Press:

The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellencies of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in where pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts;—and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—TRUBNER'S Guide to the American Literature, London.

We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Sion's Herald, Boston.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Take Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from the Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are all thus made extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this the active principle, leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.—Mine is the co or of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, I am, Very respectfully,

With a feeling of confidence,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 15 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business when others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion, the exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in Dull Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU will invariably do. No treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, of little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all those diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever source originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6 50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed is the popularity of Dunster's fine old London Dock Gin. In all parts of the world it is well known. Sold by grocers and druggists in bottles only. C. A. Richards & Co., 99 Washington St., Boston, largest Retail Wine and Spirit House in America. 42

SPECIAL NOTICES.

JUSTLY CELEBRATED

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—STIFF JOINTS. One of the most remarkable attributes of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT is the rapidity and certainty with which it relaxes contracted ligaments and sinews. Joints that have been stiff for years have repeatedly been restored to activity by a persevering use of this matchless salve. Brisk friction should be used in applying it in such cases, so that its annealing influence may thoroughly penetrate the contracted fibres. Sold by all Druggists.

THE GREAT PICTORIAL ANNUAL.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1869, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive NATIONAL CALENDAR.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected.—Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the Central Manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Penn., or to the nearest dealer in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The BITTERS are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

DR. TOBIAS'
VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT.

Pint bottles at $1, for the cure of lameness, wind galls, scratches, sprains, bruises, splints, cuts, colic, slipping stifle, over-heating, sore throat, nail in the foot, &c. It is warranted cheaper and better than any other article ever offered to the public. Thousands of animals have been cured of the colic and over-heating by the Liniment; and hundreds that were crippled and lame have been restored to their former vigor. It is used by the first horsemen throughout the States. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for fresh supplies of this invaluable article. Beware of 2,500 testimials have been received. Remember, one dollar laid out in time may save the life of your horse. Sold by all Druggists. Office, No. 10 Park Place, New York. d20 1m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

THE LAST SENSATION

From using SONOMA WINE BITTERS is decidedly agreeable. No fattiness, such as follows the reaction of other Bitters which are prepared with alcohol or poor whiskey. Try the SONOMA WINE BITTERS, which are sold everywhere. 72

Mortgages, bonds, deeds, costly laces, diamonds, jewelry, and all small articles of value, are received on deposit at the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston. The fear of their loss by theft or fire is thus obviated, the vaults being the best that could be devised, and guarded both day and night.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ It is a sad item for our New Year, to chronicle the death of Captain N. G. Weeks, one of our best citizens, and a valued personal friend and patron of our own. He had been unwell for some months, and for several weeks suffered greatly; his disease, we believe, was heart affection and dropsical,—and his life went out, (it would seem to human vision, before his time,) with the last ebb of the old year's tide. Captain Weeks was a very capable and successful business man, a most companionable and agreeable gentleman, and one of the finest looking men in the city. Just at this joyous anniversary, only once or twice repeated, we sold him a lot in the Cemetery which was in our control; and as he remarked that he thought he had better secure a last resting place for his family while he could attend to it himself—little indeed did he or we think he would so soon be laid there. Oh death, thou art verily a tremendous necessity; but oh grave, thou hast no sting for such as he.

REAL ESTATE IN PORTSMOUTH.—Conveyances in December.—Compiled from the County Records for the Chronicle.—Geo. M. Marsh to Geo. B. Came for $1100. Land on Southerly side of Hanover Street.

Geo. B. Came to Frederick F. Moses for $80. Land on Hanover St., adjoining said Moses.

Eliza S. Barbour to Daniel W. Marden for $750. Land and buildings at corner of Cass and Islington street.

Daniel W. Marden to John H. Piper for $725. Land and buildings at corner of Cass and Islington street.

Moses H. Tilton to Elihu Dennett for $350. Land on Dennett street with slaughter house thereon.

John Walker to Charles E. Brackett for $370. Land on South and Mount Vernon Streets.

John G. Plummer & als. to Wm. F. Fernald for $580. 5 1-2 acres of land of the Peyton R. Freeman farm.

Ezekiel Burns to Robert Bates for $1100. Land and buildings on Jackson street.

Benj. F. Webster to Washington Freeman for $917. Land and buildings corner Broad St. and Lincoln Avenue.

☞ The new Summer Street, which was voted in the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, had the unanimous approval of the Board for its construction; on the deciding vote, five voting to adopt the old lane in part,—while one (Alderman Odion,—and he almost alone, as far as we know) wished to run straight from the North side of Middle Street, which would cut a corner from Mr. Pickering's beautiful grounds, and another (Ald. Yeaton) wanted a direct course, distinct from the Lane, across Mr. Rundlett's, with the exception of clearing Mr. Pickering, as now will be done, as the present gate entrance is to be kept.

This decision made is the best possible for all concerned, we think; and the entire street, from Middle to South, will thus be better and straighter than was otherwise practicable or desirable. The prompt action of the Board in this matter, and the ultimate acquiescence of all parties in the movement, would seem to indicate that the City as well as land-holders has learned wisdom from the past, and that it is useless to oppose needed or desired public improvements. Portsmouth has found her cost in attempting to stop new roads—for instance, the Western extension of State Street, and the Newington Road, especially.

And now that this question is apparently decided, let the future results decide on the merits of the case, and above all, let us have peace!

☞ The application of Vulcanized Rubber to making Plates for Artificial Teeth, was a great discovery, which has been almost universally adopted by the Dental profession the world ever. But it was left for Dr. Goodall, a quiet but studious Dentist of this city, to invent a method of dispensing with the usual large-sized suction, or metal clasp plates, for partial sets, and using the lightest, narrowest, prettiest little plate imaginable. This new style of elastic spring plate, is kept in place solely by its shape, and its exact scalloped fit into the interstices of the natural teeth; but besides being far more comfortable, they are also more firm and efficient than any other pattern. Such is the testimony of all who try them.

The new invention has been patented in this country and Europe, and it would seem that it cannot fail of proving a great success in every respect. At all events, it is pretty evident the Dr. Goodall was the first to use a rubber spring plate, or any plate without depending on either suction or clasps.

EXCELLENT SECURITY.
THE FIRST MORTGAGE,
THIRTY-YEAR, SIX PER CENT.
GOLD BONDS OF THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD CO.

These Bonds are the duly authorized and accredited obligations of one of the most responsible Corporations of the American Continent, and are secured by an absolute first lien upon the valuable grants, franchises, railroad equipment, buildings, etc., of the best portion of the extending eastwardly from the navigable waters of the Pacific Coast to the lines now rapidly building from the Eastern States.

They bear Six per cent. interest per annum, in gold, and both principal and interest are expressly made "payable in United States Gold Coin."

The semi-annual Coupons are payable July 1st and January 1st, in New York city.

The purchaser is charged the accrued interest from the date of the last paid Coupon, AT THE CURRENCY RATE ONLY.

The issue of Bonds constitutes one of the LARGEST AND MOST POPULAR CORPORATE LOANS of the country, and hence will be constantly dealt in.

The greater portion of the Loan is now in the hands of steady investors; and it is probable that before many months, when the Road is completed and the Loan closed, THE BONDS WILL BE EAGERLY SOUGHT FOR AT THE HIGHEST RATES.

They are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds granted by the government to the Pacific Railroad Companies.

Nearly FIVE HUNDRED MILES of the road are now built, and the grading is well advanced on two hundred and fifty miles additional.

The THROUGH LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT will be completed by the middle of next year, when the Overland travel will be very large.

The local business alone, upon the completed portion, is so heavy, and so advantageous, that the gross earnings average more than a quarter of a million in gold per month, of which 35 per cent. only is required for operating expenses.

The net profit upon the Company's business on the completed portion is about double the amount of annual interest liabilities to be assumed therefrom, and will yield A SURPLUS OF NEARLY A MILLION IN GOLD after expenses and interest are paid—even if the thorough connection were not made.

The best lands, the richest mines, together with the largest settlement and nearest markets, lie along this portion of the Pacific Railroad, and the FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF BUSINESS thereon will be proportionately great.

From these considerations it is submitted that the

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD

secured by a First Mortgage upon so productive a property, are among the most promising and reliable securities now offered. No better Bonds can be made.

A portion of the remainder of this Loan is now offered to investors at

103 PER CENT., AND
ACCRUED INTEREST, IN CURRENCY.

The Bonds are of $1,000 each.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price at any time; but all orders actually in transitu at the time of any such advance will be filled at present price. At this time they pay more than eight per cent. upon the investment, and have, from National and State laws, guarantees peculiar to themselves.

The first Mortgage Bonds are of $1,000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, payable in July and January. Both INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL ARE MADE EXPRESSLY PAYABLE IN UNITED STATES GOLD COIN. The back interest from July 1st is charged only at the currency rates.

We receive all classes of Government Bonds, at their full market rates, in exchange for the Central Pacific Railroad Bonds, thus enabling the holders to realize from FIVE TO TEN PER CENT. PROFIT and keep the principal of their investments equally secure, and receive the same rate of interest for a longer period.

Orders and inquiries will receive prompt attention. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, etc., giving a full account of the Organization, Progress, Business and Prospects of the Enterprise furnished on application. Bonds sent by return Express at our cost.

THE UNION PACIFIC
RAILROAD COMPANY
OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered, to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $32,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $610,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It never can remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, and be equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in

PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY, and the RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive a fixed income for a period of a few years, an annual income equal to twenty per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

JOSH BILLINGS ON ROOSTERS.—There is not on the whole horizon or ov live natur a more plazing and strengthening studdy than the Rooster. This remarkable package of feathers has lin for ages food for philosophik as well as the simple currious mind. They belong tew the fethered sekt denominated poetry, and are the instrumentz of menny wives. In Utah it is konsidered a disgrace tew speak disrespekful of a rooster. Brigham Young's zost of arms is a rooster, in full blast, crowing till he is almost bent over double backward.

The flesh ov the rooster is very similar tew the flesh of the hen; it is hard to distinguish the diffrence, espeshily in yure soup. Roosters are the pugilists among the domestik burds; they wear the brit, and having no shoulder tew strike from, they strike from the heel.

Roosters, according to profane history if mi edukashun remembers me right, were formerly a man, who come suddenly upon one ov the heathen gods, at a time when he want prepared tew see company, and wuz, for that offense, rebuilt over into the fust rooster, and wez forever afterward destined tew crow, as a kind ov warning. This change from a man akounts for their fightin abilities, and for their politeness tew the hens. There is nothing in a man that a woman admires more than his reddiness and ability tew smash another fellow, and it iz jiss so with a hen. When a rooster gets licked, the hens all march oph with the other rooster, if he aint half so big or handsome.

It iz pluck that wins a hen or a woman.

There is grate variety ov pedigree among the rooster race, but for stiddy bizness give me the old lash domingique rooster, short-legged, and when they walk, they alwuz strut, and their buzzums stick out like an alderman's abdominal cupboard. This breed is hawk colored, and has a crooked tail on them, arched like a sickle, and as full ov feathers as a new duster.

But when you come right down to grit, and throw all outside influences overboard, there ain't nothing on earth, nor under it, that can out-style, outsteb, out-brag, or out-pluck a regular Bantam rooster.

They alwuz put me in mind ov a very small dandy, practicing before a looking-glass.

They don't weigh more than thirta ounces, but they make as much fuss as a tun. I have seen them trying tew pick a quarrell with a two-hoss wagon, and don't think they would hesitate tew fight a meeting house if it wax the least sassy tew them.

It is more than fun tew hear one ov these little chevaliers crow: it iz like a four year old baby trying tew sing a line out ov the Star Spangled Banner.

The hen partner in this concern is the most exquisite little boquet ov neatness and feathers that the eye ever roosters on. It is a luxury to watch their daintyness, tew see them lay each feather with their bills, in its place, and preside over themselves with as much delicacy as a belle before her mirror.

But the consummation is tew see the wife a mother, leading out six little chicks a bagging; six little chicks no bigger than humblebees.

It seems tew be necessary that there should be sumthing outrageous in everything, tew show us where proprioty ends and impropriety begins. This iz melancholly, the case in the rooster affair, for we hav the Shanghi rooster, the greatest outrage, in mi opinyun, ever committed in the annals of poultry.

These kritters are the kamels among fowls, they mope around the barnyard, tipping over the hay racks and stepping on the young goslins, and every now and then they crow confusion.

If enny body should giv me a shanghi rooster, i should halter him, and keep him in a box stall, and feed him on cut feed, and if he would work kind in harness, all right, if not, I would butcher him the fust wet day that come, and salt him down tew giv tew the poor.

But there aint nobodby a going tew giv me one ov this breed, kno it I know it, i don't think there iz a man on earth mean enuff to do it.

Roosters bo dut very little household work, they won't lay enny eggs, nor try tew hatch enny, nor see tew thee young ones: this satisfyes me that thar is sum truth in the mythological akkount ov the rooster's fust origin.

Yu kant git a rooster to pay enny attenshun tew a yung one, they spend their time in crowing, strutting, and occasionally they find a worm, which they make a remarkable fuss over, calling up their wifes from a distance, apparently tew treat them, but just az the hens git thare, this elegant and elaborate cuss bends over and gobbles up the morsel.

Just like a man for all the world.

—A Hindoo priest called infall the members of a large family, one of whom was known to have committed a theft, and thus addressed them: "Take each of you one of these sticks, which are all of exactly equal length, and put them under your pillows to-night; I do not at present know the offender, but you must return the sticks to me to-morrow morning, and the one belonging to the thief will have grown an inch during the night." The family retired to rest, but before he went to sleep, the man who had committed the theft, thinking to outwit the priest, cunningly cut off an inch from his stick, firmly believing by this means to attain the length of the others the next morning. The sticks were returned, and by comparing them the priest was instantly able to pitch upon the offender, to his great surprise and dismay.

A committee composed of the following gentlemen was chosen to present the interests of agriculture to the next legislature:

Rockingham county—Chas. H. Hayes of Portsmouth; Hillsborough county—John B. Clarke; Strafford county—Jos. Plummer; Cheshire county—T. H. Leverett; Sullivan county—Richard Hubbard; Merrimack county—Moses Humphrey; Belknap county—C. S. George; Carroll county—G. W. M. Pitman; Grafton county—E. W. Dimond; Coos county—B. F. Whidden.

CATTLE MARKET AT BRIGHTON.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, DEC. 31.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1628; Sheep and Lambs 4,000; Swine 200; number of Western Cattle 466; Eastern Cattle 249; Working Oxen and Northern Cattle 913.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 50 @ $14 00; first quality $12 50 @ $13 00; second quality $11 75 @ $12 25; third quality $9 50 @ $11 00; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $8 50@$9 00 ⅌ cwt; the total weight of hides, tallow, and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 10 @ 10½ ⅌ ℔; Country Hides 10 @ 9 ⅌ ℔.

Brighton Tallow 9 @ 9½ per ℔; Country Tallow 7½ @ 8 ⅌ ℔.

Lamb Skins $1 @ $1 25 each: Sheep Skins $1 @ $1 25 each; Calf Skins 90 @ 95c ⅌ ℔.

The supply from the West was small, and the quality, with few exceptions, mostly ordinary. Prices have not changed much from last quotations. Some of the best Cattle will cost 14½ @ 15c ⅌ ℔, but common grades are not selling at any advance from last week's prices. Most of the Eastern Cattle were Working Oxen, for which there has been a moderate demand. Several lots of Eastern Cattle were taken by parties to take to the western part of the State to feed.

Stores—Yearlings $18 @ $30; two-year olds $28 @ $45; three-year olds $45 @ $60 ⅌ head. Prices depend much upon their value for Beef.

Milch Cows—Extra $85 @ $110; Ordinary $45 @ $60; Store Cows $35 @ $55 ⅌ head. There are but few extra Cows in market. Prices depend much upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Working Oxen—There was a good supply in market and a moderate demand. We quote sales at from $150 @ $175.

Sheep and Lambs—The trade for good lots was very dull, and those of an inferior quality the trade was dull. Most of the Western Sheep were taken at a commission. We quote sales at lots at from $3 00 @ $5 00 ⅌ head, and 6½ @ 7½c ⅌ ℔.

Swine—Store Pigs, 200 at market; wholesale 5 @ 10c ⅌ ℔, retail 10 @ 12c ⅌ ℔. Fat Hogs—During the cold weather most of the Fat Hogs that are brought to market are dressed at the West.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

☞ The most popular Life Insurance Company in America will doubtless be the "National Life Insurance Company of the United States." The charter of this Company is not given by any State Legislature, but by the United States Congress. It is intended to cover in its operations the whole country. Its capital, not dependent upon future contingencies, is one million dollars, all paid in. Its directors and managers are men who stand at the very head of financial affairs in this country, Clarence H. Clark, Jay Cooke, and others of the very highest integrity.

There is nothing about this Company which shows any signs of possible weakness in its construction. It is not necessary that its business should increase, and its affairs flourish, in order that it may be reliable and competent to meet all losses and just demands. It is so now. Founded by men of wealth, its position is such at its very inauguration, as few companies can hope to reach after years of successful existence. There is no risk, no dependence on the future success of the Company for one's belief in its character.

Mr. Jerome C. Butler, 18 Daniel Street, Portsmouth, is the agent in Rockingham County for the "National."

THERE is no mistake about it, PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. 12

No Hospitals, in Europe or America, have as many patients as Dr. WOLCOTT, 170 Chatham square, N. Y., where all can test, free of cost, Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR, for Catarrh, or Wolcott's PAIN PAINT for the immediate removal of all pain, and certain cure of diseases. Buy none unless in white wrappers. 2wsaw

HOW TO DRAW THEM.—Extract from a letter from St. Paul, Iowa, to Phalon & Son:

"Your new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," is in urgent request here. Wish I had fifty galls. in my store to-day." Gentle druggist, the article is too precious to be sold in bulk, but if you keep it on hand you will be sure to have fifty gals in your store every day—it draws them as blossoms draw the bee. Sold by all druggists.

"Why stand you thus amazed?" To see a person of your natural beauty with a head of dry, bristling, unkempt hair! Go purchase a bottle of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative." It will transform your hair into beautiful glossy ringlets. Nothing so efficacious has ever been offered to the public.—Lowell Courier.

For Catarrh buy full Pint Bottles of Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR, in white wrappers, $1. Wolcott's PAIN PAINT is also in white wrappers only sold at druggists. 2wsaw

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY.

102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON.

ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE.

It is a well known fact that many articles used by various families are more or less adulterated, but it is not so generally known that Confectionery, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alba or White Earth" is used.

Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.

It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is adulterated.

Purchasers desirous of a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of Confectionery manufactured by me to be as pure as the very best Starch's Crushed Sugar.

The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

THE

ORIENTAL

TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST TEAS in Japan, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 3 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly sweet.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all freight.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the HORSES CARRYING DOUBLE.—An aged correspondent of the Suncook Valley Times talks pleasantly of his early days. Here is a little talk about riding:

Every farmer had a high horse block, usually set with one end in the ground at the corner of his house. On a Sabbath morning, if the farmer had but one horse, that one would be saddled and bridled, and a sort of cushioned blanket attached to the hind part of the saddle, the name of which I cannot now recall * was spread upon the back of the horse. The husband then got into the saddle, brought his horse close along side the horse-block, and the wife, who had already perched herself on the top of the block, seated herself behind the saddle and held on by putting her right arm around her husband or whoever rode before, and off they rode to church.

This reminds me of an anecdote of old Master Odiorne, of whom mention was made in a previous number of your paper. He was noted for being absent minded. He was a learned man for those times. His sphere was mathematics. He took his wife to meeting in this way one day, and at the close of the services he jumped into his saddle and was off for home, forgetting he had left his wife behind. He had not gone half way home before he came to his senses and wheeled about for his wife. Before he met her he had again got into a brown study. She observed it and said to her companions, keep still and say nothing, he'll pass right by me, and so he did. When he got in sight of the meeting house again he began to look for his wife, when he was told she had gone home on foot. He wheeled again and spurred on his horse, but she reached home first. I recollect the old master well. He was of small stature, kind and good natured, an excellent penman and a very useful man.

* It was called a PILLION. Most of the pillions were merely thick, well-made cushions, but we have seen a pillion with a frame, and small iron rail covered with cloth. U. T.

THE PENALTY OF TOO MUCH BRAIN WORK.—Dr. Parker of New York delivered a lecture last Sunday evening, in that city, in which he showed the evils proceeding from the transgression of the limits of their physical powers by literary men, &c. He said:

No man can do head work faithfully for more than four or five or six hours. If that time is exceeded, all the phosphorus is carried off, and the man becomes irritable, broken down, and has softening of the brain. I have seen this overwork in lawyers, doctors, clergymen and merchants, who have worked the brain ten hours. They have dropped under the burden. You cannot violate the law of God with impunity.—Sir Walter Scott did a large amount of brain work in his day, but he did not overwork himself. In his latter days, however, he became peculiarly embarrassed, and resorted to his literary pursuits to save himself; but he worked too hard and completely broke himself down. One of the best scholars I ever knew broke himself down in his younger days, but he lived on to seventy, though he could only work some four hours a day. After these hours he engaged in vigorous exercises to keep him out of the house as much as possible, and he continued one of the best professors in the country.

RISK OF GREAT EATERS.—Hall's Journal of Health contains the following information:

Great eaters never live long. A voracious appetite, so far from being a certain sign of good health, is a sure indication of disease. Some dyspeptics are always hungry, and feel best when eating; but as soon as they have finished eating they endure torments so distressing in their nature as to make the unhappy victims wish for death.—The appetite of health is that which is inclined to eat moderately when eating time comes, and which, when satisfied, leaves no unpleasant reminders. Multitudes measure their health by the quantity they eat, and out of ten persons nine are gratified by an increase of weight, when in reality an increase of disease; showing that the absorbents of the system are too weak to discharge their duty, and the tendency to fatness, to obesity, increases until existence becomes a burden, and sudden death closes the painful history.

—Only six months ago a woman's co-operative association was organized in San Francisco, with a capital of less than nine thousand dollars. It has furnished work to one hundred and sixty-two women, has paid out nearly ten thousand dollars in wages, and has increased its fund by more than a thousand dollars, or at a rate of more than two per cent a month.

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY
OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" [and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly UNJUST to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.
Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to those who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Thus it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give caste to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and mucous-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing—and the general health decidedly improved. When I commenced treating the patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required. Since her recovery, I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.
For sale by all Druggists. Price, $1. 8w

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JAN. 4 1869.

HANNIBAL HAMLIN.—The second term of Senator Morrill of Maine expires on the 4th of March, and there is a lively contest going on for the position, between Messrs. Morrill and Hamlin. Senator Morrill was chosen eight years ago to serve out Mr. Hamlin's unexpired term when the latter was chosen Vice President. He was re-elected in 1863 and is receiving considerable support for another term, his principal strength being his vote in favor of impeachment. It is unfortunate that the people of the gallant State of Maine have not the opportunity of laying out that other Senator, William Pitt Fessenden, who so basely betrayed them, in voting against the removal of Andrew Johnson.

But justice is tardy, and two years must elapse before judgment can be pronounced on the recreant Senator;—and it would be peculiarly appropriate for the two present Senators who represent the two sides of that important question, to be pitted against each other. Between Lot M. Morrill, the sturdy defender of honesty, and William Pitt Fessenden, the supporter of Andrew Johnson, and representative of the basest treachery, there could be no hesitation in the minds of the honorable voters of Maine as to which should be chosen.

In the present case we think the election of Hon. Hannibal Hamlin would be peculiarly gratifying to Republicans throughout the Union. Incorruptible and unswerving, he deserved better treatment in 1864 at the hands of the party,—which all will now acknowledge after nearly four years of Andrew Johnson. In the day of treachery he gave up the most lucrative office in New England, rather than countenance that treachery. His name is the synonym of honor, and his constituents can find honor themselves in honoring him.

THE NEWS.—Hoffman was inaugurated as Governor of New York on Friday.

The New Year snow storm extended as far as Chicago.

Greece is actively preparing for war with Turkey.

Nepoleon made a peaceful speech to the Diplomatic Corps on New Years day.

☞ Auctioneer Morse sold 7 shares of the Mechanics and Traders National Bank on Saturday, at $132,50, to Mr. Samuel P. Treadwell.

In a recent sermon in the Tabernacle at Salt Lake City, Brigham Young threatened to cut the sisters off from the church if they did not quit dealing with the gentiles.

It is said that Gen. Custar killed friendly as well as hostile Indians in the late battle at Wachita.

Joseph W. Davis, a Boston broker, has stepped out.

Bangor, Me., had a New Year's fire. Loss about $300,000. Insured for about $200,000. It was the most destructive fire that Bangor ever had. The freezing of the hose made hard work for the firemen.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—The Ladies of the M. E. church in Rockester have within the last fifteen months, by holding Fairs, Festivals and other associations, raised the snug little sum of $2,500 for the purpose of furnishing the meeting house, paying debts, &c.

G. Hill Hayes of Rochester has a stalk of white beans, which grew on his farm. There were 125 pods, averaging five beans each, making 615 beans.

A fire broke out in the counting room of the Cocheco Woolen Mills, at East Rochester, on Sunday morning Dec. 27. Supposed to have been caused by a coal dropping from the stove. Loss $600.

On the 1st of January the preliminary trial of Isabella Farrar, charged with an attempt to poison her husband, was resumed at Laconia before Justice Lane. Wm. N. Blair, County Solicitor, and Thomas J. Whipple, appeared for the State, and George W. Stevens for the respondent. The nurse, Mrs. Rowe, who attended Mr. Farrar in his sickness was the only witness examined.

In the railroad conductor cases, Hon. Mason W. Tappan made an able argument for the defence. He spoke seven hours.

There is considerable talk in Democratic circles about nominating General John Bedell of Bath for Governor, and of putting up other soldiers for various offices.

☞ In Newcastle 13 deaths occurred in 1868; ages from infancy to 90 years. During the 22 years and 9 months of Rev. Mr. Alden's ministry there 280 deaths have occurred, an average of between 12 and 13 a year.

—Music in the soul—A clog dance.

Sleighing!

BY GEORGE S. BURLEIGH.

With never a plume of the wind set humming,
The snow has come, and still is coming;
Yonder, and hither, and everywhere,
Its silent feet in the pathless air
Trip down, and around, and over the ground,
With a visible haste that is never heard,
With their foliage clouds and moonbeam moss.

Now merily, merrily, cheerily go
Over, and under, and through the snow,
Willie, and Lillie, and Nellie, and Joe,
Black-eyed Nellie, and blue-eyed Willie,
Hazel-eyed Lillie, and berry of shoe
Twinkling under the brow of Joe,
With the mischief in him as big as a crow!

Ho, with a shout! we are out and away!
Tangling, mingling, jangling, jingling,
Laughing, chaffing, twinging, tingling;
Bells on the horses, and belles in the sleigh,
Merrily, merrily, measure the way,
Shouting up echoes with "Caw, caw!"
To frighten the crows from thicket and haw.

Shuffle toes, muffle noses under the buffaloes!
Smothering, feathering, gathering snow,
Over and under, around and below,
Yet nobody sees but the whistling crow!
Fast through the dingle we follow the jingle,
And a fig for the fellows who dare by the ingle
When life goes leaping along the snow!

Our Boys and Girls.

A SHORT DIALOGUE.—Coppery Exchange.—It is a fact, lamentable indeed, but a fact nevertheless of which we are thoroughly convinced by personal observation in all sections of the State, that Democratic newspapers, are less extensively read and circulated than Radical journals are.

Uncle Toby. Admitting this to be the fact, what is the reason?

C. E. We are just as thoroughly and satisfactorily convinced that this excess in the circulation of opposition papers is secured in the main through individual interest and exertion.

U. T. There is a better reason than this, viz., that the so called Democratic newspapers of New Hampshire, all through the rebellion, and to the present time, have favored the rebels and their lost cause; and they misled their ignorant readers with garbled and twisted news all through the war! On this account, some of the more intelligent Democrats left the party; and many of them who have not left it, read other papers to know what the news really amounts to. A number, to our certain knowledge, supply themselves and families, with better papers than their party sheets.

C. E. We do not presume to say at this time, that the defeat of Radicalism can be secured in this State at the next election, but we do say that a full Convention in January is the best guaranty of a full vote in March, and that secured, the way to future success is rendered easy. A full vote in November would have insured us a victory in the spring.

U. T. Not quite sure.—You had as full a vote as you could get out, for a bad cause, bad candidates, and a bad alliance with rampant rebels and Andrew Johnson. You could not get out or manufacture quite enough votes then, nor probably now.

C. E. It is time, high time, that the rank and file of the Democratic party in New Hampshire, as well as elsewhere, should look to their interests directly. We have trusted too much to leaders; we have had too much of leadership.

U. T. Exactly so. If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

☞ The Congressional Committee investigating the New York election frauds, will soon begin to sit in subcommittees in different parts of the State. The Tribune urges Gov. Hoffman to be sure and bring forward the proofs of enormous Republican frauds which he lately declared he had in his possession. He will not do it, however,—any more than the Manchester demagogues, who talked in the same way about their city election, as Hoffman did about New York.

☞ We would like to know what the savans are going to do about the artesian well at St. Louis. The boring has gone down now 3,500 feet, and the temperature at the bottom is two degrees colder than at the surface. How does this comport with the received doctrine that the bowels of the earth are boiling with fervent heat? The discrepancy needs explanation.

☞ A writer in Chambers' Journal shows that earthquakes are necessary to throw up land for us to live on. Were it not for these the sea would soon swash the continents and the isles all under water. But the necessity of so many of them now, especially among such mountainous regions as western South America, is not pressing. There appears to be land enough to last us for a few centuries yet. Let the earthquakes be adjourned.

☞ It appears among the published wants, that Rochester N. Y. wants 2,500 men to marry as many maidens." The advertisement might have been made attractive by being supplemented with a list of their papas names with income returns affixed.

REAL ESTATE IN ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.—Conveyances from Sept. to Jan.—(Compiled from the County Records for the Chronicle.)—Greenland.—Enoch H. Clark to John F. Adams for $50., 29 square rods on main road leading to Portsmouth, at West corner of said Adams' land.

Joseph W. Berry to Lewis Downing Jr. and als. for $350, 1-2 acre land, bounded west and north by Ham farm.

E. A. Straw to Lewis Downing Jr. and als. for $300, land on Locke's Neck bounded east by highway called Ocean street.

David Remick to Chas. W. Mace for $75, 1-2 acre land bounded east by David Remick.

David Remick to Howard S. Frisbee for $100, 1-2 acre land bounded east by David Remick.

Robinson Foss to Chalcedonia Foss for $200, 1-2 acre land bounded east and south by Chalcedonia Foss.

Elim Rand to Albert Rand and als. for $175. woodland bounded north by Elim Rand.

Nathl. F. Jenness to Oliver P. Jenness for $75, land near the dwelling house of N. G. Jenness.

North Hampton.—Michael Dalton to Nathl. G. White for $500, 1-2 acre land bounded north by said Dalton, east by Mary B. White.

W. E. & S. L. Chesley to Otis S. Jenness for $100, 1 1-2 acres of woodland, called the Beach Ground.

Thos. Roby to Levi Batchelder and als. for $1200, 4 acres woodland bounded east and south by said Batchelder.

George Batchelder to Levi Batchelder for $100, land bounded north by Eastern Railroad, south by Levi and Geo. Batchelder.

Saml. J. Drake to Orren Smith for $15, burying lot, bounded north by John W. F. Hobbs.

Seabrook.—A. Wentworth, Trustee, to David Chase for $500, 7 1-2 acres marsh land, bounded southerly by said Chase.

Elijah Knox and als. to Wm. A. Rand and als. for $100, land for meeting house in South Seabrook.

Enoch Boyd to Joseph L. French for $200, woodland bounded north by David Boyd, east by Josiah Gove.

Clarkson Dearborn to John W. Fogg for $260, 1 acre land and buildings, bounded east by Benj. F. Brown.

☞ One good feature of New Year's Day, at Washington, deserves special notice: The marked feature of all the receptions was the absence of wine and liquors. Although nearly every house had a well spread board, there was no wine, but tea, coffee and chocolate supplied the place. The best of order prevailed throughout the entire day, partly in consequence of this circumstance.

☞ The Republican majority in California at the November election was 512. The total vote was 108,670, ten thousand less than the vote in 1860, and 1695 more than the vote in 1864. In the First Congressional District, Axtell, Democrat, has 5551 majority, and in the Third, Johnson, Democrat, has 264. In the Second District, Sargent, Republican, has 3140 majority.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 18 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advices rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on force rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and a very reasonable charge. JOHN TAGHART."

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made more favorable to the Insured than those of best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

HARPER'S
NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE!
"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."
Critical Notices of the Press:
The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.
We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellencies of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts;—and it combines in itself the race monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Harper's Guide to the Americans. Literature, London.
We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no mineral or poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

Mode of Preparation.—Buchu, in vacuo,—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little spirit, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and gutinous decoction.—Mine is the co or of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of operation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 18 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu, for weakness arising from indiscretion, The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularities, Suppression, Leucorrhœa, Menstrual Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the decline or change of life.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu and Improved Rose Wash will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those nauseous and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu in all diseases of the urinary organs, whether in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, should not remove without one trial.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. Price—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—STIFF JOINTS. One of the most remarkable attributes of Holloway's Ointment is the rapidity and certainty with which it relaxes contracted ligaments and sinews. Joints that have been stiff for years have repeatedly been restored to activity by a persevering use of this matchless salve. Brisk friction should be used in applying it in such cases, so that its unscaling influence may thoroughly penetrate the contracted fibres. Sold by all Druggists.

THE GREAT PICTORIAL ANNUAL.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1869, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for each meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected.—Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the Central Manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Pa., or to the nearest dealer in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The BITTERS are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used thro'out the entire civilized world.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d23

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "Allcock's Porous Plasters." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for almost three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Aldermen, at the special meeting Saturday evening, it was voted to pay Dr. J. F. Hall $25 for attendance on Mr. Besselievre, who had his leg broken at the laying of the drain pipe on Hanover Street.

The Special Committee to estimate land damages on account of the laying out of the new Summer Street, reported in favor of allowing the heirs of James Rundlett $266.

Ald. Odion moved to amend by inserting the sum of $100, and Ald. Gerrish offered another amendment making the sum $500.

A motion to postpone the laying out of the road indefinitely was negatived: yeas 2, nays 4.

Ald. Yeaton moved to lay out the road straight to South Summer Street from the land of J. J. Pickering, making the road on the west side, at the junction with Middle Street on a line with Summer Street. This would make the road 42 feet wide for 47 feet (the length of Mr. Pickering's land), and then 50 feet wide to South Summer Street. The motion was negatived; 3 yeas and 4 nays.

The report of the Committee was adopted, and the order for laying out the road was signed by the Mayor and four of the seven Aldermen. There will therefore be a direct (crooked) road from the jail on Islington Street to the grave-yard on South Road, and not a rum shop on the route.

An ordinance transferring appropriations was passed in concurrence with the Common Council.

A vote of thanks to Mayor Jones was passed unanimously for the fair ruling with which he has presided over the deliberations of the Aldermen during the past year.

A resolution was also adopted, tendering the thanks of the Board to Mayor Jones for his liberal donation of his salary to the High School.

The Aldermen adjourned sine die.—The Mayor made his valedictory address at Tibbetts'.

☞ Mr. Geo. T. Wiggin, Principal of the Haven School, and his faithful assistant, Miss E. M. Marshall, were each made the recipients of two beautiful presents on New Year's morning, as tokens of the love and respect of their scholars.

The Undersigned would acknowledge the receipt through the Post Office of Twenty (20) dollars from "a Friend" for the Colonization Society, to aid in sending the Freedmen from Georgia to Liberia. JOHN S. RAND.

Police Court, Odell, J., Jan. 1st.—Charles Moulton, drunk, fined $3 and costs; in all $8.76.

Jan. 2d.—George Baxter (not S. C.), drunk, fined $3 and costs—$8.76.

Newspaperial.—We have received the prospectus of a new Republican Weekly Paper, to be published at Selma, Alabama, by James Shaw, Esq., formerly of this city, and at present a member of the Alabama Legislature from Mobile. Mr. Shaw is a practical printer and ready writer, and combines the best of all requisites for his new enterprise, a thorough knowledge of the business, with rare judgment and discernment.

We shall heartily welcome the appearance of the Selma Press, knowing that in the debut of our old friend Shaw to newspaper proprietorship the city of his adoption will be benefitted by the presence of a live newspaper, with a conductor faithful to the loyal cause and the profession. Success to the Selma Press and long life to our wide awake fellow townsman.

Agencies for Procuring Patents.—Among the multiplicity of agencies, we take great pleasure in referring to one which has gained a deservedly high rank from a test of more than twenty years' successful practice,—that of R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston. Highly honorable, prompt, devoted to the interests of his clients, and possessing a thorough knowledge of the intricacies which necessarily involve the granting of patents, and their reissue, in a country where mechanical and scientific ingenuity have so broad a field, Mr. Eddy is known as one who often succeeds in obtaining patents where others have failed. All documents necessary to secure the rights of inventors are executed in a careful manner, and especial attention is paid to procuring patents in foreign countries. We refer all interested in any way in patents and inventions to his advertisement in another column, which gives fuller details.

U. S. Commissioners' Court.—The preliminary examination before Commissioner A. R. Hatch, on Thursday, of Stephen Scammon of Stratham, for passing a counterfeit $50 green back, no testimony as to the fact was introduced, but the respondent was discharged under the statute of limitations which provides that no person shall be liable to punishment for certain offences where complaint has been delayed two years, unless by indictment.

A Deserved Compliment.—A few friends of Hon. John Dame of this city, as an expression of their appreciation of his many excellent qualities, have made him a Christmas present of a Master Mason's Apron and Sash, beautifully embellished with the appropriate emblems. No doubt this unexpected token of esteem awakened such emotions of feeling as the recipient had not experienced since he received the light which has guided him on in his mysterious journey.

—At the last Maine State election the towns of Limington and Limerick had a tie vote for Representative, one giving the Republican 14 majority, and the other giving the Democrat the same number. On Monday both towns cast majorities for Edward Bragdon, Jr., of Limington, Republican.

—A certain damsel, having been aggravated beyond endurance by her big brother, plumped down upon her knees and cried: "O Lord! bless my brother Tom. He lies, he steals, he swears; all boys do; 'US GIRLS DON'T.'" Amen.

—It is a common saying that the lower order of animals have not the vices of man; yet it is certain that some of the insects are back-biters, and all the quadrupeds are tale-bearers.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Government of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $20,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $616,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Union Pacific Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in

PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,

NAVAL VESSELS

BUILT AT PORTSMOUTH, 1690 to 1868. From an interesting article in the October Number of the N. H. Historical & Genealogical Register, written by Capt. G. H. Preble, we extract as follows:

Shipbuilding was an early, and in time became a very extensive, branch of industry on the Piscataqua and its tributary streams. Foreign merchants could then, as in later times, and even to our own day, there supply themselves with vessels at a lower price than elsewhere, and it was only natural that Government should avail itself of the facilities this place offered for the construction of vessels of war. Previous to the recent civil war it is believed more national vessels had been built at Portsmouth, and in its neighborhood, than at any other seaport on this continent.

Many of these vessels were constructed on an island in the harbor opposite to Portsmouth, once called Fernald's Island, which was an appendage to the town of Kittery, in the State of Maine, but is now the site of the United States Navy Yard. This island, containing sixty-three and a half acres, was purchased of Captain William Bennett, by Jacob Sheafe, Esq., Navy Agent, during the administration of John Adams, in 1806, for $5500, and has improvements on it that, up to 1859, had cost the United States $1,972,858.

In 1867, Seavey's Island, connected with it by a bridge and containing one hundred and five acres, was purchased for $105,000, agreeably to an act of Congress passed April, 1866. A plan for the extension of the Navy Yard and the improvement of Seavey's Island has been devised: but nothing has yet been done, for want of the necessary appropriations; excepting to fit up some of the old farm houses for the accommodation of officers.

The following is a list of vessels of war, with the date of their launch, built prior to 1861. Pains have been taken to make it as perfect as possible; still, the names of some private armed ships may have been omitted.

1. Falkland, 54 guns, lchd. 1690;
2. Belford, (galley), 32 guns, launched 1696;
3. America, 50 guns, lchd. 1749;
4. Raleigh, 32 " " 1776;

687 tons, 220 men, 32 guns, as given in the British Navy List after her capture.

5. Ranger, 18 guns, lchd. 1776; Captured at Charleston, S. C., by the enemy's fleet, 1780. Her armament was 6 pounders.
6. America, 74 guns, lchd. 1782;
7. Crescent, 32 " " 1796;
8. Scammel, 14 " " 1798;

Revenue schooner, 187 tons, cost $20,000. Sold in 1801 for $8,200.

9. Portsmouth, 24 guns, lchd. 1798; Sold at Baltimore, 1801, for $34,000. Crew 220.
10. Congress, 36 guns, lchd. 1799; 1268 tons, 344 men. Cost $197,246.—Broken up at Norfolk, Va., 1836. She brought to the United States the first Ambassador from the Barbary powers.
11. Washington, 74 guns, lchd. 1814; 2269 tons, 750 men. Cost $335,800.—Was broken up at New York in 1843, and was the second 74 launched under the new organization of the Navy Department.
12. Porpoise, 14 guns, lchd. 1820; 198 tons. Cost $25,529. Lost in the West Indies on reef of Point Lizardo, 1833.
13. Tom. Bowline, 12 guns, lchd. 1814; 260 tons. Purchased for $13,000, and sold out of service in 1816.
14. Concord, 18 guns, lchd. 1828; 700 tons. Cost $115,325. Lost on the east coast of Africa, 1843. Repairs to 1840 cost $72,796.52.
15. Preble, 18 guns, lchd. 1828; 566 tons. Cost $112,782; for repairs in 1836, $44,949. Burnt at Pensacola.
16. Congress, 50 guns, lchd. 1841; 1867 tons. Cost $399,088; repairs to 1850, $122,631. Was burnt by the Rebel ram Merrimac in Hampton Roads.
17. Saratoga, 20 guns, lchd. 1842; 882 tons. Cost $159,161; for repairs, to 1850, $86,847. The cost of repairs since is not known, and she is still in the service.
18. Portsmouth, 22 guns, lchd 1843; 1022 tons. Cost $170,586; for repairs to 1850, $24,280. The cost for repairs since is not known, and she is still in the service.
19. Saranac, (side-wheel steamer,) 6 guns, lchd. 1848. Rated on the Navy Register of 1868, as a second rate; 1466 tons old, and 1238 new measurement. Cost complete, armed and equipped for sea, $435,400. Still in service.
20. Santee, 50 guns, lchd. 1855; 1726 tons. Begun in 1820, lengthened and launched in 1855. In service as a school ship at the Naval Academy.
21. Mohican, (screw-steamer) 7 guns, lchd. 1859; 994 tons old, 671 new measurement. Rated on the Navy Register of 1868 as a third rate, and in service in the North Pacific.

All the foregoing, with the exception of the Saranac and Mohican, were sailing vessels. Several have attained historical reputation, either for their own deeds, or facts connected with them, thus:

The Falkland, or, as sometimes spelt, the Faulkland, a 54 gun ship, built in 1690, by order of the British Government, was the first ship of war built on this side of the Atlantic. She was a 4th rate of that date, and is called by Cooper "The first ship of the line built in America."

Launching a ship in those early times was an event of great importance, and always attended by all persons of both sexes living in the vicinity, who expected an ample supply of good cheer; rum for the men and wine for the fair sex. We read in the life of Sir Wm. Pepperrell, that on the occasion of his launching a ship at Saco, in 1696, designed for trading purposes, he allowed and sent down to his agent a barrel of wine and a barrel of rum for the festivities of the day, and that the vessel was launched with her sails bent, it being "dangerous tarrying on account of hostile Indians in the vicinity," and "expensive to keep the men on pay."

FOLLOW THEM UP.—It is gratifying to perceive that the Republicans throughout the land are following up the work, begun immediately after the Presidential Election, of exposing democratic frauds, and, so far as possible, punishing the perpetrators thereof. Among these scamps is a probate judge of one of the interior counties of Ohio, who issued fraudulent naturalization papers in great numbers; who in fact ran a full-geared mill with which to manufacture Democratic voters to order. He was taken before a U. S. Commissioner, and on a third charge of issuing fraudulent papers ordered to find bail in $2000 to appear before a Grand Jury in April next.

—Wanted—A life-boat that will float on a "sea of troubles."

—Domestic Cannibals—Back biters.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

☞ The most popular Life Insurance Company in America will doubtless be the "National Life Insurance Company of the United States." The charter of this Company is not given by any State Legislature, but by the United States Congress. It is intended to cover in its operations the whole country. Its capital, not dependent upon future contingencies, is one million dollars, all paid in. Its directors and managers are men who stand at the very head of financial affairs in this country, Clarence H. Clark, Jay Cooke, and others of the very highest integrity.

There is nothing about this Company which shows any signs of possible weakness in its construction. It is not necessary that its business should increase, and its affairs flourish, in order that it may be reliable and competent to meet all losses and just demands. It is so now. Founded by men of wealth, its position is such at its very inauguration, as few companies can hope to reach after years of successful existence. There is no risk, no dependence on the future success of the Company for one's belief in its character.

Mr. Jerome C. Butler, 18 Daniel Street, Portsmouth, is the agent in Rockingham County for the "National."

THERE is no mistake about it, PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. 13

No Hospitals, in Europe or America, have as many patients as Dr. WOLCOTT, 170 Chatham square, N. Y., where all can test, free of cost, Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR, for Catarrh, or Wolcott's PAIN PAINT for the immediate removal of all pain, and certain cure of diseases. Buy none unless in white wrappers. 2wsaw

HOW TO DRAW THEM.—Extract from a letter from St. Paul, Iowa, to Phalon & Son: "Your new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," is in urgent request here. Wish I had fifty galls. in my store to-day." Gentle druggist, the article is too precious to be sold in bulk, but if you keep it on hand you are sure to have fifty gals in your store every day—it draws them as blossoms draw the bee. Sold by all druggists.

"Why stand you thus amazed?" To see a person of your natural beauty with a head of dry, brittling, unkempt hair! Go purchase a bottle of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative." It will transform your hair into beautiful glossy ringlets. Nothing so efficacious has ever been offered to the public.—Lowell Courier.

For Catarrh buy full Pint Bottles of Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR, in white wrappers, $1. Wolcott's PAIN PAINT is also in white wrappers only sold at druggists. 2wsaw

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY,
102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON,
ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE
It is a well known fact that many articles used in various families are more or less adulterated, but it is not so generally known that Confectionery, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alma or White Earth" is used.
Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.
It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is so adulterated.
Purchasers desiring a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of Confectionery manufactured by me to be as pure as the very best Stuart's Confectionery.
The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

AMERICAN COMPANY

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY
WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST of Fine Teas. Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.
WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."
EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, or one in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.
OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.
ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them peculiarly pure.
THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.
WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.
WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and correspondence to the
ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,
83, 87 & 89 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods to their neighbors. Our Wholesale Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.
We have appointed

SWETT'S PATENT
STOVE SHELF REST!
TO HOUSEKEEPERS!
Something New!
FOR YOUR
COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!
This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.
This INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.
PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.
It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.
Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

The Chronicle.

THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON.—Yet whoever may find much to blame in the body of the building, the architect has the full need of praise in the loveliness and grandeur of the dome. It is something unsurpassed; it springs into the sky as lightly as a bubble—as resplendently; it rests there as easily as a cloud; it seems, as it should, to be only a part of its airy surroundings. Art could do no more in its construction. That its effect is sadly impaired by the bronze Colossus, which, instead of merely accentuating it as a finial would do, crowds it down to earth, is no fault of the dome pure and simple.

It is due to that avarice which first planted the city in a swamp that the Capitol does not rear its white magnificence on some hill crowning a campagna vast as Rome's; and yet, though erected on comparatively low ground, go where you will, for miles on miles, that dome haunts and follows you; now as you see it from the heights of Arlington—while you stand in the midst of the acres of graves there and picture the terrible moment when some trumpet shall call all this army of ghosts from their trenches—rising like a guardian genius still overlooking these white head-stones that stretch away across the rolling land on every side, like the crests of mighty and melancholy waves; now as you cease treading down the purple hyacinths in the grass, and wandering under the magnolia trees, and between the breast-high hedges of fragrant box at Mount Vernon, and, turning the bend of the river almost twenty miles away, meet its great shadow resting like a film upon the air, opening slowly on the gaze like a vision, with its phantom-like length of lustrous column and setting of wind-tossed greenery.

When you behold it thus remote it seems like a dream of the past—too beautiful a thing for the common use of daily life; only men in sweeping Grecian raiment and phylactered purple should move slow and meditative through its halls—never these hurrying black beetles, these rough garments and rude gestures of the modern generations. It is possibly for some such reason that in the beginning the Capitol turned its back upon the town, rather than because the family that owned the land in front set too high a price upon their property and drove purchasers to lots in the back-ground, which, after all, is perhaps as well, as otherwise we might not have the long vista of the Avenue closed at the end by these walls rising on their grassy terraces, lifting their shining colonnades over the treetops, and sending the dome soaring upward into heaven.—HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD, in Harper's Magazine.

A WITTY REPLY.—There is an excellent story on record of an architect repudiating any connections with the building fraternity, in the case of the late eminent and talented Mr. Alexander, the architect of Rochester bridge and several other fine buildings in the county of Kent, England.

He was under cross-examination in a special jury case at Maidstone, by Sergeant Garrow, who wished to detract from the weight of his testimony, and who, after asking him what was his name, proceeded thus:

"You are a builder, I believe?"

"No sir, I am not a builder, I am an architect."

"Ah! well; architect or builder, builder or architect, they are much the same I suppose."

"I beg your pardon, sir, I cannot admit that; I consider them to be totally different."

"Oh, indeed!—perhaps you will state wherein this great difference consists?"

"An architect, sir, prepares the plans, conceives the designs, draws out specifications—in short, supplies the mind; the builder is merely the bricklayer or the carpenter—the builder, in fact is the machine, the architect, the power that puts the machine together and sets it going."

"Oh, very well, Mr. Architect, that will do; and now, after your very ingenious distinction without a difference, perhaps you can inform the Court who was the architect of the Tower of Babel?"

"There was no architect, sir, and hence the confusion."

PRETTY NEAR IT.—When the committee of the French Academy were employed in preparing the well known Academy Dictionary, Cuvier, renowned for his wit as well as his learning, came one day into the room where they were holding a session.

"Glad to see you, M. Cuvier, said one of the forty; we have just finished a definition which we think quite satisfactory, but on which we should like to have your opinion. We have just been defining the word crab, and explain it thus: Crab, a small red fish which walks backward."

"Perfect, gentlemen," said Cuvier; only, if you will give me leave, I will make one small observation in natural history. The crab is not a fish, it is not red, it does not walk backward. With these exceptions your definition is excellent."

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to this magic power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give caste to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.

IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constitutional palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only once every week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result con pletely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the female health decidedly improved. What remains is soon told.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required. Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her very erect general health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, (living) after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

THE NEWS.—The roof of a skating rink in Auburn, N. Y., fell in, Saturday evening, and four children had limbs broken and one of them died.

The new suspension bridge over Niagara, was opened to the public on Saturday. The bridge is the longest span on this continent.

Mr. Burlingame and the other members of the Chinese Embassy have arrived in Paris.

The Indians are committing depredations in Arizona.

The foreign conference on the Eastern question meets Jan. 9.

The Cuban revolution is reported to be very successful. The Cubans have yellow fever as their ally against the coming Spanish troops. Leading Cubans write that the movement now is for a separate nationality instead of annexation, and that the abolition of slavery is included in the plan.

Boston has 413 policemen, 32,885 pupils attending public schools, and a public library of 150,000 volumes. $230,000 were expended last year for the relief of the poor.

The Newburyport city debt is $214,-000.

The Boston city debt is $18,228,502,-75; increase $1,239,210,51; assets on hand for redemption of debt $5,818,-309,75.

Judge James T. Elliott has been elected member of Congress in the Second Arkansas District to fill the vacancy caused by the assassination of James Hinds. Judge Elliott was the Republican candidate, and there were two opposing candidates in the field.

A bill has passed the Dakota House of Representatives by five majority, giving woman the right to vote and hold office. Women are scarce in Dakota, probably, and suffrage is held out as an inducement to female immigration.

STABS.—A special dispatch from Malaga reports that the insurgents there fired on a boat of the American steamer Swatara, while conveying an American family to the ship. Gen. Serrano expressed much regret at the act, and assured the United States Minister that the guilty ones would be punished. A short time after, the troops attacked the insurgents in the streets and carried their barricades, and dispersed the rebels with slight loss.

A London dispatch confirms the occupation of Malaga by Gen. Roda. The insurgents loss was 400 killed and 600 prisoners.

It is believed the Provisional Government contemplates a coup d'etat in favor of placing Montpessier on the throne of Spain as soon as the citizens in the province of Malaga are disarmed, and before the Cortes has a chance to assemble. Generals Serrano and Roda support, but Gen. Prim opposes the movement. The Spanish people generally favor a Republic, but will be overpowered by the military.

PRESIDENTIAL VOTES.—At the late Presidential election Grant and Colfax had a popular majority of 300,000, and received 212 electoral votes out of 286. Of this 300,000 majority, more than 280,000 was given in seven States, which, in the aggregate, cast only 59 electoral votes, viz: Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas. From this statement it will be seen that the heavy Republican majorities were in two localities—in the East and the West. Outside of these seven States, the majority of that party in the late contest was only 21,000. Seymour obtained 200,000 majority in the four States of Kentucky, Maryland, Georgia and Louisiana, which cast only 34 electoral votes. In the rest of the Union the contest between them was close and sharp.

OLD FOLKS' CONCERT AT CANDIA.—A concert was given at the Congregational Church in Candia Thursday evening, in which the singers of that old puritanic town appeared in the garb and character of "old folks." They had a joyous time with many happy greetings and some excellent music.

But one of the most agreeable features of the evening was a social hour in connection with the entertainment. A large party of more than fifty gentlemen and ladies of Manchester, either natives or former residents of that place, went over there with teams. It was at a rather late hour of last year that they took their departure, and their return was made at an equally early period in the year of grace 1869.

There was some "talking in meeting" on the occasion, Gov. Smyth, Dea. Henry Clough, and others of Manchester, taking a part.

The Candia people are making an effort to purchase an organ for the "church on the hill," and last night received quite an accession in money and promises to pay. They are to buy a good one, with the assurance from responsible parties, that there is money enough to pay the bills.—Mirror.

THE INDIAN WAR.—Gen. Sherman has received a letter from Gen. Sheridan, dated Fort Cobb, Dec. 19, noting his arrival there the day previous, with Gen. Custar's 7th cavalry and ten companies of the 19th Kansas cavalry, in all about 1800 men. Gen. Sheridan spent one day on Custar's battle field and found the bodies of Major Elliott and 16 soldiers, also the bodies of Mrs Blinn and child, white captives in the Indian camp. Mrs. Blinn was shot through the forehead and the child's brains were dashed out. Gen. Sheridan followed on the trail down the Washita 70 miles, when he came upon the camp of the Kiowas, who met him with a letter from Gen. Hazen, which declared them to be friendly. He required the Indians to accompany him to Fort Cobb, but discovered, while traveling toward that point, that they were sending their families to the Washita mountains. Suspecting that they were attempting to deceive him, he took Stantanta and Lone Wolf and notified them that he would hold them as hostages, and that if all the Kiowas did not come to Fort Cobb he would hang them.

Gen. Sheridan says the Indians now realize for the first time that winter will not compel us to make a truce with them, and adds that the Kiowas have been engaged in the war all the time, and have been playing fast and loose, and that they have attempted to brow-beat Gen. Hazen since he came to Fort Cobb, but that he (Sheridan) will take the starch out of them before he leaves them.

He proposes when the Kiowas come in, to punish those who are known to have been concerned in personal acts of murder. He will send Black Kettle's sister out to the Cheyennes and Arapahoes, and command them to come in and submit to like treatment. If they refuse to come in, he will carry on the war against them in the Washita mountains. He will leave with Gen. Hazen a sufficient force to enable him to control the Indians now at Fort Cobb, and such others as may come in there.

During the march from Camp Supply the weather and snow were very severe.

In a private letter to Gen. Sherman, dated one day later, Gen. Sheridan says the Kiowas are coming in, that the Cheyennes have been very humble since their punishment by Gen. Custar, and that he has no doubt that the Arapahoes will surrender and abide by his terms, after which he has no fear of a renewal of hostilities.

☞ The Daily News is the name of a new paper at Manchester—the third Daily. It is started by John W. Moore & Co., who knows how to make a readable paper: has five columns to the page, and looks and reads well. $6 per year. Independent as in of politics.

☞ Tuesday evening, Mrs Hannah Murphy of Lawrence, went out of her house for a few minutes, leaving her baby nine months old, in the cradle, in care of a child thirty months old, and while she was gone the elder child, by some means, pulled a kerosene lamp over, which fell into the cradle and set the clothes on fire, burning the poor infant to such a degree that it died the next morning.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—At South Barnstead, Sunday evening, Dec. 27, about five o'clock, the barn of Mr. Samuel Clark was discovered on fire. The barn and all its contents were consumed. The stock was saved, with the exception of seven sheep, one yearling steer and one pig. The sheep were driven out but rushed back into the fire. It is no doubt a case of incendiarism, as no light had been taken into the barn for the winter, and a person, who was in the barn before the fire broke out, noticed the smell of kerosene and supposed that Mr. Clark had been using it about the cattle. Insurance on house and barn $1,100.

The preliminary trial of the alleged husband poisoner, at Laconia, was continued Saturday, without arriving at any conclusion. Miss Ann Moulton of Lowell, charged with being an accomplice in the crime, is on trial with Mrs. Farrar. Only two witnesses have yet been examined. It is stated that the stomach and intestines of the cat which partook of milk and died in ten minutes afterward have been examined by Dr. Jackson of Boston, and that traces of cyanide of potassium, a deadly poison, were found. A bottle containing a solution of the poison has been discovered in Mrs. Farrar's possession.

The cooper's shop connected with the flour mills of Barren, Dodge & Co., at Fisherville, was burnt Saturday afternoon. Loss $600, partially covered by insurance.

His Excellency Governor Hartman has been chosen a delegate from Warner to the Republican State Convention, which meets in Concord on Thursday next.

The famous trial of the railroad conductor case has closed, and the Board of Referees will return their verdict to the Supreme Judicial Court at its next session in Concord.

Union Block on Main street, Concord, was found to be on fire about 9 o'clock, Saturday evening;—and was put out in about 5 hours: insured $8000, which will cover the loss. The goods in it were damaged to some extent.

Rev. George E. Freeman, of Neponsett, Mass., was installed over the Congregational Church in Milford, on the 23d ult.

On Friday night at 1 o'clock, fire was discovered in a tenement in Manchester, but was soon put out, not however, till it had scorched a table, some bedding, and the corpse of an infant a week old. The infant had been laid out, and candles were burning round it, after the Catholic usage; they burnt down, while all hands were asleep, set fire the pillow, and scorched the remains of the child.

At Concord, soon after eight o'clock, Friday evening, fire was discovered in A. T. Sanger's Hat, Cap and Fur Store, in Low's Block, Main Street. Messrs. Sanger and Mellen closed the store at tea time, and did not return in consequence of the storm. The door was broken open by Mr. Hill, and the fire extinguished. It originated from a cigarette being thrown into a wooden spittoon, near the register, by some person who was in the store, and the fire burned through the spittoon and floor. It was fortunate that it was discovered early in the evening, or a disastrous fire might have been the result.

Major John Woodbury and wife, celebrated their silver wedding at Pelham, on the 26th ult. Appropriate remarks, a poem and refreshments filled out the evening. A mahogany extension table was received from the Congregational church choir, and on it was $500 worth of silver ware and costly presents. About 300 people were present.

A daughter of Charles H. Sargent of Manchester, was some time since tripped up by some cords which had been extended to indicate a grade. She died lately, and it thought this led to her death, by causing a paralysis of limbs and inducing fatal disease.

A. D. Gilson, employed in the Ranlet Car Manufacturing Co's. shop, at Laconia, came very near being stifled by the gas from burning charcoal, one day last week. The kind offices of some fellow-workmen are said to have saved his life.

A man was frozen to death, in Lowell, on Saturday morning, supposed to be Edward Lynch of Manchester.

☞ At the late Farmers' Convention at Manchester, Col. T. S. Lang, of Maine, an extensive stock-raiser and owner of the famous stallion General Knox, stated that this horse had netted him sixty thousand dollars, and increased the value of the horse stock of Maine many hundred thousands. This leads us to remark again, that the interests and wealth of this section would be similarly promoted by the possession of a similar horse here.

NEW YEAR'S CARD.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS who have been so kind to us since our residence in Portsmouth, we tender our sincere thanks and a HAPPY NEW YEAR, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of your patronage. We have endeavored to attend strictly to our own (and no-one-else's) business, and hope to be able to continue to do so.

And to those who always know more about other people's business than their own, and have been so busy in circulating late rumors, we would respectfully beg leave to advise them to try and attend to their own business, and we will guarantee that it will pay a good dividend at the close of this year of 1869. Resp'ly and truly,

HARPER'S

NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE!

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

Critical Notices of the Press:

The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellencies of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—to whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts;—and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the miscellaneous of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—THURBER'S Guide to the American Literature, London.

We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of amusing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Cough, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and source of cough, is important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (the active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.—Mine is the co or of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation is condensed by the millionth part; the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as much in Physicians' hands, but it is a syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence, I am, very respectfully

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 594 Broadway, New York. [From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted power of Nature which are accompanied by many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Society, Dread of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system disease arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely supersuding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of their organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the medicine at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed H. T. HELMBOLD.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—STIFF JOINTS. One of the most remarkable attributes of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT is the rapidity and certainty with which it relaxes contracted ligaments and sinews. Joints that have been stiff for years have repeatedly been restored to activity by a persevering use of this matchless salve. Brisk friction should be used in applying it in such cases, so that its annealing influence may thoroughly penetrate the contracted fibres. Sold by all Druggists.

THE GREAT PICTORIAL ANNUAL.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1869, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of disease, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive NATIONAL CALENDAR.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected.—Among the Almanacs to appear with this, and in the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the Central Manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Penn., or to the nearest dealer in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The BITTERS are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one small of the back, and for the other two strips I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

POLICE COURT, Odell, J., Jan. 4.—To John Robinson is due the development of the astounding fact which has not been generally known, that it is cheaper to get drunk on board of a vessel than in our public streets. John became a veritable Jack Robinson on board the schooner Starlight, and saw the light of others as seen by an attempt at star-gazing through the bottom of a glass—darkly. He was fined $3 and costs—$8.39 in all.

Thos. Quinn got not drunk on shipboard, but on Water Street, and his fine and costs amounted to $9.90.

☞ The Solicitor of the Navy Department will attend the court in York County, Maine, this month, to defend Lieutenant Commander Carpenter, in the case where he is to be tried for alleged resistance of Deputy Sheriff Bartleit, in escorting him out of the Portsmouth Navy Yard by order of the commandant, when Bartlett attempted to serve a process.

☞ It is stated that Rear Admiral Lanman, the present commandant at this Naval Station, will soon be relieved and assigned to the command of a squadron.

☞ Mr. Henry M. Thompson, the new agent of the Kearsarge Mills, entered upon his new duties on Monday.

HIGH SCHOOL SESSIONS.

Mr. Editor.—Regarding the question of two sessions, on which you published an article on the 19th, signed by a member of the committee, noticing mine in your issue of 5th, I would say, the petition did not originate with me, nor was it done at my suggestion. I simply gave a part of two days to circulate it. Several well-known gentlemen requested me to have it published, together with my written communications, which I hope the public has carefully read, as it answers beyond contradiction one of the important points, leaving circulars) in the Committee Member's Article.

If the Committee will please make the inquiry of some of the medical gentlemen, and others who signed the petition, they may learn of several cases of real suffering of several who were compelled to take their children from the school, they not being equal to the long session.

To say that none but parents and guardians of pupils can have any direct interest or voice in the management of our schools, is simply absurd. Some of them would no doubt waive their rights to be relieved from the tax for their support.

No doubt it would gratify the public to see published, the vigorous counter petition, which I am informed, was being circulated some three or four weeks.

I believe there is a large majority who desire a change in our High Schools, notwithstanding the reelection of the two very excellent gentlemanly members of the committee, one of whom I had the pleasure to vote for.

If necessary at some future day, I will notice some other points pertaining to this question; also the particulars of a further petition for a change, signed by two-thirds of all the parents and guardians of the pupils, at the Boys High School, to which there was no response. In the mean time the public will be slow to believe that there are the names of many persons on that numerously signed petition for two sessions, who are deficient in manhood, or that the CIRCULATOR or his associates are attempting or scheming against any well-considered object or institution, they will undoubtedly be willing to believe that most of the gentlemen for or against the change have at heart the greatest good of the greatest number. ☞ Philharmonic Rehearsal on Tuesday Evening Jan. 5th, at half past 7. "Esther."

—A touch of the dyspepsia growing out of a pig's foot swallowed at midnight, has changed a man's whole life, and an irregularity of the bile has made many an angel almost a fiend. If the gastric juice is all right and the blood in swimming order the world is a nice, bright pleasant place, and from which nobody is in a hurry to move; but if in that queer mysterious fluid there is any alloy, the sky of life is all cloud, the winds howl and everything is dark and dismal. If you want to feel happy, look after your digestive and circulating system.

—A little girl attending a party, was asked by her mother how she enjoyed herself. "Oh!" said she, "I am full of happiness. I couldn't be any happier unless I grow."

—"Marriage," said an unfortunate husband, "is the churchyard of love." "And you men," replied his wife, "are the grave-diggers."

SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, raise the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To those three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has real and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented to equal calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the secretions and unstop the obstructions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this valuable preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, phosphites, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood and give strength. Now has only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to crave food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

If you have no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years, is now in his prime, now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his friends and physicians pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. Dr. C. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1s4

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is on a basis that nothing but success can attend.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $20,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid.—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. There Bonds are a First Moregage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the road out of the hands of Receivers. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,670. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain Mines and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon which is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately sustain Government bond prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,

—AND BY—

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,

And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.

Bonds sents free, but parties subscribing thro' local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.

NAVAL VESSELS

BUILT AT PORTSMOUTH, 1690 to 1868.
Continued.

The Bedford, 32, launched in 1696, and the second war vessel built at Portsmouth, is styled in the cotemporary accounts a galley. I find in Navy Lists of that and subsequent dates, frequent mention of vessels of the same number of guns styled "galleys." The tonnage of the Mary Galley is stated at 595, wwich was probably about the tonnage of the Bedford. Elsewhere the Mary is put down as a "snow," which was probably the rig of these vessels.

Falconer, in his Marine Dictionary, defines "a snow as the lowest of the two masted vessels employed by Europeans," and says "sloops of war occasions" may assumed the form of snows, in order to deceive the enemy." The rig was similar to the modern full-rigged brig. Galleys, according to another authority, carried their guns on a continuous or flush deck, while frigate built ships had deep waists and high poops and forecastles.

The America 44, launched in 1749, was the third vessel of war built at Portsmouth. A model of her, presented by Madame Elwyn, daughter of the late Gov. Langdon, is preserved in the cabinet of the Portsmouth Athenæum.—It is a beautiful piece of work in mahogany, planked up as the ship would be, except that the planks of the upper deck, as well as the forecastle and quarter deck, are left off, to show the beams and carlines, knees, &c. The model is pierced for 44 guns, on two decks.

March 13, 1746, Sir William Pepperell wrote Gov. Wentworth that the Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty had directed the Hon. Peter Warren to build four ships of war in New England, two of 24 guns, and two of 44, and that Warren had written him to agree with some shipwright for the erecting and building of one of 44 guns on the Piscataqua, and asks the Governor to appoint a board to estimate the value of such a ship. The board appointed agreeably to this request reported that for such a ship "nine pounds per ton would be a fair price for the government to give for the vessel completely fitted with 44 guns."

Sir Wm. Pepperell accordingly contracted with Col. Nathaniel Meserve for the building of the ship, which was launched in 1749, called the America, and sent to London under convoy, having only one tier of guns mounted. The terms of the contract are not stated.

Lt. Col. Meserve, the builder of the America, accompanied Amherst on the second expedition against Louisburg, 1758, with the rank of Colonel, but in charge of two hundred ship carpenters, most of whom were attacked with smallpox, and Col. M. and his son died during the seige.

Pepperell's biographer says the America was esteemed one of the finest frigates in the British Navy, but the only trace I can find of her is on the Navy Lists of Sept., 1755, and May, 1856, where she is put down as in ordinary at Chatham. She does not appear to have been a very durable ship, as eight years after her launch, in 1757, a new and larger ship of the same name, and carrying 50 guns, was built in England on the Thames, whose dimensions are given as 1248 tons. A third America, rated as a 64, was built at Deptford, in 1777. Her tonnage was 1370.

The America built at Portsmouth was probably a sister ship to the "Boston" built in New England" (where is not stated) in 1749, whose dimensions are given,—862 tons, 280 men, 44 guns.—The America is said to have been built at the north part of the city, on the main land.

The next vessel built at Portsmouth, of which we have record, is the Raleigh 32, launched in 1776. Her first commander was Thomas Thompson, who appears the sixth captain in rank on the Navy List of that year. In 1777, in company with the Alfred, she took a small schooner, on board of which were found 4,390 dollars in counterfeit bills of Continental money. Some days later the Raleigh run into the midst of the British windward fleet, consisting of more than sixty sail under convoy of several men of war, and engaged the Druid, 20, for over 45 minutes within pistol shot, cutting her all to peices, and rendering her unmanageable. The near approach of the other vessels of war compelled her to leave the Druid and rejoin the Alfred. The British ships did not think it prudent to follow.

In 1778, the Raleigh was chased by a British squadron, when she is said to have "logged 11.2 on a dragged bowline." In September of the same year she was chased by the Experiment 50, and Unicorn 38, and losing her fore top mast and mizzen top gallant mast she was run on shore to avoid capture. It was intended to destroy her, but she was floated by her pursuers and commissioned as a cruiser on our coast. In this action the Raleigh had 23 killed and wounded. The dimensions given of her are from the British Navy List.

The Ranger 18, the next ship on the list, is identified with the fame of Paul Jones, and had also the honor of being the first vessel to wear the stars and stripes, and was also the first to obtain a salute for them from a foreign government.

The America 74, launched in 1782, was the first 74 gun line of battle ship ever built by our government. Cooper calls the Falkland, built in 1690, a ship of the line; but the first British 74 gun ship was the Royal Oak, of 1127 tons, launched in 1698. The America was intended for the flag ship of Paul Jones, but she was presented by the Continental Congress to Louis XVI. of France, who had recently lost the Magnifique 74, wrecked on our coast.

Cooper says the America was captured by the British from the French, in Lord Howe's engagement of the 1st of June, 1794. This is a mistake, as the ship captured in Lord Howe's action was a new ship, launched but a short time before, the French list of the preceding year stating her as on the stocks. She was probably a successor of our America, presented to the French; king 11 years previous. The ship taken in Lord Howe's engagement was taken into the British service and renamed "Impetueux," after a ship of the name captured in the same action, and subsequently burned in Portsmouth harbor, England.

The America was 182.6 feet in length on her upper gun deck, and at the date of her launch the largest 74 gun ship in the world, though according to cotemporary accounts, with her lower ports closed, presenting the appearance of a delicate frigate. A model of her is preserved in the Museum at Alexandria, D. C. Before she sailed from Portsmouth, the Viscount de Barras, an officer on board, made this miniature model of her, and sent it to Gen. Washington, who gave it to G. W. P. Custis, Esq., by whom it was presented to the Museum, June 5, 1812.

OUR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS.

The Republicans of this Congressional District have good reason to be proud (as they are) of their Representative in Congress Reared in a country village, and admitted to no educational advantages beyond the common school and the printing office, Mr. Ela was elected to Congress on account of his well known radical anti-slavery principles and his working qualities, rather than any other brilliancy of genius or excellence in oratory. And well has his brief career justified the choice of the people of the district. Active always to advance the private or public interests of his constituents, he finds time to acquaint himself with the merits of all subjects for Congressional legislation, and although making no pretensions to oratory, he brings to bear upon the attention of the House the common-sense arguments which are most effectual in the demolition of the fulminations of fancy; while on the stump, in the late political contest, his plain presentation of political truth in every-day language has reached the hearts and minds of many whose admiration only had been excited by the fancy flights of more eloquent orators.

Every where he has proved equal to the position he has assumed, and Congress has no member who will labor more arduously in the cause of that retrenchment and reform which the exigencies of the government at the present time so imperatively demand. One little matter to which he has given his attention is the government contract for the supply of paper and stationery. Many members of Congress would lose caste by giving their attention to so small a swindle; but our Representative, who by industrious labor all his life has probably not earned so much, thinks $50,000 worth saving to the government, and therefore he proposes a measure to save that amount of expenditure. Again, Mr. Ela has called the attention of Congress to the fact that certain banks (foremost of which is the Bank of the Metropolis at Washington) although having gone into liquidation, are still deriving advantage from the circulation of their notes and interest on bonds, and, he has presented a resolution providing that the affairs of such banks should be wound up, and that no insolvent bank should subsequently be a depository for U. S. disbursing officers. In the newspaper conflict that has ensued with the banking officers Mr. Ela has bravely maintained his position and fully proved that the condition of the Bank of the Metropolis demanded that such a resolution as he presented should be put through. The Pacific Railroad, too, has commanded his attention, and its affairs will command his searching investigation. The conflicting reports of committees in the interest of antagonistic corporations leave us all in a "muddle" in regard to affairs which demand investigation; but with such a Representative as Jacob H. Ela, with all the opportunity his position gives him, and his disposition fully to investigate, we may rest assured that many of the manifold schemes to defraud the government will meet with exposure and defeat.—Journal.

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY,
102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON.
ICE CREAM AND ALL KINDS OF CONFECTIONERY.
It is a well known fact that many articles used in various families are more or less adulterated, but it is not so generally known that Confections, even, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alba, or White Earth" is used.
Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person, to know where to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.
It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is so adulterated.
Purchasers will find, of a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of Confectionery manufactured by me to be as pure as the very best Stuyvesant Sugar.
The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

The Children.

(The following beautiful poem was written by Charles Dickens.)

When the lessons and task are all ended,
And the school for the day is dismissed,
And the little ones gather around me
To bid me good night and be kissed;
Oh, the little white arms that encircle
My neck in a tender embrace!
Oh, the smiles that are halos of heaven
Shedding sunshine of love on my face!

And when they are gone I sit dreaming
O my childhood, too lovely to last;
Of love that my heart will remember
When it wakes to the pulse of the past,
Ere the world and its wickedness made me
A partner of sorrow and sin;
When the glory of God was about me,
And the glory of gladness within.

Oh, my heart grows weak as a woman's,
And the fountains of feeling will flow,
When I think of the paths, steep and stony,
Where the feet of the dear ones must go;
Of the mountains of sin hanging o'er them,
Of the tempest of fate blowing wild;
Oh, there is nothing on earth half so holy
As the innocent heart of a child.

They are idols of hearts and of households;
They are angels of God in disguise;
His sunlight still sleeps in their tresses,
His glory still gleams in their eyes;
Oh, those truants from home and from heaven,
They have made me more manly and mild,
And I know now how Jesus could liken
The Kingdom of God to a child!

I ask not a life for the dear ones
All radiant, as others have done,
But that life may have just enough shadow
To temper the glare of the sun;
I would pray God to guard them from evil,
But my prayer would bound back to myself;
Ah! a seraph may pray for a sinner,
But a sinner must pray for himself.

The twig is so easily bended,
I have banished the rule and the rod;
I have taught them the goodness of knowledge,
They have taught me the goodness of God;
My heart is a dungeon of darkness,
Where I shut them for breaking a rule;
My frown is sufficient correction—
My love is the law of the school.

I shall leave the old house in the autumn,
To traverse its threshold no more;
Ah, how I shall sigh for the dear ones
That meet me each morn at the door;
I shall miss the "good nights" and the kisses;
And the gush of their innocent glee,
The group on the green, and the flowers
That are brought every morning to me.

I shall miss them at morn and at evening,
Their song in the school and the street;
I shall miss the low hum of their voices,
And the tramp of their delicate feet.
When the lessons and tasks are all ended,
And Death says, "The school is dismissed!"
May the little ones gather around me,
To bid me "good night" and be kissed.

A HELPMEET.—Mr. Richard Sinclair was of the first settlers in Barnstead. He owned a wild lot of land, a log house, a hovel and a cow. And until he could raise his own bread, he had to supply his family with corn from Dover; a distance of 25 miles.

Late in winter, he was under the necessity of going to Dover to buy corn, and as he had no horse and there were no roads, he went on foot and carried the corn on his own back.

During his absence there came a blocking snow-storm which delayed his return for several days. In the meantime his cow had eaten the last straw in the hovel and was in danger of starving before her owner's return. What could his wife do under such circumstances? What would you have done? I'll tell thee what she did. She put her hus band's snow shoes on her own feet, took his hand-sled and walked seven miles through the woods and got a load of hay for her cow! On her return a deer crossed her path. Seeing he plunged in the snow and made but slow progress, she left the sled, gave chase and soon caught the deer. The next thing was to kill it. This she accomplished by bleeding it with her scissors, which she usually carried attached to her apron strings.

She then left the animal, carried home the hay, fed the cow, returned with the hand-sled, placed the dead deer upon it and carried it home.

When Mr. Sinclair returned home, (as he did that evening,) he found his cow well fed and his wife comfortably spread with fresh venison which had been caught and killed, dressed and served, by his beloved "helpmeet."—Suncook Valley Times.

ANOTHER LEAK IN THE TREASURY STOPPED.—At the last session of Congress, Mr. Ela, of New Hampshire, from the Committee on Printing, offered and had passed a resolution turning the printing of specifications for the Patent Office over to the Congressional printer. Before that it had been given out to contractors, who made handsome sums out of it at the expense of the government. To show the effect of the resolution, Mr. Ela has obtained from the Commissioner of Patents a statement showing the cost of printing these specifications under the two systems. In November, 1867, when the matter was given out by contract, it cost the Patent Office over $9,500. During the same month this year, when the work is done at the government printing office, it cost $3,422. The Commissioner of Patents estimates that it will be an average saying of about $75,000 a year to the government, which would otherwise have gone into the pockets of contractors.

THE EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable one of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.
Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give rise to remaining days of Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently passing into a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to watch the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result can plenarily justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains is soon told.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. It shall not fail to continue its use in my family cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 6, 1869.

THE NEWS.—Gen. Dulce has arrived in Cuba.

Hamlin seems to have the inside track for the Maine Senatorship.

Coal in abundance and of excellent quality has been discovered half a mile from Argenta on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, 400 miles from Sacramento.

The official vote of Arkansas was 22,112 for Grant and 19,078 for Seymour. In the First and Third Congressional Districts, Col. Roots and Judge Boles, Republicans, had 473 and 3967 majority, respectively, and in the Second District, A. A. C. Rogers, Democrat, had 1186 majority.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

P. M. L. A.—The Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association, which was organized in 1852 and incorporated in 1855, and for several years was a very efficient and useful institution,—has latterly for a long while laid dormant, and came to be almost unknown or lost sight of by the public. Formerly, varied and animated debates and discussions were weekly participated in here, to the interest and manifest advantage of all, especially the young men and boys; but of late, all this has been given up, and even the Library has been comparatively but little used, especially since their reading room was discontinued, which was the prominent feature before the community.

A year or two ago, a slight move was made to increase the efficiency of the Association, and Mr. Charles Robinson, one of the Directors or Trustees, donated $100, which was increased by smaller sums to the amount of $135, and applied to the purchase of new books; but the institution languishes, and its days of usefulness in its present form are thought by many of its old friends to be over.

The number of members has fallen off, from 60 formerly, until less than 30 are now left,—by deaths, removals, and withdrawals from lack of interest, or non-payment of dues. The funds, including the legacy of $500 from Mr. Samuel Shesfe's estate, have been husbanded carefully; but after all debts shall be paid, and all dues collected that can be, there will remain probably but little more than $200 in all—which with the library, book-cases, and other hall fixtures, constitute the property of the Association.

The lease of the present fine premises expiring with the new year, has necessitated the taking of some decisive steps regarding the Society, and two meetings have recently been held for this purpose. At the last, on Monday evening, the President, Mr. Wm. E. Hadley, in the chair, several propositions were submitted, for the disposal of the library—whether to continue it as before, and by additions of new books and new members, endeavor to revive and preserve the institution, or ask the City to accept the books and funds as the basis of a Free Public Library, or bestow it on the High School or Mechanics' Association.

At the meeting next Friday evening all the propositions will be considered, and probably some definite action decided on. And all who consider themselves members, are desired to be present.

THE RE-ELECTION of our faithful City Clerk, secures to the City for another year, the services of a valuable public officer, and it is creditable to the Democratic members of the City Council that they aided in giving him a unanimous vote, a compliment well merited, as all who have dealings with the City Clerk will acknowledge. The city gains by the retention of such officers, and we trust that the time is far distant when Judge Bofford will not command the unanimous support of all who appreciate squareness and integrity in a public officer.

SENSIBLE.—A course of Assemblies has been started in this city by a select party, at which dancing commences at 7 30 P. M. This is a step in the right direction and is worthy of imitation.

☞ Newcastle Bridge Road, i. e. the road between the two bridges, is said by a passenger that way, not to have been cleared since the storm,—thus impeding the travel.

WE HEAR that Hon. Frank Jones is mentioned for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this Dist.—Chron.

Yes, and we judge by the "signs of the times" that if Portsmouth does not come to the rescue, that Frank Jones will be elected State Senator in Dist. 1., which will place him in line and fit him to serve the "dear people" in Congress. We believe that Mr. Jones knows better than to yet accept the nomination for Congress.—Exeter News Letter.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—A son of General Grant is to enter Phillips Exeter Academy to fit for Harvard College.

There is a farm in Stratham upon which the seventh generation of owners is living. This is now owned and occupied by James W., and Albert N. Rollins, descendants of the original Thomas Rollins. Tradition says this farm has been in the Rollins name from its first settlement. The old house a portion of which was standing in these days, in which these generations spent more or less of their lives, was destroyed by fire in May, 1867.

Ira Pettengill of Salem, N. H., while chopping wood a few days ago, inflicted a severe wound in the knee. It was supposed to be doing well, when he took a violent cold, which caused lock-jaw to ensue, and he died shortly afterwards.

A gentleman in Litchfield a day or two since came upon a good sized young coon which was struggling in the snow, caught him and gave him to the editor of the Manchester Mirror, who gave him to a meat merchant, who keeps him for a sign.

The workmen employed in the cooper shop burned at Fisherville, last Saturday, (some half a dozen or more in number) lost nearly all their tools, valued at seven hundred dollars,—no insurance.

During the pastorate of Rev. B. M. Tillotson of the Universalist Society of Manchester,—twenty-five years on Sunday last—he has joined seventeen hundred and fifty in marriage, attended nearly fourteen hundred funerals, and preached twenty-six hundred sermons, besides funeral sermons and lectures through the week.—Exchange.

Mr. T. has not been a pastor of that church for twenty-five years,—but has spent that time in Manchester, partly in the other church.

The report of the referees in the Concord "Conductor case," of Geo. Clough, defendant, was made to the Supreme Court on Tuesday. The judgment against the defendant is for $5685, and on questions contingent to decisions of the Court the further sum of $5509;—for not returning reduced rates of fare taken, to the Ticket Master, as required, and for joint tickets over roads purchased of ticket agents by defendant, $2000.

Also, the costs, amounting to $281.56, and cost of referees $1990, and costs of court to be taxed by the court. The whole case shows great irregularities and considerable complicity between the late Superintendent, Gilmore, and defendant.

FARMERS' CONVENTION.—The Directors of the New Hampshire Agricultural Society employed a stenographic reporter to report the details of the proceedings at the late Farmers' Convention. They are to be compiled into a volume and will compose a part of the transactions of the Society. It will be a very valuable document.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.—The Exeter correspondent of the Boston Traveler, in speaking of the Railroad Commissioner of New Hampshire, says this Congressional District will "furnish the Commissioner for the ensuing year, and there is every probability that the Republicans will put in nomination Wm. A. Currier, Esq. of Exeter. Mr. C. is an active go-a-head business man, such as are of real benefit to any community, and if elected will worthily discharge the duties of his office.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ It is said that the fire in Union Block, Concord, when discovered might have been put out with the patent Fire Extinguisher.

CONGRESS.—In the House on Tuesday, Mr. Kelly made a report from the Committee on Naval Affairs concerning the frauds in the Engineer's Department in the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

In a brief speech Mr. Kelly made some startling disclosures, regarding the manner in which the affairs had been mismanaged under the head of the present Chief Engineer of the Navy Department, and in conclusion offered a resolution authorizing the President to appoint a civilian as Chief Engineer of the Navy, in place of the present incumbent, Chief Engineer Isherwood.—The resolution was passed by a very large majority.

Mr. Ela, supported by E. B. Washburne, offered a resolution to appoint a special committee to examine into the charges against the Post Office Department. This was objected to by Mr. Farnsworth, chairman of the Postal Committee, who said he was opposed to such investigation.

Mr. Windom opened the fight in behalf of granting large subsidies to the Northern Pacific Railroad, making a speech of upwards of an hour in length, in support of his proposition.

Tabriz, Persia, had a violent earthquake shock on Sunday last.

Congress met again on Tuesday.

The New York State debt is $38,864,448.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT THE HIGH SCHOOLS.—The efficient teachers of the High School were duly remembered by their appreciative scholars on Friday. Mr. Payson, Principal of the Girl's High School, was presented with an elegant bronze clock by the young ladies attending the school, and Miss Morgan was the recipient of a beautiful chromo in a large and handsome frame. The committee, teachers and scholars had a merry time, which all enjoyed heartily. Rev. Mr. Adams, chairman of the School Committee, made a felicitous speech of congratulation—and with mutual expressions of good wishes, the participants adjourned to continue elsewhere their holiday festivities. Under the teachings of Mr. Payson and Miss Morgan the scholars have shown marked improvement, and enter upon the New Year mutually respecting and honoring one another.

At the Boys' High School, the Principal, Mr. Smith, was presented with an elegant stereoscope with a large variety of views tastefully selected from the best artists. To Mr. Stephen W. Clarke they expressed their esteem by the presentation of a beautiful chromo and a fine piece of statuary.

The school were surprised by a very handsome present from Lewis W. Brewster Esq., editor of the Portsmouth Journal, accompanied by the following note.

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 1st.

Teachers and Scholars of the Boys High School: Please accept for the decoration of your pleasant school room, the accompanying chromos of Gen. Washington and his wife, as a New Year's gift, suggested by cherished recollections of my four years' course, under Mr. Tasker and Mr. Kimball, which closed at the old school room on State Street a little more than twenty-two years ago.

Wishing you Scholars individually, as Portsmouth Boys, much success when you shall enter upon the active business of life, and earnestly desiring the continued prosperity of the School;

I am yours truly,

LEWIS W. BREWSTER.

Mr. Foster Shores, of the graduating class of 1866, presented a beautifully framed tablet containing in ornamental colored letters, "Charles Dickens' Speech: Boys! Just do all the good you can, and don't make any fuss about it."

It will be remembered that a few weeks since this school received a large addition to its library, of choice books from Mr. James T. Fields of Boston. To complete the overflowing tide of enjoyment on this occasion, a New Year's Present from that gentleman, of five neatly framed pictures, was brought in to adorn the walls of the beautiful school room; and Mayor Jones' generous donation of his year's salary to the Library Fund was heartily applauded.

FIRE.—At half past 11 o'clock, Monday night, the barn of Mrs. Jane Huntress at Christian Shore was discovered to be on fire, and before any effort could be made to extinguish it, it was burned to the ground with all its contents, including two horses, two or three sleighs, several carriages and wagons, harnesses and a ton of hay. One of the horses was owned by Mr. John Downing and the other by Mr. James B. Currier. The fire burped very rapidly and loomed up in the fog like a city in flames. The loss, amounting to $800 or more, is distributed among three or four individuals, and we learn that there was no insurance on anything. There is little, if any, doubt that it was the work of an incendiary and our citizens would do well to look carefully about their premises if this city is to be made as unsafe as our neighbor Newburyport. Marshall Johnson has taken measures to prevent if possible a continuation of incendiarism.

We have since learned that two marines were seen to leave the vicinity of the fire only five minutes before it broke out, and they are suspected of being the guilty ones.

ANOTHER PORTSMOUTH EDITOR ABROAD.—Mr. Geo. G. Kimball, formerly of this city, is one of the proprietors and editors of the Savannah (Ga.) Advertiser, a smart little daily devoted mainly to local and miscellaneous news. We notice in a late issue an account of a base ball match between the Forest City Club of Savannah and the Alerts of Charleston, S. C., in which the latter were victorious by a score of 45 to 42. We also notice that the irrepressible Kimball forgetteth not to take part in the manly game, and made the best score, on his side although 'twas not the winning one.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THERE is no mistake about it, PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used exclusively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS as well as opinion, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. 12

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE GREAT PICTORIAL ANNUAL.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1869, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive NATIONAL CALENDAR.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected.—Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the Central Manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Penn., or to the nearest dealer in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The BITTERS are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, Esq.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To those three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by a severe expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented that calomel is deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care, that will unlock the liver and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do two things, they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop cough, night sweats, chills or hectic fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

It is person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood, which will be distributed, gets a gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having announced his case hopeless, and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have resorted to Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 25 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. 4ly1s4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by popular obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of dark color. It is plant that contains its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.—Mine is the color of its properties. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœia; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies a high position in public and professional esteem, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise.—WM. WRIGHT WARD, Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion or excess, the baneful powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indistinctness of Sight, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Foreboding of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of tonics to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If a tonic medicine is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all Diseases incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED BOOKS will reach the worst cases from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no exposure, no hindrance from business, speedily superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6 50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT.—The Mayor and all the members of the City Council elect, with the exception of Councilman Freeman of Ward Two, were present at the Court House, and took the oath of office Tuesday forenoon at ten o'clock. The Common Council, which is reduced from 24 members to 11, by an amendment of the City charter passed by the Legislature last June, organized by the choice of Thos. B. Gammon of Ward Two as President. Mr. Gammon received 6 votes and T. E. O. Marvin 3. Henry A. Yeaton received the compliment of a unanimous re-election as Clerk, there being 10 votes cast.

In the Board of Aldermen, Mr. Cotton moved that the rules and orders governing the Board last year be adopted, with the exception of the 9th rule. This was negatived by a strict party vote—Yeas 2, Nays 6. The Board then voted to adopt the rules of last year with no exceptions, and the Council passed the same vote in concurrence. The 9th rule vests the power of appointing the standing Committees with the Board and not the Mayor alone.

In Convention, Marcellus Bufford was re-elected City Clerk, receiving 18 votes, the whole number cast. Rev. W. H. Alden made an earnest prayer, and Mayor Jones delivered himself of the following Address, which consists of many words and is rather prolix. It will be seen that he improves his opportunity of rapping some of his political opponents, and craftily praises others.

Gentlemen of the City Council:—

As we are entering upon our duties for the present year, permit me to congratulate you that we do so under circumstances which are so favorable to the prosperity of our city. Pecuniaries well known to you, we are still laboring under heavy taxation; business is comparatively stagnant; and the great resources and natural advantages of our city remain imperfectly developed. But we are free from war, and the proclamation of the President has put a legal end to the last vestige of hostility between the sections of our Union. The debt of the city is decreasing. Our people enjoy the blessings of general health, and have been free from the devastating effects of fires and the calamities that have befallen other cities. Our population is active, intelligent and industrious, and we need only to make proper use of the resources we have, to secure the future increase and prosperity of our city.

We have been elected to manage the prudential affairs of the city, and it is our plain duty so to conduct, that we may by the most economical use of the public money, secure to our people the protection and advantages for which the government was instituted. We ought here to have no private interests, nor any desire for individual gain, at the expense of the treasury.

Having then a single eye to the good of the people we have undertaken to serve, we should consider well what are the duties before us. They are such as all good men ought to agree upon; and party strife as well as individual advantage ought to be laid aside while we consult and act honestly for the good of the whole community.

The matters which most seriously affect the welfare of the city, so far as they are within our control, are the preservation of good order; the protection of property, the maintenance of the public charities, the continuance and increase of the faculties for business, transportation and travel, and the reduction of the public taxes within the closest limits consistent with securing these objects.

DEBT.

The first of our duties relates to the public debt. It is perhaps unavoidable that such debts should be contracted to meet great and unexpected demands; but the existence of a public debt is a great evil, from which we should try to deliver ourselves as rapidly as possible. We have paid the past year interest on the debt to the amount of $17,277,25 and of the principal, $22,500,00

making $39,777,25

During this year there will fall

due of principal and interest,	$39,176,50
in 1870, principal and interest,	19,439,00
in 1871,	16,037,00
in 1872,	47,622,00
and in 1873,	45,487,00

I earnestly advise that every exertion be made to pay this debt as fast as it falls due, and faster if possible. It will be observed that in 1870 and 1871 much less of the debt will become due than in the two following years. I trust that whoever may have charge of the city government will so far increase the payments in 1870 and 1871 as to relieve the years 1872 and 1873 of part of their burden. With good management the whole of the debt up to 1874 may be paid as it falls due. A large part of the debt was contracted when the currency of the country was very much depreciated; and we ought to pay as much of it as possible, while we can do so in the same currency. It is the interest of every poor man as well as of the rich to remove this debt from the shoulders of our people as soon as possible. By reducing the debt we diminish the taxes, and consequently reduce the cost of rents, and of the necessaries of life, benefiting the rich and the poor at the same time.

POLICE.

The preservation of good order is an important duty incumbent on us. It will be for you to enact such wise laws and regulations as are authorized by the city charter, and it ought to be the duty of the Mayor with the advice and assistance of the Aldermen, to see that the laws are executed. To do this efficiently the Police force and night watch ought to be fully under the control of the Mayor, and he should be held responsible for the employment of good men, and to see that they do their duty faithfully. The action of the Mayor in removing inefficient, corrupt or offending officers, ought to be final. If they may be restored on application to the Board of Aldermen, the power of the Mayor ceases to have weight, and the officers feel that they are practically released from any responsibility. I trust the present Board will act with caution in selecting for those important places, good honest men, who will conduct in a manner that will be creditable to themselves and the city; and that the Board will support the Mayor in his efforts to hold the officers to the strict performance of their duty. Police officers have many opportunities to behave oppressively or corruptly. Prompt and certain discharge from office of those who offend, is the only means of keeping a Police force respectible and efficient. As soon as they feel themselves safe from accountability, the bad men who too often get into these as into other offices become a pest to the community. I am not desirous of assuming personal power on the responsibility which attends it, but I strongly recommend that the right of appointing police officers and watchmen and of removing those who are guilty of violation or neglect of duty, be hereafter vested absolutely in the Mayor.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The proper management of the Fire Department is very important to the city. A large amount of property has been invested for the use of this Department, and its annual expenses are heavy. The public expect and have the right to demand that it shall be well officered, and made thoroughly efficient. I am not aware that any cause of complaint has arisen so far as the body of the firemen are concerned. They have done their duty promptly and faithfully; and they well deserve the thanks of the city. But I am compelled to say, that the officering and management of the Department during the past year has not been what it should be. You can correct this defect, by the choice of active and capable men to be engineers. I earnestly recommend that a competent man be appointed chief of the Department as upon, him its efficiency will principally depend. The safety of the public is too greatly concerned to permit it to indulge any party or personal partialities in the organization of this Department.

The use of steam fire engines has reduced the danger of fires; but it makes it apparent that we are exposed to the hazard of extensive conflagrations from want of a sufficient supply of water. By the powerful action of the steamers, wells and the aqueduct reservoirs are quickly exhausted; and the supply by the pipes of the aqueduct is altogether too slow for the demands of the engines. It will be useless to invest any more money in steam fire engines until this deficiency is supplied. During the year we have finished the reservoir on Brewster street, and constructed another near the Universalist Meeting house. These reservoirs being connected by conductors with the tide water, are inexhaustible. The cost of such reservoirs is not great; and I advise that another be located upon Richard's Avenue, near the house of William Day, and another near the middle of Washington street.

I recommend that, with the permission of the Aqueduct company, a pipe at least six inches in diameter be laid from their reservoir on Dover street to Vaughan street, or Market Square, for the sole use of the Fire Department, with suitable hydrants along the line. Such a pipe I am informed can be laid at a cost not exceeding $3500 including the hydrants. It would answer the purpose of several reservoirs, and might save us from the calamities which have befallen so many other cities from an insufficient supply of water. The outlay will not be large, and it will every year pay a dividend in the reduction of insurance, and in the feeling of security it will create. I earnestly invite the immediate attention of the city council to this subject. It is desirable also, that suitable places be arranged at the North and South Mill Bridges, Liberty Bridge, and in similar localities, for the reception of the suction pipes of the engines, and to secure a full supply of water at the lowest tides.

A statement of the material of the Fire Department, and its condition will be laid before you in the report of the chief Engineer.

To manage the financial affairs of the City well, and to secure the greatest possible benefit of good government, we need the interest and active co-operation of all of our best and most influential citizens. The affairs of the city ought not to be controlled for the benefit of any class or party, and every honest and patriotic man should frown upon the attempts of those who seek to make personal gain at the expense of the city. The principal business of the city must of course be performed by officers constantly employed, and it is fair that such officers should be reasonable pay for their services. But the general management of the affairs of the city, the conduct of the elections, and the Superintendence of the Schools, should be undertaken by responsible citizens as a matter of public duty, and for no other reward than the honor of the trust, and the satisfaction of seeing the business in which they is common with their fellow citizens are interested, well and honestly administered.

I trust, gentlemen, that during the coming year we shall act only from such motives that our deliberations and action may be harmonious; and that we may fairly earn the gratitude of the community for the ties well performed. What we contribute to the general prosperity of the city will be a better reward to us, than any thing we can gain by party triumphs, or the promotion of private interests.

STREETS AND ROADS.

The expenses of the streets and roads the past year have been large. It was found necessary to repair the Sagamore Bridge at a cost of $1179.37.

The new road to Newington has cost $5568 38. The sewer in Hanover street cost $757. 45. The sewer in Brewster street, and the sewer from Anthony to Cabot street cost about $6000.

These expenses could not be avoided, but it is to be hoped that the cost of this department will be materially reduced this year. The road to Freeman's Point must be built the present year, and the contracts are made, and the money is already appropriated for this purpose. The sewer in Bridge street must be repaired, as it is in a dangerous condition. And I am informed that the sewer from Cabot street across Anthony and Madison streets is decayed and needs repairs. I think that when this sewer shall be relaid, a small reservoir on Anthony street connected with it for the use of the Fire Department may be constructed at no large expense, and supplied from the springs in that vicinity.

I am not aware of any other extraordinary appropriation that will be demanded for the streets. The condition of the streets and highways is good, better than the average in other cities, and the management of the street commissioner has been excellent, and of great advantage to the city. His long experience, sound judgment, and perfect fidelity to the public interests entitle him to the highest commendation.

Under our system of building sidewalks at the joint expense of the city and the abutting land owners, we have become much better provided with paved walks, than any other place of the size which I have visited. I think a saving may be effected in this department by allowing to land owners, who may lay down sidewalks, a certain definite sum per foot for pavement constructed in a required manner instead of paying half the cost as at present. This will permit the land owners to lay walks as expensive and as ornamental as they please, without unreasonable cost to the city.

I strongly dissent from the practice of laying out streets and roads at the public expense, or which may become chargeable to the city, before the wants of the people actually demand them. I would, as rapidly as possible, increase facilities for trade and transportation; but the public should not bear the cost on the hazard of streets laid out merely for the accommodation of land owners, or the promotion of private interests.

PAUPERS.

The cost of supporting the poor the past year has been $8972.66, which is about $2000, as I estimate it, less than the preceding year. The expense of the insane poor was also fortunately much less than in 1867. Large savings have been effected in the cost of "out door pensioners," a branch of this department, in which abuses are very likely to occur. The Overseers of the Poor have caused the names of the persons relieved in this way to be printed with the city accounts, for the purpose of preventing the impositions which are often practised by persons claiming relief to which they are not entitled. I recommend the greatest diligence to effect further savings in the necessary, but burdensome, expenses of the city in supporting the unfortunate poor. The establishment of the County Almshouse will withdraw from this city a large number of persons who have heretofore been supported at the city farm. If, as I anticipate, the effect of this change shall be to reduce our paupers, so that not more than twenty or thirty will remain, your serious consideration will be required as to the best means of effecting a corresponding decrease in the expenditures of this department and of preventing the giving of our Alms-House and farm, or any part of it, to the County, on account of its value to the City, and because I doubted whether the location of the County pauper establishment here would be a benefit to us. But since the purchase of our farm, property in the northern part of the city has increased in value. It is thought that the Alms-House property could be sold for a sum, the interest of which would nearly support all the poor probably that will be left to us. The case will not require immediate action, nor do I mean to express any decided opinion upon it, but it is worth consideration whether, at some future day, part or the whole of the farm may not be sold with profit to the city. If the value of the property still continue to increase, it is possible that a cheaper location more remote from the city may become desirable. I mention these things merely that we may have them in mind when acting upon the changes that the pauper system is now undergoing.

The city farm has been well managed, and the condition of the Alms-House under its present superintendent is good. I take pleasure in speaking in praise of this officer and his family, and earnestly recommend his continuance in the place he has filled so well.

SCHOOLS.

The management of the schools is entrusted by law to the school committees, and the Mayor and City Council have no supervision of their action. I believe the schools are well managed, and that they meet as fully as could be expected the wants of the town. The duty of providing school-houses belongs to the City Council. During the past year the Academy building has been leased by the City for a long term of years, at an annual rent of $450. It has been refitted and repaired for the public schools at a cost of about $6429.10, including sidewalks, furniture, &c. By this arrangement we have at a moderate cost provided for the schools, very good accommodations, in a handsome and substantial building, and in one of the best locations in the city. We could not have erected buildings which would have answered our purpose so well for less than $25,000. Thus we save about $700 annually to the city. I believe all the schools in the city are now well accommodated, and that no extraordinary expenditures for school houses will be needed the present year, unless it shall be found that some additional accommodation is required for the primary schools in Districts No. 2 and 3, which some repairs or additions to the Franklin school-house in District No. 1. The old school-house between State and Court Streets, is greatly out of repair and nominally useless. I recommend that it be sold, together with the lot of land at the corner of Middle and Cass streets, which is not needed for the use of the city. Our schools at present are not full, and there can be no occasion for building new school-houses for some years to come.

I hope the appropriations for the support of the schools will be liberal, and that they will continue to be economically and wisely administered. None of the public charities has a stronger claim upon us than this; and there are none that so well repay the money we invest in them.

The action of the city council at the time I was first entering upon the duties of this office, reduced the powers of the Mayor to the lowest limit allowed by the City charter. This has relieved me from much responsibility, and perhaps I ought not to complain, if it has deprived me of opportunities of being useful to the city.

Still I respectfully call your attention to what I said last year, in this place, in regard to economy of the public money, and the necessity of a general reduction of the expenses of the city. Our form of government is costly, and the tendency is to the multiplication of offices and the increase of salaries. I again ask you to consider whether the number of the city officers can not be reduced, and the salaries diminished without injury to the public service.

The Aldermen last year voted to abolish the office of city solicitor, but the common council did not concur. I hope the action of the Aldermen will be renewed with better success. I see no more reason for paying a salary to a lawyer than to a carpenter or blacksmith. At present the city is nearly or quite out of the law, five of the six suits against the city which are now pending one year ago, having been settled. Hereafter when the service of lawyers is required, let them be hired and paid as is done by individuals.

The collection of the taxes seems to me unreasonably slow and inefficient. The discount allowed by the city ordinance for prompt payment, brings the bulk of the tax into the treasury without any effort of the collector. The greater part of the remainder might be secured by early and active exertion without recourse to legal measures. But this part of the collectors duty has been for some years very imperfectly performed.

The amount outstanding on the first day of October last upon the tax lists held by the present collector, that is from 1860 to 1868, was $17967.81, besides $2318.37 which was abated from those lists during the last year; and of the present year's tax $14274 80 now remain uncollected. The greater part of this large sum ought to have been in the city treasury long ago. The commission paid to the collector is intended to be his compensation for collecting the tax, so far as it can be collected; and he ought not to receive full pay for that part of the tax which is voluntarily paid, unless he uses diligence to collect the remainder. His bond makes him accountable for the whole tax, and it should always be enforced, if the city suffers loss by his neglect or inattention.

The compensation of the collector of taxes by a commission of one per cent on the amount collected was established about twenty years ago, when the whole amount of the annual tax was less than $50,000. The population of the city has not materially increased since that time, and it is not now more difficult to collect the taxes than it was then.—But the increase in the amount of the tax now makes the pay of the collector nearly three times as much as then. I recommend that the Ordinance on this subject be revised, and that the collection of the taxes be let out by CONTRACT to the lowest responsible bidder.

The publication of the city accounts has proved useful for the information of the tax payers, and it is a check upon the officers of the city. But the law requiring the accounts to be made up to the last day of September annually, operates inconveniently, and destroys much of the advantage of the publication. Under the present system the published accounts embrace parts of two different official years. They give little information as to the economy of the existing administration, and are not convenient means of comparing the outlay of one civil year with another. I recommend that application be made for such change in the law, as will permit the accounts of the city to be made up and published near the end of each civil year.

It is very desirable that the system of keeping the accounts of the city should be simplified; and that no money shall be drawn from the treasury, until it has been duly appropriated, and according to law. I dislike the class of expenditures called "contingent," a name often used to cover up what is unauthorized and unlawful.

Gentlemen—I trust you will excuse the earnestness of my recommendation, that the affairs of the city be conducted with the greatest possible economy. Our city will be desirable as a place of residence, and trade or manufactures will be encouraged, very much in proportion as we diminish our taxes and relieve ourselves from the public debt. Our means have been reduced by the falling off of work at the Navy Yard, and by the removal of some large estates that have heretofore been taxable here.

CARTER'S COMBINED

WRITING AND COPYING INK.

This Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in New York, Boston, and Baltimore, and pronounced by the most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.

It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.

The Advantages of this over other Inks are:

First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.

Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.

Third. It will not mold.

Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.

Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.

Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.

Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always "makes its mark."

This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's, or any other Writing fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould. For Sale by

NEW YEAR'S CARD.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS who have been so kind to us since our residence in Portsmouth, we tender our sincere thanks and a HAPPY NEW YEAR, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of your patronage. We have endeavored to attend strictly to our own (and no-one-else's) business, and hope to be able to continue to do so.

And to those who always know more about other people's business than their own, and have been so busy in circulating late rumors, we would respectfully beg leave to advise them to try and attend to their own business, and we will guarantee that it will pay a good dividend at the close of this year of 1869. AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers for Obtaining Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the drawings of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

The Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months this has been the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was DECIDED IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in asserting before you that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

NAVAL VESSELS

BUILT AT PORTSMOUTH, 1690 to 1868.
Continued.

Congress, on the 9th of November, 1776, ordered, with other vessels, the construction of three ships of 74 guns; but the America was the only one ever begun under that order. Her keel was soon after laid on Badger's Island, as it is now, or Langdon's Island as it was then called. A year and a half after her building had been authorized, at the suggestion of Capt. Landais, on the 29th of May, 1778, the Marine Committee, John Langdon being one of its members, reported in favor of her being "constructed to carry 56 guns only, upon two batteries, that is to say, twenty-eight 24 pounders on the lower deck, and twenty-eight 18 pounders on the upper deck."

Their report, however, appears not to have been adopted, and we learn nothing more of her until June 23, 1779, when Congress authorized Robert Morris "to take measures for speedily launching and fitting for sea, the America, then on the stocks, &c." Three days after, John Paul Jones was unanimously selected to command her. The America was launched Nov. 5, 1782, and was therefore nearly six years on the stocks. At her launch the flags of France and America were displayed from the poop, and the same day Paul Jones delivered her to Chevalier de Martigue, who had commanded the Magnifique. Hon. John Langdon superintened the ship's construction, and her master builder was Major Hackett, who had never seen a ship of the line when he drew her plan; and who had no more than twenty carpenters at work at any time while her construction was in progress.

Paul Jones has left us the following description of this remarkable vessel, as completed under his direction:—"It had been intended to make the waist shallow with narrow gangways; the quarter deck and forecastle to be short, with a large stern gallery. Instead of this, the quarter deck was made to project four feet forward of the mainmast. The forecastle was also long, the waist deep, and the gangways broad, and of equal height with the quarter deck and forecastle. There was just room for the boats between the gangways. A breastwork pierced with gunports, but of suitable height for musketry, and of the same strength and nature as the sides of the ship, ran all around the quarter deck, gangways and forecastle, so that all the cannon on the quarter deck and forecastle could have been fought on one side—an advantage possessed by no other ship of her time.

Above this breastwork the poop deck stood on pillars eighteen inches long, and projected eight feet in front of the mizzen mast. Round the poop a folding breastwork was made of light materials, and of a strength to resist grape shot; it was made to fold down on deck and could be raised in a minute, so that it was impossible to perceive that the America had a poop at the distance of a quarter of a mile. There were only single quarter galleries, and no stern gallery; and both bow and stern were made very strong, so that men at quarters might be everywhere under good covers.

The plan projected for the sculpture expressed dignity and simplicity. The head was a female figure crowned with laurels. The right arm raised, with forefinger pointing to Heaven, as appealing to that high tribunal for the justice of the American cause. On the left arm was a buckler with a blue ground, and thirteen stars. The legs and feet of the figure were covered here and there with wreaths of smoke, to represent the dangers and difficulties of war. On the stern, under the windows of the great cabin, appeared two large figures in bas relief, representing Tyranny and Oppression bound and biting the ground, with the cap of Liberty on a pole above their heads.

On the back part of the starboard quarter gallery was a large figure of Neptune, and on the larboard gallery a large figure of Mars. Over the window of the great cabin on the highest part of the stern was a large medallion, on which was a figure representing Wisdom, surrounded by danger, with the bird of Athens over her head. The danger surrounding Wisdom was probably emblematically expressed by flashes of lightning.

The Crescent 32, built in 1798, fourteen years after the America, was given as a tribute to the Dey of Algiers, at a time when our Navy was too small, and our country too feeble, to pay for its audacity in more appropriate coin. The following account of her sailing is taken from a newspaper of the time: "Portsmouth, January 20, 1798. On Thursday morning, about sunrise, a gun was discharged from the Crescent frigate, as a signal for getting underway; and at 10, A. M., she cleared the harbor, with a fine leading breeze. Our best wishes follow Capt. Newman and his officers and men. May they arrive in safety at the place of their destination, and present to the Dey of Algiers one of the finest specimens of elegant naval architecture ever borne on the Piscataqua's waters.

"Blow all ye winds that fill the prosperous sail,
And hushed to peace be every adverse gale."

The Crescent is a present from the United States to the Dey, as a compensation for delay, in not fulfilling our treaty obligations at the proper time.

Richard O'Brien, Esq., who was ten years a prisoner at Algiers, took passage in the above frigate, to reside at Algiers as Consul General of the United States to all the Barbary States. It is worthy of notice that the Captain, chief officers, and many of the privates of the Crescent frigate, have been prisoners in Algiers."

Besides the ships enumerated in the foregoing list, I find the following notice of another, in Brewster's "Rambles about Portsmouth." "In the time of the Revolution, Col. Elliphalet Ladd built a twenty gun ship called the Hercules.—The enemy, well posted up in all the doings of the rebels, had a knowledge of the building, and in a Halifax paper was inserted an advertisement giving notice that a ship of 20 guns then on the stocks in the Piscataqua would be sold at auction in Halifax on a day designated. Two British frigates were put on the watch, and the Hercules was captured, and sold on the day advertised."

The only other mention of such a ship that I can find, is in a list of Revolutionary armed ships, where the "Hercules 20 ship" is put down as belonging to Massachusetts in 1781, and commanded by T. Dinsmore. There was a brig of the same name belonging to Maryland, mounting 11 and 16 guns, and commanded in 1780 by J. Cary, in 1782 by J. Forbes.

NEW HAMPSHIRE FARMERS' CONVENTION.—In response to the call of the State Agricultural Society, there was a large assemblage at Smyth's Hall in Manchester on Tuesday and Wednesday of farmers and others interested in agriculture. The meeting was called to order by Aaron H. Young of Portsmouth, and the Convention duly organized by the choice of Gen. Natt Head as President, a Vice President from each county with Charles N. Healey of Stratham first on the list, and three Secretaries including Aaron H. Young of Portsmouth. Gen. Head, on taking the chair, delivered a speech of thanks and congratulation, and then Joseph B. Walker of Concord read an essay upon Indian Corn and its Culture, which reading was followed by a discussion of the same topic, in which several gentlemen participated. Tuesday afternoon Hon. Simon Brown of Massachusetts read an essay upon "Artificial Fertilizers," and A. G. Hills of Mass. another on "Fish Culture," and these were followed by general discussion of their topics, which continued during the remainder of the afternoon session. In the evening addresses were delivered by President Smith of Dartmouth College, Professor Crosby of the Agricultural College, and remarks by Dr. George B. Loring of Massachusetts, and Col. T. S. Lang of Maine.

Wednesday morning, after an hour devoted to the annual meeting and election of officers (Gen. Head President and Aaron H. Young Secretary) of the State Agricultural Society, there was a discussion upon the agricultural interests of the State, and a committee of ten (including Charles H. Hayes of Portsmouth) appointed to represent the farmers before the next legislature. Dr. Henry Boynton of Vermont delivered an interesting lecture on Sheep Raising, and Hon. Henry F. French of Massachusetts made some remarks on special fertilizers. In the afternoon Col. T. S. Lang of Maine read an instructive essay on "The Raising of Horses," and Hon. H. F. French delivered an interesting address upon "Drainage," which was followed by an animated discussion of that subject. In the evening a communication was read, in which Hon. John D. Lyman offered one hundred dollars in four premiums for traces of one hundred ears of corn, and remarks were made by James O. Adams of Manchester, C. H. Hayes and Mr. Lyman. Mr. L. S. Goodale of Maine read a brief essay on fertilizers, and Dr. Loring delivered an address on the kinds of cattle suitable to our northern climate, and the manner of feeding. Resolutions approving of the character of the meeting and the performances of the speakers were adopted, and the meeting dissolved after instructing the officers to call a similar one next winter.

ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE.
It is a well known fact that many articles used in various families are more or less adulterated, but it is not generally known that Confectionery, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but now the Confectioners use "Terra alba or White Earth" is used.
Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.
It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is so adulterated.
Purchasers desirous of a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of Confectionery manufactured by me to be as pure as the very best Stearr's Crushed Sugar.
The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

FOR YOUR
COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!
This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.
This INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.
PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.
It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.
Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

HURSELL'S
PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.
No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.
STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.
MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. The preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,

The Chronicle.

A HARD JOURNEY YEARS AGO.—Mr. Benjamin Trickey of North Barnstead, N. H., is now living on the farm which he purchased and commenced clearing soon after the Revolution of '76. The old gentleman gives a brief account of some of the hardships he had to encounter during the cold season of 1816.

He went on foot to Portsmouth, (30 miles) to buy corn for his family, but he found the market exhausted and commenced his return without corn and with a heavy heart. In Strafford, he found a man who reluctantly consented to let him one half bushel of rye for a silver dollar. With this on his back, he returned to his family, and pillowed his head on the floor of his logcabin while his wife prepared him a little food, as he had eaten nothing since he left home the day before.

The next morning he again shouldered his rye and started for mill. On the way a generous friend added to his load, one half bushel of corn (at a thrifty price.) When he reached Barnstead Centre he was informed they could not grind for several days as they were repairing the mill. Without stopping to rest, he at length laid down his load at Berry's mill on Catamount, in Pittsfield. That evening he returned home in time for his wife to make a Johnny-cake for supper, having eaten but three meals in as many days, and travelled eighty miles to procure one bushel of rye and Indian meal to keep his family from starving.

Mr. Levi Davis, (father in law to Mr. Trickey) was one of the first settlers in Barnstead. He often walked through the woods to Durham (about 25 miles) to work by the day, and usually returned on Saturdays with a load of provisions on his back, wading all the rivers or streams, there being no roads or bridges a great part of the way.—Pittsfield Times.

A MISSIONARY FIELD.—There is one field of moral destitution which has been strangely over-looked by the Chicago churches in their care of the waste places. The Board of Trade are in sad need of some colporteur Bible-readers. If their own reading has gone further than Jacob and Rebekah's sharp "corner" of Esau, it has not reached the Ten Commandments, to say nothing of the Sermon on the Mount. A little while ago a member was overhauled for deliberately lying to a customer, but held worthy of good fellowship, inasmuch as his intent was not to cheat his patron, but merely to over reach a business rival and fellow member. That was a notable reversal of an old maxim. Since the year began, no day has passed on 'Change without the feverish presence of a "corner." As our readers know, a "corner" finds its simplest illustration in the league of a few rogues to draw the wallets of fellow pickpockets while they are trying to plunder some one else. Gambling is a mild term for it. It is the game of the man who loads his dice, marks his cards, and chokes you if no other cheating carries. It is the business of a large and influential portion of the Board of Trade.—Chicago Advance.

A MATERNAL GOVERNMENT FOR FRANCE.—The word has evidently been passed to the official scribes of France, to prepare the public mind for a transition from paternal to maternal government. The Empress has already a voice in the Council, and it seems probable, from the Emperor's recurring fits of lethargy, that she will soon assume more boldly and completely the direction of affairs. It appears to be supposed, however, that even Frenchmen may feel some little soreness at being subjected to the sway of a lady who has hitherto been remarkable chiefly for her eccentric devotion to priests and milliners, but the pill is gilded with such stories as the following, which we take from the Gaulois.

In a circle at Compeigne, a few evenings back, the conversation turned on the chassepots, the irresistible effects of which were explained by a general. The Empress observed—"We also require chassepots in order to preserve our ascendency and influence, and they are—beauty and grace at twenty, cleverness and wit at thirty, and kindness of heart at forty." The Emperor, who had gradually approached, answered with a smile, "You did not wait for the full age to possess the entire arsenal."

A PRECOCIOUS YOUTH.—A young boy, named Charles J. Riker, ten years of age, on Tuesday evening took a locomotive, which was standing on a side track of the Cheshire Railroad at Ashburnham, Massachusetts and after fixing the switch, started for Fitchburg. The engineer saw the engine leaving and immediately took a hand car and started in pursuit, and overtook him after he had run more than a mile. The breaks were on and the lever reversed at the time the engine was taken; the little fellow fixed the lever and let off one of the brakes, but neglected the other brake, in consequence of which, after exhausting the steam, the engine stopped.—Fitchburg Reveille.

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.
Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Burning-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Lethargy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give caste to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She faluted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to use her frequently, and except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing same or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains is soon told.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Plans, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JAN. 7, 1869.

The News.

The Maine Legislature met Jan. 6.

The Boston ship Don Quixote had a hard time of it on a voyage to San Francisco, and is back at New York in distress, having lost spars and sails.

It takes an army of 26,814 men to protect the Missouri river traffic and the Union Pacific Railroad from Indian hostilities.

At the municipal election in Wilmington, N. C., for Mayor, Neff, the regular Republican candidate, was elected over Chadbourne, bolter Republican, by 943 majority. The whole regular ticket was elected.

Unofficial returns from Florida show the election of Col. Hamilton, the regular Republican candidate for Congress, by a majority of 2000. The vote was light.

The Paris Patrie says that the sympathy in France with the objects of the Chinese Embassy is so great that Mr. Burlingame is as sure of success there as in England.

Commodore Wm. D. Salter of Elizabeth, N. J., died on Sunday last, aged 74. With the exception of Rear Admiral Stewart of Philadelphia, he was the oldest high naval officer living. He was the last survivor of those who were on board the American frigate Constitution in her engagement with the British frigate Guerriere, in 1812.

The Mexican Congress by a large majority has approved the convention of July 4th, made with the United States for the settlement of the claims of citizens of both countries. It has also approved a treaty with the United States recognizing the American doctrine of the rights of naturalized citizens.

A Carlist conspiracy has been discovered in Barcelona, Spain, with ramifications in Saragossa and other places.—Many persons have been arrested, implicated in the conspiracy, among them Costello, a noted Carlist. The peasants in Andalusia, pressed by poverty, have organized into plundering parties and are pillaging the rich land owners.

Four insurgents at Malaga fired into a party of refugees while under the protection of the American flag. The General in command at Malaga had the offenders arrested and punished, and has since communicated with the commander of the American squadron in the Spanish waters, informing him of the measures taken by the Spanish Government in the case.

James Murkstreak, a magistrate at Dudswell, Eastern township, has been arrested with his two sons, charged with a conspiracy to defeat justice by a mock trial of one Bogart, a paymaster's clerk of the receiving ship Vermont, who absconded with a large sum of money while the vessel was in the New York Navy Yard. The magistrate tried Bogart, but subsequently set him at liberty. It is alleged that he paid the Murkstreaks $4500 for releasing him.

Mr. McMahon, the American Minister to Paraguay, has had an interview with President Lopez, and the result was understood to be eminently satisfactory, full atonement for the recent outrages to the American flag having been guaranteed.

Advices from the city of Mexico concur in representing the condition of affairs in the republic as most discouraging. The Maximilian invasion seems to have resulted in a political blight that leaves very little hope for the future of the country.

There is no respect for law, and the civil authorities are both corrupt and powerless. The national exchequer is bankrupt, and the administration of Juarez impotent to correct abuse. From all parts of the interior the accounts show that there is no safety for life or property.

The impression was gaining ground with certain classes that the only hope for Mexico is to be found in the United States, and a protectorate with a view to future annexation was spoken of with increasing favor. It was be, hoved that Gen. Grant would inaugurate a policy of this kind on his elevation to power.

Boston is to have an immense peace jubilee in the shape of a musical festival, June 15, 16 and 17. The President, Cabinet and all the Governors are to be invited, and a Colosseum is to be built to hold 50,000 persons. The chorus is to consist of 20,000 voices, with an orchestra of 1000 musicians. There are to be 1500 subscribers at $100 for tickets admitting a gentleman and two ladies for the course.

A Little Rock special dispatch says the municipal election resulted in the election of Dr. A. K. Hartman, Radical, for Mayor by a majority of 736 out of 3816 votes.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ Whether the sale of part or all of our too valuable City Farm shall soon become a question of moment to the public, or not—there is a project which ought to be started, and that right early; and that is, for a new Court House in this city, in place of the present old hulk which disgraces us. If anybody can tell us one good reason why Portsmouth should not have as good accommodations as Exeter, we should like to hear it. It is all gammon to talk to us of debt or taxes—for neither have any terrors for live men, provided always, that they be increased for worthy and paying objects. And we regard our City, State and National debts, in view of the country's resources, as comparatively insignificant, and no more to be regarded than a fip for a shave by a mechanic earning three dollars a day—although neither should be needlessly or carelessly increased. Come! who says Court-house?

☞ The travelling in this vicinity is decidedly not good. In the city, there is considerable snow and ice, but the streets are very rough, and there is and has been little or no sleighing worthy the name; while out of town there is still less, and most of the neighboring farmers come in on wheels.

☞ To correct an erroneous impression we are requested to state that Mayor Jones donated half his salary to the Boys' and half to the Girls' High School.

Congress.

On Tuesday the Senate adopted a resolution inquiring of the President by what authority he had issued an amnesty proclamation during the recess, and evinced a determination not to yield to the Executive the exercise of powers not granted by the Constitution.

Mr. Stewart introduced a bill to enable the people of Georgia to form a State Government, Republican in form, which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

In the House Mr. Ela of New Hampshire asked leave to offer a preamble and resolution, providing for a special Committee to investigate charges against Postmaster General Randall in connection with the Arizona mail service.

Mr. McKee objected to the consideration of the resolution.

Mr. Winslow of Minnesota addressed the House at length in advocacy and defence of the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Cary made a speech in behalf of the workingmen.

In the Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Edmunds, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill prohibiting the holding of two offices at the same time, with an amendment. The bill as it now stands, representing the sense of the committee, will, if passed, absolutely prevent military or naval officers from holding cabinet or any other civil offices.

New Hampshire Items.

The hardware thief, Chas. Newton, who was arrested at Lake Village, has been discharged, on the ground of insufficient proof of theft, tho' he could not tell where he got the cutlery.—Could he not have been held as a receiver of stolen goods?—If not, then our laws need a patch.

The Concord Patriot states that it omitted to mention that the eye of a fireman which was washed out of its socket was made of glass.—Rather a flat attempt at wit or humor.

The weight of snow on the roof of the Kearsarge House (Potter Place), Andover, broke down the L part of the house last Sunday. Nobody hurt.

There was quite an excitement at Laconia, Jan. 5, caused by an attempt in the Court to implicate Dr. T. S. Foster in the Farrar poisoning case. Dr. Foster resides on the Gilford side of the river, and was the physician of Mr. Farrar during his sickness.

Cyrus Stevens, aged 63 years, was found dead on a sled tongue in Franklin Tuesday night. He had been hauling wood, and it is supposed that he was kicked by his oxen, or died of heart disease. He leaves a wife and children.

BREVITY.—The Mayor of New York has evidently made a flank movement on Gen. Grant, by delivering an inaugural message of only twenty lines.

Another bond robbery of $135,000 is reported in New York.

The Florida Legislature has adjourned.

—It is very complimentary to the Massachusetts State Treasury that Mr. Auditor Wilder is able to say that "for sixty years, since the defalcation of Treasurer Skinner, there has never been a dollar lost to the Commonwealth; not any delay in the payment of its obligations; nor any trouble with the banks where our funds have been on deposit."

ANCIENT SIDEBOARD.—Mr. Henry Berry, of Pittsfield, is the possessor of an ancient piece of furniture, which formerly belonged to Meshech Weare, the first Governor of New Hampshire after the Declaration of Independence. It is made of old English oak, richly carved, and, in its early days, was an expensive and elegant piece of furniture. At Gov. Weare's death, it passed into the hands of Maj. J. Cilley, of Nottingham. It was probably presented to Gov. Weare's great grandfather, about 1684, while in England.

—A railroad train recently run over an ox team near South Berwick, Me. The driver, who had been asleep on the cart, in a state of intoxication, had a narrow escape, and when picked out from the debris of his team he said: 'Shut the barn door, it's getting chilly.'

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THERE is no mistake about it, PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will use PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. 12

No Hospitals, in Europe or America, have as many patients as Dr. WOLCOTT, 170 Chatham square, N. Y., where all can test, free of cost, Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR, for Catarrh, or Wolcott's PAIN PAINT for the immediate removal of all pain, and certain cure of diseases. Buy none unless in white wrappers. 2wsaw

Mortgages, bonds, deeds, costly laces, diamonds, jewelry, and all small articles of value, are received on deposit at the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston. The fear of their loss by theft or fire is thus obviated, the vaults being the best that could be devised, and guarded both day and night.

HOW TO DRAW THEM.—Extract from a letter from St. Paul, Iowa, to Phalon & Son:

"Your new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," is in urgent request here. Wish I had fifty galls. in my store to-day." Gentle druggist, the article is too precious to be sold in bulk, but if you keep it on hand you will be sure to have fifty gals in your store every day—it draws them as blossoms draw the bee. Sold by all druggists.

THE GREAT PICTORIAL ANNUAL.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1869, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for each meridian and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive NATIONAL CALENDAR.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected.—Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be looked for the coming year. Send for copies to the Central Manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Penn., or to the nearest dealer in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The BITTERS are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

ACCUMULATE ELECTRICITY,

whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the part where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all ready to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To those three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, or when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and when used in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they destroy the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever, but removes the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased; whether tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; the liver and kidneys begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfected by health.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Consumption, when his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 86 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. O. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1w4

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of alcohol, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.—Mine is the once of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at the Great Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion, The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Sight, Nervous Irritability, Sleeplessness and Inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. Its treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

MAYOR JONES' INAUGURAL, though rather windy and extenuated, furnishes some rich reading for the uninitiated, who innocently witness the performance, with no glimpse behind the scenes to explain the peculiar elasticity of the author's ideas. The Mayor's suggestions as to the manner of paying the city debt are timely and should be carefully considered by the new City Fathers. We think the plan suggested three years ago by the worthy City Clerk to equalize its liquidation by paying the average of the whole amount each year, is the most sensible yet proposed, and have been surprised that the measure has not been adopted.

Mayor Jones states that $39,777,25 have been paid the past year for principal and interest on the city debt, but neglects to state how much smaller the assets are than at the close of Ex-Mayor Dearborn's administration. A curious public would like to know just how much better off the city is than it was at the commencement of Mayor Jones' administration. How much has the public debt (i. e., the liabilities as compared with the assets,) decreased the past year? From a careful review of the Mayor's address it is only "found missing," and his constituents would like to know how much supposed benefit accrues to the city, from the economical views of the Mayor who alleges that he has little responsibility in city matters.

The modest coolness with which he asks to be put in supreme control of the police force, is as refreshing as the idea is brilliant. As an exhibition of assurance it is ahead of anything of the kind we remember to have heard of since the advent of the New Year. The Mayor evidently thinks the judgment of eight men, chosen from different walks in life, should scarcely be considered in connection with the importance which he is supposed to derive from his elevated position; and the members of the Honorable Board of Alderman must have felt highly complimented by his disinterested remarks. From the earnest language he uses in urging this point, we are much in doubt whether his plea for absolute power did not deceive himself as much as it amused the individuals to whom he so patronizingly and pathetically appealed.

He seems to have been very well trained by the hand organ clique and shows his teeth at the Board of Engineers of the Fire Department as if virtuously indignant at some terrible delinquency in that quarter, which is explainable only by the fact that he wishes to set his political opponents by the ears, that Democracy may be benefitted. This is the secret of the attack and the fact that he was not addressing gullible people renders it none the less patent.

We do like to see the Mayor urging the construction of more reservoirs, and think the laying of a 10 inch pipe from the Dover street reservoir to Market Square, with hydrants on the route, an excellent suggestion,—and the comprehensive statement that it is of no use to buy more steamers until a sufficient supply of water is at hand, is sufficiently convincing.

The Mayor gives due credit to the Superintendent of the City Farm, (who has things in prime order),—says a good word for the Street Commissioner, and strikes out right and left at the Collector of Taxes,—as if there were some old grudge which inspired the document which has so carefully been prepared for this emergency. We opine, however, that if the Collector should furnish a list of the persons who owe taxes, seven tenths of the whole amount would be found to be due by the Mayor's own political associates, and what a squalling there would be should the Collector commit them to the jail, as he lawfully can in default of payment. The speculation would not be a profitable one, to be sure, for the city, but it might serve to frighten others into payment though it increased the expense of collection.

And in this connection it may be remembered that the Democracy opposed, and aided in defeating, bills before the last two Legislatures, providing that no one should exercise the right of suffrage who failed to pay his taxes. Had this been passed, thousands of dollars would be saved to the city Treasury. To get the votes of the delinquents it would have been necessary to pay their taxes. The city would have been richer and the Democracy proportionately poorer, for what would be the latter's loss would be the former's gain.

The Mayor continues in this wise: "The amount outstanding on the first day of October last upon the tax lists held by the present collector, (that is from 1860 to 1868) was $17,867.81, besides $2318.37 which was abated from those lists during the last year; and of the present year's tax $14,274.80 now remains uncollected. The greater part of this large sum ought to have been in the city treasury long ago."

It is but a short year ago that he stated in his first inaugural address that $15,071.72 of the amount spoken of above was of "very uncertain value." This amount with other nominal assets he added to the nominal city debt last year to make it appear that the debt actually amounted to $270,000, instead of $205,873. Does the Mayor know of any special Providence that has made this $15,071.72 of any certain value since? If not, why blame the Collector for not having it on hand? That the latter trod on some one's toes last year in collecting taxes is evident, as is the fact that the Mayor takes up the cudgel in behalf of his "friends."

The recommendation of the Mayor that the collection of taxes be let out to the lowest responsible bidder, has the merit of originality, to say the least, and therefore no comment is necessary; we are only surprised that he does not advise the letting out of all the city officers at the same rate, including the Mayoralty. The salary is small, and judging by the past, some "responsible" person might offer a big bonus for the bare honor of—holding the office.

The Mayor sees the folly of having the city accounts made up to the last of September instead of the last of December, and advises a return to the old system, notwithstanding his political friends had the measure carried in the Legislature two years ago. If the legislators are not very weary of tinkering our City charter we hope they will give the Mayor's suggestion due consideration, as there was no known reason for the change from the old system; and while they are busy on the charter, they may as well put back the time of holding the municipal election to March, thus saving the excitement and expense of one election.

He wants the office of City Solicitor abolished; perhaps more Democratic jobs might follow such a cunning move. He also dissents (in words) from the practice of laying out streets and roads at the public expense, but withholds not his signature, when without it the necessary number of signatures of the Board of which he is a member cannot be obtained. He suggests the idea that the city might profit by selling the City Farm,—but he only mentions it incidentally, as it is not probable that Hon. Frank Jones would care to buy that portion of it which adjoins his own property! The Mayor's suggestion may be a good one, however.

The Schools also attract his attention, and we were prepared to listen to a recommendation to the Legislature to abolish the School Committee and let the Mayor of Portsmouth appoint the school teachers and run the machine in conjunction with the police force. But the idea was only our own, as not a lisp was heard of such an economical arrangement.

We have taken more space than we intended, in noticing the Address, and have only in conclusion to hope that the action of the Aldermen in deciding to appoint their own committees will not deprive the Honorable Mayor of any "opportunity of being useful" the present year, knowing that his fellow citizens will not hold him responsible for anything which he is not responsible for.

☞ A couple of paragraphs of the Mayor's Address, yesterday, were accidentally inserted in a different position from that intended, by the printers, though it made no difference in the sense to intelligent readers.

☞ The series of six assemblies, given at Congress Hall by the I. O. of O. F. of this city, concluded on Tuesday evening by a grand Fancy Dress Ball. It was largely attended and the many quaint and grotesque costumes gave the company the appearance of odd fellows indeed. Yankees in swallow-tail and straps, Maj. Gen. Boum, old Neptune, the Knight of the Steel Buttons, gay Caviliers, gentlemen of the old school in knee breeches, Yankee girls, old school ladies in calashes and high combs. Swiss peasant girls, one with a hat so huge she had hard work to manage it when dancing, and many others in fancy costumes, with those in the sober dress of discreet citizens of to-day, gave the gay throng the appearance of a huge kaleidoscope.

We understand this flourishing order have in contemplation to give another series of their pleasant social parties. No class of our citizens understand better than they, how to enjoy the good things of this life.

☞ Allyne the Wizard advertises one of his Legerdemain, Ventriloquial, Gift Entertainments, at the Temple to-morrow evening.

☞ The Sagamore House, at Frost's Point, has been greatly enlarged and otherwise improved, since the close of the Summer season, and is now advertised as open for Parties, when sleighing comes. The improvements are not completed yet, but good accommodations can now be had. A large three-story L addition has been built, running south from the front of the house, on the lane; the fine billiard hall will now be used for dancing, a new one having been built for the billiards; and there are other changes. Messrs. Peirce are determined to spare no pains or expense to have one of the most elegant and attractive pleasure houses on the coast, and they have shown that they well know how to keep such a hotel.

MASTA'S FULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

THE UNION PACIFIC

RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,

—AND BY—

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,

And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.

Bonds sents free, but parties subscribing thro' local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.

JOHN J. CISCO, TREASURER, New York.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copyes of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

☞ Mr. Chambers Brent describes a strange fight which happened on his place on Cooper's Run, Ky., the other day. A turkey strayed from the flock into a corn field near the house, where some crows were picking up corn.—Singling out one of the trespassers, he attacked him fiercely, and the crow gallantly resisted the assault. A fight ensued which lasted twenty minutes, the turkey seeming to have the advantage generally. He was on the point of killing the crow, when some of the latter's companions flew to the rescue. The flock of turkeys, seeing the turn affairs were taking, ran to their comrade's assistance, and the battle became general, the worsted crow making his escape during the melee. The crows were soon routed, and rose into the air with loud cawings, to which the turkeys responded with a loud gobble of defiance.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR:

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY.

102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON.

ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE.

It is a well known fact that many articles used in various branches are more or less adulterated, but it is not so generally known that Confectionery, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alma or White Earth" is used.

Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious mixture.

It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is adulterated.

Purchasers desirous of a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of Confectionery manufactured by me to be as pure as the very best Stuart's Crushed Sugar.

The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

STOVE SHELF BEST!

TO HOUSEKEEPERS!

Something New!

FOR YOUR

COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!

This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.

This INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.

It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.

Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

HURSELL'S

PURITY,

FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,

20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,

The Chronicle.

HOW SMALL EXPENDITURES COUNT.—Five cents each morning. A mere trifle. Thirty-five cents per week. Not much, yet it would buy coffee or sugar for a whole family. $18,25 a year. And this amount invested in a savings bank at the end of each year, and the interest thereon at six per cent computed annually, would, in twelve years amount to more than $670. Enough to buy a good farm in the West.

Five cents before each breakfast, dinner and supper; you'd scarcely miss it, yet 'tis fifteen cents a day; $1.05 per week. Enough to buy a wife or daughter a dress. $54.60 a year. Enough to buy a small library of books. Invest this as before, and in twenty years you would have over $2,000. Quite enough to buy a good house lot.

Ten cents each morning; hardly worth a second thought; yet with it you can buy a paper of pins or a spool of thread. Seventy cents per week; twould buy several yards of muslin. $36.50 in one year. With it you could get a good suit of clothes. Deposit this amount as before, and you would have $1,340 in twenty years; quite a snug little fortune. Ten cents before each breakfast, dinner and supper—thirty cents a day. It would buy a good book for the children. $2.10 per week enough to pay for a year's subscription to a good newspaper. $109.29 per year. With it you could buy a good melodeon, on which your wife or daughter could play sweet music to pleasantly while the evening hours away! And this amount invested as before, would, in forty years, produce the desirable amount of $12,000.

Boys, learn a lesson. If you would be a happy youth, lead a sober life, and be a wealthy and influential man, instead of squandering your extra change, invest in a library or a savings bank.

If you would be a miserable youth, lead a drunken life, abuse your children, grieve your wife, be a wretched and despicable being while you live, and finally go down to a dishonored grave, take your extra change and invest it in a drinking saloon, or in tobacco.

SHOOTING AND REPORTED ROBBERY.—The Manchester papers say that last Saturday, C. W. Scott, who used to work in the Mills, and calls himself a Doctor, came to M. from Concord. Sometime during the day, a stranger met him on the street and told him there was a woman at the hotel in Amoskeag who wanted to see him. In the same evening, the same man met him again and said the woman had changed the place of her residence to a house above the fair grounds. Between 8 and 9 o'clock Scott passed up Elm street on his way to the house designated, and when opposite the fair grounds two men, one of whom was the man who had spoken to him, met him in the road, and without saying a word, one of them fired a pistol at him. The ball struck him in the lower part of one of his arms. The villains then knocked him down and robbed him of $200 as he says. At the time he was shot he had his arm up to protect his face from the snow which was flying. The tracks of the robbers were traced in the snow across Gov. Smyth's lot to Amoskeag Falls bridge. Nothing further has been heard from them.

WINTER RULES.—Never go to bed with cold or damp feet. In going into a cold lir air, keep the mouth resolutely closed, that by compelling the air to pass circuitously through the nose and head, it may become warmed before it reaches the lungs, and thus prevent those shocks and sudden chills which frequently end in pleurisy, pneumonia, and other serious forms of disease.—Never sleep with the head in the draft of an open door or window. Let more covering be on the lower limbs than on the body. Have an extra covering within easy reach in case of a sudden and great change in the temperature during the night. Never stand still a moment out of doors, especially at street corners, after having walked even a short distance. Never ride near an open window of a vehicle for a single half minute, especially if it has been preceded by a walk; valuable lives have been thus lost, or good health permanently destroyed. Never put on a new boot or shoe in the beginning of a walk.

IN THE WAY.—A mother who was preparing some flour to bake into bread, left it for a few moments, when little Mary—with childish curiosity to see what it was—took hold of the dish, which fell to the floor spilling the contents. The mother struck the child a child a severe blow, saying with anger, that she was always in the way! Two weeks after little Mary sickened and died. On her death-bed, while delirious, she asked her mother if there would be room for her among the angels. "I was always in your way, mother; you had no room for little Mary! Will there be no room for me?" The broken-hearted mother then felt that no sacrifice could have been too great could she have saved her child.

—"Pray, madam, why do you name your hen Madcuff?" "Because, sir, I want her to lay on!"

—"Professor of the accumulative art" is the California term for thief.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give caste to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Her presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigoration, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains to be seen told—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.
For sale by all Druggists. Price, $1. 8w

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JAN. 8, 1869.

The News.

The Postmaster of Salem, Mass. has disappeared. His accounts with government are $5000 to $6000 short.

The public debt in December increased nearly two million dollars.

British ship Southern Empire foundered at sea Jan. 3d.

Tax distubances continue in Italy.

The insurrection in Cuba is said to be declining.

A shocking accident occurred in Rochester, N. Y., Wednesday evening, by which eight persons were killed and thirty seriously injured. The floor in the school house of St. Peter's and St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church gave way while it was crowded with people attending a holiday festival, and three hundred or more persons went down and several were instantly killed.

Advices from Alabama represent that affairs in that State continue in a deplorable condition; that murders of Union men for voting for Gen. Grant continue to be of almost daily occurrence.

Several leading Republicans near Huntsville have been warned to leave the State by members of the Ku-Klux organization, or be summarily dealt with at an early day. Gen. Grant's attention has been called to this condition of affairs, and it is expected that he will give the necessary orders to the military to arrest all violators of the peace, it being represented that the civil authorities are unable to afford protection to Union men.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Edmunds, from the Judiciary Committee, reported the following substitute for the bill introduced by him on the Dec. 15, to prevent military officers holding civil offices, and to prevent the holding of more than one office at the same time.

Be it enacted, &c., That no person shall hold, nor shall he receive a salary or compensation for performing the duties of, more than one office or place of trust or profit, under the Constitution or laws of the United States, at the same time, whether such office or place be civil, military or naval; and any person holding any such office or place of trust or profit, under the Constitution or laws of the United States, shall be deemed to have vacated the office or place which he held at the time of such acceptance.

The House passed a bill consolidating the missions to the South American States, providing for but one Minister to the Governments of Nicaragua, Honduras, San Salvador and Costa Rica; also for but one Minister to the Governments of New Grenada, Venezuela and Ecuador.

In the House on Thursday there was a lively debate over the Wells & Fargo mail delivery matter. Mr. Ela charged that Wells, Fargo & Co. had destroyed during the month of October over eight hundred lbs. of mails per day to save transportation.

NEW ENGLAND AND NEW YORK.—In the late election the six New England States cast 551,603 votes, New York 845,766—the latter State alone having almost 300,000 more than than the other six. The valuation of the six States is about the same as that of New York.—Yet New York has only two Senators in Congress while New England has twelve. New York has 33 electoral votes, New England 38.

We cut the above item from an exchange of the democratic party, where these facts are paraded, that the reader may see how unequally things are divided.

The same paper is an earnest advocate of what are miscalled State Rights, but which are really State Privileges, or Prerogatives. It ought to occur to every reader, that the Small States of New England have their 12 Senators, because State Powers and Privileges are sufficiently regarded and secured in the Constitution of the United States.

They are not so regarded as to make Rhode Island and New Hampshire two National Sovereignties;—but only so as to prevent their being swallowed or buried by the Great States, one of which Great States was barely carried Copperhead in November, by the frauds, swindles, and repeaters of the Five Points and other fragrant localities in New York City.

If any body should seriously propose to equalize the Senate, the New England State Rights papers, so called, would of course cry out Consolidation. The truth is, they are scant of stock to grumble about, having roared themselves hoarse about Taxes before election, and groaned ever since over the debt, which was made to put down their friends the rebels, and which was made bigger by their own foolish action. But they must need say something to make their ignorant followers uneasy and restless,—and so they keep ringing changes on any thing that promises to have such effect.

New Hampshire Items.

The interest manifested in the Laconia poisoning case remains unabated. The Court room is crowded during every session of the Court, by people of Laconia and other parts of Belknap county. Dr. Foster, who was Mr. Farrar's physician, was on the witness stand throughout Tuesday. It is stated that Dr. Foster has secured counsel, Hon. Austin F. Pike of Franklin.

At Nashua, there was another incendiary fire, on Wednesday noon last. The tool house, near the Nashua Man. Co's Ledge, was set fire to, and tools belonging to Mr. Alfred Godfrey, valued at $300, were destroyed. No insurance.

The Wolfeborough News man was shown a few days since an egg, or, more properly, an egg shell, laid by a hen belonging to Mr. J. B. Whitton of Tuftonborough. The shell was perfect in all respects, but completely void of contents. Those in want of eggshells for ornamental purposes, will do well to obtain some of the breed, if possible. We suppose the hen forgot to put the egg in just as people sometimes omit to enclose money of which they speak in their letters.

An exchange says a scholar was turned out of one of the district schools in Sutton, the other day, because he was forty eight years old, and had a family, including two or three grown children. He said "his boys and gals had more learning than he had, and he wanted to ketch up with em."

A Concord paper says: "Less than fifteen hundred gallons of liquor were found in all the shops and saloons of that city, when measured by the revenue gauger.

The friends of temperance in Newmarket are holding meetings. They are intending to have a four days' meeting, provided a sufficiency of good help can be obtained.

On Thursday last, at Moultonville, Rev. J. P. Locke of Wolfeborough, was severely injured by his horse taking fright, and throwing him into the ditch by the roadside.

The whole number of deaths in Keene during the year 1868 was 99. The number of those who died aged less than ten years was 28; between ten and fifty, 38; between fifty and seventy, 13; over seventy, 20.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION was held at Concord, on Thursday, and Gov. Harriman presided over its deliberations. Hon. Ezra A. Stevens of Portsmouth was one of the Vice Presidents.

Hon. Onslow Stearns was unanimously nominated for candidate for Governor, and made a speech of acceptance.

Col. Samuel D. Quarles of Ossipee was unanimously nominated candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

John Hodgdon 2d of Portsmouth, is a member of the State Central Committee.

At the various Congressional District meetings, Messrs. Ela, Stevens and Benton, the present able delegation in Congress, were unanimously re-nominated.

DEATH BY CANCER.—William Y. Prescott, recently of the Exchange Hotel Manchester, died on Tuesday aged 62. He was for several months a great sufferer from a rose cancer upon the tongue, the first symptoms of which appeared nearly three years ago. For the last six months he was confined to his bed, for the last two months he was unable to converse,—finally could not eat as his tongue was consumed. He was a native of Sanbornton, and went to Amoskeag village about twenty-five years ago, where he was an overseer in one of the mills. Since then, he resided in Boston and vicinity, for about fifteen years and was engaged in the Hotel business. He was landlord of the Commercial Coffee House in Boston for some time. He opened the Exchange Hotel in Manchester about five years ago, and retired from it in June last. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter.

☞ The old New Hampshire Statesman, published by Messrs. McFarland & Jenks, at Concord, begins the year with a much enlarged form and new title of "Republican Statesman." It is one of the largest and handsomest, as it has always been one of the ablest political and best family papers in the State; and the Statesman establishment is the largest, best managed and doubtless most successful printing house in the State.

—The pecuniary loss by the recent earthquake at San Francisco will, it is said, exceed three millions of dollars.

DEATHS.

In this city, Jan. 6th, Mr. WM. C. YOUNG, aged 50 years.

In Boston, Dec. 28th, CHARLES E. BODGE, aged 16, son of Edward A. and Mary E. Bodge, formerly of this city.

THE "OLDEST INHABITANT."—Josiah Bulkely, a pauper in the poorhouse at Easton, Ct., says he well recollects the celebrated "dark day" in 1780: that he was married at the time and had two children, and that he was over twenty-one years old when he was married. He is unable to tell his age, but if the story is true he must be now about one hundred and twelve years old. A "dark day," occasioned by a solar eclipse, occurred June 16, 1806, and it is possible the old gentleman has made a mistake in his dates.

—Some benevolent Quakers in England are getting up a fund for William Craft, in order that he may return, with his wife, to Georgia, the State from which they fled—and form a business connection as cotton merchant, and establish co-operative associations among the freedmen by purchasing land.—Craft is, says one account, "the blackest of the black, but it is his color and not his manner nor his intelligence which distinguish him from well-educated people here."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THERE is no mistake about it, PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. 2w12

HOW TO DRAW THEM.—Extract from a letter from St. Paul, Iowa, to Phalon & Son:

"Your new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," is in urgent request here. Wish I had fifty galls. in my store to-day." Gentle druggist, the article is too precious to be sold in bulk, but if you keep it on hand you will be sure to have fifty gals in your store every day—it draws them as blossoms draw the bee. Sold by all druggists.

EXUBERANT HEALTH

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life and freedom from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need as occasional tonic, to quicken their circulations, to rouse upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, tonic stimulant is the grand desideratum of the busy millions, and they have the article in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. It is a STIMULANT, in the sense, i. e., it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Numerous other preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and, as far as they dare, imitate its concerned, ad nauseam, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left out in the cold. Such is the GREAT MEDICAL SUCCESS OF THE PRESENT CENTURY, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known or as generally used.

Ten lighting presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted) for months, are scarcely able to supply the demand for the Illustrated Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over five millions a year.

ACCUMULATE ELECTRICITY,

whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the part where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all required to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digested, makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient coughs the diseased stuff and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the diseased matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison and a very dangerous one unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, heetic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1ad

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and putrid decoction.—Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest (quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence, I am, very respectfully

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion, The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Dullness of the Feet, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of the Menses, Ulceration of the Uterus, Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the advance or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those nauseous and dangerous medicines, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

CARTER'S COMBINED

WRITING AND COPYING INK.

This Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in NEW YORK, BOSTON, and BALTIMORE, and pronounced by the most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.

It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.

The Advantages of this over other Inks are:

First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.

Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.

Third. It will not mold.

Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.

Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.

Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.

Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always "makes its mark."

This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's, or any other Writing Fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould. For Sale by WANTED—A Clerk in a Bookstore, Apply at No. 1 Congress Block.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE NEW CITY GOVERNMENT held their first meeting on Thursday evening. The Mayor, and two of the Aldermen, Messrs. Spinney and Slater, were on similar duty last year—the other six are new to the business.

Of the Common Council, seven of the eleven members were in the same last year, and the other four are new. Mr. Gammon is new to the Chair of the Council, but will no doubt make a good presiding officer; and probably he was selected in place of Mr. Marvin, on account of the latter being chosen by a bolt from Gammon's caucus nomination last year. The retaining of the old Clerks in both Boards, Messrs. Bufford and Yeaton, will greatly facilitate business.

The two Boards perhaps combine about the usual amount of talent, and will doubtless perform their allotted duties to public acceptation—their most needed lesson, as usual in such cases, being probably to learn that while words are silver, silence is golden. Though we are not aware of any extraordinary measures to come before them, still the good name and prosperity of the city is somewhat affected by the manner of transacting the public routine business.

According to law or custom, the chief business of Thursday evening was the appointment of the usual Standing Committees for the year. These were selected by the Aldermen, the Mayor having no voice in the matter.

The Election of Office's will probably take place on Thursday evening of next week. Mr. Wm. F. Ham is a prominent candidate for Street Commissioner, in place of Mr. Haines; and Messrs. Charles W. Shannon and Horace F. Pickering, and probably others, would like Mr. Johnson's position as Marshal. For the Night Watch, and Police, candidates are not lacking.

CITY COUNCIL.—In Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening Jan. 7th, the following Committees were elected by the Board:

On Bills on Second Reading—Aldermen Nowell and Cotton.
On Enrollment—Miller and Clark.
On Gas Lights—Pendexter and Clark.
On Police—Slater and Spinney.
On House of Correction—Spinney and Miller.
On Finance—the Mayor, Ald. Nowell and Slater.
On Engrossing Bills — Cotton and Pendexter.
On City Lands and Buildings—Pendexter and Miller.
On Streets—Spinney and Slater.
On Fire Department — Pender and Nowell.
On School Houses — Pendexter and Nowell.
On Claims—Miller and Clark.
On Burying Grounds—Clark and Cotton.
On Printing—Miller and Pender.

Aldermen Spinney reported the Lock-up and Privy near the City Rooms in a bad condition, and it was voted that the Committee on Police have power to cause necessary temporary repairs—the Mayor and all agreeing that it is useless to spend much money on the premises, unless the Marshal's Office, &c., are to remain there permanently.

In Common Council, the following Standing Committee were appointed:

Elections—Messrs. Hidden, Freeman, and Dixon.
Bills on 2d Reading—Plaisted, Gammod of Ward 1, and Marden.
Joint Standing Committees, added to those of the Aldermen:
Finance—Messrs. Plaisted, Freeman, and Hidden.
Engrossing Bills—Dixon, Hidden and Senter.
City Lands and Buildings—Freeman, Gammon of Ward 1, and Badger.
Streets, Roads and Bridges—Hidden, Plaisted, and Hoyt.
Fire Department—Plaisted, Gammon of Ward 1, and Hoyt.
School Houses—Dixon, Hidden and Marvin.
Claims—Freeman, Marden and Dixon.
Burying Grounds—Marvin, Badger and Freeman.
Printing—Dixon, Plaisted and Senter.

Both Boards adjourned for one week.

☞ The Smelt Fishing business on Great Bay has not flourished this season. The little shiners seem to be growing permanently scarcer and scarcer each year, and the competition from Maine by the carload is too great to overcome. The catch was all sent to Boston at 20 cents per pound, early in the season, but the Maine supply filled the market, and cut down rates.

We are told that a Bass of 45 pounds was taken in one of the little streams which empties into the Bay, last week, and that several of 30 to 40 pounds have been caught.

☞ We observe in the Boston papers, the death, in that city, of Elder David Knowlton, an esteemed minister of the Christian Connexion, well and favorably know in this vicinity. His age was about 60.

Communication.

Messrs. Chronicle:—I noticed in your issue of Wednesday, an article on the affairs and prospects of the Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association, from which it appears that that society is in a condition far from encouraging. But you give no reason for the unfortunate case of that once flourishing association, and I don't know as I can; but I think the cause of its decadence may be found in the organization of the Portsmouth Board of Trade, as it is very evident that this city cannot adequately support two Convivial Societies. ***

[Remarks.— We publish the above just as sent us, but have not the slightest idea of the meaning of the word convivial in this connection, unless it be sarkastical.—Eds. Chron.]

For the Chronicle.

CURIOUS FREAK OF A CAT.—A gentleman informed me that a few months since that he was awakened one morning by a knock at his front door. He arose from bed and raised the window; it not being quite daylight he did not discern any one and retired to bed again but in a short time the knock was repeated. His wife arose from bed raised the window and saw their cat on the steps. She no doubt was the one who used the knocker, and it is not necessary to say she was admitted. Puss is quite a pet in the family and perhaps thought she had as good a right to the front door as others of the family. J. N.

☞ The Boston Journal in giving an account of the new Massachusetts Legislature, mentions two members who were natives of this city:

Avery Plumer of Boston, commission merchant, was a member of the House in 1865, '66, and '67, when he served on the Committee of Insurance, Railways and Canals, on Rate of Interest, State House, etc., etc., with great acceptance to all. He was born in Portsmouth, May 6, 1813, and has been a prominent merchant of Boston for many years.

Samuel Clark of Randolph, Democrat, is a mechanic. He was born in Portsmouth, May 1803. New member.

☞ Allyne the Wizard advertises one of his Legerdemain, Ventriloquial, Gift Entertainments, at the Temple this Friday evening.

The papers where he has exhibited, speak well of his show, and no doubt he will make fun enough. See his Album advertisement.

He is assisted by J. E. Green, the celebrated Mocking Bird imitator, and Albuera, the wonderful boneless man. The entertainment will be a good one. Every person attending is promised a gift of an Album and 150 presents, including chamber sets and Silver Ware, will be distributed among the audience.

☞ Thursday was one of the finest days of the season, just warm enough to be comfortable, and nothing was lacking except good sleighing, to make it most enjoyable.

☞ Meeting of the Mercantile Library Association, Friday Evening Jan. 8th, at their Hall, at 8 o'clock, on important business. All Members and others interested are invited.

☞ The regular Monthly Meeting of the Managers of the Portsmouth Board of Trade, will be held at the Common Council Room, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 12th, at 7 o'clock.

☞ Mr. Barnabee's last concert will be given on Monday evening next, Jan. 11th.

☞ Philharmonic Rehearsal on Tuesday Evening Jan. 12th, at half past 7. "Esther."

A HORSE IN BATTLE.—Kinglake, in his "History of the Crimean Invasion," gives the following graphic description of a horse in battle:

"The extent to which a charger can apprehend the perils of a battle field may be easily underrated by one who confines his observation to horses still carrying their riders; for as long as a troop horse in action feels the weight and hand of a master his deep trust in man keeps him seemingly free from great terror, and he goes through the fight, unless wounded, as though it were field day at home: but the moment that death, or a disabling wound deprives him of his rider, he seems all at once to learn what a battle is—to perceive its real dangers with the clearness of a human being, and to be agonized with horror of the fate he may incur for want of a hand to guide him.

Careless of the mere thunders of guns, he shows plainly enough that he more or less knows the dread accident that is used by missiles of war while cutting their way through the air, for as often as these sounds disclose to him the near passage of bullet or round shot he shrinks and cringes. His eyeballs protrude. Wild with fright, he still does not commonly gallop home into camp. His instinct seems rather to tell him that what safety, if any, there is for him, must be found in the ranks; and he rushes at the first squadron he can find, urging piteously, yet with violence, that he too by right is a troop horse—that he too is willing to charge, but not to be left behind—that he must and he will 'fall in.'"

— There is nothing more important than whether you send forth your child as the seed corn of a harvest, or the powder train of a mine, to destroy itself and everything with it.

FRANK LESLIE'S NEW PAPER!

THE NEW WORLD!

THE HANDSOMEST AND BEST Family Journal Published.

DEVOTED TO

Romance, Travel and Discovery.

Price, Six Cents per Copy.

AS A JOURNAL FOR THE AMUSEMENT, instruction, elevation and refinement of the Family, and as an ever welcome companion for the leisure hour.

THE NEW WORLD will be found the most comprehensive of all the hebdomadals published.

It is devoted to everything that is pleasant—that is interesting.

Its contributors are among the most distinguished foreign and native authors. Of these, the names of upward of two hundred are upon its list; who, in due season, will prepare for its columns the most delightful romances, striking narratives, notes of various things, biographical and historical sketches, chats upon all questions of interest in every department of knowledge, and much besides that will prove of inestimable value in the various departments of

ART AND SCIENCE.

In a word, THE NEW WORLD is sought by the multitude, and treasured for its teachings and valued contents. It is just such a publication as is demanded by the people—asked for in the Home circle—because of its freshness, vivaciousness, wit and elevated tone.

Among those engaged to contribute to its pages may be mentioned:

Hon. E. G. Squier, the well-known antiquarian, author and traveler, whose works on the ancient ruins of South America have been translated into every language.

Prof. C. A. Joy, Lecturer on Chemistry and cognate Sciences at Columbia College, New York.

A. K. Gardner, M. D., author of many important works on Medicine.

William Ross Wallace, the poet of passion and chivalry.

Captain Mayne Reid, the world-known interpreter of Mexican, Texan and Border life.

Pierce Egan, the great English romancist.

A. J. H. Duganne.
G. W. A. Bungay.
Virginia F. Townsend.
Mrs. A. M. Spencer.

To give the public a fair idea of the character of THE NEW WORLD, the papers in the first number are subjoined:

CONTENTS.

"The Ring of Fire; or, the Sorcerer of the Temple," a splendidly written romance—profusely illustrated—from the pen of Archer Sidney. This splendid story of the East, portraying the reign of the beautiful Zenobia, Queen of Palmyra, will be read everywhere with profound interest.

"Outwitted; A Novel of Circumstantial Evidence," by Frances Gerry Fairfield. This story is powerfully written, replete with incident. It is a tale of life in the metropolis. Illustrated.

"The House of Mulien, Bokes & Co." or Virginia F. Townsend, a lady whose graceful pen is known to every reader of belle-lettres.

"An Hour in a Dissecting Room."—This tale of real life, by Mary A. Dennison, is well worth attentive perusal.

"The Diamond Ring; How it was lost, and Found." This story is founded in fact. To comment it to the reader, it is only necessary to remark that its author is Hon. E. G. Squier.

"The Lover's Revenge; A Tale of the Mexican War," is unusually exciting. It is from the pen of Mayne Reid. Illustrated.

"Lost in a Pyramid; or, the Mummy's Curse." This is a fine, imaginative sketch, profusely illustrated. Its author is L. M. Alcott.

"How I got into the Hall of St. Peter's." An interesting relation, by Frank Leslie, of his ascent to the ball of the Church of St. Peter's at Rome. The situations in it are illustrated.

"The Post Office Box; or, the Conspiracy," is a curious romance of disappointed love and unholy ambition. It is by Catharine Earnshaw.

"The Magic Sonnet; A Fairy Tale.

"Who will Carry the Babies?" A humorous sketch by Nellie Ames.

"Poems"—by William Ross Wallace and others.

American Institute. Notes of the Doings of the Polytechnic Institute and Farmers' Club.

Medical Information: Health! What is it? By Dr. A. K. Gardner, author of many Text Books on Medicine.

The Dinner Table: How to Live and What to Eat. By the Chef de Cuisine of the Metropolitan Hotel.

Scientific Discoveries: Aluminum. By Professor C. A. Joy, Lecturer on Chemistry and Related Sciences at Columbia College. A series of exceedingly interesting papers, directed to general terms and professional technicalities, is promised by this gentleman. They will, questionless, attract very general attention.

Many Thoughts of Many Minds: Being a curious collection of the sayings and doings of eminent personages.

World Wonders: Interesting facts excerpted from many books.

"Bubbles." These consist of anecdotes, conundrums, &c.

THE UNION PACIFIC

RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 130 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,

—AND BY—

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,

And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.

Bonds sents free, but parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments and all papers for the Office for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his agency practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form for securing the earliest and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

A Hard Shell Sermon.

"AND HE PASSED TO SHUNEM."

The words of my text, my hearers, you will find in II Kings, vi chapter, verse 8—"And he passed on to Shunem."

Take to heart the lesson our text teaches, and when temptations try you, and evils lie in wait to ensnare you, "pass on to Shunem."

And oh! my hearers—if you should come into one of our little towns, and behold a row of nice little officers with the signs on the door of each, and hear men talk of attachments without affection, and sequestrations without quiet—ah—and seize—yours and never theirs—ah, it will be to your profit to mind the words of the prophet, and "pass on to Shun'em."

And if you go round where the merchants are—ah—and they rush out to shake hands with you, and are especially anxious to learn the condition of your wife's health and the children's, and the farms and the crops, and offer to sell you a little bill of goods a good deal lower than their cost, on account of their love for you and for each—ah—"pass on to Shun'em."

And if you should happen to go around the corner and see men drinking beer, that will bring them to a bier, and gunsling, sling down the strongest, and smashes that will smash a man's fortune faster than commission merchants who advance supplies on the last crop—ah—oh, "pass on to Shun'em."

But oh my hearers! if you should go down to New York—that modern Sodom and Gomorrah—ah—and when the gaslights are flashing and glimmering, and the cabs are dashing along the streets—and obliging drivers are offering to carry you where only steamboat captains and the first gentlemen go—ah—and Broadway is on a rip and a roar—ah—and the brass bands are crashing music from the balconies—and men in little holes are ready to sell you tickets to go in and see the Black Crook's dance with nothing to wear—and make spectacles of themselves—ah—oh, my friends, "pass on to Shun'em."

And oh! if later in the evening, with a very particular friend, you go up stairs into most splendidly furnished rooms—ah—and see the supper table spread with delicacies from every clime and country—and tea, ducks and snipes, and yaller-legged pheasants, and all that fish, flesh, and fowl can afford—and champagne and brandy and burgundy and chateau lafitte, older than Waterloo—and nothing to pay and all free, and a nice gentleman with rings on his fingers, and a diamond breastpin, playing with little spotted pasteboards, and another turning a machine and dropping in a little ball that rolls round and round and stops sometimes on the eagle bird and oftener don't—and where the players generally put down more than they take up—and men sometimes win but mostly don't—ah—oh, "pass on to Shunem."

And in conclusion, my friends, when the world, the flesh, and the devil—ah—lie in wait for you—"pass on to Shunem."

A MERITED REBUKE.—Our Portland correspondent sends us the following item, which we commend, toget her with his remarks, to the attention of those who go and do likewise in Portsmouth.

The G. A. R. concert on the 31st Dec. was a fine one—the artists being M. Arbuckle, the celebrated Cornet player, —Miss Addie S. Ryan Contralto, Miss Lizzie Gates Soprano, Mr. Bernard Listeman Vocalist and T. P. Ryder Pianist. As the closing piece, the beautiful "Quis est home" from Stabat Mater, was just begun, some of the audience started to make their exit, creating quite a disturbance. Miss Gates and Miss Ryan—who were the singers of the same—stopped short and waited. The audience gave them a rousing applause in appreciation of their action. The crowd still kept on and the noise not ceasing, Miss Ryan started and Miss Gates followed, leaving the stage, Mr. Ryder closing up "in good retreat." The papers have been itemizing the incident and the public have been talking about it. The general sentiment is in hearty approval of the action of the artists named, and we hope Portlanders will thus learn a lesson of manners. If any persons wish to leave the hall on such occasions, let them do so between pieces.

The 9 P. M. bell here is the great unnerving power, and after that there is more or less uneasiness. It is not necessary to enact laws for the government of innocent and upright people, for they never come in contact with law, but the vicious and ill disposed; and so it is with "good manners." It is not necessary to make rules for those who are inborn ladies and gentlemen, but for those otherwise. It would seem as though one's own sense of propriety would have restrained them from disturbing an audience on such an occasion, without rushing to the papers to argue and defend themselves afterwards. We take off our chapeau to the brave mesdames for their apropos rebuke of a Portland audience's ill manners.

—Portland is talking of a "Babies' Refuge," similar to the one connected with the Home for Little Wanderers in Boston.

—Water is no use in the case of an oil fire. It must either be salted or smothered. When a building in which oil is stored is on fire, the greatest danger arises from the running of the oil in all directions—in the street gutter and wherever it finds a channel. The only safety is by damming up the street by boards and mud. As the surface only is burning, a hole at the bottom of the dam will let off most of the oil in safety.

—"I'll neither tell my age for census or the sovereign," said the cook most resolutely, to her master, who was preparing for the enumerator. "Very well, I'll put down sixty-five," was the cool reply. "Upon my honor, sir, I was only fifty-eight last birth-day," screamed the cook.

—Rev. Anthony Romano de Travi, Roman Catholic pastor at Hinsdale, N. H., a native of Italy, has been created a Knight of the Equestrian Order of the Crown of Italy, by King Victor Emanuel.

—The famous stallion General Knox has netted his owner, Col. T. S. Lang, sixty thousand dollars, and increased the value of the horse stock of Maine many hundred thousand.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a party sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY.

102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON.

ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE.

It is a well known fact that many articles used in various families are more or less adulterated, but it is not so generally known that Confectionery, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alba or White Earth" is used.

Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.

It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is adulterated.

Purchasers desirous of a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of confectionery manufactured to be as pure as the very best Martin's Crushed Sugar.

The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!

This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.

This INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.

It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.

Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,

Wanted: More Evenings.

I think I have clearly made out the want of the modern church, and the great hindrance to the millenial good time coming. I see why progress halts—why we do not go up at once to possess all the land.

It is not the want of an able, earnest pulpit or a strong press; not the want of convictions; not the want of broad-hearted liberality. It is the simple want of more evenings in each week.

I will illustrate. I talked yesterday with one of my most conscientious and industrious church officers, impressing upon him the value of the class-meeting as a means of grace. He said, in substance, this: "On Sunday I go early to church, that I may receive and care for strangers. At the close of service, I hurry home and take dinner, and return to see the Sunday School, which engages me from a quarter-past two until four o'clock. Home, and early to church, with duties as in the morning. Do you see any time for class-meeting on Sunday?"

I was obliged to admit that I did not. To say attend a morning class-meeting was to require the only hour he could reserve for private religious duties and the rest of the Sabbath. I suggested a week evening class. He answered: "Monday night is official meeting; Wednesday night is prayer meeting; Friday night is our Sunday School teacher's meeting. Neither of these can be disturbed. One evening ought to be given at home; one surely ought to be reserved for social purposes; while Saturday night must be given to closing up the week's business. The teacher's meeting is important, not only for the study of the lesson, but because the whole machinery of the school is overhauled and inspected; the Wednesday night prayer meeting is too important to be set aside for anything. I do not see how I can take on me another church engagement."

I then thought of two others—active men, who devote their entire Sunday to the congregation and Sunday School, and have, in addition to the official meeting, prayer meeting and teacher's meeting, the Saturday night's drill and rehearsal for the singing of Sunday.—What am I to do if these brethren do not attend class? I can do nothing without more evenings.

But this is not all. The interests of the City Missions occasionally demand and ought to receive an evening. The Bible Society, the Bethel cause, the Freedmen's cause, the Home for the Friendless, the Orphan Asylum, the Old Ladies' Home, each wants and deserves to have an occasional evening, and if absent I am likely to hear that some sorrowful officer or orator has said; "No wonder the people take no interest when pastors—doctors in divinity—don't take interest enough to come."

Dear knight of the sorrowful visage, I will take any amount of "interest" if you will give me a few additional evenings. Neither as pastor nor doctor can I secure more than seven evenings a week.

What are we to do with lectures, concerts, sociables, and evening companies? All of these are valuable in proper measure, but they are open to the objection of requiring evenings. In twelve years the writer has attended less than that number of lectures, and not more than two or three concerts.—The evenings were engrossed.

Business, what are we to do?—"You ought to take more evenings for Sunday School work," say our earnest, faithful Sunday School men. They call—and there is no logic against their arguments—for evenings for Bible Class and Normal College drill, for Institutes and Sunday School prayer meetings. How many evenings can we give that confessedly great interest without damage to others?

"It is perfectly easy to secure good congregational singing; you only want a good leader, and then to come together one evening in the week and practice." "Yes, but which evening?" "Why, the one you now give the choir."—Those who sing with the choir do not all attend all the other meetings. One brother is compelled to choose between the choir recitation and the Bible class; another between it and the prayer meeting. Ours is a church choir, leading, not monopolizing, the singing; but as for bringing the body of the church to the rehearsal and drill, it cannot be done without giving up something else.

The sad thing is the want of evenings at home. There are business men who are almost strangers in their own house. After an early breakfast, they are away, often without seeing a portion of the family; they "lunch down town," are home to tea, and out to some evening engagement, returning to find that most of the family are asleep. What do such men know of home? Not much but its bills. No family readings, no quiet gatherings around the lamp or drop-light, with song, and story, and parting prayer.—There is no charm, no sweetness, no sanctity in such a home-life.

The want of our cities is home evenings.—Dr. Eddy, in the Methodist.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, undoubtedly the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutions and maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give caste to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.

IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to work the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. Tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result con pletely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough; the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains is soon told.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that for the Nervous is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

NATIONAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress.
APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.
Branch Office:
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of Insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JAN. 9, 1869.

The News.

Hon. Hannibal Hamlin was nominated for Senator at the Republican caucus at Augusta, Me., Thursday evening. Hamlin had 76 votes; Morrill 74.

The President has nominated Hallet Kilbourne to be Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

Troubles continue in Hayti and St. Domingo.

Arkansas is becoming tranquilized.

Murders, Outrages and disturbances are common in Texas.

It is stated that the Congressional Committee on the New York Election Frauds have already discovered frauds enough to show that the State really voted for Grant and Colfax.

Gen. Rousseau died at New Orleans on Thursday.

Hon. John Minor Botts died at his home in Culpepper, Va., on Friday.

New Hampshire Items.

Eben B. Townsend, Esq. formerly of Amherst, but now of Raynham, Mass. has given $1000 as a new year's gift to Dartmouth College.

The citizens of the town of Amherst have voted most decisively in favor of appropriating the 5 per cent. of the town valuation to aid in building the Mount Vernon Railroad. The vote stood 180 for and 66 against the measure. The town also gave the Road the right of way across the town farm, and the use of the ledge and gravel for building bridges, &c., only one voting in the negative.—The town also instructed the Selectmen to leave the ledge, subject to the above vote.

The hearing of the Laconia poisoning case, closed Jan. 7. Mrs. Farrar and Anna Moulton were bound over for trial. Miss Moulton procured bail, $2000. Mrs. Farrar was committed. Nothing was proved against Dr. Foster.

Sheriff Scott of Peterborough brought to the State Prison, from the Court at Manchester, George Wilmot, a Nova Scotian, under sentence of three years for breaking and entering, and George L. Perkins of Haverhill, Mass., two years for horse stealing.

Sheriff Fairbanks of Manchester brought up Mary Gleason, under a State Prison sentence of three years for stealing. She is a widow from Manchester.

There was an adjourned meeting of the New Hampshire State Temperance Alliance, at Lancaster, Wednesday.—Hon. Wm. Hayward was President, and addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Barrows of Sanbornton Bridge, Col. H. D. Pierce of Hillsborough, Rev. Mr. McLeod and others. The meeting was large and enthusiastic.

PASS HIM ROUND.—About the last of October a young man calling himself Charles Long, and claiming to be a native of Hartford, Conn., made his appearance at Exeter. He professed to be a devout christian, and by the kindness of some of our citizens was furnish'd employment. He boarded with Mr. J. R. Smith nearly two months, and after contracting debts to the amount of 40 or 50 dollars for wearing apparel, &c., suddenly left for parts unknown, leaving all his bills unpaid. He was a small sized man, weighing about 140 pounds, light complexion, and very smooth and innocent in appearance. He professed to have recommendations from a christian Association in Connecticut, and took an active part in religious meetings. It is believed that he went towards Portland, doubtless to seek a new field of operation.—Exeter News Letter.

DEAD MEN.—Have you ever read the Ancient Mariner? asked Rev. Mr. Spurgeon, one day of his congregation. I dare say you thought it one of the strangest imaginations ever put together, especially that part where the old mariner represents the corpses of all the dead men rising up to manage the ship—dead men pulling the ropes, dead men steering, dead men spreading the sails. I thought what a strange idea that was. But do you not know that I have lived to see that day? I have seen it done! I have gone into churches and I have seen a dead man in the pulpit, a dead man as deacon, and a dead man handling the plate, and dead men sitting to hear.

Spurgeon is right, and the dead men are not all buried, by a great sight. No, indeed, there are plenty of them above ground, to day—the more's the pity—men dead to every enterprise, deaf to all benevolence, and lacking all the elements of true manhood—though in the world, yet not of it. The sooner such are buried, the better.

ECLIPSES IN 1869.—There will be four eclipses this year, two of the sun and two of the moon. Two of them will be visible on this continent. The first will occur Jan. 27th. A total eclipse of the sun will occur on the 7th of August and will be visible to North America and Eastern Asia.

—The best "rest" for the season:—the harvest.

COSTLY FILTH.—In the important Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, the sum of one hundred and ninety-one million dollars was collected from internal revenue, the expenses of collecting which was five per cent. The heavy items in this account are the taxes paid on the indulgence of popular appetite. The amount received, for instance, from the tax on chewing and smoking tobacco was, in round numbers, fifteen million dollars. Add to this the cost of production and dealers' profits, which is estimated to be five times more than the revenue tax, amounting to seventy-five million dollars.

All the railroads paid together less than seven millions, the insurance companies less than two millions, and the telegraph and express companies not a million between them, so that chewing and smoking tobacco—our small vices, as they are called—are really "bigger things" in the Commissioner's report than all the railroads, telegraphs or express and insurance companies in the United States taken together. The number of cigars taxed was six hundred millions. It is calculated as many more are used through smuggling, making a grand total yearly expenditure in the United States on one hundred and fifty million dollars for tobacco alone.

Will not some Philanthropist discover some remedy for this enormous and useless waste of money? Only think of it, one hundred and fifty million dollars annually thrown away! This would soon liquidate our national debt. The question recurs, where will an Antidote be found for this greatest of evils.—New York Herald.

THE PRESS AND PUBLIC.—In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred—perhaps we might say in nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand, the conductors of public journals have no personal feeling, in doing their duty to the public by exposing frauds or denouncing rascalities. Hence the injustice so well of the folly of picking quarrels with editors, and attempting to visit them with libel suits and other vexations to gratify petty spite and mean vindictiveness. If the press happens to be mistaken in any instance, it is always ready to make reparation and allow the injured party ample means to vindicate and put himself right.

But on the other hand, when a supposed swindler is really a swindler—and his alleged irregularities beyond a doubt, he will show a mad indiscretion in venturing upon a fight with newspapers. He will find them always too strong for him, and united in their strength; and he will have his demerits thoroughly ventilated, without mercy. From one end of the land to the other he will get an unenviable notoriety.

There isn't money enough to be made by the hickiest of gamblers, there isn't pluck enough in the most reckless of operators, to frighten or conquer the hosts of journalists who will make a common cause in defending the freedom and independence of their vocation; and in their maintenance of right and denunciation of wrong, in their judicial capacity public sentiment always sustains them.—Boston Transcript.

A PLEASANT INCIDENT IN A MINER'S LIFE.—A Nevada paper tells the story of a lucky Dutchmaster in their region who made a successful mining experiment. Having heard that a rich deposit was about to be developed in one of the leading mines, and judging rightly that it would be kept dark as long as possible, he set about to procure employment in the mine. Disguising himself as a miner, he applied for and obtained the coveted situation. A few hours work convinced him that his prognostications were right and a big find inevitable. Accordingly he invested in the stock of the mine all the money he possessed (a few hundred dollars) and all he could borrow, paying down the regular twenty per cent., and in a few days sold out at an advance of $3000. He has come East to pay a visit to the "old folks at home," whom he has not seen for twenty years.

PROFITS FROM DEER-BREEDING.—A gentleman, who some years ago retired from the city to a large, rough farm in Western New York, bought a pair of elk. He fenced in eighty acres, made a deer-park of it, and sold his young animals. Within a few years he has disposed of sixty of them, at five hundred dollars a pair. The King of Sardinia is his most liberal patron, purchasing them to stock his extensive ranges. The same farmer has derived quite an income from mink. Persons who like curious pets, buy them. He has lately bought otter and beaver, and thinks there is much profit in that line of business. Why not? There are millions and millions of acres of rough, steep land in New England, New York and Pennsylvania, that will yield larger returns as a range for useful animals of this class than they do by the present system of tillage.—Hearth and Home.

—A Milwaukee paper tells a story of how a young table girl a year ago took such good care of a young man from an Eastern city who fell sick at one of the hotels there, that he recovered. Full of gratitude to his young nurse, who disappeared before he was able to be out, he left a note of thanks for her, including a lottery ticket, which was all he had left, which unexpectedly drew a prize of about $5700, on the receipt of which the girl went to school, at the convent; when, after some eight months, through the postmaster, to whom she had confided her affairs, she received a letter from the young man whom she had cared for, offering his heart and hand, which she is now waiting in happy mood to receive.

—No man is so learned but he may be taught; neither is any one so illiterate but that he may teach.

—Popular service—silver.

THE QUAKER COSTUME.—The dress of the Friends, was not invented by them, but in the days of Oliver Cromwell in England when George Fox founded the Society of Friends. this peculiar style of dress was worn by everybody. Hats with a broad brim, poke bonnets, and shad belly coats were everywhere. On the restoration of the monarchy in the person of Charles II, 1760, new fashions were introduced, which have been changing ever since, while the Quakers have adhered to the former style.

Their costume is simple and convenient, neat and sometimes rich, and has saved them the inconvenience and expense those endure, who follow the changing and frivolous fashions.

—During the recent election in England a voter in Wiltshire was applied to several times for his vote. This, however, he resolutely refused to give.—"For," said he, "directly after I voted last time, the price of bread rose, and I made up my mind at that time that I'd never vote any more."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THERE is no mistake about it, PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. 12

No Hospitals, in Europe or America, have as many patients as Dr. WOLCOTT, 170 Chatham square, N. Buy none unless in white wrappers. 2weaw

HOW TO DRAW THEM.—Extract from a letter from St. Paul, Iowa, to Phalon & Son: "YOUR new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," is in urgent request here. Wish I had fifty galls. in my store to-day." Gentle druggist, the article is too precious to be sold in bulk, but if you keep it on hand you will be sure to have fifty gals in your store every day—it draws them as blossoms draw the bee. Sold by all druggists.

"Why stand you thus amazed?" To see a person of your natural beauty with a head of dry, bristling, unkempt hair! Go purchase a bottle of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative." It will transform your hair into beautiful glossy ringlets. Nothing so efficacious has ever been offered to the public.—Lowell Courier.

For Catarrh buy full Pint Bottles of Wolcott's ANXIHALATOR, in white wrappers, $1. Wolcott's PAIN PAINT is also in white wrappers only sold at druggists. 2weaw

SPECIAL NOTICES.

EXUBERANT HEALTH

is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life and exemptions from sickness than their robust brethren. Many a man follows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not to be supposed that more than half the people of the civilized world need as occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, unexciting TONIC is the grand desideratum of the times, and there has been left for this end, a boon to sufferers, which has been the GREAT MEDICAL SUCCESS OF THE PRESENT CENTURY, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted) the whole year through, barely supply the demand for the Illustrated Almanac in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over five millions a year.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous disease to lose no time in making a trial of this wonderful plaster.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d28

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE,

OR, SELF-PRESERVATION.

A New Medical Book, the best in the world, written by Dr. A. H. Hayes, who has had more experience in treating with diseases treated upon in it than any other living physician. It treats upon the ERRORS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS and all DISEASES and ABUSES OF THE GENERATIVE ORGANS. It contains 300 pages bound in cloth, illustrated with beautiful engravings. "This is no advertising quack medical pamphlet, but a truly scientific and popular treatise by one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day. If the young and middle aged would avoid mental depression, all nervous diseases, premature decay and death, let them read Dr. Hayes' popular medical work, entitled 'The Science of Life.'"—Medical and Surgical Jour.

Sent by mail, securely sealed, on receipt of price, only $1; in extra Morocco, $3. Address the Author, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston (opposite the Revere House). N. B.—Dr. H. can always be consulted in the strictest confidence. INVIGORATING SECRETS AND CERTAIN RELIEF. my9dly

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor prepared from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are thus by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the co or of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa; nor is it a concentrated medicine to be diluted, as where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 14 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the U. S.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business during my absence, and not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion, The exhaustion consequent on Marriage, Involuntary Emissions, many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Indigestion, Constipation, Palpitation of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, and HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Menses, Fluxes, Ulceration or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system all those painful diseases, the result of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all cases of Urinary Organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant to the taste and odor, diuretic, prompt, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

PORTSMOUTH ABROAD.—The Newton (Jasper County, Iowa,) Free Press says "the thriving town of Kellogg is to have a fine addition of new buildings next spring. Mr. Georg W. Fernald is building a fine store, warehouse and elevator. His present store is now doing a good business." Mr. Wm. Henry Fernald, a brother of the above, is also located a few miles from him, at Pleasant Valley, Iowa, where he keeps a store, and is Postmaster. He is now on a visit here, at his own home. We are glad to hear both are prospering—as the next best thing to having the young men of Portsmouth flourish at home, is to hear of their success abroad.

COST OF SCHOOLS.—There was appropriated for school purposes in 1868, $18,700.00.
Balance on hand Jan. 1, 1868, 440.43.
Rec'd from Literary Fund, 419.50.
Total, $19,559.83.
Total expenses for 1868, 19,379.02.

Leaving a balance on hand of $180.81. The salaries paid teachers for the year amount to $16,214.87.

☞ Rev. Moses How of New Bedford, now upwards of fourscore, but hale and blithe as a youth of sixteen, has recently spent a few days in this city. His visit to the Soldiers' Fair in what is now the Temple, formerly his meeting-house, awakened old memories. The old gentleman walked a mile to call on friends in the suburbs, and leaped fences of the fields with an agility which shew his step to be as light as his heart is always cheerful.—He says that when he retires, he shall come back to Portsmouth, buy a lot and build a house.

☞ Rev. Mr. Medbery has resumed his duties as City Missionary of Portsmouth, and annouces his office hours, &c., in his Card.

☞ Hon. John H. Bailey of this city was President of the Convention at Concord, on Thursday, which re-nominated Hon. Jacob H. Ela for Congress.

☞ Chas. Hiram Hayes, Esq., of this city, has been appointed Justice of the Peace and Quorum throughout the State.

☞ There will be services at the Middle Street Church, Sunday. Seats Free.

PATENTS have been issued to Dr. E. B. Goodall of this city for improved mode of inserting artificial teeth, and to M. R. Perkins of Portsmouth, J. V. Begert of New York, and J. F. Lowell of Boston, Mass., for improved window sash.

OFFICE SEEKING.—We are credibly informed that every third republican in Portsmouth is circulating a petition for some government office, from gate keeper at the Navy Yard to Assessor of Internal Revenue. They are not content with a home canvass and are not confined to city limits, but are scouring the country for signers, to the most important petitions. We conjure our friends in Portsmouth, seeing the war is but just closed, not to forget so soon all military rules, and all go on the skirmish line, but to leave enough at home to mount guard as Sergeant Davidson is getting in years. There is danger that your patriotism will run away with you friends, as it is apt to do on the incoming of a new administration. Such danger is imminent if we may judge by the number of "home guards" that have been detailed to go into the country for petitioners of respectability and standing.—Exeter News Letter.

MAYOR JONES, of Portsmouth, has presented his last year's salary, $500, to the High School of that place, the interest to be forever applied to the increasing of the school library. Mayor Jones expects to be Senator from Dist. No. 1.—Exeter News Letter.

☞ The Democratic Conventions are to be held as follows. Congressional Dist. No 1. at Dover Jan 21. Councilor at Bunker's Hotel, Epping, Jan 26, Senatorial at Hampton Jan 28. County at Exeter, Jan 28.

☞ The regular Monthly Meeting of the Managers of the Portsmouth Board of Trade, will be held at the Common Council Room, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 12th, at 7 o'clock.

MR. BARNABEE'S LAST CONCERT of the series takes place next Monday evening, when he will be assisted by Mrs. H. M. Smith, whose absence occasioned a disappointment at the last Coucert, and Mrs. D. C. Hall; Mr. H. M. Dow presiding at the piano. As we may expect a quiet season for concert-goers after this, the public should attend and enjoy it. "The Two Buzzards" will be no small addition to the entertainment, which will be very attractive.

PERSONAL.—Wm. H. Rollins, Esq. left this city on Wednesday for New York, to take steamer for Havre on Saturday. He visits Europe in pursuit of improved health, which all who know him will sincerely hope he may obtain. He will spend the winter in Italy.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

PORTSMOUTH ATHENEUM. — At the annual meeting of this institution on Wednesday the following officers were elected for the current year:—

President, Alfred W. Haven.
Directors, Richard Jenness, Jonathan M. Tredick, Albert R. Hatch, Joshua W. Pierce, James DeNormandie.
Secretary and Treasurer, Charles H. Rollins.

According to the annual report, the library numbers 10,780 volumes.

MIDDLE-ST. CHURCH.—We notice in the Watchman and Reflector this week a sketch of the history of the Middle-St. Church, from the pen of Rev. Dr. Lamson, which we have not room to copy. The only surviving original member of the church is the venerable Dea. Samuel Cleaves, who was one of eight to form the church in 1826, and who is truly a man beloved by the people. It is pleasant to add, says Dr. L. that the good deacon, who labored and contributed so literally to build the house originally, has now, through nearly eighty years of age, labored as zealously and given as freely for its reconstruction. One thing which was not mentioned in the sketch we speak of without consulting the Treasurer of the Society, Hon. Horton D. Walker who is becoming a veteran in that office from many years service—that is, that never since he has filled the office has the salary of the minister or any bill failed of prompt payment, whether there was money in the treasury or not; while he also been always foremost in every matter which he considered to be for the interest of the Society. The opening services of the new year were peculiarly interesting on Sabbath last. The organ was admirably managed by Mrs. Daniel E. Leavitt, who has been organist at the church for over ten years.

NEWCASTLE.—Some of the residents have this week complained to us bitterly of the state of the road just beyond the first bridge from Portsmouth — blocked with snow, the clearing of which would be quite an item of expense to the Bridge Company. We are informed that the income of the company is now but small. If so, this would be a good opportunity for the towns to buy up the bridge, for free passage, and assume the duty and right of keeping the roads in good order.

NEW HALL.—We learn that the proprietors of Congress Block have in contemplation the erection of a spacious and attractive hall, to be attached to the rear of that block, to accomodate public exhibitions, parties, &c. The details are not yet decided upon, but we may rely upon it that in the hands of such liberal projectors it will be creditabe to the city and its central location.

CATTLE MARKET AT BRIGHTON.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, JAN. 7.
[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week — Cattle 917; — Sheep and Lambs 8,331; Swine 100; number of Western Cattle 460; Eastern Cattle 198; Working Oxen and Northern Cattle 260.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 50 @ $14 00; first quality $12 50 @ $13 25; second quality $11 75 @ $12 25; third quality $9 50 @ $11 50; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $6 50@ $9 00, lbs;—(thetotal weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 10 @ 10½ ₱ lb; Country Hides 10 @ 10½ ₱ lb.

Brighton Tallow 8 @ 9c per lb; Country Tallow 7 @ 8c ₱ lb.

Lamb Skins $1 @ $1 25 each; Sheep Skins $1 @ $1 25 each; Calf Skins 20@ 23c ₱ lb

Cattle come higher at the West this week, and the supply from that section was small. Most of the Cattle were of an ordinary grade. Prices upon the best Steers are a little firmer, but upon the common grades there is not much change. There was one nice lot of 27, owned by A N Monroe, which was the best lot in market this week, and it was estimated would cost 14½ ₱ lb. There was quite a number of good Steeves among the Cattle from Maine, some of which sold at 15¼ @ 14c ₱ lb.

Stores—Yearlings $18 @ $20; two-year olds $28 @ $45; three-year olds $45 @ $65 ₱ head. Prices depend much upon their value for Beef.

Milch Cows—Extra $85 @ $115; Ordinary $45 @ $60; Store Cows $35 @ $55 ₱ head. Prices depend much upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Working Oxen—There was a good supply in market, but not a very active demand. We quote sales at $105, 140, 150, 165, 180, 200, 220, 240, 235, 245, $265 @ $290 ₱ head.

Sheep and Lambs were in good demand. There was a good supply from the West, most of which were owned by butchers or taken at a commission. We quote sales of Northern lots at 4¾, 5¼, 6 @ 6½ ₱ lb; and 300 at $3 50 @ $4 25 ₱ head.

Swine—But few in market; prices at wholesale 10 @ 11c ₱ lb; retail 10 @ 12c ₱ lb.

GOLD BONDS OF THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD CO.
These Bonds are the duly authorized and accredited obligations of one of the most responsible Corporations of the American Continent, and are secured by an absolute first lien upon the valuable grants, franchises, railroad equipment, business, etc., of the best portion of the Great National Pacific Railroad Line,
extending eastwardly from the navigable waters of the Pacific Coast to the lines now rapidly building from the Eastern States.
They bear Six per cent. interest per annum, in gold, and both principal and interest are expressly made "payable in United States Gold Coin."
The semi-annual Coupons are payable July 1st and January 1st, in New York city.
The purchaser is charged the accrued interest from the date of the last paid Coupon, AT THE CURRENCY RATE ONLY.
The issue of Bonds constitutes one of the LARGEST AND MOST POPULAR CORPORATE LOANS of the country, and hence will be constantly dealt in.
The greater portion of the Loan is now in the hands of steady investors; and it is probable that before many months, when the Road is completed and the Loan closed, THE BONDS WILL BE EAGERLY SOUGHT FOR AT THE HIGHEST RATES.
They are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds granted by the government to the Pacific Railroad Companies.
Nearly FIVE HUNDRED MILES of the road are now built, and the grading is well advanced on two hundred and fifty miles additional.
THE THROUGH LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT will be completed by the middle of next year, when the Overland travel will be very large.
The local business alone, upon the completed portion, is so heavy, and so advantageous, that the gross earnings average more than a quarter of a million in gold per month, of which 36 per cent. only is required for operating expenses.
The net profit upon the Company's business on the completed portion is about double the amount of annual interest liabilities to be assumed thereupon, and will yield A SURPLUS OF NEARLY A MILLION IN GOLD after expenses and interest are paid—even if the thorough connection were not made.
The best lands, the richest mines, together with the largest settlement and nearest markets, lie along this portion of the Pacific Railroad, and the FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF BUSINESS thereon will be proportionately great.
From these considerations it is submitted that the
CENTRAL PACIFIC BAILROAD
BONDS,
secured by a First Mortgage upon so productive a property, are among the most promising and reliable securities now offered. No better Bonds can be made.
A portion of the remainder of this Loan is now offered to investors at 103 PER CENT., AND ACCRUED INTEREST, IN CURRENCY.
The Bonds are of $1,000 each.
The Company reserve the right to advance the price at any time; but all orders actually in transitu at the time of any such advance will be filled at present price. At this time they pay more than eight per cent. upon the investment, and have, from National and State laws, guarantees peculiar to themselves.
The first Mortgage Bonds are of $1,000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, payable in July and January. Both INTEREST and PRINCIPAL ARE MADE EXPRESSLY PAYABLE IN UNITED STATES GOLD COIN. The back interest from July 1st is charged only at the currency rates.
We receive all classes of Government Bonds, at their full market rates, in exchange for the Central Pacific Railroad Bonds, thus enabling the holders to realize from FIVE TO TEN PER CENT. PROFIT and keep the principal of their investments equally secure, and receive the same rate of interest for a longer period.
Orders and inquiries will receive prompt attention. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, etc., giving a full account of the Organization, Progress, Business and Prospects of the Enterprise furnished on application. Bonds sent by return Express at our cost.

THE UNION PACIFIC
RAILROAD COMPANY
OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
AT PAR.
NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES
Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole
Grand Line to the Pacific
Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.
The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:
"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for now track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.
Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.
Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.
By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,879. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.
The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,
—AND BY—
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,
And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.
Bonds sents free, but parties subscribing thro' local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.
A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.
JOHN J. CISCO, TREASURER, New York.

BIRTHDAYS.—An exchange gives a rather romantic inside view of what the editor must have experienced at some time.

How fast the birthdays come! How swiftly each year, silently and almost imperceptibly, glides away, bringing changes so gradual, yet so complete! It is no use to weep for golden opportunities gone, yet we cannot but wonder that we blindly let them slide through our grasp. How gladly you hail the day which makes you nine years old—how true are your kisses, how buoyant your spirits. What pleasure you take in making a "rounder," "knuckling down," and tossing your "jacks." Pure then is your love for her who first taught you to lisp "Our Father," free from guile your heart—unknown to sorrow your brief life.

Child! a sweet word. Sure, those lips cannot be long used to evil, which whisper it tenderly. With it, such loving memories throng, such happy recollections, such pleasant thoughts. An innocent, joyous boy, perhaps, with no thoughts of care—to grief an utter stranger—already owning bashfully to yourself a blushing preference for the little blue-eyed girl in in bib-apron and red shoes, who sits on the front bench at school, her toes just able to reach the floor. How fast your heart beats when she goes up timidly of a Friday afternoon to speak:

"I know a little girl,
Her face is bright and fair."

While you are very certain, all the time, that you know one. That night you carry her satchel for her, and at parting give her a rosy-cheeked apple, and tell her, ever so softly, that you'll bring her one every day, and then come home, vowing to marry her when you are a man, and she shall have a fine house and carriage, like the squire's, and oh, ever so much money, and she always shall wear bib-aprons and red shoes. No thought of the, to you, weary years, no glimpse of toil, hardship, and trial in the future. Ah, happy days of childhood—bright and shadowless, sunshiny days.

Twenty-one to-day! A man now, the reins in your own hands, you can do just as you please, your heart swells with pride, and your head takes an independent poise when you think of it. "Free now—rote like a man, raise a moustache—carry a cane."

That night you put on a neck-tie of rainbow hues, part your hair behind, give an extra brush to your coat, and go over to see the little girl now emerging into young ladyhood, who so affected your heart at seven. At seven? At twenty-one, too, judging from your confusion, the continual objectless, awkward shifting of your position, and cheeks at summer heat, to-night. The old folks drop off to bed after awhile, the little ones are asleep long ago. You are sitting by her side, now and your embarrassment has flown.

You are growing bolder, it seems, for your arm rests on the back of the sofa, and finally drops carelessly down, lower and lower, until—oh, joy!—it's around the trim little waist, and your hand presses hers, so soft and small, while little tremors of happiness run all over you, from your toes to the roots of your hair, and back again. What joy, what delight, what exquisite bliss! And so, with her cheek against your shoulder, the magic words are spoken, which your father and her father whispered as tenderly between heart-beats, before you. Oh Youth, gay spring-time of life, the season of polished boots, high hopes, pride and jealousy—gone.

THE FUTURE MODEL VILLAGE.—The future model village of New England, as I see it, shall have for the use of its inhabitants, not merely a town lyceum hall and town library, but a town laundry, fitted up with conveniences such as no private house can afford, and paying a price to the operators which will enable them to command an excellence of work such as private families seldom realize. It will also have a town bakery, where the best of family bread, white, brown, and of all grains, shall be compounded; and, lastly, a town cook-shop, where soup and meats may be bought, ready for the table.

Those of us who have kept house abroad, remember the ease with which our foreign establishments were carried on. A suite of elegant apartments, a courier, and one female servant, were the foundation of domestic life. Our courier boundled us at moderate expense, and the servant took care of our rooms. Punctually to the dinner hour every day, our dinner came in on the head of the porter from a neighboring cook shop.

A large chest lined with tin, and kept warm by a tiny charcoal stove in the centre, being deposited in an anteroom, from it came forth, first, soup, then fish, then roast of various names, and lastly pastry and confections—far more courses than any reasonable Christian needs to keep him in healthy condition; and dinner being over, our box, with its debris, went out of the house, leaving a clear field.—Mrs. Stowe.

—The Empress Eugenie, though reported very rich at the time of her marriage, was only moderately wealthy, and what with her spendthrift habits and the expenses connected with her exalted position, has managed to incur more debts than she can pay, unless she curtails her expenses by two thirds, which she will never do. One of her Spanish estates was sold as far back as 1862, and the other, which cannot be sold under the Spanish laws, is heavily mortgaged—one of the bad debts of the Credit Mobilier. The story of her having effected an insurance upon her life with a London company for a large sum was a canard.

—What is the difference between a belle and a burglar? One carries false locks and the other false keys.

For the Chronicle.

WHY DO WE MEET?

Dedicated to the Grand Army of the Republic,

BY PHILIP O'REILL.

Why do we meet, these peaceful days,
When hostile memories well might cease?
Why do we sing old martial lays,
While shines aloft the star of peace?

We meet, as friends do ever meet,
With kindly wish and genial smile,
The star of peace will shine more sweet,
On those who won that Peace are while.

On winter's night or summer's morn,
In deep morass or mountain glen,
In heading charge or backward borne,
We learned to love a comrade then.

A friendship formed in danger's hour,
Beneath affliction's chastening rod,
Is strong as fate,—nor living power,
Can serve to change it, under God.

A band of brothers is the right
We never saw a comrade's grave,
But doubly nerved us in the fight;—
Such feeling well becomes the brave.

We are a League of loyal men,
Not only to our country true,
But true to those who battled then
And fought with us for freedom too.

We know no party, none confess,
We only know that some have died
For our loved Union in distress,
To honor those it is our pride;

To scatter flowers around each bier,
To cherish deeds beyond all praise,
To dry their widows', orphans' tears,
For this we meet, these peaceful days.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.
Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.
Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.
Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.
Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY.
102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON.
ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE.
It is a well known fact that many articles used in various families are more or less adulterated, but it is not so generally known that Confectionery, as sold at every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alba or White Earth" is used.
Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every consumer for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.
It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is so adulterated.
Purchasers desiring of a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of confectionery manufactured by me to be as pure as the very best Sugar's Crushed Sugar.
The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

AMERICAN COMPANY
Richly Scented TOILET SOAPS.
HONEY, GLYCERINE, ELDER-FLOWER, BOUQUET AND PALM.
In Quality, they are unsurpassed, warranted equal to the English and sold fully 50 per cent. cheaper, which accounts for the great falling off in the demand for the foreign soaps, and the unprecedented success of the American Company Toilet Soaps, now sold everywhere in the United States.

THE
ORIENTAL
TEA COMPANY
WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.
WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."
EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.
OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.
ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.
THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.
WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $20 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.
WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.
Address all orders and communications to the
ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,
85, 87 & 89 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.
We have appointed
JOHN STOKELL & CO.
Agents for Portsmouth,
JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Agent for Kittery.

HURSELL'S
PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.
No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scaly skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.
STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
29 State Street, Boston.
MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Interlocking of Deers' Antlers.

BY COL. T. B. THORPE.

I find in your paper an article mentioning that a gentleman of Troy, New York, has a pair of deer's heads, the antlers of which are "inseparably locked." It is well known that the cervines are remarkably pugnacious when their annual growth of antlers is just perfected; they are then in their prime condition of health, and then the timid creature of a few weeks previous becomes reckless of danger, challenging his own equals to combat, and in the vanity of the hour almost treating the baying hound with scorn. It is seldom, however that these backwoods encounters end fatally, unless by mischance the antlers become interlocked; then follows a desperate struggle for separation; exhaustion finally ensues, and these noble beasts patiently wait the slow but certain event of death to release them from their unparalleled sufferings.

It is sometimes thought to be singular that people who know the interest these "interlocked antlers" create, do not take two separate pairs and by force press them together. The reason is that the bony substance of the dead animal has been hardened by age, and will not yield sufficient to accomplish the designed result. When the bucks meet in the early Fall their just perfected antlers have some toughness and spring to them. It is only in this condition that the branching material will yield to pressure, and if circumstances are favorable, then, and only then, will the interlocking take place.

Some twenty-five years ago I was visiting a friend living in the swamps of Louisiana, opposite Natchez. Standing on the gallery of the house one evening, he called my attention to some buzzards that were gracefully sailing in narrow circles overhead. "That indicates something has just been killed in the neighborhood," he said; "tomorrow we will go out and see what these scavengers have found."

"You may be mistaken," said I, not being then well informed in backwoods craft.

"Not a bit of it," said my friend. "I am just as certain that directly under where those vultures are circling about, here is some animal just dead or dying, as I am certain we are conversing together."

The next morning we proceeded to the indicated spot, and to my suprise we found two magnificent bucks with their antlers interlocked. One had recently died, a fortunate blow with the sharp hoof of his antagonist having cut the animals. throat as if with a bowie-knife. The grass and shrubbery in the vicinity were beaten down within a circle of many feet, showing plainly that a long and desperate struggle had taken place before the coup de grace was given. The surviving buck was a terrible thing to look at. His neck was swollen to enormous proportions, and the long hair upon it was turned forward, giving him, in conjunction with his bloodshot eyes, a most fierce and diabolical aspect.

As we we came near, the imprisoned but still defiant hero of the woods endeavored to release his head—not to escape, but to be better able to attack his new foes. He struggled, butted, wriggled — in fine, raged, panted, and then renewed his impotent attempts of revenge. It was a great scene for a Landseer or Rosa Bonheur; but all their genius would have probably failed when it came to illustrate the surrounding scenery, the gloom, the mysterious light, the moss covered trees, all in such strict harmony with the combatants, their duel and their death.

The rifle ball for this once was certainly merciful, and the living, suffering victor over his foe, fell dead by his side. The buzzards still weeled overhead, but were gradually descending nearer the earth: in fact, they were becoming so eager for their expected repast, that I could occasionally hear the whistle of their great pinions as they performed the part of rudders in directing the course of the birds. They had the carcasses, but for long years I possessed the interlocked antlers.

GUANO.—The original name of guano is huanu which is a term in the Quichus dialect, meaning "animal dung;," for example Huanacrhuanu, excrement of the Huanacu. As the word is now generally used, it is an abbreviation of Pishu Huanu, bird-dung. The Spaniards have converted the final syllable nu into no, as they do in all the words adopted from the Quichua which have the like termination. The European orthography, Guano, which is also followed in Spanish America, is quite erroneous; for the Quichua language wants the letter G, as it does several other consonants. The H at the commencement of the word is strongly aspirated, whence the error in the orthography of the Spaniards.—Von Tschudi's Travels in Peru.

—The Philadelphia Press says that Leonard Myers, Republican, whose election to Congress in the Third Pennsylvania District is one of the contested cases, has already found enough frauds to elect him by five hundred majority. Mr. Myers is a member of the present Congress.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Fretfulness, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable for ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give caste to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional improvement, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe and certain in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains is easy solid.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

NATIONAL
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress.
APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.

PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and Now Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The News.

Flour is falling in price.

Gen. Buchanan takes command at New Orleans in place of Gen. Rousseau, deceased.

The revolutionist chiefs in Cuba are to issue a proclamation emancipating the slaves.

Russia demands explanation from France for the conduct of the French Minister at Constantinople.

Sheriff O'Brien and his deputies seized and carried away several witnesses from the rooms of the Congressional Investigating Committee in New York, on Friday, and stationed deputies at the door to arrest others coming. Marshal Murray came to the rescue, but the witnesses cannot be found. U. S. soldiers will hereafter guard the room.

A Norfolk dispatch of Friday, Jan. 8, mentions a negro disturbance at Kempsville, where a sergeant of the U. S. army was killed, and three negroes.

The recent outrage at Clarksville, Texas was got up by the Whiskey Ring! that same Ring has telegraphic friends! and it had some agency in keeping the drunken and hypocritical occupant in the White House!

Congress.

In the House on Friday Gen. Logan spoke at some length against the Civil Service Bill, claiming that, as each administration was held responsible for the policy pursued, it ought in justice to have men in office acting in harmony with it. The Military Academy Bill was discussed and passed.

New Hampshire Items.

The Peterborough Transcript says Mr. Miles Robinson, of Greenfield, a man between sixty and seventy years of age, while pulling hay upon a scaffold in his barn about two weeks ago, lost his footing and fell to the floor, causing a serious fracture of the left thigh. He has been crippled for years in the same leg now injured, occasioned by a sciatic difficulty, which drew the limb out of shape and rendered it very difficult for him to walk. We learn that the old difficulty is improving, and he bids fair to have a straighter and better leg than before.

The number of deaths in Danville the past year was 7. Males 6. Female.

In Exeter the whole number of deaths the past year is 53. Average age 49 years.

Rev. John W. Dodge was installed as pastor over the First Congregational Church in Yarmouth, on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Dodge left Hampton for the Yarmouth pastorate.

At the mill of C. M. Watts in the northwest part of the town, 250 barrels of cider were made; at Kendall's mills, one thousand, and the same number at Adams' mill in Derry.—Londonderry Times.

The 150th birthday of the town of Londonderry occurs the present year and the people of this and adjoining towns propose a celebration and have selected Hon. Charles H. Bell of Exeter to make the leading address.

John Q. A. Sargent of Manchester, has secured the contract for piping and heating the County building at Brentwood. Mr. Sargent is a master workman and recently completed a job in Boston at the Bureau of Charity in Chardon street, also at the Hillsborough County Farm, and other County and State institutions.

The Exeter News Letter says "the division of Rockingham County is prospective and probable, unless the efforts of designing politicians, lawyers and others in this county and in Manchester are thwarted by immediate and lively action. This is now no project, it having been introduced into the legislature last June. "Do the people of Rockingham county want their county be-divided? We answer, decidedly, no!" The most powerful incentive to this disintegration is the wary, wily and persistent working of Manchester people.

Mr. J. B. Moony of Alton, left Concord Thursday morning, with 36 horses and 800 bushels of grain. Mr. M. has a contract to furnish the Boston & Maine Railroad 2000 cords of wood this winter, which is to be drawn out from the lower end of Lake Winnipisaukee, and left at the Cocheco Branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad. The horses were large and in fine condition, and seemed fully capable of performing the hard service to be required of them.

Rev. Silas Ketchum of Bristol, recently received a pocket book from his congregation containing $34.05.

Mr. J. G. Lone of Manchester, was driving a horse recently, when it stopped, but soon moved on with a sort of hitch in its back. Since then it has been found that his back was broken.

THE VETERANS' UNION of New Hampshire celebrated their fourth anniversary on the 8th inst., at Concord. The exercises at Eagle Hall during the afternoon were largely attended, their chief feature being a ringing speech by General Kilpatrick. At a business meeting in the morning the board of officers for the past year was re elected, and a number of honorary members elected, Aaron Young, Esq., of this city being of that number. The ball in Pheuix Hall was in every respect worthy the praise which has been so freely accorded its predecessors, in decorations, brilliancy of attendance and dress, well-filled galleries, and the sumptuous banquet spread for the dancers. Night gave way to morning ere the Veterans' Reel closed this most pleasant of our social gatherings.

THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES.—Hon. Onslow Stearns, the candidate for Governor, was born in Billerica, Mass., August 30, 1811, and is now President and general manager of the Northern New Hampshire, Concord and Claremont, Old Colony and Newport, Dorchester and Milton and South Shore Railroads. He is also President of the Sullivan County Railroad, Manager and a Director of the Contoocook Valley Railroad and a Director of the Nashua and Lowell Railroad, Mount Washington Railway, Northern and Passumpsic Railroads. Mr. Stearns' most prominent characteristics are unwearied industry, great perseverance and indomitable energy.

Colonel Samuel D. Quarles, the candidate for Railroad Commissioner, was born in Ossipee, January 16, 1833. He fitted for college at Exeter and graduated at Ann Arbor University in Michigan in 1858. Subsequently he read law, was admitted to the Carroll county bar, and had just got established in his profession when the rebellion broke out. Offering his services to the Governor of this State, he was at once commissioned a captain in the Sixth New Hampshire volunteers, and went to the field with his regiment in the fall of 1861. From that time to the close of the war he was never absent from his post of duty for a single day, except from sickness or by reason of wounds.

During the long and highly honorable career of the Sixth Regiment, Col. Quarles constantly proved himself a brave and faithful officer. At the battle of Spottsylvania Court House, while heroically leading his command, he was severely wounded in two places, from which injuries he is, and will be through life, a sufferer. He was breveted Lieut. Col. by Congress for gallant and meritorious service in leading his regiment in front of Petersburg. Subsequently he was, in his regiment, promoted to Major, and then to Lieut. Colonel. His military record throughout the war was one of the highest order of bravery and honor. For two years before the war Col. Quarles was School Commissioner of Carroll County. He is now a practising lawyer in Ossipee, and is in the first rank of the legal fraternity of his county. His nomination for Railroad Commissioner was a compliment which he most justly deserved, while his name will strengthen the ticket, if that thing be possible, with Hon. Onslow Stearns at the head.

New Publications.

The Radical, for Jan. 1869, begins Vol. 5. It is published in Boston, and professes to be A Monthly Magazine of Natural Religion and Intellectual Liberty. The present number contains,—Foreclosure of Christian Unity, by Samuel Johnson; Failed, a Poem; William Johnson Fox, by Moncure D. Conway; From the Country; Carl Wrensler's Report of Himself and Others, a Serial; The Fallacy of Strife, by Marie A. Brown; The Hermit, a Poem, by J. Vila Blake; Do They Really Believe It? by C. K. Whipple; Waifs and Notes, by the Editor; In Confidence, a Poem; Till Love be Whole, a poem; Reviews and Notices. $4 a year; 35 cents a number.

Harper's Bazar has a telling picture, The Country in Danger.—Patriots to the Rescue.

Vick's Floral Guide for 1869. The first edition of one hundred thousand of Vick's Illustrated Catalogue of Seeds, and Guide in the Flower Garden, is published. It makes a work of 100 pages, beautifully illustrated, with about 150 Fine Wood Engravings of Flowers and Vegetables and an Elegant Colored Plate, a Bouquet of Flowers. It is the most beautiful, as well as the most instructive Floral Guide published, giving plain and thorough directions for the Culture of Flowers and Vegetables.—The Floral Guide is published for the benefit of Mr. Vick's customers, to whom it is sent free without application; but will be forwarded to all who apply by mail, for ten cents, which is not half the cost. Address James Vick, Rochester, New York.

NEW HAMPSHIRE FINANCES.—On the 1st inst., $500,000 of New Hampshire State Bonds matured in New York City, and their payment was promptly met by the Treasurer of the State.—The parties holding the bonds complimented New Hampshire in a financial way, by saying that nothwithstanding the stringent money market they would be glad to take $200,000 of the amount in a State note at seven per cent. interest. It is expected that the indebtedness of the Granite State will be reduced $300,000 or more during the financial year ending the 1st of June next. Few, if any, of the States have sounder finances than New Hampshire.

—On Thursday afternoon, Lizzie M. Ryan, while sliding down the stair railing in the Boott Corporation, Lowell, fell down four flights and was fatally hurt. She was 12 years of age.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THERE is no mistake about it, PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. 12

No Hospitals, in Europe or America, have as many patients as Dr. WOLCOTT, 170 Chatham square, N. HOW TO DRAW THEM.—Extract from a letter from St. Paul, Iowa, to Phalon & Son: "Your new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," is in urgent request here. Wish I had fifty galls. in my store to-day." Gentle druggist, the article is too precious to be sold in bulk, but if you keep it on hand you will be sure to have fifty gals in your store every day—to draw them as blossoms draw the bee. Sold by all druggists.

"Why stand you thus amazed?" To see a person of your natural beauty with a head of dry, brittling, unkempt hair! Go purchase a bottle of "Lyon's Vegetable Hair Restorative." It will transform your hair into beautiful glossy ringlets. Nothing so efficacious has ever been offered to the public.—Lowell Courier.

EXUBERANT HEALTH

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world suffer as occasional basis, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact a pure, wholesome, invigorating TONIC in the grand desideratum of the busy millions, and they have the article in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. It is a STOMACHAL MEDICINE, i. e., it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitors have arisen, and have been introduced on fashion, and, as far as the public is concerned, ad nauseam, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the GREAT MEDICAL SUCCESS OF THE PRESENT CENTURY, and is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known or as generally used.

With its thirty presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted) the whole year through, barely supply the demand for the Illustrated Almanac, which the proprietors have adopted. Of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over five millions a year.

whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the part where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and purify the blood; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, makes it loosen and easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, heretofore the only way has been to change the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, to all appearance in the last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the above medicines, and since then his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.—Mine is the co-or of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now at 594 Broadway, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia."

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be Impotency, Nervous Prostration, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and Inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation; as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, or Cancer, Inflammation, Fluxes, &c., whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader may be the aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD' EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE PORTSMOUTH MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION is to be revived, resuscitated, reahimated, rejuvenated, renewed. For four years it has been lying in abeyance,—no discussions, in fact almost no meetings being held, and the old officers holding over what should have been three annual elections. But all this is to be changed, the old-time interest is to be, has been, re-awakened, and the Society, or its old activity, to be re-aroused.

At the third or fourth adjourned meeting held of late, on Friday evening, there was a very large attendance of present and former members, and other friends of the institution; and after very full and free discussion of the past action and lack of action, present condition and future prospects and possibilities, it was strongly and unanimously decided to continue and increase the Association—Library, debates and all, as originally founded or designed.

Messrs. J. C. Brown, T. H. Odion, W. H. Sise, and other old or original members, referred to the time when nine young men and boys established or started the M. L. A., without any funds, books or furniture; and compared that situation with the present when the institution has property to the amount of a thousand or two dollars, and a present and prospective good membership, amply sufficient to guarantee its continuance.

It was stated that if the Association should be given up, the Hall was desired, among other purposes, for a Billiard Room; and it was remarked, we think with good reason, that with the present ample supply of such institutions in this city, education and literature ought to preserve and continue at least one of this sort. And this it was unanimously decided to do—and several former members renewed their connection with the Association, while several new names were proposed for the next meeting.—This will be held next Friday evening, and all interested are invited to be present.

It is but just to mention, that among the chief of the prominent citizens who have expressed and proved themselves interested in the continuance and progress of the Mercantile, is John J. Pickering, Esq., agent for the owners of the rooms occupied by the Association—who, in addition to his long continued favor shown, now renews the lease at a much lower rent than could otherwise readily be had. His liberal courtesy is appreciated by the Society; and a determination was expressed to imitate his example, and if possible restore the former amount of funds intact. There is no doubt the P. M. L. A. is to be permanently continued one of our useful public institutions.

GRAND COMBINATION ENTERTAINMENT.—The Thespian Dramatic Society of this city are to give their first public exhibition at the Temple, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 20, and will bring out a sterling drama and a farce. Other interesting features will also be offered for the amusement of the public, and the Executive Committee of the Society are making arrangements for an entertainment varied and interesting enough to warrant the promise of complete satisfaction to those who attend.—Scenery and costumes have been ordered from Boston, and the pieces will be put on the the stage in a creditable manner.

The Society includes no professionals, and consists of about thirty ladies and gentlemen, who met a year or more ago for private rehearsals and exhibitions, and having organized a flourishing Society are now desirous of raising a fund for the purchase of scenery. We hope their endeavors will be properly seconded and that their first public appearance as a Society will be a successful one.

PRESTATIONS.—Some of the operatives at the Kearsarge Mills presented Col. William Stearns with an elegant silver ice pitcher when he took leave of them.

Mr. Geo. Annable, who has been connected with the Mills for many years and has been a faithful overseer, was presented with a fine silver watch and gold chain by the Weavers on Saturday, — having resigned his position. A gold chain was presented to Mr. George Shaw, overseer in the dressing room, on Thursday, by those under his charge.

☞ Dana Dodge of Newburyport took up his lodgings on a car platform at the Eastern R. R. depot in this city, Friday evening, and says he was relieved of a gold watch and chain valued at $125, and nearly $100 in greenbacks.—Wm. H. Danielson, one of the suspected parties to the robbery was arrested on Saturday, and the police were on the track of his partner in crime, James Barrett, Saturday evening. Danielson admits his guilt.

THE LAST OF Mr. Barnabee's series of popular concerts comes off at the Temple this (Monday) evening, and a splendid entertainment is offered. Mrs. H. M. Smith, whose sweet tones are always so acceptable to a Portsmouth audience, and Mrs. D. C. Hall, who has taken front rank among the favorites in Boston, accompany him, and with our old friend, Mr. H. M. Dow, will give a concert richly worth the price of admission to the whole series. But notwithstanding all this, the indefatigable Barnabee at the urgent solicitation of many friends, will personate his great character of John Small in the laughable farce of the "Two Buzzards," assisted by the Amateur Company who did so admirably at the G. A. R. Fair. The great attraction offered deserves a crowded house. If the fortunate season-ticket holders have not received a full return for the money invested in this series, we can hardly imagine a course that could be given which would prove an equivalent.

☞ The Exeter News Letter doesn't like it because some Portsmouth people are after their share of the public patronage under the incoming Grant administration. A friend at our elbow suggests that anybody outside of that modest town will be obliged to work hard to get ahead of that Exeter Internal Revenue crowd, who are always so hungry.

A NEW TEMPERANCE DIVISION. The Eastern Star, was instituted in this city on Thursday evening, Dec. 31st by T. J. W. Fray, G. W. P., and John R. Ham, G. Con. of Dover, assisted by bros. in Portsmouth. The following is a list of the officers elected for the ensuing term:

J. H. Lowd, W. P.; J. R. Curtis, W. A.; R. W. Annable, R. S.; B. F. Russell, F. S.; J. C. Sargent, T.; B. F. Rice, Chap.; O. F. Gerrish, Con.; H. H. Cobbett, A. Con.; John Nutter, I. S.; John Brogan, O. S. G. H. Dame was appointed acting P. W. P. The Division meets every Thursday evening at half past 7 o'clock at Hall corner of Market and Ladd Streets. All are invited to join.

NAVAL.—We hear that Commodore John R. Goldsborough, who had charge of the Ordnance Department at this Naval Station three years ago, is to relieve Admiral Lanman in command of the Yard on the first of March.

☞ The regular Monthly Meeting of the Managers of the Portsmouth Board of Trade, will be held at the Common Council Room, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 12th, at 7 o'clock.

THESPIAN REHEARSALS this (Monday) evening at 6,30 and 9,30.

—Major J. L. Wofford of Mississippi, a Republican Congressman elect, is opposed to the readmission of the State under the present circumstances, believing that the Constitution was defeated last summer, and, if now forced upon the people, would be injurious to the best interests of the State.

—The San Francisco Times intimates that a Virgilance Committee is needed to clean out the organized bands of burglars, garroters and other rogues which abound in that city. Neither life nor property is safe there.

—If a man has any religion worth having, he will do his duty and not make a fuss about it. It is the empty kettle that rattles.

—It is as great a mercy to be preserved in health, as to be delivered from sickness.

DEATHS.

In this city, Jan. 8, SARAH JANE MOORE, child of Thomas and Sarah Moore, aged 3 years, 14 dys.

—Jan. 8th, Capt. ANDREW C. PEIRCE, aged 78 years. Boston papers please copy.

Funeral this (Monday) morning at 10 o'clock, from No. 15 Vaughan street.

The funeral of Mrs. James Newbery will take place at half-past 3 o'clock at No. 81 Water St., this afternoon.

CARTER'S COMBINED

WRITING AND COPYING INK.

This Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in NEW YORK, BOSTON, and BALTIMORE, and pronounced by the most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.

It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.

The Advantages of this over other Inks are:

First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.

Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.

Third. It will not mold.

Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.

Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.

Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.

Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always "makes its mark."

This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's or any other Writing Ink in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould. For Sale by

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 96 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,156,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $3,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. It is bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not before than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in

PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,

—AND BY—

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,

And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.

Bonds sent free, but parties subscribing thro' local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. B. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made twenty-two hundred applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in asserting inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability that his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. Morning Chronicle.

ABYSSINIAN WOMEN.—The Galla women are generally fair; and when not exposed to the sun, their large, black, brilliant, shining eyes, their rosy lips, their long, black, and neatly braided hair, their little feet and hands, their graceful and well rounded forms, make them comparable to the fairest daughters of Spain or Italy. The long shirt falling from the neck to the ankle, and fastened around the waist by the ample folds of a white cotton belt, the silver anklets, from which hang tiny bells, the long necklace of beads and silver, the white and black rings covering the taper fingers, are all very much the same articles as those that are thought necessary for the toilette of the Galla Amazon and the more sedentary Ambara lady. The most apparent difference is in their religion.

At the time of their first appearance, the Wallo Gallas, like many of the divisions of the same family who, having settled farther inland, and having less intercourse with foreigners, are still plunged in the grossest idolatry, worshipped trees and stones, or rather under these natural objects render adoration to a being called the Unknown, who was to be propitiated by human sacrifices. It is impossible to obtain any correct information as to the exact date of their conversion to Islamism; but it has been accepted by the Wallo tribe almost universally. None at the present day are given to heathen practices, and only a few families belong to the Christian faith.

If we compare the races still further, and examine the morality and social habits of the two, at a first glance it would seem that both are licentious, both dissolute. But on closer inspection, the degradation of the one is seen to be so thorough that the other may claim, by contrast, something like primitive simplicity. The Ambara's life is one round of sensual debauchery; his conversation seldom deviates to pure or innocent subjects; no title is so envied by the men as that of libertine, and the women also are all ambitious of a like distinction; an "unfortunate" is not regarded as unfortunate there.

The richest, the noblest, the highest in the land are profligates in love or mercenary; more frequently both. Nothing is so disagreeable to an Abyssinian lady's ear as an insinuation that she is virtuous, for that would be taken to mean that she is either ill looking or for some other reason is not favored with many lovers. In some parts of the Galla country the family exist in the old patriarchal form. The father is in his humble hut as absolute as the chief is over the tribe. If a man marries and is afterwards obliged to leave his village on a distant foray, his wife is immediately taken under the close protection of his brother, who is her husband until the elder's return.—A Narrative of Captivity in Abyssinia.

Boils—"A Composition."

A boil is generally very small at first, and a fellow hardly notices it, but in a few days it gets so big he thinks the biggest of the two, and the chap that has it is of very little account in comparison with his boil which then "has him." Boils appear mysteriously upon various portions of the human body, coming when and where they please; and often is very inconvenient places. Sometimes a solitary boil is the total sum of the affliction, but frequently there is a "rubbishin lot of 'em" to help the first one. If a boil comes any where on a person that person always wishes it had come somewhere else, although it would puzzle him to say just where.

Some persons call them "Dambolls," but such persons are addicted to profanity—the proper name is boil. If a chap has a boil he generally gets a good deal of sympathy from others—in a horn. Whoever asks him what ails him laughs at him for his pains to answer, while many unfeeling persons make game of him, or of his misfortune, or boil. It is very wicked to make sport of persons with boils, they can not help it, and often feel very badly about it. Physicians don't give boil patients much satisfaction as a general thing, although young physicians just beginning to practice are fond of trying their lancets on them. Boils are said to be "healthy," and, judging from the way they take hold, and hang on, and ache, and burn, and grow, and raise Cain generally, there is no doubt they are healthy and have good constitutions. They are generally very lively and playful at night, and it is very funny to see a chap with a good large one, prospecting around his couch for a place where his boil will fit in "without hurting."

Boils tend to "purify the blood," strengthen the system, calm the nerves, restrain the profanity, tranquilize the spirits, improve the temper, and beautify the appearance. They are good things for married men who spend their evenings away from home, as they give them an opportunity to rest their night keys and get acquainted with their families.

It is said that boils save the patient a "fit of sickness," but if sickness is not the best to have, it must be an all-fired mean thing. It is also said that a person is better after he has had them, and there is no doubt that one does feel better after having got rid of them. Many distinguished persons have enjoyed these harbingers of health. Job took the first premium at the County Fair for having more acres under cultivation than anybody else. Shakespeare had them, and meant boils when he said, "One woe doth tread upon another's heel so fast they follow."

There are great remedies for boils, most of which are well worth trying, because, if they don't do any good, they don't hurt the boils. If a chap goes down street with a boil, every man he meets will tell him of "a good thing" for it, among which are—Shoemaker's-wacks, Mrs. Winslow's Sirup, Trix, Spaulding's Glue, Charlotte Russe, Gum Drops, Water Proof Blacking, Night Blooming Cereus, Chloroform, Kissengen, &c.—Rochester Express.

"OLD TIMES."

There's a beautous song on the slumbrous air,
That drifts through the valley of dreams;
It comes from a clime where the roses were,
And a tuneful heart and bright brown hair,
That waves in the morning beams.

Soft eyes of azure and eyes of brown,
And snow white foreheads are there;
A glimmering Cross and a glittering Crown,
A thorny bed and a couch of down,
Lost hopes and leaflets of prayer.

A breath of Spring in the breezy woods,
Sweet waifs from the quivering pines,
Blue violet eyes beneath green hoods,
A bubble of brooklets, a scent of buds,
Bird warblers and clambering vines.

There's a tincture of grief in the beautiful song
That sobs on the slumbrous air,
And loneliness felt in the festive throng,
Sinks down on the soul as it trembles along,
From a clime where the roses were.

We heard it first at the dawn of day,
And it mingled with martin chimes,
But years have distanced the beautiful lay,
And its melody floweth from far away,
And we call it now "Old Times."

—Be not all sugar, or the world will swallow thee up; nor all wormwood, or it will spit thee out.

—God gives birds their food, but they must fly for it.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a nasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY.
102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON.
ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE.
It is a well known fact that many articles used in various families are not pure or less adulterated, but it is not so generally known that Confectionery, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alba or White Earth" is used.
Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.
It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is so adulterated.
Purchasers desirous of a pure article, I will guarantee every description of confectionery manufactured by me to be as pure as the very best Stuart's Crushed Sugar.
The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

THE
ORIENTAL
TEA COMPANY
WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.
WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."
EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.
OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.
ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.
THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.
WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $20 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.
WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction, or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.
Address all orders and communications to the
ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

HURSELL'S
PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.
No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.
STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE, 20 State Street, Boston.
MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Get Sleep Enough.

A young man in business must acknowledge one mathematical fact.

He knows by experience about how many hours of sleep he needs, to be as fresh one day as on the previous day. He must acknowledge the fact that he cannot sit up late and rise early and get this amount of sleep. There is a right mathematical obstacle to the accomplishment of such a feat. If he needs seven hours sleep—as many young men do—or eight hours, as more young men do—he cannot get them between 1 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock a. m. If he insists on late hours, he must neglect either his sleep at night or his business in the morning.

Nearly every young man has sufficient mathematical acuteness at seven o'clock a. m. to appreciate the impossibility of taking one from seven and leaving eight. The question is whether or not he appreciates this impossibility in the evening when he is called upon to decide between a "jolly good time" and his bed.

One very frequent mistake is that lost sleep can be "made up." In the first place whatever a young man may intend to do, he very seldom actually tries to "make up" for lost sleep. If he needs eight hours' sleep and gets but five, he usually makes up the last three hours by sleeping about one hour longer than usual the next night. Or perhaps he depends on Sunday for balancing the whole week, and three hours extra sleep to make up for ten hours lost. In the second place, one hour of regular sleep is worth for purposes of recuperation, at least two hours to "make up" slumber.

There is practically no such thing as making up lost sleep. If a young man determines to dispense with three hours of his regular sleep he must make up his mind to lose those three hours. Every hour lost is a draft upon his physical and mental capital—his bodily vigor—his intellect. Now we would by no means say that a man should never draw upon his capital, but it is certainly very bad policy to do so frequently. Far better live upon the daily income of freshness and vigor which abundant and regular sleep insures.

We do not propose to preach a sermon on "healthy, wealthy and wise." We simply protest against the idea that lost sleep can be "made up," and would remind our readers that however plausibly they may argue with themselves at eleven o'clock P. M., figures will not lie for their accommodation in the morning.

The time at which temptation to keep late hours usually meets a young man is the early part of the evening, when he is still fresh and does not realize the necessity of sleep. At eight o'clock the theatres are opened. This is about the hour, too, that friends propose to "make a night of it," or to "have a good time." No need of sleep is felt and nothing but memory suggests any disagreeable results of "a little fun." The question to be answered by the judgment at such a time is not so much a question of personal comfort, as of health and vigor.

WAR INCIDENT.—During the war of 1812, there lived in Newmarket two men named respectively Walter Smith and Moses Hoit, who were bitterly opposed in their opinions relative to the merits of that contest. Not satisfied with mere war of words upon the subject, it challenged Smith to mortal combat. Smith, having the choice of weapons, appeared upon the scene at an early hour, armed with a broomstick, and, secreting himself until Hoit made his appearance, made for him, broomstick in hand. Hoit, not fancying that kind of weapon, or the manner in which Smith seemed inclined to use it, concluded that discretion was the better part of valor, and ran away. Thus ended the only attempt at duelling in Newmarket.—Wolfeboro'ough News.

—Our ancestors must have been a sad lot. Edward Ward, who wrote a book about New England, which was published in 1699, says of the Bostonians of that period: "The inhabitants seem very religious, showing many outward and visible signs of an inward and spiritual grace. But, though they wear in their faces the innocence of doves, you will find them in their dealings as subtle as serpents. Interest is their faith, money their god, and large possessions the only heaven they covet."

— The authorities of Indianapolis having declared the severest penalty of the law against a certain class of unfortunates, thirty of their number have petitioned the city government, as an act of charity and an act of virtue and morality, to pay their fare from Indianapolis to such other distant places as will afford them shelter and employment, and where the reputation of their past life will not shut the doors of the virtuous and upright against them, and thus prevent their return to the paths of virtue and honor.

— The Springfield Republican and other papers announce that the Rev. H. R. Nye of the Universalist church in Springfield has a call from the Unitarian parish in Brattleboro, Vt., at a salary of $2500 and a parsonage.

The News.

Gen. Rousseau's death was owing to severe inflammation of the bowels.

John Scott, the newly elected Senator from Pennsylvania, is a tanner, and the son of a tanner.

The death of General Rousseau and the retirement of Gen. Hooker leaves two vacancies among the Brigadiers.

The last novelty talked of in New York is an elevated roadway for the use of velocipedists from Harlem to the Battery.

Detroit river ran up stream on New Year's Day. The tide-waiters thought something very serious must have happened to the planet.

Lieut. Gov. Gleason of Florida has resigned.

John Dixon, an $85,000 Melbourne forger, has been arrested in San Francisco.

The European Conference met at Paris on Saturday.

The Cuban insurgents have decreed the emancipation of the slaves.

The proclamation of liberty of the press has gone into full effect.

On the 18th ult. a fight occurred at Casualidad Yequas between 700 insurgents and 500 Spanish troops. The troops were defeated with heavy loss. The wounded have been carelessly treated and many have died.

The commanders of some of the flying columns of Spanish troops report that the revolution is gradually decreasing, but well informed Cubans assert the contrary and report that the revolutionary forces are constantly receiving accessions from within and without the island.

It is anticipated that the recent liberal proclamations will cause a material change in the insurrectionary districts as soon as they become known there.

Washington is troubled with burglars.

It is stated that the evidence taken by the Congressional Committee in the investigation of the election frauds in the late election in New York city, will, when made public, show an amount of corruption and demoralisation of an appalling character. Judge McCunn has sworn that 40,000 persons were naturalized in twenty-one days, and that in his own Court he used to turn out citizens at the rate of two per minute, their examination, cross-examination and the administration to them of the oath requiring only that exact space.

A Paris paper states that the result of the municipal election in Spain has been a great triumph for the republicans. They have polled the majority in seventeen capitals and provinces, including the large towns of Barcelona, Toledo, Valladolid, Valentia, Saragossa, Malaga, Seville, and Cordova.

They have divided the representation at many other important places, such as Burgos, Badajos, Salamanca, Bilboa, and San Sebastian. The monarchists have carried only Madrid, Gerona and Pampelona among the important towns.

Governor Clavlix of Massachusetts, in his inaugural Address to the Legislature, recommends the funding of the temporary debt; the general encouragement of educational institutions, and the introduction of women into the supervision of schools, and especially into the management of correctional institutions for children; the amendment of the laws relating to savings banks so the one person may deposit as high as five thousand dollars, or as much as the trustees will allow, and that savings banks, like other banks, may discount commercial paper; remedy for the present inequality of sentences to the State prison for the same or similar crimes; the passage of a stringent law restraining the sale of intoxicating liquors; the improvement of the Commonwealth property at South Boston; a memorial to Congress in favor of liberal subsidies for the encouragement of American commerce; an appropriation for two thousand additional copies Dr. Gould's report on the Invertebrate Animals of Massachusetts; the removal of civil disabilities from the few remaining descendants of Indian tribes; and upon national topics, that the influence of Massachusetts should be thrown in favor of the constitutional amendments making the conditions of suffrage on national questions the same in all parts of the Union.

Congress.

The House passed Gen. Butler's bill repealing the Tenure of Office act, by a vote of 119 to 47. Many prominent Republicans voted against it. The Democrats all voted in favor of it.

Chronicle Correspondence.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 11.

Eds. Chronicle:—The beau monde are on the tiptoe of delight in anticipation of the Great Masquerade Ball of the Una Boat Club on the 15th. The affair promises to far outstrip any ever previously given here. The preparations are extensive, and the number present, notwithstanding the tightness of the money market, will be large, and extra No. 1 in kind.

The rules of entree are very strict, and a subscriber must be personally known to one or more of the managers or be properly introduced and vouched for; no person will be allowed on the floor during the evening unless masqued and costumed; all persons must be made known to the managers before entering the hall.

First-class Costumers will be here on the 13th, 14th and 15th, at the U. S. Hotel for gentlemen, and at Misses Alexander's on Congress street for ladies.—Verily it will be the Sensation of the season! Portsmouth and vicinity should be represented, for it has many who delight in such capital occasions.

The Union Temperance Association, under whose auspices the Temperance warfare is being carried on here, has been holding a number of public meetings, the object being to create a healthy state of public opinion previous to more vigorous action.

Rev. E. H. Chapin's lecture on Columbus on the 6th inst. was one of the best of the eloquent clergyman's always excellent efforts. The lecture was a magnificent tribute to the great Discoverer's ability, perseverance and courage; and the growth of the New World since 1493 and its promising future were finely presented. Few lecturers could have woven such a brilliant prose poem out of the dry facts of history. Chapin is one of the best lights of the age.

Rev. Dr. S. Osgood of New York lectures here on Wednesday, the 13th,—another first-class attraction, and one of America's worthiest scholars and men. Subject, "The Coming Man."

Rev. Mrs. P. A. Hannaford, of Haverhill, Mass., preached yesterday at the 2d Universalist church to large congregations, delivering two able and finished discourses. She is a devout Christian, a fine writer and an eloquent preacher.

The Evangelical Churches and Young Men's Christian Association have been holding nightly prayer meetings the past week, and also occasional morning services, in unison with similar churches elsewhere the world over.

Col. G. E. Church of New York, addressed the Board of Trade here on Friday, in regard to the advantages of commerce with Bolivia and the Amazon River. Brazil has granted free course through her territory for commercial objects, and Bolivia has granted to Col. C., who represents a New York Company, the privilege of instituting mutual intercourse between the two countries for commercial and business purposes. The matter was favorably received, and the Board of Trade voted to ask a grant of land from the State as a source of fund to encourage the object.

Portsmouth, with the fine harbor and advantageous situation for Railroad connection with the middle and upper part of New Hampshire and Vermont, ought to wake up and be open to every such enterprise. Portland is taking advantage of every opportunity to progress. Her example is worth copying.

Mr. Henry A. Shiel, the manager of the Falmouth Billiard Rooms, a few days since made a run of 750 at caroms, and also a run of 23 at the three ball French game, which is two better than either Dion or Foster made in their recent great match.

The G. A. R. course of entertainments has been a fine one. Their Concerts especially have been of a high order, and we are glad to know of the success of the course. On Thursday evening, 14th inst., the closing entertainment will be given by Mrs. H. M. Smith, Mrs. D. C. Hall, Messrs. Winch of Boston, and Alice Dutton, Pianist,—a grand treat. "The veterans" deserve the public's heartiest encouragement in all walks and aspects of life.

Allow me to express my sincere obligations to Mr. John W. York, the worthy Mail Clerk of the Post Office here, who accompanies the morning mails to and from Portland to South Berwick Junction, assorting the Portland letters and papers, so that on arrival here the work of delivering at the boxes occupies but a few moments. SANCHO.

—At Bath, N. Y., a boy who was coasting could not stop his sled as a train of cars came along, and shot like an arrow across the railroad track between the wheels of a car, and escaped the slightest injury. Bystanders expected to see him killed.

—Never meet trouble half-way, but let him have the whole walk for his pains.

GEN. HALPINE'S FAMILY.—It will gratify the many friends of Gen. Halpine (Miles O'Reilly) to learn that the income of the New York Register's office, which, through the intervention of Generals Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and other friends, was secured to his widow and orphans, has amounted to full eighteen thousand dollars; all of which has insured directly to their benefit—General Patrick H. Jones, who received the office from Governor Fenton, declining to accept any fraction of the proceeds. This amount, added to what was left by General Halpine, mainly in the form of a house but partially paid for, secures to the widow and her six minor children the means of keeping the wolf from the door.

—Cicero made the following wise remark: "As I approve of the youth that has something of the old man in him, so I am no less pleased with an old man who has something of the youth."

—Go slowly to the entertainment of thy friends, but quickly to their misfortunes.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THERE is no mistake about it, PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Cafisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Cafisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them. 13

No Hospitals, in Europe or America, have as many patients as Dr. WOLCOTT, 170 Chatham square, N. Buy none unless in white wrappers. 2wsaw

HOW TO DRAW THEM.—Extract from a letter from St. Paul, Iowa, to Phalon & Son:

"Your new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," is in urgent request here. Wish I had fifty galls. in my store to-day." Gentle druggist, the article is too precious to be sold in bulk, but if you keep it on hand you will be sure to have fifty gals in your store every day—to draw them as the blossoms draw the bee. Sold by all druggists.

"Why stand you thus amazed?" To see a person of your natural beauty with a head of dry, brittle, unkempt hair? Go procure a bottle of Lyon's Vegetable Hair Restorative." It will transform your hair into beautiful glossy ringlets. Nothing so efficacious has ever been offered to the public.—Lowell Courier.

For Catarrh buy full Pint Bottles of Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR, in white wrappers, $1. Wolcott's PAIN PAINT is also in white wrappers only sold at druggists. 2wsaw

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

EXUBERANT HEALTH

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. It is a sad truth, that the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a proper use of the means which science has placed within their reach, as to have a much better chance of long life and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their ancestors. Not sufficiently strong to secure themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need an occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, invigorating tonic is the grand desideratum of the busy millions, and they have the article in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. It is a STANDARD MEDICINE, and it is by its unparalleled strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and, as far as the public is concerned, ad nauseam, in the hope of rivalling, or supplanting it. But the perfection of the preparation, or been left far in the rear. It has been the GREAT MEDICAL SUCCESS OF THE PRESENT CENTURY. It is by far the certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known or as generally used.

Its ever flying presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted) the whole year through, barely supply the demand for the Illustrated Almanac, which is distributed free of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over five millions a year.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS

whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the part where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient expectorates it easily and get well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

For this reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, heals fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of themselves. Remember, No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura affection, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to die. He was cured by the above medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish thus to do, which they can do free of charge, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but no thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $3.50 per bottle, or $7.00 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale Agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1w4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Dr. Lyon generally, is of dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and gluttinous decoction.—Mine is the co-or of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœia; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in any fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœia; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in any climate without fermentation. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

I hope you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation. With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 15 Years' Experience in the Profession, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have found him impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN, Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, 2010 Island Street, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature, which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU imparts wonderfully. Its treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unsurpassed by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrhous State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years it has been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

CARTER'S INK.—Our readers will notice Mr. Shores' advertisement of Carter's Combined Writing and Copying Ink, which appears in our columns. It has been awarded the highest premiums over all others, in New York, Boston and Baltimore, and is pronounced by chemists the best ink ever offered to the public. Its advantages over other inks are fully set forth in the advertisement, and it is unnecessary to enumerate them here, but without instituting comparisons we can commend it as possessing all the qualities desirable in black ink, and that the thousands who have used it recommend it highly.

EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO.—A letter from Calima, Mexico, gives an account of a terrible earthquake experienced in that city on the morning of December 20. For several days previous the volcano of Calima, thirty miles from the city, exhibited symptoms of internal commotion, sending forth smoke and steam, accompanied by a rumbling and shaking of the earth. The morning of the 20th was ushered in by a gentle rocking of the earth, which gradually increased in violence until the walls of the houses were cracked and everything breakable demolished. The vibrations were from northeast to southwest and lasted nearly forty seconds.

The cathedral, a warehouse and several brick buildings were cracked from top to bottom. The people were startled from their sleep and rushed frantically to the plaza. It is reported that several persons were killed by the falling of the walls of the National Hotel. The shock was felt a long distance in the interior. In several places the ground opened, trees were uprooted, hills leveled, water courses changed and a general upheaving of the earth took place. At the city of Manzanilla the cathedral, which had stood shocks of earthquakes and storms for several centuries, was riven from top to bottom; even the tiles on the roof were broken. Some eighteen or twenty persons were killed by the falling walls of the American Hotel, and three others were buried beneath the ruins of Waterman & Co.'s warehouse.

A GIGANTIC CONCERT.—The last Boston notion is a monster Peace Musical Jubalee, to be given during three days in June next, ending on the 17th. The project includes an orchestra of one thousand instruments, and a chorus of twenty thousand singers, with accompaniments of musketry and cannon and chiming of all the church bells by electricity, and the erection of a building, probably on the Common, to accomodate an audience of fifty thousand. The music, which will be adapted to the celebration of the peace of the nation, is to be under the direction of Mr. P. C. Gilmore, who is the originator of the movement, and we are told the success of the demonstration, which is the greatest conception of this or any other country in modern times, is dependent only on the sale of fifteen hundred season tickets (admitting three persons to reserved seats) at $100 each. The price of other tickets to be fixed hereafter, and the profits arising from the entertainment are to be distributed to the widows and orphans of soldiers who lost their lives in the rebellion war. The scheme receives the hearty approval of prominent public men and distinguished musicians, and admirers of the "Hub" are confident it will be successful.

—Sundry flocks of wild geese have been seen, during the past ten days, flying northward. This has generally been considered a sign of the breaking up of winter: and, so far as we are informed, this early migration is very unusual.

—One of the San Francisco papers has a well-patronized department for divorces, a list of which it publishes with births, marriages and deaths.

ENTERPRISE.—It is feared that Exeter has not in times past made the most of golden opportunities. It will not always do to wait for a Lawrence or a Sprague to "buy out" and build up a town. When the Portsmouth and Concord railroad was being built it should have been brought through this village, and it could have been brought here if our people had used timely efforts. To-day we want the Exeter Railway built because it will help the town, and further, because it will be a connecting link between northern and eastern roads.

Manchester engineered the Portsmouth road through her limits because she knew it would give her more trade and extend her influence. That little operation with our legislature a few years ago, whereby the route was changed, is now having a visible effect upon the division of our county, and upon Exeter. If one cannot locate "at the corners," he must contrive to have highways of travel built to him.

It has been asserted that at one time the wholesale shoe business might have been established here, and without doubt it is true. It would have put money into the pockets of certain men to have given a few acres to business men for such a purpose, as their remaining acres would have doubled and quadrupled in value, and the town would have doubled in the number of its inhabitants. Dover did not let an opportunity slip like this, and now she is organizing a "building association" which will add to her number of permanent dwellings.

We make these allusions to the past in no manner of reproach, but to serve as reminders that we should let no opportunity slip to divert every enterprise toward us. Depend upon it that an enterprise of any magnitude cannot be brought here without benefitting us in some way. We are glad to see some parties in this town manifesting a desire to increase the number of substantial residences, such as come within the means of those who would wish to remove hither for purposes of education; also, that others have purchased land, which we suppose is for the purpose of building, laying out streets &c.

Now what is needed is a Building Association, which shall put up dwellings suited to the wants of laboring men who could pay for them in a few years, thereby securing for themselves, a home they would otherwise never become the possessors of. Men who earnestly strive to obtain a house with half a dozen rooms and a small patch of land are worth treble as many others who never expect "a local habitation" and are not ever particular about a name.—Exeter News Letter.

—The story which has been going the rounds of the press throughout the country to the effect that a certain Frenchman had been swindled out of $2,500 on a legal technicality by the town of Conway, is utterly false. That town never borrowed any money of any Frenchman, and the town authorities never heard of the individual in question till they saw the story in the papers.

RETURN HOME.—Rev. Edward Robie, pastor of the Congregational Church and Society in Greenland, returned home, to the mutual joy of himself and his warmly attached people, last week, in the Sagamore from India, after a vacation of 13 months. Mrs. Robie accompanied him.

Previous to his settlement in Greenland, we understand Mr. Robie passed several years in Europe as a student.

CARTER'S COMBINED WRITING AND COPYING INK.
This Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in NEW YORK, BOSTON, and BALTIMORE, and pronounced by the most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.
It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.
The Advantages of this over other Inks are:
First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.
Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.
Third. It will not mold.
Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.
Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.
Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.
Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always "makes its mark."
This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's, or any other Writing fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY
OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
AT PAR.
NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES
Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole
Grand Line to the Pacific
Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.
The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:
"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that the great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.
Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.
Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.
By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not belless than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.
The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,
—AND BY—
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,
And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.
Bonds sents free, but parties subscribing thro' local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.
A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.
JOHN J. CISCO, TREASURER, New York.

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers relating to Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in saying that there are few persons in the United States who are more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them the early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. Morning Chronicle.

From the Oct. N.E.Hist. & Genealogical Register.

GEN. PREBLE OF YORK.

Jedidiah Preble, a grandson of Abraham Preble and Judith Tilden, the common ancestors of all of the name in America, was born in York, in the Province of Maine., A. D. 1707. He was the first of the name that settled on the Peninsula of ancient Falmouth, now the site of the city of Portland, Maine, about the year 1748.

By the records of York it appears that on the 30th of June, 1732, a town meeting was held for the purpose of making division of the town common land, at which meeting a vote was passed that it should be divided amongst the inhabitants of twenty-one years of age and upwards, each man to have a number of shares not exceeding eight. It was accordingly divided, and the number of shares allotted each is set down. It seems, from this record, that at that time (1732) there were no more than seven of the name of Preble of the age of twenty-one years and upwards residing in York. Six of the seven, it appears, were grandsons of Abraham the common ancestor, and the remaining one a great-grandson. According to Mr. Alexander McIntire, in 1850, 118 years after this division, there were residing in York but eleven males of the name of Preble, aged twenty-one years and upwards. Indian wars and emigration to other parts of the Union will account for this apparently trifling increase, as I have the names and more or less particulars respecting over 400 descendants of the first Abraham.

In 1733 "Jedidiah Preble of York" was presented to the Grand Jury for laying violent hands on Daniel Simpson, pushing and threatening to strike him—also for pushing and striking Joseph Simpson. Pleaded not guilty to the striking, and was acquitted and fined thirty-eight shillings. On the 21st of March, 1733, he was married, by the Rev. Joseph Moody, to Martha, a daughter of Alexander Junkins, of Scotland Parish, in Old York, who was then between eighteen and nineteen, he being about twenty-six years of age.—The house in which this lady was born was standing in 1850, and occupied by a descendant of the same name as her father. In 1692 it was one of four garrison houses that remained standing when York was nearly destroyed by the Indians, and had been used for the same purpose many years previous.—Scotland Parish, the birth-place of Martha Junkins, was so called because first settled by Scotch families between the years 1650 and 1660. Four sons and one daughter were the result of this marriage.

Mrs. Martha Preble died at Falmouth on the 10th of March, 1753, and was buried on the 12th—Stephen Longfellow, the grandfather of the poet Henry W. Longfellow, officiating as one of the pall bearers. On the 9th of May, 1754, Jedidiah Preble was married for the second time, to Mrs. Mehitable Roberts. At the time of this second marriage, Captain Preble was 47 years of age, and Mrs. Mehitable about 26. The fruits of this second marriage were five sons and two daughters.

In 1755 and 1754, General (then Captain) Preble represented the town of Falmouth in the General Court, and from 1766 to 1773 inclusive he filled the same office—eight successive years; being generally chosen with little or no opposition. His commission as a Captain of Infantry in Col. Samuel Waldo's Regiment, signed by Governor Shirly, bears date June 5th, 1745.

In 1766 he was chosen a Representative to succeed Samuel Waldo, without opposition. In 1768 he was a member of the house from Falmouth and Cape Elizabeth, and one of the "glorious ninety-two" who voted nay to the command of the King to rescind the celebrated circular letter. The same year the strict execution of the revenue act produced mobs and riots in the seaport towns, which caused the government to call to its aid a military and naval force. The intimation on the 5th of September that a body of soldiers had been ordered to Boston, produced a greater degree of alarm than had been caused by any other measure. A town meeting was immediately held in Boston, which recommended that a convention of committees from all the towns in the Province should be held in Faneuil Hall to consult and advise such measures as the public peace and safety required.—This recommendation met with a hearty response, and a convention, numerously attended, assembled in Faneuil Hall on the 22d of September. An express from Boston reached Falmouth on the 18th, and on the 21st the inhabitants held a meeting and appointed General Preble, who was already their Representative to the General Court, as their delegate to this convention.

On the 5th of October, 1774, the House of Representatives of Massachusetts met at Salem, and resolved itself into a Provincial Congress, and on the 8th adjourned to Concord. On the 27th of October, Gen. Jedidiah Preble, with Gen. Artemas Ward and Col. Pomeroy, were chosen General Officers of the Provincial forces, and Gen. Preble was chosen to the chief command. This appointment he was forced to decline on account of ill health and advanced age, and it was then bestowed on Gen. Artemas Ward, who at a later period was superseded by Washington. The Gentleman's Magazine for June, 1775, under head of the Proceedings of the American colonies, says: "Gen. Gage has given positive orders that no person shall go out of Boston. Colonel Pribbie has issued as positive orders that no person shall go into Boston."

—The man who shirks the payment of his income tax is termed a "revenue cutter."

—Good men to attend auctions—men whose faces are forbidding.

THE REASONS.—We have already stated, that in his farewell sermon, the Rev. F. E. Kittredge, pastor of the Universalist church in Concord, N. H., explained the reasons for his transfer of his relations from the Universalist to the Unitarian body. The Liberal Christians gives the reasons, as follows:

"He finds himself more in sympathy with the broader views, the greater freedom and catholicity and hospitality, the more elastic organization and progressive spirit of the latter than with the former, and is satisfied that he can do a larger and better work in that communion."

—A correspondent at Plymouth, N. H., writes that a neighbor owns a cat which, in the summer season, will go to a brook near the house, plunge in and seize trout swimming along, which Tabby will bring into the house alive and lay them down on the floor, purring round and apparently craving for praise for her piscatory feats.

—The Tribune says that the Universalist Sunday School on Bleecker St., New York, (Rev. Dr. Lee's) sent a donation to the Christmas festivities of the "Home for Little Wanderers" larger than any other church. Henry Ward Beecher's School came next.

SWETT'S PATENT
STOVE SHELF REST!
TO HOUSEKEEPERS!
Something New!
FOR YOUR
COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!
This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.
THIS INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.
PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.
It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.
Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY.
102 TREMONT ST., BOSTON.
ITS PURITY AND EXCELLENCE.
It is a well known fact that many articles used in various families are more or less adulterated, but it is not so generally known that Confectionery, an article used in every family, is adulterated to a large extent. Formerly flour and starch were used, but latterly an ingredient called "Terra Alma or White Earth" is used.
Now, as the Holidays are near, when a large amount of Confectionery will be consumed, it is important to every person for them to procure that which is pure and free from any deleterious matter.
It is better, far better, for Parents to refuse all Confectionery for their children than to give them that which is so adulterated.
Purchasers desirous of a pure article, I will guarantee every particle of confectionery manufactured at the above place, to be every best Stuart's Crushed Sugar.
The wholesale trade will find a large assortment at the corner of Tremont and Broomfield streets, under Horticultural Hall.

THE
ORIENTAL
TEA COMPANY
WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.
WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."
EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.
OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.
ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.
THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.
WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $20 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.
WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.
Address all orders and communications to the
ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,
85, 87 & 89 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.
We have appointed
JOHN STOKELL & CO.
Agents for Portsmouth.
JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Agent for Kittery.

HURSELL'S
PURITY,
FOR THE HAIR.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.
No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.
STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.
MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
J. DANA HAYES,
apl1 eodly State Assayer for Massachusetts.
Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO.,

GEN. PREBLE OF YORK.

Concluded.

The feelings of the people became exceedingly irritated against those who stil countenanced the course of the mother country, and personal quarrels often took place between individuals. A rencontre of this kind, in which Gen. Preble was one of the actors, is related as having taken place in King, or, as it is now called, Indis street. Gen. Preble met Mr. Sheriff Tyng, and said, "It is talked that there will be a mob to-night." They met Mr. Oxnard (his son-in-law), when Tyng said to him, "We are going to have a mob to-night." The General denied having said so.

Tyng contradicted him, and called him an old fool, and threatened he would chastise him if he were not an old man. The General threatened to cane him, or knock him down, if he should repeat those words, when Tyng drew his sword, and threatened to run him through. Preble then collared and shook Tyng. Afterwards Tyng asked pardon of the General, and it was granted. The populace inquired if the General was satisfied, and told him he should have all the satisfaction he desired, but he desired nothing more.—This anecdote illustrates not only the popularity of the General, but the state of feeling towards the Crown officers and the Government itself.

It was somewhere about this time that Gen. Preble abandoned the Episcopal form of worship, and took seats under the droppings of Parson Smith's eloquence, because the Episcopal clergyman had offended him by continuing to pray for the King and royal family. In April, 1775, Gen. Preble with four others was added to the Committee of Inspection at Falmouth, and on the 9th of May became security for Capt. Mowatt, his surgeon, and the Rev. Mr. Wiswell, who had been seized while walking on Munjoy Hill by a mob of soldiers under the command of Col. Thompson. The commanding officer of Mowatt's ship threatened to lay the town in ashes if the prisoners were not immediately given up. Gen. Preble and Col. Freeman became security for their return the next day on their parole, and they went on board ship about nine o'clock the same evening.

When it was ascertained that Mowatt did not intend to keep his parole, the militia mob vented their rage upon the hostages, and kept them in confinement without any dinner, and refused to let their children speak with them. Towards evening they were released on their consenting to furnish refreshment to the militia. Their number was 337, and Gen. Preble was compelled as his contribution to furnish them with some barrels of bread, a number of cheeses and two barrels of rum—the whole at a cost to him of about ten pounds lawful, and all for a cowardly wretch who had not honor enough to keep his parole, and who in a mean spirit of revenge obtained the order from Admiral Graves, under which he burnt the town, on the 16th of October following. By this outrage Gen. Preble, his security, incurred a loss of property in the aggregate valued at over £2,500; and Col. Freeman, his other hostage, half as much.

In 1782 and '83 he held appointments as Judge of Inferior Courts, under the new State constitution, and these appointments were the closing ones of his long career of activity, honor and usefulness. Four days after the rejoicing in Boston, on the occasion of the definitive treaty of peace having been signed by Congress, viz., on the 11th of March, 1784, he breathed his last at his residence in Falmouth, and on the 16th was buried in the old burying ground on Munjoy Hill, where the monument erected to his memory can still be seen.

Jedidiah Preble is reputed to have been the first white man that ascended to the summit of Mount Washington. He often told his children the story of his long, dangerous and toilsome journey, considering it, as well he might, in absence of roads and bridle paths, one of the most important of his achievements. According to the tradition of the times "he went up the mountain and washed his hands in the clouds." His son Enoch used to tell of his father's journey, as he had told it to him, and among other incidents mentioned his leaving a bottle of brandy on a flat rock on the top of the mountain, and that when the spot was revisited years afterwards, the bottle was broken, and the rock cracked, supposed from a stroke of lightning.

The date of this expedition, unfortunately, has not been preserved; but some few years since, old Abel Crawford, the patriarch of the mountain, who had not then been gathered to his fathers, told the wife of one of Brigadier Preble's grandsons, that he was his companion on the occasion referred to, and verified his account of it.

—The Californians look with contempt upon the new velocipede. "They will do very well," says an editor, "for Paris, where many people cannot afford to keep horses, and could not ride them very well if they did. But they will never do in California, where boys of ten years of age ride full-grown horses at the top of their speed around the streets."

THE EQUITABLE

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,

Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,

The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.

All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" [and "Proprietary" Companies.

Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.

Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.

Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)

Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)

The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.

All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.

No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.

Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing complaints known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Nervousness, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give cause to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and, except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains is soon told.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for about weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seemed perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organisation that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the sum of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 13, 1869.

The News.

A strong lobby force is organizing at Washington to defeat Senator Sherman's Railroad bill, which provides for chartering three new roads out of Washington. Nearly all the officers of the roads between Washington and New York are said to be there, endeavoring thro' personal efforts, to defeat the bill,—with what result remains to be seen.

Two and a half days' staging is the only and trifling gap now dividing the two great railroads which tap the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. A few months, and the iron rails will span the continent. A few years, and not one; but three or more tracks will belt it.

The Hudson river was the scene of a great freshet on Monday.

Advices from Mexico state that terrible land slides had occurred in different parts of the country, involving considerable loss of life. Creeks have appeared where previously nothing but a barren desert had existed. The commotions were attended with continuous rumblings of the earth.

Four libel suits against the Chicago Tribune, for a total of $100,000, have been ruled out of the Superior Court.—They were instituted by merchants, who claim that the Tribune charged them with committing the crime of arson to avoid failure. They appeal to the Supreme Court.

Gov. Claflin on the Liquor Laws. Gov. Claflin of Massachusetts is understood to be a Temperance Man, in theory and practice. In his Message to the Legislature, he offers the following statements in regard to the License Liquor Law of that State, and to the probable Prohibitory Law soon to be enacted:

The effect of the change in the law in regard to the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors made by the last legislature has hardly been fully developed; but from such information as has reached me it would seem to be unsatisfactory to the people, generally, in every respect. For the years in century the State had been free from the legal sale of intoxicating liquors, with slight exceptions in one or two counties. In nearly all of our towns and in some of the cities the open bar was unknown; it was a thing of the past, driven, with other injurious trades and employments, into secret places.

In a State so dense in population as ours, whose inhabitants are largely engaged in in-door employments, the placing at every conspicuous point an open bar, with all its allurements to the young and experienced, must inevitably lead to all increase of drunkenness, vice and crime. This is so clearly demonstrated that, wherever the vote has been fairly taken, there has been a most decided expression against granting licenses for this purpose. A moral and Christian people cannot remain inactive when they see such results as are following, and are sure to follow, the sale of intoxicating drinks, to the extent that now prevails in our hitherto quiet and orderly State.

The increase of drunkenness and crime during the lost six months, as compared with the same period in 1867, is very marked and decisive as to the operation of the law. The State prison, jails and houses of correction are being rapidly filled, and will soon require enlarged accommodations, if the commitments continue to increase as they have since the present law went into force.

It seems, then, essential for the public good that the present system should be abandoned, and that one should be adopted more in accordance with the habits and experience of the people. In framing a new law on the statute book, it is of the highest importance that it should meet the acquiescence, if not the sanction, of the great body of the people.

In a free Commonwealth no law can stand that is not in accordance with the general judgment. Care, therefore, should be taken to avoid, in any new enactment, all unreasonable and unnecessary interference with personal and private rights. Some provision should also be made for the sale of such liquors as are needed in the arts, and for medicinal and sacramental purposes. It may be wise, therefore, to consider the expediency of legalizing the sale by druggists and apothecaries of well known standing and respectability, under careful restriction.

That any law which tends to restrain a practice so prevalent in the community will meet with opposition, more or less serious, cannot be doubted. So long, however, as it is the conviction of the people that it is intended for the public good, and to promote their moral and material interests, it will be sustained; but when it fails to meet their approbation it will be ineffectual.

I commend to your consideration this most important subject. It has engrossed much of the attention of the legislature since the foundation of the State. The evils of drunkenness are acknowledged by all, and the remedy therefore has been sought in vain by the ablest and wisest philanthropists. Experience is gradually working out the problem, and we have much to hope for in the effect of law, assisted as it is by the steady advance of moral sentiment in the community, by the general conviction that sobriety and good order are necessary to the fullest development of our resources, by the progress of science and by the inspiration of religious faith.

New Hampshire Items.

One Edwin Tisdale, of Vermont, was put into jail at Manchester, last Friday, for stealing clothes, hiring a horse and not bringing him back, &c. He plead guilty, and most of the property has been recovered.

Mrs. S. S. Moulton of Manchester, in a suit for damages against that city for injuries sustained by falling on the ice where there was a defect in the sidewalk, on Friday last was awarded $616.

The city of Manchester is about to build a fire proof structure for the City Library, to cost $25,000. The Amoskeag Co. gives the lot of land, and wealthy factory owners pay half the cost.

The valedictory of Mayor Weston, of Manchester, says the city debt was reduced $25,000 last year.—The Mirror adds that the old debt was thus diminished;—but that by the promise to pay $50,000 toward the Suncook Valley Railroad, the city debt is really $25,000 larger than it was a year ago.

Mr. Alvin E. Dudley, the extensive shoe manufacturer in Candia, is about to sell out his business there and remove to Haverhill, Mass., to engage in shoe manufacturing there.

Deacon McGaw, of Merrimac, is quite low from slow mortification incident to his advanced age. He is now 88, and is alone in the world, having neither wife or child living. He married the daughter of Rev. Mr. Morrison, one of the first ministers of Londonderry. He is said to be the richest man in Hillsborough county.

On Friday, a couple of colts belonging to Mr. Joseph Bell of Auburn, were playing in a field in which was a well covered by boards. One of the colts stepped upon the covering of the well, plunged in head foremost and was killed. He was an Abdallah, two years old, and his owner had recently been offered $500 for him.

We are pleased to note the return of Rev. Mr. Robie to his residence in Greenland, after a year's absence on a voyage to India, with greatly improved health.

Arthur Safford, aged ten years, son of Nathaniel Safford of Dunbarton, was severely injured a few days ago by becoming impaled on a pitchfork while sliding down a hay mound.

Sensible Reply.—Some one, wise in his own conceit, recently sent a communication to the new paper (Daily News) in Manchester, advising the editor to get up a wordy fight with the Mirror.—The News publishes the communication, and then says:—

It is no part of our business or intention to get up a fight for the especial benefit of our reporter or anybody else. The News was not commenced for the purpose of "pitching into any quarrel," and we regret that any one should have so far misjudged us or our paper as to suppose it was started for any such purpose. It requires a very much greater effort to control one's self and to keep clear of a quarrel, than it does to "pitch into one."

☞ The New York correspondent of the Boston Sunday Times says:

Young New York probably consumes more bad liquor than the rest of Young America combined. It is astonishing to watch the performances of young gentlemen between the acts at the theatres, and imagine what cast-iron stomachs they must have. I have seen the large bar at the Metropolitan Hotel crowded three deep, and three-quarters of the drinkers were less than twenty-five years old. I presume the reason why there were so few gray heads among them was that those who follow that sort of life do not live to have gray hair. When one witnesses such exhibitions, it is enough to disgust him with the whole business of rum. It seems to-day to be the principal trade of Gotham, and a large proportion of the attendants of the theatres are dependent upon a drink between the acts for their enjoyment, rather than upon the performance upon the stage. This undoubtedly accounts in a great degree for the popularity of so many wretched entertainments in this El Dorado of theatrical managers.

Some Unknown Person in Oswego is making generous donations to the poor in that city. In a letter to Mr. Worts, an extensive baker, he or she directed a distribution of three thousand loaves of bread to the poor families.

—The Hannibal (Mo.) Courier says that as some of the colored folks of that city were returning home from church on the 3d inst., a negro woman, whose weight was not short of two hundred, sunk in the mud to such a depth that she had to be extracted by means of fence rails, which were brought into requisition by her associates.

—A newly married man, who was naturally confused by the event, handed the railroad conductor his marriage certificate instead of the ticket. It was declined. "What," said he, "isn't that that good for a ride?" "No, sir," says the official, blandly, "not on this road."

—Sunday School.—Teacher: "Gerty, you were a very good girl to-day." Gerty: "Yes, ma'am, I couldn't help being good—I had a stiff neck!"

THE GOLDEN SIDE.

There is many a rest in the road of life,
If we would only stop to take it;
And many a tone from the better land,
If the querulous heart would make it!
To the sunny soul that is full of hope,
And whose beautiful trust ne'er faileth,
The grass is green and the flowers are bright,
Though the winter storm prevaileth.

Better to hope, though the clouds hang low,
And to keep the eyes still lifted;
For the sweet blue sky will soon peep through,
When the ominous clouds are rifted!
There was never a night without a day,
Or an evening without a morning;
And the darkest hour, as the proverb goes,
Is the hour before the dawning.

There is many a gem in the path of life,
Which we pass in our idle pleasure,
That is richer far than the jewelled crown,
Or the miser's hoarded treasure;
It may be the love of a little child,
Or a mother's prayers to heaven,
Or only a beggar's grateful thanks
For a cup of water given.

Better to weave in the web of life
A bright and golden filling,
And to do God's will with a ready heart,
And hands that are ready and willing,
Than to snap the delicate, minute threads
Of our curious lives asunder,
And then blame Heaven for the tangled ends,
And sit down and grieve and wonder.

EXUBERANT HEALTH

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a proper use of the means which Nature has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life and exemptions from disease and pain than their more athletic fellow fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need as occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, invigorating TONIC is the grand desideratum of the busy millions, and they have the article in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. It is a GRAND ANIMAL MEDICINE, i. e., it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation is world wide, and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced and obtrusive, and as far as the public are concurred, with the express hope of rivalling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the great BENEFACTOR of the AGE, SUCCESS OF YOUR REMEDY CONTRY, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted) the whole year through, barely suffice to print the Illustrated Circular, a pamphlet in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over five millions a year.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS

whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the part where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they dampen the vital powers, the food will come up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the medical treatment now known the world over, and many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for the benefit of such he is professional at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professional at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yjm4

TO PHYSICIANS.

New York, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

Mode of Preparation.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.—Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in solution is the prominent ingredient; the purity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a mucilaginous preparation (mucus); nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the Drug Store opposite my residence, and is a gentleman of intelligence and high character, and is a Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for certain affections peculiar to the Human Frame, the curative powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation. As in Chlorosis or Retention, Painful or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH are unequaled by any other preparation for the various diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no mineral nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week is published this morning, and copies may be had at the Chronicle Office. Only $2 a year.

At the present very low prices of both our Daily and Weekly papers, subscribers must pay strictly in advance, to receive the discount from regular full rates.

Our rule is to stop all papers, especially those which are sent out of the city, when the advance payment expires, except in cases where desired to continue permanently, or where we know the parties are responsible and expect us to do so. Will all concerned please take notice.

SHIPBUILDING ON THE PISCATAQUA is not so brisk as we could wish, but there is something doing in this line. Capt. Marcy has the ship at his South End Yard, which has been on the stocks for a couple of yeras or so, approaching completion; Mr. Wm. F. Fernald has recently laid the keel of a ship at the Raynes Yard; Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield have one barque nearly finished, at Noble's Island, and have just commenced another; and Messrs. Plummer & Pryor are building at the same yard, a stanch little steamer to run to Smith's Isles — which we hope the Messrs. Laighton will name Sir John Smith, unless they have already christened her. She will, we doubt not, prove a fine investment for her owners, and a great accommodation to the pleasure-seeking public.

We are sorry that our friends across the river, in private yards and Uncle Sam's dominions, are not more enterprising, and do not follow these examples.

☞ Mr. Montgomery's Writing School affords an opportunity for many persons, young or middle-aged, male or female, to improve their hand writing, and through this their prospects and condition in life,—but especially, should the boys and young men spend a little of their time and money in this way. He is a very pleasant and entirely competent instructor—and it is always well to remember that the character of a man's penmanship often vitally affects him for life.

☞ The Publishers of the New York Tribune believe in advertising. They lately sent out an order through the Advertising Agency of Geo. P. Rowell & Co., the mere postage stamps required to forward which cost no less than one hundred and fifty dollars. Mr. Bonner of the New York Ledger, also believes in advertising, and usually spends more in the newspapers in Portsmouth than almost any merchant living here, and we think he has spent as high as $300 or $400 here in a single year. What would some of our folks think of doing this?

POLICE COURT, Odell, J., Jan. 12.—Ellen Carroll plead guilty of drunkenness and was fined $3 and costs, $8,76.

☞ The storm of snow and sleet and rain of Monday, gave us a coating of a few inches of snow, and altogether the nicest sleighing of the season, however long it may last. The clerk of the weather evidently did his level best on this occasion; and among the fine teams which we noticed testing the slipping, the elegant double turnout of Mayor Jones was one of the handsomest ever seen in the city, and not easily eclipsed anywhere. His Honor knows how to live, and let his family enjoy themselves, at any rate. We wish more men of wealth were like him in this respect. Among other fine teams, the famous trotter Nellie Locke was skimming about, and we observed beautiful single teams from Beacham's and from Locke's livery stables.

MR. BARNABEE'S CLOSING CONCERT, Monday evening, was a very fine one. Mrs. A. M. Smith and Mrs. D. C. Hall sang finely and Barnabee was in good trim. The farce of the Two Buzzards, played by a Portsmouth Amateur Club, with Mr. Barnabee as John Small, was admirably performed, and well received by the audience. This Concert closes the series of four given during the present season. These entertainments have all been of the highest order, and to the appreciative audiences very enjoyable, but they have not proved a pecuniary success to Mr. Barnabee. At the close of the Concert, Monday evening, Mr. J. P. Bartlett stated to the audience that Mr. Barnabee had been invited to give another entertainment, which a number of prominent citizens of this city have guaranteed shall be a benefit Concert. We trust that Mr. Barnabee will be favored with a full house, and will reap abundant reward for the delightful entertainments he has furnished this winter. Mr. Preston also spoke in favor of the movement.

REMARKABLE CONTEST.—A jumping match came off at Springfield, on Thursday morning, between Henry Lacy of Framingham and David Banks of Portsmouth, for $200 a side. The match was made the 28th December, out of a challenge issued from Lacy.—Quite a number of spectators turned out to witness the affair, despite the inclemency of the weather and bad state of the ground. Lacy was the favorite, and his friends invested their funds profusely upon him. He stands 5 feet 6 1-2 inches in height, (and, if we may be allowed the expression, is all legs,) and weighed about 129 pounds. His opponent stands 5 feet 8 1-2 inches in height, and weighed 140 pounds. Both are well known jumpers, and betting was quite brisk. At 1 P. M., the ground being cleared and scraped, the men came down and arranged their toilettes.

Banks made the first three jumps, clearing 33 feet 9 inches. Lacy then picked up the 20-pound dumb-bells, and cleared 33 feet 10 inches. On the second trial, Banks covered 33 feet 11 inches, to Lacy's 34 feet 9 inches. Betting still continued in favor of Lacy. On the third trial, Banks gathered himself together, and cleared 35 feet 1 inch, amid the applause of his friends. Lacy then cleared 35 feet 4 inches.

On the fourth trial betting was even. Banks continued to outjump his opponent, who seemed to be "laying back under cover." Banks covered 35 feet 8 inches in this trial, to Lacy's 35 feet 7 inches. On the fifth trial the betting became quite brisk, and Banks' friends began to offer 50 to 40. Banks cleared 36 feet 1 inch to Lacy's 36 feet 2 inches, which caused quite a stir among the betting fraternity. On the sixth trial, Banks, after making one or two gymnastic evolutions, a la Professor Judd, cleared 36 feet 6 1-2 inches.

Betting again became quite exciting, Banks' friends offering $100 to $75 that Lacy could not outjump Banks. The offers were quickly accepted; and owing to the readiness with which Lacy's friends accepted the wager, several of Banks' friends "backed out," and some contented themselves with what bets they had made, while others came to the sensible conclusion that they had better stand back before they invested any more of their funds. Lacy, in the meantime, got ready on the mark, and with a vigorous spring cleared 36 feet 6 1-2 inches, making the match a draw. After the match was over there was considerable speculation, and Lacy's friends offered to bet $200 to $150 that their man could out-jump Banks. The latter's friends accepted the proposition, and at once staked the amount, the men agreeing to jump three standing jumps, one trial, at 4 P. M. Considerable betting was indulged in, and Lacy became the favorite at $100 to $40. In the mean time the crowd sauntered round, discussing the merits of the men, while the two contestants exercised their pedals with single jumps and short runs, until the hour arrived.

Banks made the first jump, and cleared 36 feet 9 inches, which made him the favorite, and his friends ventured to offer 2 to 1, with plenty of takers. Lacy began to grow quite nervous, and a bystander made the remark that he did not have "nerve," meaning confidence enough to win; that he was quite shaky. He picked up his "bells" and toed the mark. He fell short on the first jump, lost on the second, and failed to reach his opponent's mark, and only cleared 36 feet 8 inches, and lost the match.—The friends of both parties agreed that Banks clearing the long distance made Lacy nervous, and that, if he had kept cool, he might have won the match.

COUNTY NOMINATIONS.—J. H. K. telegraphs us that Hon. Joseph B. Adams of this city was President of the Convention held at Exeter on Tuesday. Lieut. Pillsbury of Derry was chosen candidate for Commissioner on the third ballot. Wm. H. Belknap, Esq., of Exeter, was re-nominated for Register of Deeds, and Geo. G. Lougee of Rye was nominated for Treasurer. The Portsmouth delegation went to the Convention with two candidates for the office of Commissioner, and consequently both were beaten. Henry A. Yeaton, Esq., received the support of all but four of the Portsmouth delegates.

CARTER'S COMBINED

WRITING AND COPYING INK.

THIS Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in NEW YORK, BOSTON, and BALTIMORE, and pronounced by most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.

It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.

The Advantages of this over other Inks are:

First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.

Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.

Third. It will not mold.

Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.

Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.

Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.

Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always makes its mark.

This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's, or any other Writing Fluid now in use, to give as perfect a copy, as any Copying Ink; and not to mould. For Sale by

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,366,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freight, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. It is bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,

—AND BY—

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,

And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.

Bonds sent free, but parties subscribing thro' local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.

JOHN J. CISCO, TREASURER, New York.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other European Countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight years the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy to secure to them the benefit of their applications in a form to secure the broadest and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him the process their Patents, they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. Morning Chronicle.

A Love Story of George Washington.

Rev. E. D. Neill, while residing near Washington, was requested by the representatives of the Fairfax family, to examine a collection of Washington's letters with dates ranging from 1636 to 1799. As the dates progressed, the correspondence became more and more American, or rather Virginian, until their chief interest relates to the young surveyor of the Fairfax estate in the Shenandoah valley.

We have no space for the many references to business, local politics, or the western campaign under Braddock, scattered through the publication in connection with Washington, and which have become familiar to the readers of Sparks and Irving; but Mr. Neill brings to light a pleasant episode —nothing less than a love letter of the young Virginian, and the editor's industry helps us to the appreciation of its full significance.

The Fairfaxes had wealth, a title, distinguished ancestry—accessories no where held in greater estimation than in the Old Dominion. George William Fairfax had married a Cary, and at his residence young Washington met a younger sister, Miss Mary Cary. Bishop Meade, in the History of Old Churches in Virginia, says that Washington asked permission of old Mr. Cary to address the daughter before he ventured to speak to herself.

The reply of the old gentleman was, "If that is your business here, sir, I wish you to leave the house, for my daughter has been accustomed to ride in her coach." The Bishop speaks of a rejection by the young lady; but there is evidence that the somewhat insolent rebuff of a wealthy colonial aristocrat was the real obstacle to a successful suit.

In 1757, when Washington, with the rank of Colonel, was absent upon the expedition against the French post of Duquesne, since Pittsburg, we find him addressing a letter to Miss Mary Cary, which Edward Everett has incorporated in his article in Appleton's Cyclopedia on Washington, but erroneously supposed by him to be addressed to Martha Custis, whom he afterwards married. Mr. Neill has established that the letter was written to the lady whom he calls "the first love of Washington," Mary Cary. It commenced thus:

DEAR MADAM—Do we still misunderstand the true meaning of each other's letters? I think it must appear so, though I would fain hope the contrary, as I cannot speak plainer without——, but I'll say no more, and leave you to guess the rest."

Then followed the general news of the campaign, given with much detail, and including the particulars of a disastrous repulse of Major Grant on the 15th of September, 1758. The letter then resumes its personal interest:

"I should think our times more agreeably spent, believe me, in playing a part in "Cato" with the company you mention, and myself doubly happy in being the Juba to such a Marcia as you must make."

We place a sentence in Italics which might pass unnoticed by the reader, except for the research of Mr. Neill. At this point the editor appends the following note:

Addison's tragedy of Cato must have been full of interest to the young military officer in love with a fair maiden, and yet debarred from being her husband because her father looked upon him as without fortune and without fame.

Many passages in the play are exceedingly appropriate to one in his position, but only a few can be given:

ACT 1. SCENE 5.

JUBA—O Marcia, let me hope thy kind concerns
And gentle wishes follow me to battle,
MARCIA—My prayer and wishes shall always attend
The friends of Rome, the glorious cause of virtue,
And men approved of the gods and Cato.
JUBA—Then virtuous maid; I'll hasten to my troops.
* * * * * * *
And in the shock of charging hosts remember
That glorious deeds should grace the man who hopes
For Marcia's love.

ACT IV. SCENE 1.

MARCIA—Juba to all thy bravery of a hero
Adds softest love and more than female sweetness;
Juba might make the proudest of our sex,
Any of woman kind but Marcia happy.
LUCIA—And why not Marcia?
MARCIA—While Cato lives his daughter has no right
To love or hate but as his choice directs.

ACT IV. SCENE 3.

MARCIA—Why do I think on what he was? He's dead!
He's dead! and never knew how much I loved him.
* * * * * * *
JUBA—Where am I? Do I live? or am indeed
What Marcia thinks? all is Elysium round me.
MARCIA—To dear remains of the most loved of men!
A last embrace while thus—
JUBA—See Marcia! See! The happy Juba lives, he lives to catch
That dear embrace, and to return it too
With mutual warmth and eagerness of love.

The letter of Washington proceeds:

"Your agreeable letter contained these words:—

"My sisters and Nancy Gist, who neither of them expect to be here soon after our return from town, desire you to accept their best compliments."

"Pray, are these ladies upon a matrimonial scheme? Is Miss Fairfax to be transformed into that charming Domestick—a Martin and Miss Cary to a Fare? What does Miss Gist turn to—A Cooke that can't be; we have him here.

One thing more and then I have done. You ask if I am not tired of the length of your letter? No, Madam, I am not, nor never can be while the lines are an inch asunder to bring you in haste to the end of the Paper. You may be tired of mine by this. Adieu, dear Madam, you will possibly hear something of me or from me before we shall meet. I must beg the favor of you to make my compliments to Colonel Cary and the ladies with you, and believe me that I am most unalterably

"Your most obed't and oblig'd

GEORGE WASHINGTON."

Mr. Neill has his foot-notes in explanation of the personal badinage in these paragraphs, but it is hardly worth while to repeat them. His sequel to the narrative is so much better than any paraphrase of our own, that we cheerfully give him the reins to guide us to the conclusion of this little bit of heart history:

"Tradition relates that in the year 1758, while Washington was traveling to Williamsburg, after crossing the Pamunkey river Ferry, he was invited by a gentleman of New Kent county to tarry with him during the night, and was then introduced to the prepossessing and dignified young widow, Martha Custis.

Repelled by the father of her whom he had loved from early youth, and yet longing for one in whom he could confide, the widow made a deep impression upon him, and after a brief acquaintance he was accepted as her future husband.

The predictions made in his letter to Miss Cary, 'You will hear something of me or from me, was fulfilled. On the 25th of November the young officer planted the British flag on the ruins of Fort Duquesne, which the French had evacuated and burned at his approach. Returning to Virginia, he hastened to the house of Burgesses, of which he had been elected a member while with the army, and early in January, 1759, he was married at the White House to Mrs. Martha Custis, by the Rev. David Mossum, of St. Peters' parish, New Kent county."

Was the illustrious George something of a flirt, or was there a clash of pique in the sudden transition from the sighing Juba, addressing Marcia at his camp fire in September to the bride of the January following? Who knows?

But of course you ask, dear reader, what became of Mary Cary? She married a Mr. Edward Ambler; and Bishop Meade mentions a tradition that she was once recognized by Washington when passing through Williamsburg at the head of the American army. 'Having distinguished her among the crowd his sword waved toward her a military salute, whereupon she is said to have fainted.' But, said the good-natured Bishop, 'this wants confirmation, for her whole life tended to show that she had never regretted the choice she had made.'

'It may be added,' continues our gossipping Bishop, as a curious fact that the lady the General afterwards married resembled Miss Cary as much as one twin sister ever did another.

Which leaves us nothing more to say than to repeat the refrain of Whittier in Maud Muller.

"It might have been! It might have been!"

This INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.

It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.

Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

The goods sold by us are described in printed slips or checks, which are sent to any address at the rate of ten cents each, in clubs of ten, twenty, thirty, forty, fifty, sixty, seventy, eighty, ninety, two hundred and fifty, two hundred, &c. For a dollar the receiver can buy the article described in the check, or exchange it for any one of two or three hundred other articles in our circular.

As a guarantee of the worth of every article sold by us, any article on our books can be exchanged for a WHITE BED QUILT or a SILVER-PLATED RUBBER TABLE CASTOR, WITH FIVE BOTTLES. Read what the great paper of the Northwest, the Toledo Blade says about our system:

"WHAT WE SAW AT THE HUB.—Curiosity led us, while recently in Boston, to visit the dollar establishment of Messrs. EASTMAN & KENDALL.—Their books are numerous and they now occupy four stories in the elegant block No. 65 Hanover Street. The name of this firm has become as "familiar as household words" throughout the Middle and Western States, while as prompt and honorable business men they are endorsed by all who have dealt with them. Their Club system of selling goods has done more, we believe, during the past few years to keep down the prices of domestic articles in every day use, than all other influences combined. Most of their goods are manufactured expressly for them, as, for instance, cutlery made to their order in Sheffield, England, and imported in large quantities for their dollar trade alone."

Now is the time to get signers and send in clubs. Ladies specially wanted as agents.

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION TO FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station, East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

55, 57 & 59 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.

We have appointed

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, dry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOODS & CO.

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
apl1 eodly State Assayer for Massachusetts.

SONG OF THE REVELLER.

Who cares for nothing alone is free,
Sit down good fellow and drink with me.

With a careless heart and a merry eye
He'll laugh at the world as the world goes by;

He laughs at power and wealth and fame,
He laughs at virtue, he laughs at shame,

He laughs at hope and he laughs at fear,
At memory's dead leaves crisp and sere.

He laughs at the future cold and dim,
Nor earth nor Heaven is dear to him.

Oh! that is the comrade for me,
He cares for nothing—his soul is free.

Free as the soul of the fragrant wine,
Sit down good fellow my heart is thine,

For I heed not the customs, creed nor law,
I care for nothing that ever I saw;

In every city my cups I quaff,
And over my liquor I riot and laugh;

I terribly laugh with an oath and a sneer
When I think that the hour of death is near,

For I know that death is a guest divine
Who shall drink my blood as I drink this wine;

I'll drink to the phantoms of love and truth
To wine and manhood and wasted youth,

I'll drink to the woman who wrought my woe,
In the diamond morning of long ago,

To a heavenly face in sweet repose,
To the lily's snow and the blood of the rose,

To the splendors caught from the orient skies,
That thrilled in the dark of her hazel eyes;

Her large eyes would with the fire of the South,
And the dewy wine of her warm red mouth.

I will drink to my soul in its terrible mood,
Dimly and solemnly understood.

I cannot laugh, the end draws nigh,
But we'll laugh together before I die.

Through awful chasms I plunge and fall
Your hand, good fellow—I die—that's all.

Courting in a Railroad Car.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Times who has been riding by railroad through Iowa is responsible for the following:

"There was a funny little episode on the car that helped to arouse us. At Montana a young man and a young woman came on board of the sleeping car, and the former said:

'See here, Mr. Conductor, I want one of your best bunks for this young woman, and one for myself individually. One will do for us when we git to the Bluffs, hey, Mariar?'

(A playful and affectionate poke at 'Mariar' with his elbow, to which she replies, 'Now, John, don't!')

"'You see we're going to git married at Mariar's uncle's, when we get there. We might 'a been married at Montanny, but we took a 'habit to wait 'till we got to the Bluffs, and being as Mariar's uncle is a minister, and they charged a golfired price for hitchin' folks at Montanny.'

Maria was assigned to one of the best bunks, and John was given one not far away. After a time the inmates of the car were stowed away in their berths, to go through the inevitable alteration of sweltering and freezing.

During the stoppage of the train at one station the voice of John was heard, raised in pleading accents, all unconscious that the train had stopped, and that tones which the rattling wheels had drowned while the cars were moving, could be distinctly heard when they had stopped.

"'Now, Mariar, you might give a fellerjus one kiss.'

'John, you quit, or I'll get rite out here and hoof it back to Montanny in the snow-storm!'

'Only one little kiss, Maria, and I'll go; hope to die'f don't.'

'John!——'

Just at that interesting moment a gray head protruded from a berth at the other end of the car, and an old man cried out so all could hear:

'Mariar, for mercy sake, give John one kiss, so that we can go to sleep some time to-night!'

It is needless to remark that a peal of laughter rang from one end of the car to the other, under cover of which John slunk back to the solitary seclusion of his bunk, leaving Maria to the undisturbed possession of her married license, which she interpreted to permit no license to John until accompanied by the proper certificate. And Maria was right.

GARGET AND BLOODY MILK.—The use of Tincture of Arnica is cases of garget, caked bag and bloody milk, has repeatedly been stated. These ailments are very prevalent, especially at calving time, and many an excellent cow dies of milk fever, or loses one quarter of her bag for lack of timely attention and a little of this drug. It is in accordance with our principles to give "line upon line," and so we publish a note received from J. E. Morrill, of Hampshire Co., Mass., who thus writes: "I keep a drug store in this town. A gentleman who has purchased a great deal of Tincture of Arnica of me said a day or two since, "Do you know that Tincture of Arnica is the best thing in the world for garget in cows? I keep twenty-two, and by giving them a teaspoonful of the Tincture in bran, three times a day, and bathing the bag thoroughly with it as often, they are always cured in a short time."

The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.

All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" [and "Proprietary" Companies.

Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.

Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly UNJUST to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.

Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)

The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.

All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.

No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.

Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES, Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its single power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change of life, for the second years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give cause to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of our lovely life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared, and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains is soon told.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wonders I try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JAN. 14, 1869.

The News.

Senator Perry of the Maine Legislature has made a public statement to the effect that he threw the blank vote at the Republican caucus which nominated Mr. Hamlin, and that he did so purposely, as he favored Mr. Morrill and his constituents favored Mr. Hamlin; so he would not vote for either.

U. S. Senator William M. Stewart of Nevada was re-elected on Tuesday.

Connecticut had a State Temperance Convention on Tuesday.

A terribly fatal accident occurred at an early hour Tuesday morning to the night train on the Panhandle Railroad, at Cork's Run Point about 3 miles below Pittsburgh, Pa. The heavy rains washed the earth from beneath the track, and left 100 ties without foundation. When the train reached the place, the sleeping car was detached and was hurled over an embankment sixty feet high. Of seven persons in the car three were instantly killed and the others seriously injured.

Judge Pelham of the Circuit Court of Alabama, on a case coming before him, decided that the present Legislature is an illegal body, and that Governor Smith is an unlawful officer. Judge Pelham is a prominent member of the Republican party, and was elected to his office at the same time the Legislature and Governor were chosen.

The Bremen barque America, for New York, was spoken on Dec. 30.—She had 39 shipwrecked persons on board. We have reason to believe that they are the Hibernia's people saved from the missing boat.

The party in Florida in favor of impeaching the Governor is losing ground.

Gen. Butler's speech seems to have damaged the scheme for a speedy return to specie payments.

England has had a great hurricane with considerable loss of life.

President Johnson is jubilant over the bill repealing the act disbanding the Southern militia sent to him by Congress for his approval.

Bogota is gloomy.

Advices from Yokohama to Dec. 15 confirm the report of the surrender of Prince Aidsen, and the civil war in Japan is considered at an end. The capitulation was concluded Nov. 6, on the birthday of the Mikado.

Congress.

In the House on Monday Mr. Stevens of New Hampshire introduced a bill to regulate the rank of the Naval Medical staff.

The Naval appropriation Bill was considered.

Gen. Butler made a great financial speech in the House on Tuesday.

On Tuesday in the House Mr. Ashley of Ohio introduced a bill providing a temporary government for Alaska, also a bill in relation to the election of delegates from Territories, which were referred to the Committee on Territories and ordered to be printed.

Gen. Banks' bill, extending protectorate over the islands of St. Domingo and Hayti came up, and Gen. Butler offered an amendment and made a brief speech in support of it, saying that he was opposed to purchasing more territory, but favoring this scheme to restore peace to the islands named.

☞ A little incident, it is said, showed Mr. Bonner the value of a name. His contributions to the Ledger which he printed, were very well received before he bought it. The proprietor had a spice of jealousy about him, and he did not want his energetic and spirited printer to get into the editorial chair. Mr. Bonner wrote a short, pithy article on a popular subject, jammed it into a little nook in the paper, and placed at the bottom the name of Dr. Chalmers. It took like wildfire. It was copied into all the prominent papers of the land. It taught Mr. Bonner the value of a name.—a lesson he has not forgotten.

—Newburyport has the "champion" incendiary. The Herald thinks if he would exercise as much tact and energy in politics as in setting fires, nothing could prevent his being governor in a few years. He is one of the saddest examples of human power wasted that modern times has known.

—At a meeting of the Montreal merchants, Saturday, respecting the so called "silver nuisance," Mr. Wier's plan, to export two millions of silver, was unanimously adopted. In accordance with resolutions passed, the time for accepting the tenders was extended to February 6.

Chronicle Correspondence.

EXETER, Jan. 12.

The Republican County Convention was held here to-day. The convention was called to order by Chas. G. Conner, and Geo. A. Wentworth and W. H. Brickett chosen respectively President and Secretary pro tem. The permanent organization was effected by the unanimous choice of Joseph B. Adams President, Samuel Woodman, Hervey Kent and Aaron P. Hardy Vice Presidents, J. Horace Kent and W. H. Brickett Secretaries. The Committee on credentials reported 110 delegates present. The convention proceeded to ballot for County Treasurer. Whole number of votes cast, 96. Necessary for a choice, 49. E. P. Philbrick had 10, Geo. G. Longee 82; scattering 4.

The next business in order was the nomination of a candidate for Register of Deeds. Whole number of votes cast, 105. Necessary for a choice, 53. Folsom Dow had 49; W. H. Belknap had 56, and was declared nominated.

At this stage of the proceedings the convention adjourned till 2 o'clock P. M., at which time it reassembled, and proceeded to ballot for a candidate for County Commissioner.

The first ballot resulted in no choice, Wm. S. Pillsbury of Londonderry, having the largest number. The second resulted similarly, Mr. Pillsbury coming within one vote of the nomination.—J. P. Morse here made some remarks in favor of the Portsmouth candidate, Henry A. Yeaton, and another ballot was held, with the following result. J. W. F. Hobbs had 10; Henry A. Yeaton had 40; Wm. S. Pillsbury had 58, and was declared nominated.

The nominations were made unanimous, and the convention adjourned.

Several inches of snow fell here last night, and there is now a good prospect of sleighing. H.

☞ Mr. Gideon Haynes, Warden of the Massachusetts State Prison, has written a good work, which we have not seen, called Pictures from Prison Life. We say his work must be a good one, for we heard him draw some grand word-pictures in a great Sunday School Assembly in Boston. In a notice of his work we read:—

Imprisonment, where the greatest attention is paid, both as to diet and exercise, gradually and swiftly destroys the strongest constitution; the author remarking that the strongest and bravest spirits succumb in about ten years. Many of those confined for a long term become insane or fall victims to consumptions. Whether the system of imprisonment will ever become sufficiently perfected, so that the moral nature of the subject may be changed without crushing the spirit and destroying the constitution, is a matter of doubt. It is quite plain, however, that persons who have endured a long term of incarceration, when discharged, soon return to their old quarters to drag out the remainder of a miserable existence, or if reformed, have become so reduced in physical strength, that they live but a few years to enjoy the happy contemplation of their own reform.

Maine News.

Three men at work on the Somerset railroad near Norridgewock were blown up Saturday while carelessly drilling powder into a seam of a ledge. One man received injuries of which he will probably die. His name was Besse. Another will lose the sight of both eyes.

George Thompson, son of James Thompson of Augusta was recently killed on the Ohio Central railroad on which he was an engineer. A brother of his was killed on the same road about three years ago.

A ten years old Knox colt was recently sold at Kendall's Mills for $800.

A shoe manufactory is to be opened at Berwick which will employ 100 workmen.

A little girl, about seven years old, daughter of John Daily of Lewiston, was burned to death by her clothes taking fire last Saturday night.

A new Catholic church is nearly completed in Lewiston which will seat over eight hundred persons.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.—An insurance company, authorized to transact business in any part of the Union, was chartered by special act of Congress, in July last, and has been active work in this and other States. The new Company has some especially noticeable features and facts to commend it to popular attention. One of these is its paid-up capital of one million dollars, which provides amply for all liabilities that may arise. The list of managers of the company includes C. H. Clark, as President, Jay Cooke, Chairman of Finance Committee, and others whose names are known as national renown as upright and successful business men, to risk their reputations in any doubtful enterprise. But, aside from these prominent facts, are several novel methods of insurance, first introduced by this Company, which have shown themselves to be very popular. Under the "Income Producing" plan, a young man may provide for a yearly income after a term of years, which may support him or his family in comfort, however he may have died in his business anticipations. Another plan provides that by the payment of a slightly increased yearly premium, the Company will repay to the heirs of the insured all the money which has been paid in premiums, in addition to the property, these and other specialities of the new Company will be explained at length by the Company's agents who are advertised elsewhere in this paper. We see every reason to anticipate an immense business for the new Company, starting under such extremely favorable auspices.

A DISTINGUISHED Methodist Minister and prominent Temperance Lecturer once remarked that if he could travel from one end of the country to the other, he hardly ever failed to find PLANTATION BITTERS, and while he condemned the practice of using these Bitters too freely, he could not conscientiously say that he would discard them from the side-board, for he himself had experienced beneficial results from their use, and that, from a long and close observation, he was convinced that when used moderately, and as a medicine exclusively, they were all that was recommended. At the same time he warned his hearers not to pull the cork too often, for they were far to pleasant a tonic to trifle with. 13

NOT A BIT OF STAIN OR SMART will Wolcott's PAIN PAINT give; but it removes pain as quick as magic. Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR banishes Catarrh from the system, and all colds in the head. Recollect and get pint bottles, in white wrappers, $1, at druggists. j16 2wsaw.

FRANCE SNUBBED BY AMERICA.—The universal opinion of the American people, that France has never produced a perfume worthy of notice, and a new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," has greatly gratified all admirers proper of the great toilet chemists of France. Neither French-made perfumes nor French-made potentates are wanted on this side of the Atlantic. Sacre!! Sold by all druggists.

IF SAMSON'S strength actually lay in the length and abundance of his hair, a liberal use of the famous "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" ought to impart many times the strength of that doughty ancient warrior, for there is no limit it will not reach if properly applied.—N. H. Patriot. 23

HEALTH GIVING SPEER'S WINE BITTERS are pure and really excellent—health-giving. The debilitated, from whatever cause, use them with the fullest confidence of receiving advantage by them, for they are pleasant to the taste, and are mainly the pure juice of the grape; diuretic, sudorific, and tonic in their effect.

EXUBERANT HEALTH

is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a gentle and well-tried vegetable science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need an accompliment tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their health and hands, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In such a prevalent condition, unexciting TONIC is the grand disideratum of the hour; and, fortunately, we have the article in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. It is a WHOLESOME MEDICINE, i. e., it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and, as far as the public is concerned, have failed to supply the place of the original; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the GREAT MEDICAL SUCCESS OF THE PRESENT CENTURY, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted) the whole year through, barely supply the demand for HOSTETTER'S Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the popular bitters are set forth, the circulation now being over five millions a year.

ACCUMULATE ELECTRICITY,

whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the part where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, Esq.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and tried only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all that is to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digested, and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease. It goes well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the Mandrake Pills and Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much: they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole system, instead of looking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lung is a mass of inflammation and fast dissolving. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to grow in flesh, and as sure as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by his own medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 2 Hood St. New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1jja4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1867.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION of COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.—The components are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo.—Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The Buchu and Cubebs are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys the (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.—Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation evaporates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a compound, as made in Pharmacopœa; nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equal to it before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN,

Wm. Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Sts., Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion, the exhaustion of Nature which follows accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Sight, Dreadful Forebodings of Evil in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is invaluable for. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all Complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD' EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

LOCALLY SPEAKING there's nothing doing worth mention, and Judge Odell hasn't been troubled with police complaints for twenty-four hours. Excitement about the coming choice of city officers is all that there is in a lively way, just now. The annuals are all waiting expectant for their re-election to office, and the semi-occasionals are fondly hoping "ever of" getting in somewhere. The attendance at the City Rooms this evening to see how the offices are dispensed, will be large.—Regular nominations will doubtless be put through, as would any bolter who might not go with the majority. The coppers are evidently ready for any kind of a trade that will bring meat to their market, but will get nothing—else our ideas of the matter are faulty. The defeated candidates will doubtless come out of the contest in about the same way that a young hopeful did in Virginia in celebrating Christmas. He loaded a large hickory log with powder and sat down astride it, to set it off; it went off, and so did he. The family, on looking out of the window, saw him descending from a considerable and sudden elevation in the world. He was not much hurt, but his new suit of clothes suffered badly.

Petitionizing for the offices to be disposed of under Gen. Grant, goes on, and we notice that squatter sovereigns from other places who are here only as long as Uncle Sam has a chance for them, have their fingers in the pie. He who expects nothing will never be disappointed—except in an agreeable way, and that's the best kind of a disappointment, 'tis said.

The ups and downs of life are very well illustrated by the stable keepers, who have been losing money all Winter until, now that the sleighing is good, they are reaping a good dividend after so long a suspension of business. Everybody that can, goes out in the warm sunshine, and the exhilarating fresh air pays them ten fold for their investment.

The informal ballot, by call of towns, resulted: for Moses Humphrey 73, Chas. H. Bell 72, and scattering (for J. B. Walker) 2. Bell's large vote astonished everybody; and it being dinner time, the Convention adjourned for an hour. After the voting had begun, it was proposed to fill a vacancy from Greenland with a man from elsewhere, but this was ruled out.

In the afternoon, on proceeding to vote, Mr. Lund again spoke in support of Mr. Humphrey's nomination, and was replied to by Mr. Wm. P. Moulton of Exeter in behalf of Mr. Bell. The second ballot (146) resulted in a tie of 73 each. Third ballot the same, and no choice!

After these three ballots, Mr. Aaron Young stated that there was evidently too much Newmarket packed into the Convention, (it was reported there were 15 of the townsmen interpolated substitutes in place of delegates not present,) and he moved the Convention be dissolved, and refer the matter to the people for a new election of delegates to another Convention.

Mr. Cilley of Exeter, and Mr. Wm. R. Martin of Portsmouth, urged the completion of the business of the day, and the nomination of a Councillor.

Mr. Charles E. Smith of South Newmarket moved the laying aside of both candidates, and the nomination of Wm. B. Small of Newmarket by acclamation. This was favored by Messrs. J. P. Morse and J. H. Kent of Portsmouth, and opposed by Mr. Lovering of Exeter.

Amid the greatest hubbub, disorder and excitement, for nearly an hour, and cries of poll the house, calls for adjournment, and notions of all sorts, it was voted not to dissolve or change the candidates, but to proceed to the fourth ballot,—which resulted for Humphrey—no, it didn't either — for just before counting the votes Mr. Bell entered the hall and withdrew his name from the nomination, and at his request and recommendation, Mr. Humphrey was nominated by acclamation amid great cheers and enthusiasm. He came in and accepted the same in a few words of acknowledgement, thanking the Convention, and Mr. Bell especially, for the honor.

Thus ended the squabble for the present—and while we shall not attempt to decide between the justice of the claims of two sections of the State (the Merrimac section having the Governor and virtually both U. S. Senators, and Rockingham having had the Councillor for six years,) it was pretty evident that the Exeter folks held a strong hand and played their cards well; and Hon. C. H. Bell will stand better than ever with any future similar assemblage.

—One of the strongest reasons we ever heard why a married man should get his life insured is, that the money would prove a great help to his wife's second husband, and might be the means of starting him in business.

Councillor Convention.

The Republican Councillor Convention, First District, was held at the Town Hall, Newmarket, Wednesday; and was very fully attended, but rather inharmonious and uproarious. The entire delegation numbers about 150, and there were nearly that number present.

Caleb Moulton of Hampstead was chosen temporary Chairman, and Ora Patten of Kingston Secretary.

The Committee on permanent organization (Bradbury L. Cilley of Exeter, Peter Sanborn of Concord, Wm. H. Berry of Pittsfield, John H. Bailey of Portsmouth, and Robert Mack of Londonderry,) reported as Officers of the Convention:

President, Peter Sanborn of Concord; Vice Presidents—Horton D. Walker of Portsmouth, Thomas J. Melvin of Derry; Secretaries—Ora Patten of Kingston, and Henry T. Chickering of Concord.

Committee on Credentials—Geo. A. Cummings of Concord, Aaron Young of Portsmouth, Wm. P. Moulton of Exeter, E. P. Prescott of Concord, and J. J. Leavitt of Hampton.

Brief addresses were made by Col. Peter Sanborn, Hon. E. A. Stevens, Messrs. H. D. Walker, T. J. Melvin, J. P. Morse, Wm. B. Small, and others; when on motion, the Convention proceeded to an informal ballot for Councillor—or for a candidate for nomination, which amounts to the same thing in this case.

Mr. Lund of Concord nominated Hon. Moses Humphrey of that city, and urged the claims of Merrimac County and Mr. Humphrey as their candidate at this time.

This was responded to by Mr. Jas. M. Lovering of Exeter, who nominated and spoke in favor of Hon. Charles H. Bell of Exeter.

Hon. H. D. Walker of Portsmouth spoke briefly in favor of nominating Mr. Humphrey, and stated that he believed the Concord and Portsmouth delegations were unanimous for him.

The informal ballot, by call of towns, resulted: for Moses Humphrey 73, Chas. H. Bell 72, and scattering (for J. B. Walker) 2. Bell's large vote astonished everybody; and it being dinner time, the Convention adjourned for an hour. After the voting had begun, it was proposed to fill a vacancy from Greenland with a man from elsewhere, but this was ruled out.

In the afternoon, on proceeding to vote, Mr. Lund again spoke in support of Mr. Humphrey's nomination, and was replied to by Mr. Wm. P. Moulton of Exeter in behalf of Mr. Bell. The second ballot (146) resulted in a tie of 73 each. Third ballot the same, and no choice!

Mr. Cilley of Exeter, and Mr. Wm. R. Martin of Portsmouth, urged the completion of the business of the day, and the nomination of a Councillor.

Mr. Charles E. Smith of South Newmarket moved the laying aside of both candidates, and the nomination of Wm. B. Small of Newmarket by acclamation. This was favored by Messrs. J. P. Morse and J. H. Kent of Portsmouth, and opposed by Mr. Lovering of Exeter.

Amid the greatest hubbub, disorder and excitement, for nearly an hour, and cries of poll the house, calls for adjournment, and notions of all sorts, it was voted not to dissolve or change the candidates, but to proceed to the fourth ballot,—which resulted for Humphrey—no, it didn't either — for just before counting the votes Mr. Bell entered the hall and withdrew his name from the nomination, and at his request and recommendation, Mr. Humphrey was nominated by acclamation amid great cheers and enthusiasm. BOARD OF TRADE.—Meeting of Managers (and Members who desire) on the second Tuesday Evening of each Month, at half-past 7, at the Common Council Room.

GOOD TEMPLARS, Strawberry Bank Encampment No. 42, meet at their Hall, corner of Ladd and Market Streets, each Wednesday Evening at half-past 7.

THE TOWN OFFICERS.—The new "Town Officer," by Hon. Charles R. Morrison, Author of the N. H. Digest, &c., &c., is just published by B. W. Sanborn & Co. Concord, and is for sale in this city at the Book store of Messrs. Shores and Foster. It is a vol. of 427 pages, price $2.50.

This is a new, and the only Standard Work on the subject in the State; prepared, with reference to the new General Statutes and Amendments. The forms embrace almost every phase of the great variety of questions likely to arise under the new Statutes. They are models of brevity and clearness.

The book is enriched with ample directions and brief notes of all the pertinent decisions in the 46 vols. of our own Reports and those of other States where analagous questions have arisen. No Selectman, Town Clerk or other business man can safely do business without this work.

DOVER.—The Strafford Guards, Capt. J. G. Wallace, who lost their beautiful uniforms by fire some time ago, and have since been supplied by the State authorities, are to refurnish themselves in a very handsome manner. They will soon hold a levee in aid of the company.

DEMOREST'S MONTHLY, for February, is on hand, with Fashions, Patterns, Drawings, and Literature, all of a high order.

CARTER'S COMBINED
WRITING AND COPYING INK.
This Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in NEW YORK, BOSTON, and BALTIMORE, and pronounced by the most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.
It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.
The Advantages of this over other Inks are:
First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.
Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.
Third. It will not mold.
Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.
Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.
Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.
Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always "makes its mark."
This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's, or any other Writing fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould.

THE UNION PACIFIC
RAILROAD COMPANY
OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
AT PAR.
NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES
Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole
Grand Line to the Pacific
Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.
The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:
"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 187 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered, to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 20 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.
Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.
Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.
By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.
The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in
PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,
—AND BY—
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street,
And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.
Bonds sents free, but parties subscribing thro' local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.
A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.
JOHN J. CISCO, TREASURER, New York.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During the months spent by subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in recommending inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them, promptly and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to secure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

Morning Chronicle.

THE MANIA OF OUR GREAT MEN TO BE PRESIDENT.—Horace Greeley made a pleasant little speech to his Montreal entertainers the other day, and moved by an allusion of the mayor to Daniel Webster, he spoke thus of him and of the presidential disease so prevalent among our public men:

"Mr. Webster was not only a gentleman, but he had the elements of moral greatness; but he had faults as well. He falled only in one respect, and in this respect I differ from him—he wanted to be president, and I don't. [Cheers and laughter.] But for that one misfortune he would have been the greatest man America ever produced. We have seen our greatest man, Mr. Chase, making the same blunder.

I have seen men who had the disease early and died of it at a very old age. [Laughter.] Gen. Lewis Cass died at about 82, and up to the day of his death he wanted to be a president. No one ever escapes who once catches the disease; he lives and dies in the delusion. Being a reader and an observer at an early age, I saw how it poisoned and paralyzed the very heart of our public men, and I have carefully watched it. It was easy then to speak for truth and justice, when they needed an advocate, when those who threatened could execute no vengeance that you dreaded.

So then I think you are happy in that respect, if in no other, for none of you in Canada expect to become the sovereign of your country. [Cheers and laughter.] That enables you to have a purer press and more fearless public men than perhaps you would otherwise have. We at least, in our day, have a president elect who did not try to be president. He was elected mainly on that account. [Laughter.] We have others who tried to get in by declining, but that wouldn't do. [Renewed laughter.]

Let a public man honestly go forward, saying what he believes to be just, doing what he thinks is right, and though he may not probably be president, he can enjoy a very large measure of freedom of opinion, as well as freedom of action, [hear, hear,] though freedom of opinion is the very last thing that a free people is disposed to concede to its public men."

AN INTERESTING "WAITER GIRL" EXPERIMENT IN SAN FRANCISCO—HOW IT CAME OUT.—Some weeks ago, writes a San Francisco correspondent, a shrewd Yankee arrived here from the East, and after looking around for a time, and finding that fully two-thirds of the people of San Francisco boarded in restaurants concluded, to go into that business. He had observed that all the restaurant keepers employed fat, lazy and dirty men of all nations, for cooks and waiters, and he conceived the idea that if he employed girls—neat, tidy, quick witted and good-looking girls—for waiters, he would secure a large custom immediately.

He accordingly ransacked the employment offices for recruits, and finally secured twelve pretty girls; two of these he placed behind the counter for money takers, and the remainder of these were instructed to "pass around the hash." The novelty of the thing made it take immediately. The restaurant was crowded from morning till night. No one thought of eating less than twenty-five cents' worth, (you must know that a person can get a fine meal for fifteen or twenty cents,) and when they devoured thirty-seven cents' worth they would toss the money takers a fifty cent piece and walk away with a nonchalant air. The proprietor was in ecstacies, and walked about rubbing his hands with unctuous delight.

Many of the customers would call for ice-cream and ask the fair witnesses to join them—they were consequently filled chock full of nice things all the time. Matters progressed finally for several weeks, when the proprietor began to find the waiters were not so attentive as they ought to be; they would serve some good-looking fellow with what they would order, and would sit down and chat with him while other customers were waiting to be served. He reprimanded the girls several times, but without any effect; so he determined to secure another lot and discharge the whole caboodle.

He began his search for substitutes, saying nothing of his designs. Yesterday, however, he was staggered. If Johnny Morrissy or Johnny Heenan had struck him a blow below the belt he could not have been more astonished; for after the duties of the day were concluded, and the cash counted, he was asked to attend church with the girls, as one of them was going to get married. Of course he would give away the bride. If they had given him notice in time he would have given them a nice wedding supper.

An hour's time sufficed for the girls to dress, and then they all proceeded to church, where every one of them was married. During their brief career of four weeks in the restaurant they had been wooed and won by young fellows who were anxious to find companions for life, but who, owing to the peculiar mode of living in San Francisco, had had no opportunity of forming female acquaintances. This morning he was without waiters, and he is rushing around like a chicken with his head cut off, looking for more girls. His establishment is better than a matrimonial agency.

—The Superintendent of City Missions in New York stated, after the meetings there, that the neighborhood of John Allen's dance house had been recently thoroughly canvassed by his assistants in the City Mission work, and that in two thousand families visited not twenty individuals were found who had attended any of the Water street prayer meetings.

PEN JOTTINGS.—General Grant's habits have often been the theme of newspaper controversy. "Brick" Pomeroy's elegant journal has continually caricatured him as a common drunkard, with a whiskey bottle in his hand. But if the new President's course during one of his late visits to New York is any fair indication of his usual practice, he may be set down as a thorough teetotaler.

At the dinner given to Hon. Mr. Evarts (at the Astor House) General Grant refused to taste wine when the toasts were drank. He also declined to take wine with his entertainer when he was dining with one of the leading merchants of this city. Mr. Bonner says, that during his "fast" drives with the General they stopped to "warm" at a fashionable hotel. Several gentlemen coveted the honor of a "little suthin' to drink" with the President elect; but they were politely refused.

This is a noble beginning, and if the same course of rigid total abstinence is maintained in the White House at Washington, all good men will rejoice. What a glorious example to the nation would it be for the Chief Magistrate to give the weight of his influence to practical temperance; and nothing would contribute more to place Grant in the same spot in the national heart which the beloved Lincoln held so long. Vice President Colfax is one of the officers of the National Temperance Society. No patriot will have reason to blush on the next inauguration day for his country or its chief rulers.—*Temp. SWETT'S PATENT

STOVE SHELF REST!

TO HOUSEKEEPERS:

Something New!

FOR YOUR

COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!

This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.

This INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.

It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.

Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

EASTMAN & KENDALL,

65 Hanover Street, Boston, Mass.,

LICENSED WHOLESALE DEALERS BY THE U. S.

Established 1864.

The goods sold by us are described in printed slips or checks, which are sent to any address at the rate of ten cents each, in clubs of ten, twenty, thirty, forty, sixty, one hundred, one hundred and fifty, two hundred, &c. For a dollar the receiver can buy the article described in the check, or exchange it for any one of two or three hundred other articles in our circular. As a guarantee of the worth of every article sold by us, any article on our checks can be exchanged for a WHITE BED QUILT or a SILVER-PLATED REVOLVING TABLE CASTOR, WITH FIVE BOTTLES. Read what the great paper of the Northwest, the Toledo Blade (Nasby's paper), says of us:—

"WHAT WE SAW AT THE HUB.—Curiosity led us, while recently in Boston, to visit the dollar establishment of Messrs. EASTMAN & KENDALL.—Their trade has become so immense that they now occupy a splendid store, the elegant block No. 65 Hanover Street. The name of this firm has become as familiar as household words' throughout the Middle and Western States, while as prompt and honorable business men they are endorsed by the best firms in their own city. Their Club system of selling goods has done more, we believe, during the past few years to keep down the prices of domestic articles in every day use, than all other influences combined. Most of their goods are manufactured expressly for them, as, for instance, cutlery made to their order in Sheffield, England, and imported in large quantities for their dollar sales.

Now is the time to get signers and send in clubs. Ladies specially wanted as agents.

Partial list of articles allowed as commission to any one sending in clubs:—

CLUB OF THIRTY, ($3.) 21 yards bleached or unbleached Cotton Cloth, 1 photograph Album, 100 pictures, elegant Morocco Binding, Revolving oval band. Silver-Plated Table Castor, 5 bottles. Ladies' Dress Pattern. A Lady's richly-ornamented Black Walnut Writing Desk. Fancy Cassimere Pants Pattern. Large, White, all Linen Table Cover. White Lancaster Counterpane. 20 yards Calico. A Chambers' Bed Quilt. Ladies' Morocco Shopping Bag. Good Cottage Clock.

CLUB OF SIXTY, ($6.) 42 yards Bleached or Unbleached Cotton Cloth. Fashionable Dress Pattern. 3½ yards wool Cassimere for Sacks and Vest Pattern. Fashionable woolen Shawl. White Marseilles Counterpane. Ladies' large Genuine Morocco Shopping Bag. Lady's Fashionable Cloak Pattern. Fair good white woolen Blankets. Black Alpaca Dress Patern. 4 yards double-width waterproof Cloaking. A good Silver Watch. Wool Frocking. Rosewood Brass Alarm Clock. Lady's Fur Muff. Set Misses' Furs, Muff and Collar.

CLUB OF ONE HUNDRED. ($10.) 65 yards good Bleached or Unbleached Cotton Cloth, one yard wide. Lady's or Gent's New Silver Hunting Case Watch. Fashionable Thibet Dress Pattern. Cheapest Black Alpaca Dress Pattern. One pair good white woolen Blankets, large size. Lady's Fashionable Double woolen Shawl. Two large, fine, Steamed Linen Table Covers, with one dozen large sized Dinner Napkins to match. 40 yards Hemp Carpeting. 7½ yards fine Cassimere for suit. One dozen Ivory Handled Steel Blade Knives and Forks. One dozen Rogers' best Silver Plated Forks on white metal. Portable Sewing and Embroidering Machine. 7½ yards double-width waterproof Cloaking. Set of Furs, Muff and Collar.

It is impossible to give a complete list of goods, but Agents desiring articles not named above, will please mention them, and we will accommodate them if possible. If you have a club ready, or intend to raise one for any other house, DON'T FAIL TO SEND TO US, AND AT THE SAME TIME ASK FOR OUR NEW CIRCULAR AND MAMMOTH EXCHANGE LIST. Parties acting as agents for other dollar houses in this city will please send their address, and that of a dozen or so of their male and female friends, as we can make it for their advantage to do so. Male and female agents wanted as usual.

Send Money in Registered Letter in every instance, and we guarantee that it will come perfectly safe.

N. B. Our sale should not be classed with dollar jewelry sales and gift enterprises. Send to us for decision respecting our business by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, dated Washington, Nov. 4, 1868. If you want prompt returns for your money, send your clubs to

ORIENTAL

TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding house in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston,
MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and find it free from all the poisons with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer for Massachusetts.

THE SPREADING RUMOR.

Says Gossip One to Gossip Two:
"While shopping in the town,
Old Mrs. Pry to me remarked—
Smith bought his goods of Brown."

Says gossip Two to Gossip Three,
Who cast her eyelids down:
"I've heard it said to-day, my friend,
Smith got his goods from Brown."

Says Gossip Three to Gossip Four,
With something of a frown;
"I've heard strange news—what do you think,
Smith took his goods from Brown?"

Says Gossip Four to Gossip Five,
Who blazed it round the town:
"I've heard to-day, such shocking news—
Smith stole his goods from Brown!"

Clothing.

The subject of clothing is understood well enough, and the rules of common sense are well enough observed by men. But woman is under the guidance of a higher law than any relating to her individual safety.

No woman that is a woman values her comfort, her health, or her life, in comparison with her personal appearance. She is impelled by a profound logic, say rather a divine instinct. On the slender thread of her personal attractions hangs the very existence of a human future. The crinkle of a ringlet, the tie of a ribbon, has swayed the wavering choice of a half-enamored swain, and given to the world a race which would never have come to the light of day but for the pinch of the curling-tongs, or a turn of the milliner's fingers.

It is in virtue of this supreme indifference to consequence—this sublime contempt of disease and death as compared with the loss of the smallest personal advantage—that woman has attained the power of resistance to exposure which so astonishes the male sex. Think of her thin shoes and stockings; her bare or scarcely protected neck and arms, his roseleaf bonnet, by the side of the woolen socks, the layers of flannel and broadcloth, and the warm hats and caps of her effeminate companion! Our cautions are of no use, except to the fragile sex—our brothers in susceptibility and danger.

A man will tell you he has the constitution of a horse; but the health of a horse is notoriously delicate, as Shakspeare reminds you. A woman is compared to a bird by poets and lovers. It should be to a snow-bird.

We may learn a lesson in the matter of clothing from the trainers and jockeys. They blanket their horses carefully after exercise. We come in heated, and throw off our outside clothing. Why should not a man be cared for as well as Flora Temple or Dexter? We dress for summer, and the next thing down goes the thermometer, and we run a risk which the owner of a trotting-horse would not subject his beast to for a thousand dollars.

LITTLE PITCHERS WITH GREAT EARS. How observant children are, and how their ears prick up at an intimation that anything is going on which they are not particularly desired to see or hear!

A little fellow—a "minister's son," by the way—sat on the floor one afternoon, playing with his blocks, when some ladies called on his mother. Very soon the conversation turned (I am sorry to say,) on a bit of scandal that was in the village. Remembering suddenly that the child was in the room, and not knowing exactly how much he might understand of what was being said, an abrupt pause was made in the conversation.

There sat the little fellow, busy with his blocks, and in reality not heeding a word of what was being said. But no sooner did the pause come, than he turned round, and rolling on the floor and laughing as though his little sides would burst, shouted, "Go right on; that's just such as I like to hear every day!"—Exchange.

TUFTS COLLEGE catalogue for 1868–9 has been issued. The classes are: Senior, 11: Junior, 10: Sophomore, 10: Freshmen, 19: in special course, 13. The faculty numbers 12. The yearly expenses at the college amount to $192 per student, when rooming with another, or $212 alone. There are 25 scholarships in the gift of the college, varying in amount from $35 to $120 each. In the second term of the academical year there are four prizes of $15 each, in books, from the Goddard prize fund. From the same fund there are also three prizes of $25, $20 and $15, for superiority in reading and elocution. In accordance with the will of the late Sylvanus Packard, 10 prizes of $20 each are annually awarded to as many students who rank highest in scholarship and good behavior.

—A gentleman who has lately explored the islands of Pyramid Lake in Utah, which are avoided from some superstitious fear by the Indians, says that it is impossible to walk on the islands without stepping on the eggs of gulls, ducks, pelicans, and other aquatic birds, during the incubating season. Two small rocky islands are alive with rattlesnakes, which bask in the shade of almost every stone; so that an intruder is often treated to a serenade by a dozen or more rattles of various degrees of power and shades of tone.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES. Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Restless, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Epilepsy, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Then it is that constitutional maladies make their appearance, if any be lurking about the system, and give place to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.
IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
(Communicated by a Physician.)
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine disease. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, cough, poor appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a restoration of the general health. It was inconvenient to see her frequently, and except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and know of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the night-sweats disappeared and appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was natural and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains is soon told.—The patient continued the use of the Nervine, and no other medicine for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required.—Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is naturally enough most enthusiastic. She never before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wouldn't try to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that Dr. Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organization that has ever come under my observation. I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurer as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The News.

A fire broke out about 12 o'clock Wednesday night, near the city of Salem, Mass., in a barn belonging to Mr. A. E. Weare, which was destroyed, with about 50 cows and oxen, and 60 tons of hay. Barn insured for $3000; cattle not insured. Origin of fire unknown.

Marble Block, Philadelphia, corner of 5th and Chestnut streets, was found to be on fire, early Thursday morning, and three valuable stocks of goods were destroyed or greatly injured. Loss heavy. Seven clerks sleeping there, got out with their lives, but some were badly burned.

A later dispatch says; Two of the employees of Caldwell & Co., who, with others, slept in the building, are missing, and it is supposed that being unable to escape they were burned to death, and are now under the mass of fallen ruins.

It is now estimated that the total loss will reach a million and a quarter; being insured to half that amount.

Congress.

On Wednesday, Jan. 16, the Senate passed, 32 to 10, a bill to authorize the removal of cases from the State to the Federal Courts in any suits against common carriers for damage done to property by the late rebels. In the Southern States, particularly in Georgia, suits are brought against express companies, whose stockholders resided during the war in a loyal State, by citizens of the South, for damages for property of which the companies were deprived by the rebel forces. Defendants wish to raise the question whether they were deprived of their property by the public enemy, but the State Courts rule against them and refuse to make any ruling on which exceptions can be taken as to questions of law, and submit the cases to juries as mere questions of fact, virtually as questions of damages. The purpose of this bill is to give them a remedy in the U. S. Courts.

In the House, Gen. Banks' bill for a protectorate for Hayti and San Domingo excited much interest. After debate, a motion was made to lay the bill and amendments on the table, and the proposition prevailed by a vote of 122 to 36.

The New England members who voted to lay on the table were Messrs. Baldwin, Barnum, Benton, Ela, Jenckes, Perham, Peters, Pike, Poland, Smith, Starkweather and Stevens.

Mr. Moore, from New Jersey, has presented to the House petitions from masters and owners of vessels of Portsmouth, Boston, Wareham, Chatham, Wellfleet, Hyannis and Provincetown, with accompanying papers, praying the intervention of Congress to protect all engaged in navigation from illegal exactions by States and municipal corporations.

Gen. Butler asked leave to take from the table the Senate bill for the relief of the destitute of the District of Columbia, but McKee of Kentucky objecting, the motion was lost. Gen. Butler in making the motion stated that the suffering among the poor in Washington was very great, and urged the immediate consideration of the bill. It will now take the regular order among bills on the Speaker's table.

☞ It affords us much pleasure, as we doubt not it will also the public generally,—to learn that Dr. Goodall's new invention, referred to in his Card this morning, is meeting such complete success everywhere. We were sure that it must prove a great and good thing for him, and the world, from the first moment we saw it; and while several of the Dentists of this city have long been noted as superior workmen in their respective specialties, and this branch of the faculty here compares favorably with that of any similar city, we regard it as quite an honor, that a Portsmouth resident should be the first to insert teeth on a Rubber plate without suctions or clasps—which from all the ample testimony in the case, we can but regard greatly superior to any and all other modes—it being adapted for partial sets only. See Dr. Goodall's Advertisement.

FISHING BUSINESS.—The Cape towns suffer from time to time by the removal of some of their best and most enterprising citizens to other places for the purpose of carrying on the fishing business. Valentine Doane, Jr., Esq., of Harwich, and Capt. Prince Harding, of Chatham, have recently formed a copartnership and purchased wharves and buildings in Portsmouth, N. H., where they propose to go largely into the cod and mackerel fishery. Cape Cod has not more energetic business men than Messrs. Deane & Harding, and it is to be regretted that they are to leave us.—Harwich (Mass.) Patriot.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Senatorial Convention.

The delegates met in Convention on Thursday at South Newmarket to nominate a candidate for Senator for District No. 1. John Hodgdon, 2d, of Portsmouth, Chairman of the Rockingham County Committee, called the Convention to order, and William H. Hackett, Esq., of Portsmouth was chosen temporary Chairman, with Emmons B. Philbrick, Esq., of Rye as Secretary pro tem.

On motion of Col. Albert L. Jones of Portsmouth, a Committee on Permanent Organization was appointed by the Chairman, as follows: Albert L. Jones of Portsmouth, H. J. Paul of South Newmarket, and David Murray of South Newmarket. J. Horace Kent, Esq., moved to appoint a Committee on Credentials, and J. Horace Kent of Portsmouth, Samuel A. Hatch of Greenland, and Ruel G. Shapleigh of Rye were appointed.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported for President, Hon. Samuel A. Haley of Newmarket, and Chas. Thos. Brown, Esq., of Hampton Falls for Secretary.

Hon. Marcellus Bufford of Portsmouth, presented the following letter from Senator Stevens, declining a re-nomination:

To the Chairman of the Republican Senatorial Convention, Dist. No. 1.

My Dear Sir; Will you do me the favor to state to the Convention that I am not a candidate for re-nomination, and that I respectfully decline having my name used in connection with the Senatorship in the approaching election. Having held the office during the customary term, I think it more for the interest of the Republican Party that the nomination should now be given to some other person.

I desire also to tender to the members of the Convention and their constituents, my sincere thanks for the honors they have bestowed upon me in times past, and to assure them that the nominee of the Convention will receive my hearty sympathy and support.

I am, Sir, with great respect, Your obedient servant, THOMAS A. STEVENS.

Portsmouth N. H. Jan. 14.

Mr. Kent, from the Committee on Credentials, reported 46 delegates present, as follows:

So. Newmarket.—H. J. Paul, J. B. Tetherly.

Newmarket.—David Murray, Henry H. Murray, S. A. Haley, Chas. H. Trickey.

Hampton Falls.—Chas. T. Brown, W. J. Prescott.

Gosport.—W. R. Martin, E. G. Peirce.

Greenland.—Samuel A. Hatch, J. Clement Weeks.

Newcastle.—J. M. Bickford, C. M. Hayford.

Rye.—Ruel G. Shapleigh, John O. Goss.

Portsmouth.—John Hodgdon, 2d, W. B. Colley, Wm. Ward, John Pender, J. A. Waterhouse, John H. Walton, Joseph D. Pillow, John H. Moran, M. Bufford, Chas. H. Hayes, Chas. E. Plaisted, J. Horace Kent, Albert L. Jones, W. H. Hackett, Aaron Young, H. A. Yeaton, J. H. Gardiner, Alfred M. Hoyt, Chas. W. Bailey, Geo. W. Marston.

Newington.—Darius Frink, James Hoyt.

Stratham.—Levi Barker, J. F. Smart.

Hampton.—Joseph Johnson, John C. Marston.

Seabrook.—John N. Brown, J. H. Marston.

North Hampton.—E. B. Philbrick, F. G. Wentworth.

A formal ballot was then taken for a candidate for Senator, and resulted in the nomination of Hon. John H. Bailey of this city, by the following vote:

Whole number of votes cast	45
Necessary for a choice,	23
John H. Bailey of Portsmouth	29
Wm. B. Small of So. Newmarket	13
Emmons B. Philbrick of Rye	3

On motion of Hon. Darius Frink of Newington, the nomination was made unanimous, and Mr. Bailey was waited upon and made a brief and forcible speech in acceptance, thanking the Convention for the unexpected honor, and promising that the election should not go by default. His remarks were received with applause, and the Convention adjourned after a harmonious session of half an hour, well satisfied with the candidate they are to support and elect.

After the adjournment, by invitation of the nominee, the delegates partook of a tip-top dinner at Charlie Smith's well-kept hostelrie.

☞ Some of our Republican friends regard our report of the Councillor Connection at Newmarket, as putting the case too strongly, and giving the idea there was wrangling or dispute among the delegates. We certainly neither said or intimated any such thing—for all was good nature and jollity from beginging to end, and we have not a doubt but that every member of the Convention went away at the close well content. The meeting was large, full, and rather noisy; and compared with the late unanimous State Convention, we think might well be termed unharmonious, uproarious, disorderly—but never quarrelsome.

☞ Rumors come from Spain of a European plot to put a Neapolitan King on the Mexican Throne!

—Parson Brownlow, in taking his editorial leave of the Knoxville Whig, a paper established by him more than thirty years ago, and of which he has ever since been the editor-in chief says; "If in past life I have been violent on some occasions, my apology is like the Apostle Paul, on many occasions I have fought with beasts at Ephesus."

—There is said to be some disappointment among railroad men at the defects found in the steel rails, which many roads are putting down. They are more liable to injury in frosty weather than iron, and break in winter. A new plan of putting a steel face on an iron rail promises well.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.—An insurance company, authorized to transact business in any part of the Union, was chartered by special act of Congress, in July last, and has begun active work in this and other States. The new Company has some especially noticeable features and facts to commend it to popular attention. One of these is the paid-up capital of one million dollars, which provides amply for all liabilities that may arise. The list of managers of the company includes C. H. Clark, as President, Jay Cooke, Chairman of Finance Committee, and others whose names are too high in national renown as upright and successful business men, to risk their reputations in any doubtful enterprise. But, aside from these prominent facts, are several novel methods of insurance, first introduced by this Company, which have shown themselves to be very popular. Under the "Income Producing" plan, a young man may provide for a yearly income after a term of years, which may support him or his family in comfort, however it may have failed in his business anticipations. Another plan provides that by the payment of a slightly increased yearly premium, the Company will repay to the heirs of the insured all the money which has been paid in premiums, in addition to the amount for which he was insured, thus giving the insurance for no more than the interest upon the premiums. By this plan, if a person insures for 10,000, and has paid $2,000 in premiums, his heirs will obtain $12,000 at his death. Another special feature of the National Life is that it insures females at the same rate as males. By its charter, its policies are all non-forfeitable, and are also exempt from attachment, although they may be negotiated like property. These and other specialities of the new Company will be explained at length by the Company's agents who are advertised elsewhere in this paper. We see every reason to anticipate an immense business for the new Company, starting under such extremely favorable auspices.

A DISTINGUISHED Methodist Minister and prominent Temperence Lecturer once remarked that go where he would, from one end of the country to the other, he hardly ever failed to find HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and while he condemned the practice of using these Bitters too freely, he could not conscientiously say that he would discard them from the side-board, for he himself had experienced beneficial results from their use, and that, from a long and close observation, he was satisfied that when used moderately, and as a medicine exclusively, they were all that was recommended. At the same time he warned his hearers not to pull the cork too often, for they were far to pleasant a tonic to trifle with. 13

FRANCE SHUDDERED BY AMERICA.—The universal opinion of the American people, that France has never produced a perfume superior to PHALON'S new perfume, "FLOR DE MAYO," has greatly mortified the amour propre of the great toilet chemists of France. Neither French-made perfumes nor French-made potentates are wanted on this side of the Atlantic. Sacre!! Sold by all drugists.

IF SAMSON'S strength actually lay in the length and abundance of his hair, a liberal use of the famous "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" ought to impart many times the strength of that doughty ancient warrior, for there is no limit it will not reach if properly applied.—N. H. Patriot. 23

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE MACHINE, CALLED MAN,

is a very complicated and delicate one, and is more liable to get out of order, and much more difficult to repair, than any combination of wheels and cranks and levers made by the hands of man. As a rule it is tinkered too much, and badly tinkered at that. It is often calomelized, narcotized, depleted, and otherwise misused, when all that it really needs is a wholesome tonic and restorative, like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS to put it in good condition and keep it so. The stomach is the primary motor of the system, in the first place, the food which its juices are intended to dissolve, is too frequently thrown into it hastily, and in a half-masticated condition, in which state the gastric acid cannot properly act upon it. The result is dyspepsia. Then comes the doctor, and, finding the digestive organs weak and the bowels inert, he proceeds to weaken and paralyze still more with drastic purgatives. These failing—as they always do—to produce a salutary change, he tells the invalid that medical science can do no more for him. This, with all due deference, is a mistake—one of those mistakes which Talleyrand said were tantamount to crimes. What the dyspeptic needs is invigoration. Strengthen the stomach with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and the stomach will strengthen every other part of the human machine, and make it, in common parlance, as good as new. Upon the state of the digestion depends, in a measure, the condition of all the whole system. Now, the Bitters are the most admirable tonic known. They consist of the finest vegetable invigorants and restoratives, combined with an unadulterated stimulant. The dyspeptic needs nothing else to effect a cure, except a light, nutritious diet, and a fair amount of exercise. Cures in the absence of those last mentioned accessories, the tonic and alterative properties of the preparation will work wonders, enabling the dyspeptic to digest inferior fare with comparative ease, and to maintain a good habit of body, in spite of the drawbacks of a sedentary occupation.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the lungs begin to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show when the Pills are doing their work. Three or four of the Pills are usually a sufficient dose; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Liver Complaint is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop the fever, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and tad decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only way to cure them Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a fame the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, weighing but 100 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his friends all leaving pronounced by the doctors, and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery he has thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yj14

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA ORENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethe, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 25 to 45, in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or in Nursing; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulceration or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLING.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Morbid Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and shattered constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Eruptions on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Pain in the Bones, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Scaly Eruptions, and Venereal Affections—in these diseases, the Extract Buchu is recommended in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d26

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Council, Thursday Eve., Jan. 14.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, the City Clerk reported that he had been unable to collect the rent of the Spring Market from Marston, Randall & Co., fish merchants, for the past 6 months—which should by the terms of their lease be paid quarterly. Voted that the City Clerk take legal measures to compel the payment of said rent, $300 per year.

The bills for Gas light in the Police Station being always very large, the Committee on Police were instructed to examine into the matter.

Voted to proceed to elect a City Marshal. Whole number of votes 8, Frank B. Johnson had all, and was unanimously re-elected.

Voted to elect two Assistant Marshals on one ballot. Charles W. Shannon had 7 votes, John T. Mortimer 7, and both were elected. Samuel D. Foye 2.

Voted to proceed to elect 6 Watchmen and Police Officers for the ensuing year—4 being the number last year. Moved to amend by electing 4—negatived by a strict party vote, 6 to 2. The following were elected, by the same six Republican votes, —including, it will be seen, the two officers suspended by their political opponents last year:

Thos. Entwistle, Ezekiel Burns, Sam'l Taylor, Geo. L. Parks, Jas. D. Maloon, Samuel D. Foye.

The Common Council here invited the Aldermen to go into Convention for Election of various City Officers.

In the Common Council, the resignation of Rev. I. F. Waterhouse as member of the School Committee of Ward One, was received.

All the Councilmen were present, with the exception of Mr. Washington Freeman, who was unavoidably absent.

In Convention with the Board of Aldermen, a ballot for City Solicitor resulted; S. H. Goodall 2, Jas. D. Butler 6, Wm. H. Hackett 1, Samuel H. Goodall 8, Samuel Goodall 1, and no choice.

On the second ballot Samuel H. Goodall had 11, James D. Butler 7, and Mr. Goodall was chosen.

For City Treasurer Chas. A. Shannon had 10, Thos. S. Gammon 8, and Chas. A. Shannon was chosen.

For City Messenger Chas. A. Town had 18 votes and was chosen unanimously.

A motion to postpone the choice of Street Commissioner was negatived, by nays 10, ayes 8.

Yeas — Slater, Pender, Pendexter, Nowell, Miller, Dixon, Hidden, Marvin, 8. Nays—Spinney, Clark, Cotton, Gammon Ward 1, Gammon Ward 2, Hoyt, Plaisted, Marden, Spinney, Badger, 10.

On the 1st ballot, Ebenezer Haines had 9 votes, William F. Ham had 8, William Plaisted 1—no choice.

On the second ballot, William F. Ham 9, Ebenezer F. Haines 9, and Mayor Jones threw his casting vote for Mr. Haines, electing him.

For City Physician, Brainard Dearborn had 12, John W. Parsons 6, and Dr. Dearborn was declared elected.

For Chief Engineer of the Fire Department Jas. A. Waterhouse 10, Hiram C. Locke 8, and Mr. Waterhouse was declared elected.

For six Assistant Engineers there were 18 votes cast. Necessary for a choice 10. Joseph H. Gardiner 15, Edwin H. Leslie 11, Robert C. Sides, jr., 11, Stephen L. Marston 10, Eben F. Brackett 10, Thomas Moore 9, Wm. B. Randall 9, Allen A. Rand 7, John Walch, jr., 7, Chas. W. Norton 6, Edward J. Moulton, 6, Daniel Neal 1, H. C. Locke 1, J. E. Rider 1, C. W. Norton 1. Gardiner, Leslie, Sides, Marston and Brackett were chosen, there being no choice for the sixth.

On the second ballot, Thomas Moore had 8, Wm. B. Randall 6, Chas. W. Norton 2, W. B. Randall 1, Hiram C. Locke 1, and there was no choice.

On the third ballot, Thos. Moore had 8, scattering 10, and there was again no choice.

On the fourth ballot Thos. Moore had 7, Wm. B. Randall 1, John Locke 1, Chas. W. Norton 1, Hiram C. Locke 7, and again there was no choice.

On the fifth ballot Wm. Randall 1, Hiram C. Locke 8, Wm. B. Randall 9. No choice.

On the sixth ballot, Wm. B. Randall was chosen, having 10 votes; Hiram C. Locke had 8.

For Superintendent of the City Farm, Wm. L. Philbrick had 16, and John W. Huntress 1, and Mr. Philbrick was elected.

For three Surveyors of Highways, Benj. Hodgdon 10, Chas. H. Hayes 10, Thos. M. Lang 10, Mark Pray 5, Stephen B. Marden 5, Wm. S. Willey 4, and the three highest candidates were chosen.

For Lamp Lighter, Foxwell C. Staples was chosen, having 12 votes to 5 for Andrew J. Ayers and 1 for James Knight.

Rev. Lot L. Harmon was chosen by acclamation to fill the vacancy in the School Committee. The other officers may be found in our list.

THE ALDERMEN, resuming, then elected Dr. Dearborn and A. F. Nowell, and (on the second ballot) Robt. Shillaber, for Health Officers.

The following four Supernumerary Watchmen were then elected, by 6 votes:

J. Sullivan Rand, Wm. T. Batten, Jas. Stearns, Ira Teague.

Charles A. Shannon was elected Collector of Taxes by 6 votes.

Robert N. Anderson was elected Police Officer without pay at the Navy Yard Landing; and James Twombly ditto, at the Eastern Railroad Station; and James W. Teague at the Kearsarge Mills; and Daniel H. Spinney ditto, to look after the fruit thieves in their season.

Josiah F. Adams, John S. Wendell, Ivah N. Rugg and John A. Brown, were appointed Superintendants of Burying Grounds, as heretofore.

James D. Ackerman was elected Engineer, and Chas. Marston Fireman of Steam Fire Engine No. 1; and Andrew J. McIntire jr., Engineer, and Thos. J. Mitchell, Fireman of Steamer No. 2.

Josiah F. Adams was elected City Hearseman.

Pound Keeper, Robert Shillaber.

☞ If the City Officers elected Thursday evening, are not in every case the men whose advancement most tends to make treason to Republicanism odious, —still the Copperocracy, we are pretty sure, have not great reason for congratulating themselves. And it will be noted, that while the office of Solicitor is not abolished, as recommended in the Address read by Mayor Jones at his inauguration, neither are the present incumbents of the offices of Chief Engineer and Collector of Taxes changed, as recommended by the same law-full, not to say awful, Counsellor.

DENTAL CARD.

JANUARY, 1869.

DR. GODALL is pleased to inform his patrons and the public that his new PATENT SPRING PLATE is meeting with great favor wherever it has been adopted. He has a large number of affidavits and letters from highly educated and reliable parties, commending this great improvement and wishing him success.

He has recently visited Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and there presented his plate to the Demonstrators of Mechanical Dentistry of the several Dental Colleges in the above cities, receiving their frank acknowledgement of its novelty and hearty endorsement of its merits. Every day brings new testimonials of the satisfaction of those who are wearing his Spring Plate, which is the best evidence of its success.

Those who now wear partial dentures with clasps or suction for securing the plate, are recommended to try the new method and experience in their daily satisfaction the happy results. j15

CARTER'S COMBINED

WRITING AND COPYING INK.

This Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in NEW YORK, BOSTON, and BALTIMORE, and pronounced by the most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.

It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.

The Advantages of this over other Inks are:

First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.
Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.
Third. It will not mold.
Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.
Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.
Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK —not a brownish black.
Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always "makes its mark."

This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's, or any other Writing fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould. For Sale by

AGENTS WANTED

FOR THE AMERICAN YEAR BOOK and NATIONAL REGISTER for 1869. Astronomical, Historical, Political, Financial, Commercial, Agricultural, Educational, Religious. This work contains a vast fund of late and valuable information respecting the United States, and Foreign countries, including every department of the General and State Governments, which all classes will find invaluable for daily reference. Address C. D. CASE & CO., Publishers, Hartford, Ct.

THE UNION PACIFIC

RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered, to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income, from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not believe than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH, BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

And in NEW YORK at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 Nassau Street,

—AND BY—

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 Wall Street.

And by the Company's Advertised Agents throughout the United States.

Bonds sents free, but parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED Oct. 1st, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds than can be given in an advertisement, which will be sent free on application at the Company's Offices or to any of the advertised agents.

JOHN J. CISCO, TREASURER, New York.

FRENCH DESTINY. — Perhaps your readers are not familiar with a curious coincidence of figures in relation to Louis Philippe and Louis Napoleon, which have no small interest in view of the prevailing rumours in regard to the physical and mental health of Napoleon III, and the frequent late accounts of conspiracies against his dynasty. It is well known that the Emperor has a vein of superstition in his character, and is not a little disturbed by the arrival of the eventful year 1869. Hence the activity in prosecutions of the liberal French Journals, accounts of which fill so large a space in most of those recently received.

It is these figures which are alluded to in Paul Feval's translation from "La Lanterne" on the Baudin affair, where Napoleon appears as Macbeth, and after the departure of the guests paces up and down before Lady Macbeth, thus soliloquizing:

"Blood will have blood. Those three wretches who foretold that I should take my last journey in 1869!—did they speak truly?"

Nous verrons. But here are the singular tables of figures, whether they lie or not;

Louis Philippe ascended the Throne in 1830—

	1830		1820
He was born in	1	Marie Amelie his Queen was born in	1
	7		7
	8		8
	3		2
1848			1848

	1830

Louis Napoleon ascended the Throne in 1852—

William Gallagher, the smelter who was injured at the blowing up of the furnace at Ford & Kimball's foundry in Concord, a few days since, died from the effect of the injuries received. He leaves a wife and three children. It will be remembered that the furnace was blown up by the explosion of a shell sent from Portsmouth Navy Yard with the assurance that it was empty.

One night last week a portion of the tie-up floor in George W. Mason's barn, Wolfeboro', gave way, letting his cattle through. One ox was strangled to death. The tie-chains with which the others were fastened fortunately broke, and they escaped serious injury.

Isaac T. Clark, of Wakefield, while felling trees in the woods, lodged one in another; and in attempting to fall the second, brought the other down upon his leg, smashing the bone below his knee badly. In about an hour he cut himself loose from the tree, and with the aid of some sticks managed to crawl to his sled, and after placing himself upon it, started the cattle for home. He hallooed as long as he could for help, and just before he reached home one of his neighbors saw him, and kept with him until he reached home.

Dea. Baldwin, of Rev. Dr. Wallace's congregational church, in Manchester, has been surprised with a visit, a collation and $150. He has been industrious, is not rich, and has recently been withdrawn from labor for a time, by accident. The surprise was neat, and the man worthy.

Capt. Nathl. Kimball, aged fourscore and upwards, died suddenly, Tuesday morning, at Manchester. He was in his usual health apparently on Monday, and laboured on that day.

One Perkins, a horse thief, was sent, from the Court at Manchester, to the State Prison for two years, on one count in his indictment, as he said this was his first offence. But when he got to the Prison, he was known as an old offender, was sent back to the Court, and sentenced on another count, to five years more.

—A Neosho (Kansas) paper records this as a "funny" incident: "At the last hop of the Erie Dancing Club, a laughable incident occurred. A young man stuck his head into one of the lights, and his hair took fire and blazed up about two feet. It is said there was an awful smell of oil, hair, &c., for a few minutes afterward."

—It is said that President Bergh, of the N. Y. Humane Society, awards the palm to Bonner, as the most dextrous and humane horseman in the country, from the fact that his trotters are never beaten.

—An exchange remarks that two and a half million marriageable women of England are unprovided with husbands.

A MODEST young lady, who was a passenger on board a packet-ship, it is said, sprang out of her berth and jumped overboard on hearing the capta'n, during a storm, order the men to haul down the sheets.

—Many Christians, says Beecher, are like chestnuts—very pleasant nuts, but enclosed in very prickly burrs, which need various dealings of nature, and her grip of frost, before the kernel is disclosed.

—The Springfield Republican chronicles the receipt of the first trailing arbutus blossom.

—General Comstock of Gen. Grant's staff is to marry the oldest daughter of Montgomery Blair.

This TRIFLING ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.
PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.
It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.
Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have I will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

LICENSED WHOLESALE DEALERS BY THE U. S.
Established 1864.
The goods sold by us are described in printed slips or checks, which are sent to any address at the rate of ten cents each, in clubs of ten, twenty, thirty, forty, sixty, one hundred, one hundred and fifty, two hundred, &c. For a dollar the receiver can buy the article described in the check, or exchange it for any one of two or three hundred other articles in our circular. As a guarantee of the worth of every article sold by us, any article on our checks can be exchanged for a WHITE BED QUILT or a SILVER-PLATED RAVOLVING TABLE CASTOR, WITH FIVE BOTTLES, Items what the great paper of the Northwest, the Toledo Blade (Nasby's paper), says of us:—
"WHAT WE SAW AT THE HUB.—Curiously led us, while in Boston, recently to visit the dollar establishment of Messrs. EASTMAN & KENDALL.—Their trade has become so immense that they now occupy four stories in the elegant block No. 65 Hanover Street. The name of this firm has become as 'familiar as household words' throughout the Middle and Western States, while as prompt and honorable business men they are endorsed by the best firms in their own city. Their Club system of selling goods has done more, we believe, towards breaking down the barriers to keep down the prices of domestic articles in every day use, than all other influences combined. Most of their goods are manufactured expressly for them, as, for instance, cutlery made to their order in Sheffield, England, and imported in large quantities for their dollar trade alone."
Now is the time to get signers and send in clubs. Ladies specially wanted as agents.
Partial list of articles allowed as commission to any one sending in clubs:—

THE
ORIENTAL
TEA COMPANY
WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.
WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."
EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.
OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.
ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.
THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.
WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.
WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the
ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,
85, 87 & 89 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.
We have appointed

HURSELL'S
PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.
No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scaly skin. It affords a beautiful rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.
STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.
MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
ap11 eodly State Assayer for Massachusetts.
Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO.,

The Ledger Horses.

When a printer's boy, Bonner's rule was to be the first boy in the office.—When he was a printer, he allowed no one to excel him in the swiftness with which he set type, and in his ability as a workman. When he purchased the Ledger he intended to make it the foremost paper in the country. He resolved to own the most celebrated and fastest horses in the world. And his stud is without rival. His horses are seven in number. "Lantern" is a bay, fifteen and a half hands high, with long tail, mild, clear eye, white hind feet, and white streak on his face. He is very fleet, having made a mile in 2.20. "Peerless" is a gray mare, about fifteen and a half hands high, with a long white tail, clean limbed and gentle.—She has made the fastest time on record to a wagon, trotting her mile in 2.23 1-4. She is so gentle that she is used in the country by the ladies of Mr. Bonner's family.

"Flatbush Mare" is a double teamster, and with "Lady Palmer" in double harness, has made the fastest time ever trotted in a two mile heat to a road wagon—3.1 1-4. She is fifteen and a half hands high. The other is a chestnut sorrel, about the same size. She has a fine head, and is very symmetrical. Besides her famous time with "Flatbush Mare," she has trotted two miles, to a three hundred and sixteen pound wagon and driver, in 4.59—the greatest feat of the kind ever performed.

"Pocahontas" is the handsomest trotter and the most perfectly formed horse in the world. She stands about fifteen hands, is a dark, rich bay, has a very fine head, proudly-arched nostrils, and a tail sweeping the ground for four inches, on which she frequently treads while standing. When six years old this splendid animal trotted in 2.23, and has made better time since she came into Mr. Bonner's hands.

The "Auburn Horse," (recently deceased) was a sorrel, and of enormous size, being sixteen and a half hands high, with four white feet and white face, pronounced by Hiram Woodruff to be the fastest horse he ever drove.—The champion of the turf is "Dexter," with sinewy form, and joints like a greyhound, compactly built, dark brown in color, with four white feet, a white nose and streak, a bright clear eye, and a flowing tail. He has made a mile in 2.17 1-4 in harness, and 2.18 to saddle. The turf annals of the world present no parallel to this.

Mr. Bonner buys his horses for his own pleasure. He drives them himself, and is one of the best horsemen in the country. He will not allow his horses to be used for show or gain. He races with nobody, and bets with nobody. If any team can make faster time than his, driven by the owner, ten thousand dollars are deposited, and that owner may apply that sum to any benevolent object that he pleases. Millionaires gnash their teeth as Bonner drives by them. There are horsemen in New York who would give twenty-five thousand dollars for a pair of horses that would make Bonner take their dust. If Bonner's team is beaten, the owner must do as he does, drive it himself. Of the speed of his horses he is his own judge. He will buy anything that will beat the world. When a horse is presented to him for trial, he appears in full riding costume, with gloves, whip, and watch in hand. He does not allow the owner to handle the ribbons.

Dexter and Peerless have box-stalls, and are never tied. The other horses are in ordinary stalls. Three persons are employed constantly to take care of the horses. Within the enclosure, but outside the stable, is a track covered with tan bark, on which the horses are daily exercised, one hour in the morning and evening. The horses are fed four times a day, at six, nine, one, and nine at night. A small allowance of hay is given once a day. After eating they are muzzled to prevent them from devouring their bedding, and they are kept muzzled all night.

In the winter Mr. Bonner drives but one horse at a time, and usually this was the Auburn horse. Dexter and the other fleet horses are seldom used in the winter, but are reserved for fast trotting in the spring. Great care is taken of the feet of the horses. To this Mr. Bonner gives personal attention. He has mastered the subject as he has the newspaper business. He has a theory of his own on the subject, which has proved eminently successful in the treatment of his own horses, and has enabled him to remove the lameness from the valuable horses of his neighbors and friends.

The idea that the speed to which these horses are put is a damage to them is as fallacious as it is to assert that it hurts an eight-mile-an-hour horse to drive him at that speed. Some of these horses Mr. Bonner has owned many years. They are faster now than when he bought them. Lantern is nineteen years old, and is as sound and fleet as when he was ten. The men who have charge of these horses are as kind and careful of them as is a tender nurse of a child. In the stable there is every convenience imaginable that a horse can require—tools for fitting shoes, grooming the animals, making the wagons safe, with medicines, and all the appliances of a first class stable. The horses are said to have cost Mr. Bonner over two hundred thousand dollars. They could not be bought for double that sum.

The News.

A meeting of the Ninth Army Corps officers, and of the officers of the Burnside expedition into North Carolina, has been called by Gen. Burnside, to meet in New York city, on the 8th day of February next, the anniversary of the capture of Roanoke Island, for the purpose of forming a permanent organization, and taking measures for a general meeting at an early day.

The Illinois State debt is $2,252,057.

New Jersey has had an Editorial Convention.

Rev. Patrick J. Haskins, Catholic Priest of Holyoke, Mass., has been arrested for assault and battery on one of his parishioners, and will be tried on Monday.

The loss by the Philadelphia fire is estimated at $801,000; total insurance $610,000.

Rebel successes are reported in Hayti.

Steamship Gulf City, from Galveston to New York, went ashore at Point Lookout, N. C., Monday night, and soon went to pieces. Three of the crew were saved and twenty-two were drowned.

The new telegraph cable from France to America is to be laid next June.

Gen. Dulce wants 10,000 more Spanish troops in Cuba.

Gov. Geary of Pennsylvania is very ill with erysipelas.

Rio Janeiro dates of Dec. 24th, state that the allied army had made a vigorous assault on the Paraguayan stronghold at Villeta, and after a desperate battle succeeded in carrying it. Lopez's army was utterly routed and destroyed. The allies captured over 3000 prisoners of war. Lopez himself, with barely 200 followers, made his escape. This victory opened the way to Asuncion, the Paraguayan capital, to which place the Brazilian iron-clads had gone.

There is no doubt whatever that the Senate will reject the treaty by which Sec. Seward agreed to pay seven and a half millions for St. Thomas. There is a disposition, however, to soften this decision toward the Danish government, as all Senators conversant with the subject sympathize with them for the unpleasant position in which they have been placed through the deceptions practised upon them by our Secretary of State.

A despatch from Hong Kong states that the rebels had captured the city of Hakodadi, in Japan.

A boiler in George Wood's brush-handle shop, at Elizabethport, N. J., exploded and was thrown into Winans & Brother's tin shop, 200 feet distant, killing Benjamin H. Winans, the proprietor, and John Regan, a boatman, and seriously wounding Stanley Miller and four others.

Congress.

In the Senate on Thursday a bill was introduced to give Mrs. Abraham Lincoln a pension of $5000.

Mr. Grimes, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported adversely on the memorial of Commodore R. W. Meade, asking to be restored to the active list, and moved its indefinite postponement, which was ordered.

In the House, Mr. Ashley of Ohio, from the Committee of Territories, reported a bill to extend the boundaries of the States of Nevada, Minnesota and Nebraska, and the Territories of Colorado, Montana and Wyoming. He said the Senators and Representatives from those States and Delegates from the Territories were in favor of the bill.

Mr. Washburne of Illinois said that the bill proposed to dismember Utah, and he suggested whether before taking final action, it would not be better to wait for the arrival of the Delegate from Utah, who is detained from the House by sickness.

Mr. Ashley said the bill did not design to interfere with the settled portion of Utah; but give territory to Colorado, then there would not be territory enough in Utah to make a State. He originally drew up a bill to blot out Utah, but the committee thinking that the Mormons should not be disturbed where they are, the provisions were altered to what they are in the bill. He consented that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for two weeks.

The Judiciary Committee have reported to the Senate a constitutional amendment, to be article 15, that the right of citizens to vote and hold office shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State on account of race or color, or previous condition of servitude. A clause is added, giving Congress power to enforce this. The same committee reported against restricting the Presidential office to a single term.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.—The members of the Boys' High School gratefully acknowledge the kindly interest of the citizens, who have generously contributed money sufficient to purchase two Book-cases for the reception of their Library. Also the reception of two fine Engravings from Jonathan M. Tredick Esq. Jan. 15th, 1869.

☞ A new series of postage stamps is in course of preparation by the Post Office Department. They will be smaller than those now in use, but of handsomer finish and design. On the two-cent stamp is an engraving of a post-boy on horse-back, and on the three-cent a locomotive under a full head of steam. The five-cent stamp contains a head of Washington, and the ten-cent stamp a picture of the Declaration of Independence. On the twelve-cent stamp an engraving of an ocean steamship is seen, and the thirty-cent stamp is decorated with the surrender of Burgoyne.

—Mr. Charles Westmoreland, who started from San Francisco for New York, with the electoral votes of California, was attacked by small-pox on the trip and died at Panama on the 23d.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, who went into office with the hypocritical pretense of making treason odious, has now ordered a nolle prosequi to be entered in the cases of Surratt, Davis, and Breckenridge, and all others under arrest for treason. No grosser lying or worse hypocrisy can be imagined.

STILL AFTER THEM.—We see that the able Representative from the First District of New Hampshire, Hon. J. H. Ela, is still following up the plunderers of the public Treasury. He recently introduced a resolution directing the Committee on Printing to investigate the stationary contracts of the Interior Department, and in support of the measure, stated that the Department had made purchases in the space of thirteen months to the amount of $18,000, in direct violation of the law providing that all printing, binding, etc., ordered by any branch of the Government, shall be done at the Public Printing Office.

One hundredand forty thousand tag cards had been purchased at forty dollars a thousand, of which one hundred thousand could not be accounted for. A large number of patent heads, which had previously been furnished at fourteen dollars a thousand, were now furnished at twenty-five dollars a thousand. He said that an account was now pending before that Department, with an order of the Secretary of the Interior to pay for it, for three hundred thousand sheets of bond paper at eight cents a sheet.

In an investigation before the Committe on Printing last July it had been proved that this paper could be bought for one cent and one third a sheet. Consequently, we were asked to pay $24,000 for paper that can be purchased for $3,000. Mr. Ela held up a small blank book and stated that it was a sample of a large number which had been furnished to the Interior Department at a cost of twenty-five dollars each.

Quite a sensation was created in the House by this statement, and in answer to inquiries, Mr. Ela stated that the volume was a simple index book, containing twelve sheets of inferior foolscap paper, with an alphabet printed as an index, and that its absolute cost might possibly be about twenty cents. Mr. Ela's resolution was adopted, with the insertion of a clause stating by whose order the purchase was made.

Mr. Ela could engage in no better work than that which he has undertaken, and he deserves the gratitude of his constituents, and of the whole country, for his attempts to put a stop to the squandering of the people's money.—Mirror.

CATTLE MARKET AT BRIGHTON.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, JAN. 14.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1583; Sheep and Lambs 8,223; Swine —; number of Western Cattle 1016; Eastern Cattle 112; Working Oxen and Northern Cattle 250.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 50 @ $14 00; first quality $12 50 @ $13 25; second quality $11 75 @ $12 25; third quality $9 50 @ $11 50; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $6 50@$9 00 ⅌ cwt. [Shrunk weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.]

Brighton Hides 10 @ 10½c ⅌ lb; Country Hides 10 @ 10½c ⅌ lb.

Brighton Tallow 8 @ 9c per lb; Country Tallow 7 @ 8c ⅌ lb.

Lamb Skins $1 @ $1 50 each; Sheep Skins $1 @ $1 50 each; Calf Skins 20 @ 22c ⅌ lb.

The supply of Cattle is larger than that of last week. The quality of the Western Cattle was not so good. Prices are not much different. There were a few very nice Beeves sold at 14c @ 15c ⅌ lb. The trade has been very active. Among the Maine Cattle there were several lots of very good Beeves and a good supply of Working Oxen. There were several small lots of nice Cattle from the southern part of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, which sold at our highest quotation.

Sheep—Yearlings $18 @ $20; two-year olds $28 @ $45; three-year olds $45 @ $65 ⅌ head. Most of the small Cattle that are in a fair condition are sold for Beef.

Milch Cows—Extra $85 @ $115; Ordinary $40 to $60; Store Cows $35 @ $55 ⅌ head. There are but few nice Cows in market, most of them being of an ordinary grade.

Working Oxen—There was a fair supply in market, but not a very active demand. We quote sales at $150, 175, 190, 210, 105, 225, 240, $185 @ 275 ⅌ pair.

Sheep and Lambs—The trade for good lots has been fair, but the poorer lots sold dull. The Western Sheep were mostly taken at a commission.—We quote sales of Northern lots at $3 50, $4, $5 @ $7 50 ⅌ head and 4, 5, 6½ @ 8½c ⅌ lb.

Swine—None at market.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A DISTINGUISHED Methodist Minister and prominent Temperance Lecturer once remarked that go where he would, from one end of the country to the other, he hardly ever failed to find PLANTATION BITTERS, and while he condemned the practice of using these Bitters too freely, he could not conscientiously say that he would discard them from the side-board, for he himself had experienced beneficial results from their use, and that, from a long and close observation, he was convinced that when used moderately, and as a medicine exclusively, they were all that was recommended. At the same time he warned his hearers not to pull the cork too often, for they were far to pleasant a tonic to trifle with. 13

PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c.

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats upon the EVRORS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, and all DISEASES and ABUSES of the GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, —young man in particular. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life, Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excesses of Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.00. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class paper in every respect,—8 pages, 32 columns,—devoted to the advancement of the Science, may be obtained gratuitously, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

THE MACHINE, CALLED MAN,

is a very complicated and delicate one, and is more liable to get out of order, and much more difficult to repair, than any combination of wheels and cranks and levers made by the hands of man. As a rule it is blistered too much, and badly tinkered at that. It is often calomelized, narcotized, depleted, and otherwise misused, when all that it really needs is a wholesome tonic and restorative, like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS to put it in proper trim and keep it so. The stomach is shamefully maltreated. In the first place, the food which its juices are intended to dissolve, is too frequently thrown into it hastily, and in a half-masticated condition. In the next place the gastric acid cannot properly act upon it. The result is dyspepsia. Then comes the doctor, and, finding the digestive organs weak and the bowels inert, he proceeds to weaken and paralyze still more with drastic purgatives. These falling—as they always do—to produce a salutary change, he tells the invalid that medical science can do no more for him. This, with all due deference, is a mistake—one of those mistakes which Talleyrand said were tantamount to crimes. What the dyspeptic needs is invigoration. Strengthen the stomach with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and the stomach will strengthen every other part of the human machine, and make it, in common parlance, as sound as new. Upon the state of the digestion depends, to a great extent, the condition of the entire system. Now, the Bitters are the most admirable tonic known. They consist of the finest vegetable invigorants and restoratives, combined with an unadulterated stimulant. The dyspeptic needs nothing else to effect a cure, except a light, nutritious diet, and a fair amount of exercise. Even in the absence of these last mentioned accessories, the tonic and alterative properties of the preparation will work wonders, enabling the dyspeptic to obtain better fare with comparative ease, and to maintain a good habit of body, in spite of the drawbacks of a sedentary occupation.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they try to make it do to stop the cough, to stop the chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption. Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have cured by Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to consult one, see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and No. 19 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $3. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Chronic Inflammation of the Bladder, and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its secretion.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Fever, Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS

whereby the circulation of the blood becomes equalized upon the part where applied, causing pain and morbid action to cease.

Was there ever published stronger evidence than this?

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, Esq.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the face, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." It fell into three strips, reaching from under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

DENTAL CARD.

JANUARY, 1869.

DR. GOODALL is pleased to inform his patrons and the public that his new PATENT SPRING PLATE is meeting with great favor wherever it has been adopted. He has a large number of affidavits and letters from highly educated and reliable parties, commending this great improvement and wishing him success.

He has recently visited Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and there presented his method to the Demonstrators of Mechanical Dentistry of the several Dental Colleges in the above cities, receiving their frank acknowledgement of its novelty and hearty endorsement of its merits. Every day brings new testimonials of the satisfaction of those who are wearing his Spring Plate, which is the best evidence of its success.

Those who now wear partial dentures with clasps or suction for securing the plate, are recommended to try the new method and experience in their daily satisfaction the happy results. j15

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is usually used under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

A STRONG NOMINATION.—As already seen by our report of Convention at So. Newmarket on Thursday, Hon. John H. Bailey of this city has been nominated as the Republican candidate for State Senator from this District. Hon. Frank Jones can doubtless have the Democratic nomination if he chooses, though the District is now more decidedly Republican than it was the last time he ran. Mr. Bailey is well known as a successful business man, every way qualified to redresent his constituents in the Senate, and he is also well known throughout the State as a vigorous, active and untiring worker. His nomination means fight to any one the opposition may name as his opponent, and as the party is united in his support, there is no reason why he may not be chosen by 200 majority. The unfortunate division in the Republican party in this city, last November, has taught the bolters a lesson which they will not be likely to soon forget. We predict that Mr. Bailey will carry this city by a handsome majority in March. He was one of the best Mayors that Portsmouth ever had, and in that capacity shew much executive ability.

A JOKE SPOILED.—The mis-spelling of a word in an advertisement in another paper, a few days ago by which Raker was substituted instead of the name intended, led one of our witty correspondents to play a pun upon the new word—which was this: Whosoever calleth his brother Raka, is in danger of hell fire. Of course he was thinking of the following passage, which he mtsapplied, and of which our types spoiled the application, by the compositor substituting the word fool instead of Raka. Here is the quotation referred to:

"Whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the Council; but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire."—Matt. 5: 22.

Whether the City Council is the one here referred to, deponent sayeth not—but probably it was the Elders who were meant, which does not hold in our day and town, with regard to the City Fathers.

DOVER AND PORTSMOUTH.—The Dover Enquirer urges their citizens to build tenement houses, a bridge across the river, and a public Park; and says a Public Library and a general system of Sewerage is needed. It adds:

"These things accomplished, and we shall have become sufficiently aroused from the lethargy into which we have fallen, to build mills, railroads, machine shops, or whatever else the growth and prosperity of our city may seem to require."

Who says all this is not also true as regards Portsmouth—with the additions of a City Hall, Court House, Ward Room in Ward Two, &c. &c. Let the dead bury their dead.

☞ A South End Common Councilman says, that if all the residents of the Third Ward are not temperance men,—yet there is no rum shop or gambling saloon, and he thinks not a house of ill-fame, in the limits of this Democratic Sebastopol—though the Arsenal is located there. Neither is there a church or clergyman therein, nor a Police officer resident there. A great Ward that, he says.

☞ Our mention of the vessel on the stocks at Mr. Marcy's yard, should have stated a barque instead of a ship; and that the keel has been laid about three months, instead of two years. The master-workman is Mr. David D. Badger.

☞ In the S. J. Court of Maine, at Saco, after a trial by jury, Christina Stimson obtained a Divorce from her husband John W. Stimson of Kittery, on the ground of cruelty—she to have custody of the children, and be allowed to resume her maiden name Haley; and he to pay within thirty days the sum adjudged by previous Courts.

☞ The question is, whether the Republicans were Gammoned out of electing their candidate for Street Commissioner? If not, whence that strong squint toward the City Treasury? And if turnabout is fair play, and exchange no robbery, then it was but right for His Honor to return the Commissioner the compliment of a vote.

☞ We hear rumors of a large discharge of workmen from the Navy Yard, to take place about the 20th of this month.

☞ A bell has been placed on the Methodist Church at Greenland.

SENSIBLE.—A gent of our acquaintance, on taking a volume to be bound, was asked if he would have it bound in Russia. "Oh no," he replied, "Russia is too far off. I will have it done at William B. Lowd's Bookstore, where it can be done as cheap and as well as at any place in Russia."

Communication.

To the Stockholders of the Rockingham National Bank.—Your Annual Meeting was held on Tuesday last, at which six persons were present, four of whom were Officers of the Bank. Of course the following Resolutions, which your President did his utmost to prevent being read, were not well received:

Whereas it has become the practice of a majority of the Board of Directors of this Bank, to hold special meetings without notice to each member of the Board; acting at such meetings upon questions of vital importance, and in one case reversing the immediately-previous unanimous action of the full Board,

And Whereas such meetings are illegal, subversive of the interest of the Bank, and grossly discourteous to the minority thus excluded; and whereas a late Board of directors "Voted, that in our" (their) "opinion, the welfare of the Bank will be promoted by continuing in the same course," &c.

Therefore, Resolved, that no special meeting of the Directors of this Bank shall be held hereafter, without previous notice in writing to each member of the Board.

Resolved, that the Board of Directors which voted to persist in continuing a course so unprecedented, after the protest and consequent resignation of a member of the Board, acted against the best interests of the Bank.

Resolved, that Deposits being the life-blood of the Bank, all proper means should be taken for their increase; and that this end is not promoted by falsely telling depositors their accounts are overdrawn, or refusing to discount their paper when known to be undoubted,—especially when their account furnishes a large part of the means of making such discount.

Resolved, that exactness in the conduct of a Bank's affairs, is an all important requisite; and it being understood that for many years a correct weekly statement has rarely or never been put upon the Directors' table of this Bank, that the incoming Board be and are hereby instructed to enforce a thorough reform in this particular.

Messrs. Editors, had the President and Cashier, who controlled the Meeting at which the above was offered, accorded even the most limited civility to the mover;—Nay, if they had restrained themselves from its opposite; space would not have been asked you for this purpose—the writer incurring their enmity while a Director, for insisting upon the reform embodied in the last resolution.

"The very head and front of his offending Hath this extent—no more."

Perhaps his notions of a Bank Director's duty, are somewhat antiquated; but when he accepts a trust it is with the intention of fulfilling it to the best of his ability.

It will not be out of place to say, that he was told by the first person he saw on leaving this meeting, 'that the bank was likely to lose fifteen hundred dollars by neglecting to send forward a check promptly." For the truth of this he does not vouch; but when carelessness in a bank is Chronic, almost anything of this sort is credible. Every other word contained herein he is responsible for, and will substantiate to any stockholder who may apply to you for his name for that purpose—having no other means of reaching them, and believing in the soundness of Polonius' advice, to

"Beware of entrance to a quarrel; but being in, Bear 't that th' opposed may beware of thee," he is compelled to trespass upon your space and courtesy. Jan. 14. ☞

HOME THEATRICALS.—The Thespian Dramatic Association, composed of about 30 ladies and gentlemen of this city who have for a year past given some attention to dramatic representation, announce that they will give a public entertainment at the Temple on Wednesday evening next, for which occasion they present an attractive programme, including a sterling drama and a farce. Our citizens who witnessed the performances of some of the members at the late Soldiers' and Sailors' Fair and at Mr. Barnabee's last concert, will be glad to see more of them upon the stage, and we doubt not will give them a hearty reception. Costumes and scenery for this representation will be procured from Boston, and the avails of the present entertainment are to be applied to the purchase of scenery for the Association.

VILLAINOUS RASCALITY.—We understand that most of the Navy Yard workmen's boats were cut loose from their moorings on this side the river on Thursday evening, and everal were badly stove by coming in contact with the bridge—a piece of mean depravity which should visit the perpetrators with severe punishment when the vigilant eyes of our City Marshal finds them out.

A few repetitions of such villainy would pay for two extra policemen for several years. How about reducing the police force, or in other words saving at the spigot and losing at the bung!

ACCIDENT.—Mr. John Simmonds, of Portsmouth, pattern maker, employed in the Steam Engineering Department at the Navy Yard, had the first and second fingers of his left hand badly lacerated by a circular saw, Friday forenoon. He was taken to the Hospital where the fingers were amputated at the knuckle joints.

DARK HOURS are the touch-stones to try whether we are current coin or not.

LENT begins this year on Ash Wednesday, February 10th. Good Friday comes March 26th, and Easter Sunday March 28th, which is somewhat earlier than usual.

EXCELLENT SECURITY.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE,

THIRTY-YEAR, SIX PER CENT.

GOLD BONDS OF THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD CO.

These Bonds are the duly authorized and accredited obligations of one of the most responsible Corporations of the American Continent, and are secured by an absolute first lien upon the valuable grants, franchises, railroad equipment, business, etc., of the best portion of the extending eastwardly from the navigable waters of the Pacific Coast to the lines now rapidly building from the Eastern States.

Great National Pacific Railroad Line,

They bear Six per cent. interest per annum, in gold, and both principal and interest are expressly made "payable in United States Gold Coin."

The semi-annual Coupons are payable July 1st and January 1st, in New York city.

The purchaser is charged the accrued interest from the date of the last paid Coupon, AT THE CURRENCY RATE ONLY.

The issue of Bonds constitutes one of the LARGEST AND MOST POPULAR CORPORATE LOANS of the country, and hence will be constantly dealt in.

The greater portion of the Loan is now in the hands of steady investors; and it is probable that before many months, when the Road is completed and the Loan closed, THE BONDS WILL BE EARNESTLY SOUGHT FOR AT THE HIGHEST RATES.

They are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds granted by the government to the Pacific Railroad Companies.

Nearly FIVE HUNDRED MILES of the road are now built, and the grading is well advanced on two hundred and fifty miles additional.

THE THROUGH LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT will be completed by the middle of next year, when the Overland travel will be very large.

The local business alone, upon the completed portion, is so heavy, and so advantageous, that the gross earnings average more than a quarter of a million in gold per month, of which 35 per cent. only is required for operating expenses.

The net profit upon the Company's business on the completed portion is about double the amount of annual interest liabilities to be assumed thereupon, and will yield A SURPLUS OF NEARLY A MILLION IN GOLD after expenses and interest are paid—even if the thorough connection were not made.

The best lands, the richest mines, together with the largest settlement and nearest markets, lie along this portion of the Pacific Railroad, and the FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF BUSINESS thereon will be proportionately great.

From these considerations it is submitted that the

CENTRAL PACIFIC BAILROAD

BONDS,

secured by a First Mortgage upon so productive a property, are among the most promising and reliable securities now offered. No better Bonds can be made.

A portion of the remainder of this Loan is now offered to investors at

103 PER CENT., AND

ACCRUED INTEREST, IN CURRENCY.

The Bonds are of $1,000 each.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price at any time; but all orders actually in transitu at the time of any such advance will be filled at present price. At this time they pay more than eight per cent. upon the investment, and have, from National and State laws, guarantees peculiar to themselves.

The first Mortgage Bonds are of $1,000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, payable in July and January. Both INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL ARE MADE EXPRESSLY PAYABLE IN UNITED STATES GOLD COIN. The back interest from July 1st is charged only at the currency rates.

We receive all classes of Government Bonds, at their full market rates, in exchange for the Central Pacific Railroad Bonds, thus enabling the holders to realize from FIVE TO TEN PER CENT. PROFIT and keep the principal of their investments equally secure, and receive the same rate of interest for a longer period.

Orders and inquiries will receive prompt attention. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, etc., giving a full account of the Organization, Progress, Business and Prospects of the Enterprise furnished on application. Bonds sent by return Express at our cost.

CARTER'S COMBINED

WRITING AND COPYING INK.

This Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in NEW YORK, BOSTON, and BALTIMORE, and pronounced by the most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.

It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.

The Advantages of this over other Inks are:

First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.
Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.
Third. It will not mold.
Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it therefore does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.
Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.
Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.
Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always "makes its mark."

This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's, or any other Writing fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould. For Sale by

THE UNION PACIFIC

RAILROAD COMPANY

OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR.

NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES

Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole

Grand Line to the Pacific

Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.

The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taken [as a] whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies [after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.

Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.

Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,386,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.

Morning Chronicle.

STORE OF A LONDON CURBLER.

In the rear of the splendid town residence of Lord L——, and facing on a much humbler street (for in large cities like London it is impossible for wealth to avoid being jostled occasionally by poverty), dwelt an industrious son of St. Crispin.

Now, it happened, that the shoemaker was the father of a family almost numerous enough to qualify him for the responsible berth of a parish beadle, and being the father of eight, it required a continuous exertion of his physical powers to procure them the absolute necessaries of life. He was of course necessitated to work early and late; and the rat-a-tat-tat of the shoemaker's hammer, long before light in the morning, naturally disturbed the family of Lord L——, who are of that unfortunate class who are compelled by the requirements of fashionable society to convert night into day.

Lord L—— would have slept soundly under the very snort of the locomotive, but his lady was unluckily the possessor of one of those intensely nervous temperaments which naturally recoil at anything approaching the humdrum confusion of plebian pursuits. The noise of the shoemaker's hammer was two much for her delicate organization, and she would awaken Lord L—— from his blissful slumbers, oftimes at the very point of a happy consummation of his dreams, by reminding him of that horrid noise in the rear. Lord L—— was phlegmatic and foggy, by no means a savant, though an intense admirer of Lady L——, who was talented. He possessed none of the repellant discrimination of his lady, and would have preferred the society of some clever representative of Billingsgate to that of a minister of the church of England.

But as we have said he believed implicitly in Lady L——, and anything calculated to annoy that most excellent lady, must be removed at any cost. Of course, after consuming the night, and three or four hours of the morning in the enjoyment of patrician pleasures, it was absolutely necessary to Lady L——, whose brilliant talents were perpetually on the stretch during those intoxicating moments, that she should have the privilege of commanding a few moments of undisturbed quiet out of the twenty-four hours allotted to the day, without suffering the inalienable prerogatives of her nobility to be disturbed by a vulgar and designing cordwainer.

Lord L—— and his lady had returned about four in the morning from the reception of the distinguished Duchess of ——, his lordship being in a blissful state of self-unconsciousness from the potent effects of certain wines of marvelous antiquity, and her ladyship highly charged with the brilliant bon-mots which had fallen like pearls from the eloquent lips of a distinguished savant whose erratic disposition inclined him to a suite of apartments, including one room upon the attic floor. But scarcely had Lady L—— resigned herself luxuriously to the arms of Morpheus, when she was suddenly recalled to the vulgar realities of a practical existence by that everlasting thumping of the father of eight children in the rear.

She gave Lord L—— a sharp punch in the ribs which aroused him in an instant to that astonishing state of self-unconsciousness which led him to inquire in a somewhat testy, though oblivious manner—

"Lord bless me! Lady L——, what's the matter? What are you driving at my ribs for? You have thumped them now till they are sorer than Balaam's donkey. Why can't you let a poor fellow rest?"

"I really believe my lord you would go to sleep in a hornet's nest, or on the brink of a crater!" exclaimed her ladyship petulantly. "I really wish sometimes I were as happily and stupidly organized as you are. I should not be disturbed by the everlasting thumping of that horrid creature is the rear."

"Ugh!" said his lordship, sleepily, "leave me alone this time, and I'll look to it in the morning."

"Good Heavens," cried her ladyship, renewing her manipulations upon the ribs of her lordship, "I shall positively go distracted with that odious shoemaker, unless you pay some further regard to my feelings, and put a stop to this perpetual thumping."

"Only be quiet, my lady, and I'll do it in the morning, at whatever cost," said my lord.

The fact of it was, our honest shoemaker whom the pressing wants of a large family had compelled to rise early, had commenced the labors of the day shortly after the retirement of Lord L—— and his lady, and as the lady had not thought proper to stupify herself with the same potent beverage which had operated so advantageously upon the nerves of his lordship, slumber to her was of course denied.

On the same day, at a later hour, and agreeably to his promise, Lord L—— paid the shoemaker a visit. He found him still pounding away at his humble calling, and they speedily entered into conversation. His lordship stated his wife's grievances, and desired to know if he could not wait till a reasonable hour in the morning before commencing his labors.

"Alas, my lord, I am very poor, and having the responsibility weighing upon me am obliged to work early and late to pay my little rent here and support them. It is true, if I had a little money to do with, I should open a much larger shop in a more favorable locality, and should doubtless make a very good thing of it. But poverty, my lord is a stern reality that may not be understood by people in the same walks of life as your honor."

"Ahem?" said his lordship; "how much money would it take to carry out these designs?"

"For five hundred pounds, I might open a shop and stock it handsomely, in the very heart of London. In some more obscure quarter, with advantages correspondingly less, I might open with less capital."

"Look here, my man," said Lord L——, "I am strongly inclined to favor your enterprise. I will lend you five hundred pounds to-day, upon the conditions I shall dictate to you. In a word, you shall pay me back one pound per week for this money, as long as you live, and when you die your death shall cancel the debt. I will run my own risk as regards your longevity. What do you say—will you accept the money on those terms?"

"I will, and God bless your lordship forever, and your lordship's lady, and may you live a thousand years and be happy, and may I live as long as to repay you!" exclaimed the delighted artisan, tossing aside the shoe upon which he had been thumping away all the morning. "I have realized my dream! I'll take a shop in Bond street, and serve nothing but nobility—God bless them!"

"Call at the office of my solicitor, then, in an hour, and you shall find a check there for five hundred pounds awaiting you;" and he handed him the address of the legal gentleman who transacted his business. "And hark you," said his lordship facetiously, "when you have bagged the bird, call at my clubroom in St. James street. You will find me there in the afternoon." And with this Lord L—— shook off the odor of leather and departed.

To be concluded to-morrow.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR:

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

LICENSED WHOLESALE DEALERS BY THE U. S.

Established 1854.

The goods sold by us are described in printed slips or checks, which are sent to any address at the rate of ten cents each, in clubs of ten, twenty, thirty, forty, sixty, one hundred, one hundred and fifty, two hundred, &c. For a dollar the received can buy the article described in the check, or exchange it for any one of two or three hundred other articles in our circular. As a guarantee of the worth of every article sold by us, any article on our checks can be exchanged for a WHITE BED QUILT or a SILVER-PLATED TEA SERVICE TABLE CASTOR, WITH FIVE BOTTLES. Read what the great paper of the Northwest, the Toledo Blade (Neale's paper), says of us—

"WHAT WE SAW AT THE HUB.—Curiosity led us, while recently in Boston, to visit the dollar establishment of Messrs. EASTMAN & KENDALL.—Their trade has become so immense that they now occupy four stories in the elegant block No. 65 Hanover Street. The name of this firm has become as familiar as honeybee's words' throughout the Middle and Western States, owing, we believe, during the past few years to keep down the prices of domestic articles in every day use, than all other influences combined. Most of their goods are manufactured expressly for them, as, for instance, cutlery made to their order in Sheffield, England, and imported in large quantities for their dollar trade alone."

Now is the time to get signers and send in clubs. Ladies specially wanted as agents.

Partial list of articles allowed as commission to any one sending in clubs:—

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, and remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE, 29 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:

Gentlemen, I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the peculiar characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

For COATS, PANTS and VESTS, his stock of Goods embraces all varieties of Fine, Plain and Fancy Patterns—something to suit every taste.

Particular attention is paid to the making of REGULATION UNIFORMS, for Navy or Army.

He has a remarkably complete stock in the department of

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,

Comprising Drawers, Shirts, Bosoms and Collars; Buck, Kid, Silk, Lisle Thread and Woolen GLOVES; Pocket and Neck Handkerchiefs, Neck Stocks and Scarfs, Suspenders, &c.

Every article is made faithfully, of the best materials.

THE

ORIENTAL

TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saying to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of full strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 10 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.

Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

83, 87 & 89 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.

We have appointed

JOHN STOKELL & CO.

Agents for Portsmouth.

JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Agent for Kittery.

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, and remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE, 29 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:

Gentlemen, I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the peculiar characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,

State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO., No. 5 Chatham Row, Boston.

Daniel M. Piper, one of the most respected and substantial citizens of Salisbury, was found dead in his wood shed on Tuesday. Heart disease is supposed to have caused his death.

Wm. A. Constantine, who got out of the State Prison at Concord, Nov. 30, has got back again and is at work.

At the annual meeting of the Dover Gas Light Company, 12th inst., it was voted by the Directors to reduce the price of gas to $4.10 per 1000 feet, with the national tax of 15 per cent added. It was also voted that a semi-annual dividend of $3 a share be paid to the stockholders.

At the Senatorial Convention at Rochester, Jan. 13, George C. Peavey was nominated by 12 majority. The vote stood—Sanborn 8, Smith 11, Peavey 31.

Parties from Portland are enjoying fishing in Lake Winnepesaukee under the most favorable circumstances. They have a house on the ice which they move from place to place at pleasure. They make their hole in the ice directly under the house, and then fish away to their hearts' content, with a good fire near at hand, and entirely protected from Jack Frost.

Fletcher J. Gamsby of Strafford, has caught the past season, 3 bears, 16 foxes, 12 mink, 5 fishers, 2 loons, 2 skunks, 22 muskrats, and 2 wild cats, for which he has realized over two hundred dollars, including the State bounty on bears. He has not camped out over night during the time.

—The Richmond Journal says that the feeling manifested by late rebels over the death of John Minor Botts was that of extreme joy, and that it was more open than that manifested at President Lincoln's assassination, because there was less fear of public vengeance.

[It is doubtful whether there can be a meaner man than a Virginian rebel: the northern copperhead who sides with him may be as mean; but we don't think any body goes before him.]

RUN'S DOINGS.—A few nights since a man named Weathers belonging in Louisville, Ky., while under the influence of liquor, asked his little boy, five years old, to spell a word which it was impossible for the child to do. Weathers seized him by the hair and picked up a stick and beat the child until the flesh upon its body was lacerated in many places, heeding not the cries of the little one who plead for mercy. He then picked it up and held it over a hot fire in the stove until its whole body was burned to a blister. Weathers was subsequently arrested.

The Tribune Almanac and Political Register for 1869, is just received from the publishers. It is the most complete and reliable record we have of elections and officers of government.

—On the last day of the year 1868, died the veteran missionary to the American Indians, Rev. Cyrus Byington, after a protracted illness, at Balpre, Ohio.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

THE WEATHER continues remarkably mild for the season, and January thus far has been quite as propitious as March in ordinary seasons. A fall of hail and sleet, followed by an inch or two of snow on Monday, made capital sleighing, which pleasant weather rendered exceedingly attractive, and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, our streets were lively with the merry music of the bells attached to fashionable and more modest turnouts, and all the riders appeared to enjoy themselves intensely.

By reference to our files and comparing past and present we deduce the following facts:

Average Temperature of Dec. 1867,	20.91
" " " " " " 1868,	24.58
Average of Jan. '68 to 15th,	23.40
" " " " '69 " "	32.25

From our files we learn that the winter of 1857-8 to the close of January was a remarkably mild one. The Journal of Jan. 23, 1858, says:

"If it was not for the almanac, we might think we were enjoying a Spring month. As yet we have had but three days this winter when runners could be used. The ground in Portsmouth is dry and dusty. There has been but two mornings in the last two months when the thermometer has been below 15 above zero, and then only to 8 and 5 above."

From the Journal of Jan. 2, 1858, we learn that the average temperature of the month of December preceding was 22.27, and the issue of Jan. 30 informs us that the average temperature of January to the 29th was 29.68—being warmer than any corresponding month since 1819. In February following the mercury on five days descended below zero, and on two days early in March to 0. We think it safe to predict that we shall have cold weather yet, notwithstanding the "signs" to the contrary.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
ONE OF THE BEST MEDICINES. Probably the very best ever prescribed, for the numerous and distressing ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS, is Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. Headache, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Faintness, Loss of Appetite, Bearing-down Pain, Prostration of Strength, Retained, Excessive, Irregular or Painful Menses—all yield to its magic power. For Hysteria, Etiency, Melancholy, &c., it is all but infallible. It is also most valuable to ladies who are experiencing the change incident to advanced years. Their health is that period is paramount, make their appearance, if any lie lurking about the system, and give caste to remaining days.—Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator greatly assists nature at this important period, maintaining the vigor and tranquility of early life, and carrying them with ease and safety through.

IMPORTANT CERTIFICATE.
[Communicated by a Physician.]
Some months ago I was called to attend a lady of Williamsburg, N. Y., who had long been suffering from troublesome uterine diseases. Its presence was marked by constant vaginal discharge, sometimes of a watery consistency and sometimes creamy and muco-purulent. She had been under other treatment for some time, but constantly she grew worse. Vaginal examination disclosed extensive induration and ulceration of the cervix uteri. The uterine inflammation, which was evidently assuming a chronic form, was also aggravated by long-standing constipation, palpitation of the heart, night-sweats, great loss of appetite, and almost daily faintings. She fainted to entire insensibility during one of my first visits. I commenced, of course, by such active local treatment as the ulceration demanded, and then applied myself to a recuperation of the general health. It was inconvenient to her to see frequently, and except to mark the healing of the ulcers, in the early stages, I visited her only every other week. For tonic and constitutional invigorant, Dodd's Nervine only was prescribed. I had sometime before become acquainted with its properties, and knew of nothing more safe or satisfactory in its probable effects. And the result completely justified my expectations. In less than a fortnight the bowels had become free and regular in their movements, the nightly sweats disappeared, her appetite began to grow. The fainting spells became less frequent, and soon ceased altogether. In another fortnight there was no more cough, the vaginal discharge was sensibly diminishing, sleep was normal and refreshing, and the general health decidedly improved. What remains now to tell? The patient continued the use of the Nervine, (and no other medicine) for some weeks longer, when my further attendance was not required. Since her recovery I have seen her but once. She seems perfectly well. Her joy over restored health is natural, enough more so perhaps than ever before had a medicine give her such comfort—and such appetite—and such sleep—and such courage—and such strength. She wonders if my to keep house again without it, and so forth, and so forth. It is my opinion that the Nervine is the best tonic and corrective of the female organisation that has ever come under my observation, and I shall not fail to continue its use in all similar cases, and the profession know they are numerous enough.

MONDAY, JAN. 18, 1869.

The News.

Judge Barker of Buffalo, N. Y., has decided that a man's wife can not be his partner in business.

Indiana has no law against prize fighting.

Only 45 more days of Andrew Johnson.

Washington is gay.

Portland's masquerade ball was big.

The treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the settlement of the Alabama claims, has been signed by Mr. Johnson, the American Minister, and Earl Clarendon, the British Foreign Secretary, on the basis of the original protocol.

At last accounts from Paraguay, the allies held Villeta and Angostura. Many cannon, and large stores of ammunition and provisions fell into their hands. The losses of the Paraguayans in killed and wounded in the recent battles were very heavy. A report from Paraguayan sources claims that the allied forces lost six thousand men, killed and wounded in the battle which took place on the 5th of December. Gen. Argolla was mortally wounded in this fight.—Gen. McMahon, the American Minister, was in the Paraguayan camp. Good understanding exists between President Lopez and the American minister.

Hunneman, the hand fire engine builder, is dead.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has prepared an amendment to the tax law, exempting newspaper publishers from the tax now imposed upon them as manufacturers.

Brevet Major R. M. Watson, 1st Infantry, one of the victims of the Glide disaster, died at New Orleans on Thursday.

New Hampshire Items.

An accident happened in Pelham recently to a party from Lawrence, by the slipping of the wagon on a narrow road. We understand that a claim of damages will be made against the town or county.

S. F. Varney, of Rochester, has one of the currency notes issued by the Province of New Hampshire, dated at Portsmouth, 1734. The rate of interest was one per cent per annum.

Mr. William Copp of Brentwood slaughtered a hog on Dec. 3d 1868, 17 months old which weighed 633 pounds.

The Rockingham County Educational Association will hold a meeting at Raymond Centre, on Tuesday, Jan. 26th commencing at 10 o clock A. M., and continuing through the day and evening. The object of the meeting is to awaken a new and greater interest in educational matters. It is desired that all the teachers in the county be present; and not only the teachers, but the Clergyman and all others who feel a lively interest in the prosperity of our schools.

New Publications.

The Manufacturer and Builder,—is the title of a new Monthly, just started in New York City. The January Number (No. 1,) contains 32 large quarto pages, and is filled with a great number of articles, Scientific, Artistic and Practical, worthy of attention by all Builders, by all who have buildings erected, and by workmen and students generally. Weston & Co., publishers; 15 cts. per number, or $1.50 per annum.

The City, is a new and smart little one cent daily, published in New York City.

The Hearth and Home.—The numbers of this new Weekly issued thus far, sustain the high character its projectors promised. The prose and poetry are excellent, and the illustrations are tasteful and well executed.

Tribune Almanac, 1869,—Joseph M. Foster has received and for sale, the Tribune Almanac for 1869, containing besides the usual astronomical matter, abstracts of the Impeachment Trial of President Johnson; the Laws and Resolutions of last Congress; the Amnesty Proclamations; the Presidential votes since 1852: and a great variety of other valuable matter. Price 20 cents.

The Galaxy for February is full of good reading, and the Publishers announce that the Magazine doubled its circulation in December. It has bold, talented, liberal, attractive writers, fine stories, and is every way deserving its high position and great prosperity.

☞ The farmers of Deerfield have just formed a "Farmers Club" which promises to be of considerable interest. All questions in relation to the subject will be discussed in an orderly, business-like manner; no town should be without such a Club, where farming is the general business. SILVAN.

Chronicle Correspondence.

KITTERY, ME., Jan. 15.

Messrs. Editors:—For the interest of any concerned, I send you a list of Officer and civilians now in authority at this Navy Yard:

Rear Admiral Joseph Lanman, Commandant;
Capt. John Guest, Executive Officer;
Commander, Clark N. Wells;
Lieut. Commander, Chas. W. Carpenter;
Com'r Wm. G. Temple, Inspector of Ordinance;
Com'r Edward Y. McCauley, Navigation Officer;
Com'r Oscar C. Badger, Equipment Officer;
Paymaster, Augustus H. Gilman, Provisions and Clothing;
Asst. Paymaster, H. T. Stanciff;
Navy Agent, Paymaster Jas. N. Carpenter;
Surgeon, Albert C. Gorgas;
Chief Engineer, David B. Macomb;
" " Wm. B. Brooks, Inspector of Steam Engineering Naval Stores;
1st Asst. Engineers, Samuel L. P. Ayers and Isaac S. Finney;
2nd Asst. Engineer, Joseph B. Upham, jr.;
Constructor, Isaiah Hanscom;
Asst. Constructor, Samuel Pook;
Boatswain, John Bartlett;
Yard Carpenter, Wm. M. Leighton;
Gunners, Thos. Robinson and Thos. Fortune;
The Foremen in the Steam Engineering Department are as follows:
Machinist, Jacob C. Crockett;
Founder, Thos. S. White;
Boiler Maker, James Norton;
Pattern Maker, Phillip S. Mizener;
Blacksmith, John Dame;
Copper and Tinsmith, Richard H. Waldron;
Laborer, Daniel L. Randall;
In the Constructor's Department we have for Foremen;
Joiner, William J. Paul;
Blacksmith, Moses Lord;
Painter, G. W. Monroe;
Boat Builder, Asa Gowen;
Machinist, John D. Swain;
Spar Maker, Daniel Neal;
Tinsmith, Peter Pray;
Cooper, Isaac D. Phillips;
Calker, Benjamin Bailey;
Laborer, Joseph Langton.
In the Department of Yards & Docks are also the following Foremen under Civil Engineer B. F. Chandler:
Mason, Andrew J. Locke;
Joiner, Joshua Stackpole;
Coppersmith and Plumber, Wm. T. Doyle;
Teamster, George D. Shannon;
Dockmaster, Joseph Neal;
Foreman Laborer, John H. Moran.
In the Bureau of Equipment, Lemuel Davis is Foreman Sailmaker; in the Ordnance Department, Joseph Williams is the Foreman Gun Carriage Maker.

About 500 mechanics and laborers are now employed on the Yard, but your correspondent learns that this number is to be reduced on the 20th by a heavy discharge in the Steam Engineering Department. The Nantasket will be floated from the Dry Dock this week, where her bottom was coppered, and preparations made to receive her machinery, now being completed at the Steam Engineering Machine Shop. This vessel was built at the Charlestown Yard, whither she goes to be fitted for sea. The Algoma launched from this Station last summer, and now at Charlestown also receiving her engines, is to return here to be fitted out. The Illinois (first class frigate,) and the Passaconaway (iron-clad) are still on stocks in the ship houses, work having ceased on them with the war. The Minnetonka (first-class frigate) lies at the wharf subject to the orders of the authorities at Washington. The Galena, Muscoota, Speedwell, and Port Fire are hauled up in ordinary.

Applicants for office on the Yard are numerous, especially for that of Master Machinist in the Bureau of Steam Engineering. Among others, we have heard the name of Mr. Albert Rix of Portsmouth mentioned in this connection. Mr. Rix has been a Quarterman on the Yard for several years, and has had charge of nearly all the marine engine repairing done during that time.

He is no wire-puller; is a firm Republican and a capable mechanic. Honest and upright in purpose, we think he would serve the Government as well as any man who could be selected. REF.

☞ The Congregational Council commenced its session in Washington, Wednesday. Dr. J. Thompson of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, was chosen Moderator, and Dr. A. H. Quint, Secretary. A statement was presented by the Church and its Pastor denying the right of the Council to consider the dismissal of the Pastor, Rev. Dr. Boynton, who evidently considers himself to be some great one, and who, as evidently, ought to be anywhere, rather than in a Congregational Church.

The Council, in their result, unanimously vindicate Gen. Howard, condemn the conduct of Dr. Boynton, and doubt the success of the enterprise if he remains pastor. They also censure some acts of the minority. This Council was selected by Dr. B. and his party.

WALT WHITMAN.—The following is supposed to be an original poem by Wh^tm^n:

I am W^t Wh^tm^n.
You are an idiot.
O intellectual lingeritations of creeds!
To such I am antiseptic.
I met a man.
Where?
In a gutter. We were at once friends.
O! homogeneities of contemporaneous antiloxodramacity!
He would try to stand on his head. O divinely-erupolant hysteron-proteron!
"Our meeting," he said, "is a palingenesis o Paradise; hast thou, O philadelphian, hast thou eighteen pence?"
I embraced him—I wept. I have it not, I shrieked—or—" " " " "
Whom do I love? Whom do I admire? Not two lounging in a carriage, but twelve bulging out of a cart.
I am not respectable. You are an idiot.
I am W^t Wh^tm^n. Once a Week.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A DISTINGUISHED Methodist Minister and prominent Temperance Lecturer once remarked that go where he would, from one end of the country to the other, he hardly ever failed to find PLANTATION BITTERS, and while he condemned the practice of using these Bitters too freely, he could not conscientiously say that he would discard them from the side-board, for he himself had experienced beneficial results from their use, and that, from a long and close observation, he was convinced that when used moderately, and as a medicine exclusively, they were all that was recommended. At the same time he warned his hearers not to pull the cork too often, for they were far to pleasant a tonic to trifle with. 13

PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE,
NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,
(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Corresponding Physicians and Surgeons, &c.

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats upon the Diseases, Decay, Premature Decline of Manhood, Seminal Weakness, and all Diseases and Abuses of the Generative Organs. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, —young men in particular. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered to the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very first engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life,—Marriage,—Beauty, Its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excesses of the Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class paper in every respect,—8 pages, 32 columns,—published on the 1st of February, and every alternate month for a year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

THE MACHINE, CALLED MAN,

is a very complicated and delicate one, and is more liable to get out of order, and much more difficult to repair, than any combination of wheels and cranks and levers made by the hands of man. As a rule it is blistered too much, and badly tinkered with. It is often calomelized, narcotized, depleted, and otherwise misused, when all that it really needs is a wholesome tonic and restorative, like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS to put it in proper trim and keep it so. The stomach is shamefully maltreated. In the first place, the food which its juices are intended to dissolve, is too frequently thrown into it hastily, and in a half-masticated condition, in which state the gastric acid cannot properly act upon it. The result is dyspepsia. Then comes the doctor, and, finding the digestive organs weak and the bowels inert, he proceeds to weaken and paralyze still more with drastic purgatives. These failing—as they always do—to produce a salutary change, he tells the invalid that medical science can do no more for him. This, with all due deference, is a mistake—one of those mistakes which Talleyrand said were tantamount to crimes. What the dyspeptic needs is invigoration. Strengthen the stomach with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and the stomach will strengthen every other part of the human machine, and make it, in common parlance, as good as new. Upon the state of the digestion depends, in a measure, the condition of the whole system. Yes, the Bitters are the most admirable tonic known. They consist of the purest vegetable invigorants and restoratives, combined with an unadulterated stimulant. The dyspeptic needs nothing else to effect a cure, except a light, nutritious diet, and a fair amount of exercise. Even in the absence of these last mentioned accessories, the tonic and stimulant keep alive the vital spark, and maintain a good habit of body, in spite of the drawbacks of a sedentary occupation.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient recovers the disease and gains well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the duct of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the digestion to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either bleeding at times, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make healthy blood out of food. Now what chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to relish food, it will digest well and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow fleshy nature commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 36 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y jx4

CERTIFICATE FROM A. F. STERLING, ESQ.:

For two years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and found only temporary relief from all the various remedies that I have tried, until I applied one of "ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS." I cut it into three strips, placing one under each shoulder blade and the other over the small of the back, and for the past three months I have had scarcely a twinge of the old pain. I advise all who suffer from nervous diseases to lose no time in making a trial of the wonderful plaster.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, we seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no mineral nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

"GRAND EXPOSE" OF A SECRET REBEL, COPPER, DEMOCRATIC LODGE IN PORTSMOUTH.—Our readers are probably conversant with the fact that there is and has been during the past year or more a secret Order in this city, run in the interests and for the benefit of Copperocracy. Learning of this fact, we have had one of our vigilant reporters on the track of the conspirators for several weeks, and as he is not easily thrown off the scent, he has succeeded in obtaining the information given below, and promises some very interesting developments after the plans now in abeyance shall have become matured. We give the expose in his own language.

I propose to give you a few ideas and truths regarding this secret order, and intend to show up from time to time some of its evil workings. It has existed here something more than a year, and there it is where they carry on secretly their diabolical works in order to influence and perhaps to carry our City and County elections in their favor; and in fact their influence has, in a greater or less degree, been felt in the Republican ranks, by their endeavors to cause, in a secret manner, dissatisfaction among the weak-minded and shaky-kneed Republicans in regard to good and honest men, regular nominees of the Republican party. If you doubt the truth of this, as one convincing proof look at our handsome majority for Gen. Grant, and then look at the defeat of our Soldier for Mayor, and the success of one who was always bitterly opposed to us. Many such instances I might record, but the occasion does not demand it, as I desire to show some of our unstable Republicans how they may enter the rebel camp, and give them a little insight into the initiatory work.

In the first place you will pay your dollar to some one authorized by the Lodge to receive it, as an initiatory fee. Said fee goes into their corruption fund, for the purpose of buying and making Copperhead voters. Upon your entrance to the ante-room you are tried, and if proved worthy you will be taken in charge and conducted to the porthole in the door entering the main hall, (say for instance the so-called Union Hall), and after the signal has been given and answered, you will be admitted, and proceed on your journey through Pandemonium. You pass along a raised platform between two large walls of sheet-iron, behind which are stationed persons who serve you with delectable music while you are travelling through blindfolded; you proceed to the end of the platform and very suddenly step down upon a smaller and lower one on wheels; you will of course receive a sudden and severe fall, oftimes causing quite severe bodily injury. You are then placed in a standing position, and said in liberal quantities is poured slowly down your back, inside your shirt collar.

You are then obliged to take the most solemn oaths to support the so called Democratic party, its principles and its nominations. You are then declared a Brother and True Blue, dyed in the wool, Copperhead,—or perhaps a more correct interpretation would be, Ku-Klux.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—I send you the following particulars of the great eclipses that will take place during the remainder of the 19th century, that will be visible and highly interesting in the New England and Southern States. Of the Sun, August 7, 1869: this will be grand and majestic, particularly in Virginia and North Carolina, where it will be total and of long continuance: in Portsmouth and Boston ten-twelfths of the sun's diameter will be obscured. The next important eclipse of the sun will be July 29th, 1878: this will not be total in any of the United States, but will be a little south of them, in the Gulf of Mexico, and City of Mexico. Then comes the great solar eclipse of May 28, 1900: this will be central and total in Virginia and North Carolina, and will be a grand and sublime spectacle, total darkness continuing for over five minutes: at Portsmouth and Boston, eleven-twelfths of the sun will be covered. These will be the only important eclipses of the sun, visible in New England, that will take place during the present century.

Important eclipses of the Moon will take place August 28, 1877; Jan. 12, 1881; April 10, 1884; Oct. 4, 1884; Jan. 28, 1888; July 28, 1888; Mar. 10, 1895; Sept. 4, 1895, and Dec. 27, 1898. These will all be total in the New England States. All the others will be small, and without much interest.

Yours, TYRO.

BARNABEE.—The splendid series of Concerts have given such gratification to the patrons, and having failed to remunerate Mr. Barnabee, it is proposed to give him a Benefit Concert at fifty cents a ticket, which announcement was favorably received by the audience at his last, and we trust the movement will be successfully carried out.

All disposed to give their aid to the project, are invited to call immediately at W. R. Preston's Apothecary Store, and leave their names for tickets. We echo the words of a correspondent: "Let the Temple be filled to its utmost capacity."

NEW PORTSMOUTH DIRECTORY:—1869. Messrs. Dudley & Greenough of Boston, are commencing the canvass for a new directory of our City. Many changes have taken place since the last issue, and a new edition will be found to be a useful and necessary work for our business men, and all who have occasion to refer to it. Everything will be done that experience can suggest to have a reliable and correct guide to the residences and business of Portsmouth.

The compilation, &c., will be under superintendance of Mr. W. A. Greenough, Jr., whose experience in works of this kind throughout New England, and elsewhere, is an assurance that we will have a model directory.

We hope the business men of Portsmouth, will encourage the enterprise in their usual generous manner, by liberally inserting their Advertisement in its pages.

A supplement containing numerous full-sized patterns of useful articles accompanies the paper every fortnight, and occasionally an elegant Colored Fashion Plate.

HARPER'S BAZAR contains 16 folio pages of the size of HARPER'S WEEKLY, printed on superfine calendered paper, and is published weekly.

Critical Notices of the Press:

HARPER'S BAZAR contains, besides pictures, patterns, etc., a variety of matter of especial use and interest to the family; articles on health, dress and housekeeping in all its branches; its editorial matter is specially adapted to the circle it is intended to interest and instruct; and it has, besides, good stories and literary matter of merit.—It is not surprising that the journal, with such features, has achieved in a short time an immense success; for something of its kind was desired in thousands of families, and its publishers have filled the demand.—New York Evening Post.

Whether we consider its claims as based upon the elegance and propriety of its paper, its typographical appearance, the taste and judgment displayed in the engravings, or the literary contributions contained in its pages, we unhesitatingly pronounce it in each and every particular to any other similar publications here or abroad.—Phila Legal Intelligencer.

We know of no foreign or American journal of fashion that can pretend to approach it in completeness and variety.—New York Times.

It has the merit of being practically useful, of conveying instruction, of giving excellent patterns in every department, and of being well stocked with good reading-matter.—Boston Traveller.

To dress according to HARPER'S BAZAR will be the aim and ambition of the women of America.—Boston Transcript.

SWETT'S PATENT
STOVE SHELF REST!
TO HOUSEKEEPERS!
Something New!
FOR YOUR
COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!
This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.
THIS INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.
PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.
It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.
Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

CARTER'S COMBINED
WRITING AND COPYING INK.
This Combined INK has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in New YORK, BOSTON, and BALTIMORE, and pronounced by the most celebrated chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.
It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations in New York and Boston, and gives perfect satisfaction.
The Advantages of this over other Inks are:
First. It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.
Second. It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.
Third. It will not mold.
Fourth. Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.
Fifth. It is more permanent than common Inks.
Sixth. The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.
Seventh. It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always "makes its mark."
This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Arnold's, or any other Writing fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould.

THE UNION PACIFIC
RAILROAD COMPANY
OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THEIR
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
AT PAR.
NINE HUNDRED AND SIXTY MILES
Of the line West from Omaha are now completed, and the work is going on through the winter. As the distance between the finished portion of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads is now less than 400 miles, and both companies are pushing forward the work with great energy, employing over 30,000 men, there can be no doubt the whole
Grand Line to the Pacific
Will be open for Business in the Summer of 1869.
The regular Government Commissioners have pronounced the Union Pacific Railroad to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:
"Taken as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, AND THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED.—The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed, are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equalled." The Report states that any deficiencies that exist are only those incident to all new roads, and that could not have been avoided without materially retarding the progress of the great work. Such deficiencies are supplied by all railroad companies after the completion of the line, when and wherever experience shows them to be necessary. The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices." The Company now have in use 137 locomotives and nearly 2000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equipment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The grading is nearly completed, and ties distributed for 120 miles in advance of the western end of the track. Fully 120 miles of iron for new track are now delivered west of the Missouri River, and 90 miles more are en route. The total expenditures for construction purposes in advance of the completed portion of the road is not less than eight million dollars.
Besides a donation from the Govt. of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $29,000 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. The Company have already received $22,158,000 of this subsidy, of which $1,280,000 was paid Dec. 6th, and $640,000 Dec. 14th.
Government Aid—Security of the Bonds.
By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the whole road and all its equipments. Such a mortgage upon what, for a long time, will be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States, takes the highest rank as a safe security. The earnings from the way or local business for the year ending June 30, 1868, on an average of 472 miles, were over FOUR MILLION DOLLARS, which, after paying all expenses, were much more than sufficient to cover all interest liability upon that distance, and the earnings for the last five months have been $2,365,870. They would have been greater, if the road had not been taxed to its utmost capacity to transport its own materials for construction. The income from the great passenger travel, the China freights, and the supplies for the new Rocky Mountain States and Territories must be ample for all interest and other liabilities. No political action can reduce the rate of interest. It must remain for thirty years—six per cent. per annum in gold, now equal to between eight and nine per cent. in currency. The principal is then payable in gold. If a bond with such guarantees were issued by the Government, its market price would not be less than from 20 to 25 per cent. premium. As these bonds are issued under Government authority and supervision, upon what is very largely a Government work, they must ultimately approach Government prices. No other corporate bonds are made so secure.
The price for the present is PAR and accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent. in currency from July 1st, '68, and subscriptions will be received in Morning Chronicle.

STORY OF A LONDON COBBLER.

Concluded.

At the proper hour, Mr. Tobias (for that was the shoemaker's name) called at the office of Lord L——'s solicitor, and agreeable to his lordship's promise, received his money. He then visited the club-room and called for L——, who presently appeared.

"Well, my man, did you raise the needfull?"

"I did," said Tobias, "and many thanks to your honor. May you never grow poorer."

"Leave alone the compliments," said his lordship significantly, "for perhaps you are not acquainted with the rules and regulations of our club."

"Alas, my lord, I am but a poor man, and know but very little beyond my humble calling."

"It is only proper then," said his lordship, "that I should enlighten you. It is the custom always among us here that whoever receives money shall stand treat, and, according to precedent, it falls upon you, you being the receiver."

"With all my heart," said Tubbs, "if you will conduct me to a suitable place for your lordship."

"That is easily done," replied Lord L——. "We patronize no other place but the Adelphi, and that you know is but a few steps. Shall we go?"

"Most assuredly, my lord. I am quite unacquainted with the rules of this established precedent," said Tubbs.

On their arrival at this fashionable retreat, Tubbs inquired of his lordship what he would take.

"I always take wine in the afternoon," said Lord L——, "shall I take the liberty to order it for you?"

"Do, if you please. I am unaccustomed as yet, to the usages of good society," said Tubbs.

"Waiter!" cried his lordship, "a bottle of Champagne de Sillery, and glasses for two!" They were brought and placed before them upon the polished slab.

"This, now, is a beverage worthy of the gods," said Lord L——, as he helped himself to the flowing bumper. "Test it Sir Knight of the Strop—I forgot your name—Tubbs."

The bottle was soon dispatched, very much to the exhilaration of Mr. Tubbs and his noble patron. The reckoning was then called for, and Mr. Tubbs discovered that the price demanded for Champagne de Sillery was two pounds.

This announcement naturally operated like an electric shock upon the nerves of Tubbs, though he settled the bill, of course, without a murmur, and soon after withdrew. He found no difficulty, now that he had money at his disposal, in securing the coveted shop in Bond street, which had so long haunted him like the spectre of a future hope, now happily realized.

The shop was filled with a choice selection of soles, of every variety and description, in accordance with Mr. Tubb's best judgment, and it was not many days before a brisk and profitable trade was opened, very much to the delight of the aspiring Tubbs, who, quite naturally, exhibited his gratitude for his benefactor by taking the one pound to the club room in St. James street, just one week from the time of his former visit. He inquired for Lord L——, who appeared soon after, as on the former occasion.

"My Lord," said Tubbs, "I have brought you the pound, agreeable to promise, and I dare say you will not hesitate to act upon the precedent you gave me a short time ago?"

"And pray, what was that?" demanded Lord L——.

"Forgive me, your Lordship, but I think it was to the effect that he who receives the money shall stand treat, and, according to precedent, it falls upon you, you being this time the receiver."

"With all my heart," returned Lord L——, "if you will name some suitable place for the occasion."

"Willingly, your lordship; but I know of no place better than the Adelphi, and that, you know, is but a step or two. Shall we go?"

His lordship saw that he was fairly caught, and with a dolorous look he led the way once more to the Adelphi. When they were seated, he asked the innocent Tubbs what he would take.

"If you will allow me to order it," said Mr. Tubbs, modestly.

"Do so, by all means," replied his lordship, who was seriously in hopes that the order would be for brandy and water for two.

"Waiter!" cried the excellent Tubbs, with an air of dignity that suited the occasion, "a bottle of Champagne de Sillery and glasses for two."

Lord L——accepted the bottle of the joke, drank his wine, settled the bill and retired.

In precisely one week after, the indefatigable Tubbs might have been seen wending his way from Bond street to St. James street, with the promissory one pound.

His lordship presented himself, but drew back suddenly upon beholding the amiable Tubbs.

"My lord, I have brought you the one pound," said the punctual and ever-grateful Tubbs.

"Look here!" cried Lord L——, gruffly, "I never saw you before. If you have a pound for me, you can take it to the devil for all I care!" and he abruptly closed the door in the astonished face of Tubbs.

Mr. Tubbs has since prospered to an extent which has already begun to warrant a coach-and-four in the mind of Mrs. Tubbs; and, though he has met Lord L——a thousand times since their last visit to the Adelphi, yet, strange to say, that nobleman has never recognized him either in person or through his solicitor. From the accounts, the Tubbs are still going up, and are seriously taking of spending the ensuing summer solstice either in Cheltenham or Brighton.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

From the Journal.

PORTSMOUTH NATIONAL BANKS.

On Thursday last the annual meetings of the several Banks in this city were held, and the following named officers elected for the year 1869:—

First National Bank.

Wm. H. Y. Hackett, President; Samuel Lord, Cashier; Wm. H. Y. Hackett, Wm. M. Shackford, Jonathan Goodwin, John Shavers and Wm. L. Dwight, Directors.

R. F. Kimball, Augustus Lord, Reuben Kimball, Clerks.

Rockingham National Bank.

Jonathan M. Tredick, President; John J. Pickering, Cashier; William Tuckerman, Teller.

Jonathan M. Tredick, George W. Haven, William F. Jones, William F. Parrott, John S. H. Frink, Directors.

National Mechanics and Traders Bank.

George L. Treadwell, President; James F. Shores, Cashier; Geo. W. Butler, Clerk.

Geo. L. Treadwell, Chas. Robinson, E. A. Stevens, W. H. Rollins, John Rice, Directors.

New Hampshire National Bank.

James P. Bartlett, President; L. S. Butler, Cashier; J. S. Pfeiffer, Teller.

James P. Bartlett, True M. Ball, William R. Fropp, John H. Butler, James N. Tarlton, Henry F. Wendell, Daniel Marcy, Directors.

Revival.—The adjourned meeting of the Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association last Friday evening, was well attended by old and original as well as younger members, and instead of voting to give away the library and wind up the affairs of the institution, the Association, stung by the rebuke and stimulated by the encouragement of the old members who told of their efforts in starting without funds, books or furniture, and building up the Society, which now has property in books and furniture worth a thousand or two dollars, and a membership amply sufficient to guarantee its continuance, determined unanimously to give their best efforts to the perpetuity and increase of its institution and carry out the design of its founders.

Drowned.—Information has reached friend here that Mr. William Lasker, formerly of this city, was drowned in Pensacola Bay on the 28th inst. We learn that he had crossed the bay with a raft of lumber, and hastened to reach home to spend Christmas; but the boat never reached Pensacola, and it was supposed the whole crew were drowned. Mr. Lasker was a worthy young man, and leaves a widow with five small children.

I. O. of O. F.—The Strawberry Bank Encampment, No. 5, I. O. of O. F., of this city had an installation of officers on Friday evening last. They were as follows: James R. Morrison, C. P.; Richard H. Waldron, H. P.; J. W. Hildreth, S. W.; Alonzo F. Craig, Scribe; Isaac Dow, Treasurer; W. Scott Stephenson, J. W. The installing officer was William W. Cotton, D. D. G. P. This Encampment has a fund of thirty-five hundred dollars, and a membership of two hundred and thirty-six—the largest in the State—and is still increasing.

Union Prayer Meetings have been held nearly every evening for the past fortnight at the churches and chapels of the Congregationalist, Calvin Baptist, Methodist, Christian, and Freewill Baptist societies, in this city, with considerable and growing interest. Several hundred were unable to find seats at the Pearl street Church Thursday evening. The meetings will be continued next week, that on Sunday evening being at the Middle street Baptist Church.

Rev. James DeNormandie, pastor of the Unitarian Society of this city, last Sabbath referred to the fact that the day was the seventh anniversary of his ministerial labors, his first sermon having been preached in that church, where he was installed the following October.—Journal 16th.

Personal.—We regret to learn that our esteemed fellow-townsman, Thos. D. Bailey, Esq. now visiting in New York, had a paralytic attack about a fortnight since. He is now recovering.

Dr. Adams Perry of this city has been confined by severe sickness a week past, but we are glad to learn is regaining his health.

We are happy to announce that Col. Joshua W. Peirce, who has been suffering with severe illness for a few weeks, is rapidly improving.

Concrete Walks.—This material is fast taking the place of everything else for walks, street pavements, cellar and stable floor—every place where stone, brick or any other material has been previously used. It has been tested not only by some of the citizens of Dover, (says the Enquirer) but by thousands in other places, and found to be just the article needed. We copy the following from the N. Y. Express:

"It certainly makes a very splendid surface to walk upon, being slightly elastic; and makes a capital road. The crazing noise, the dust in dry weather, and the mud in wet weather, are some of the annoyances from which the public are trying to escape."

Saved by clubbing together and buying COTTON CLOTH, DRESS GOODS, WOOLEN GOODS, HOSIERY, BLANKETS, SHAWLS, &c., &c. Gletcher with BOOTS and SHOES, BONNETS, CUTLERY, SILVER-PLATED WARE, CASTORS, FANCY GOODS, &c., of

EASTMAN & KENDALL,

65 Hanover Street, Boston, Mass.,

Licensed Wholesale Dealers by the U. S.

Established 1864.

The goods sold by us are described in printed slips or checks, which are sent to any address at the rate of ten cents each, in clubs of ten, twenty, thirty, forty, sixty, one hundred, one hundred and fifty, two hundred, &c. For a dollar the receiver can buy the article described in the check, or exchange it for any one of two or three hundred others like it in our circular. As a guarantee of the worth of every article sold by us, any article on our checks can be exchanged for a WHITE BRIDGE QUILT or a SILVER-PLATED REVOLVING TABLE CASTOR, WITH FIVE BOTTLES. Read what the great paper of the Northwest, the Toledo Blade (Nasby's paper), says of us:

"WHAT WE SAW AT THE HUB.—Curiosity led us, while recently in Boston, to visit the dollar establishment of Messrs. EASTMAN & KENDALL.—Their trade has become so immense that they now occupy four stories in the large block No. 65 Hanover Street. The name of this firm has become as familiar as household words throughout the Middle and Western States, while as prompt and honorable business men they are endorsed by the best firms in their own city. Their Club system of selling goods has become, we believe, during the past few years to keep down the prices of domestic articles in every day use, than all other influences combined. Most of their goods are manufactured expressly for them, as, for instance, cutlery made to their order in Sheffield, England, and imported in large quantities for their dollar trade alone."

Now is the time to get signers and send in clubs. Ladies specially wanted as agents.

Partial list of articles allowed as commission to any one sending in clubs:—

CLUB OF THIRTY. ($3.) 21 yards bleached or unbleached Cotton Cloth. Photograph Album, 100 pictures, elegant Morocco Binding. Revolving oval band. Silver-Plated Table Castor, 5 bottles. Ladies' Dress Pattern. A Lady's richly-ornamented Black Walnut Writing Desk. Fancy Cassimere Pants Pattern. Large, White, all Linen Table Cover. White Lancaster Counterpane. 20 yards Calico. Alhambra Bed Quilt. Ladies' Morocco Shopping Bag. Good Cottage Clock.

CLUB OF SIXTY. ($6.) 42 yards Bleached or Unbleached Cotton Cloth. Fashionable Dress Pattern. 3½ yards wool Cassimere for Pants and Vest Pattern. Fashionable woolen Shawl. White Marseilles Quilt. Ladies' Fine Calf Boots. Ladies' Morocco Shopping Bag. Lady's Fashionable Cloak Pattern. Pair good white woolen Blankets. Black Alpaca Dress Pattern. Gent's double-width waterproof Cloaking. 6 yards Farmers' good wool Frocking. Rosewood Brass Alarm Clock. Lady's Fur Muff. Set Misses' Furs, Muff and Collar.

CLUB OF ONE HUNDRED. ($10.) 65 yards good Bleached or Unbleached Cotton Cloth, one yard wide. Lady's or Gent's New Silver Hunting Case Watch. Fashionable Dress Pattern. Elegant Black Alpaca Dress Pattern. One pair of good white woolen Blankets, large size. Lady's Fashionable Double woolen Shawl. Two large, fine, Bleached Linen Table Cloths, with one dozen large sized Dinner Napkins to match. 25 yards Hemp Carpeting. 7½ yards fine Cassimere for suit. One dozen Ivory Handled Steel Blade Knives and Forks. One dozen Rogers' best Silver Plated Forks on white metal. Portable Sewing Machine. Fashionable Dress Pattern, double-width Waterproof Cloaking. Set of Furs, Muff and Collar.

It is impossible to give a complete list of goods, but Agents desiring a circular to work by, will please mention them, and we will accommodate them if possible. If you have a club ready, or intend to form one, send for a club house, and be sure to SEND IT TO US, AND AT THE SAME TIME ASK FOR OUR NEW CIRCULAR AND MAMMOTH EXCHANGE LIST. Parties acting as agents for other dollar houses in this city will please send us their address, and that of a dozen or so of their male and female friends, as we can make it for their advantage to do so. Male and female agents wanted as usual.

Send Money in Registered Letter in every instance, and we guarantee that it will come perfectly safe.

N. B. Our sale should not be classed with dollar jewelry sales and gift enterprises. Send in a decision respecting our business by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, dated Washington, Nov. 6, 1868. If you want prompt returns for your money, send your clubs to us.

THE

ORIENTAL

TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to Fine Flavored Teas, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $20 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

88, 87 & 89 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.

We have appointed

JOHN STOKELL & CO.

Agents for Portsmouth,

JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Agent for Kittery.

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp sores. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

State Assayer's Office,
20 State Street, Boston.

Messrs. Hursell, Wood & Co:

Gentlemen—I have tested Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which will give to it the desirable qualities of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,

State Assayer for Massachusetts.

People Will Talk.

We may get through this world, but 'twill be very
If we listen to all that is said as we go; [slow,
We'll be worried and fretted and kept in a stew;
For meddlesome tongues must have something to
For people will talk, you know. [do—

If quiet and modest, you'll have it presumed
That your humble position is only assumed, [fool;
You're a wolf in sheep's clothing, or else you're a
But don't get excited, keep perfectly cool—
For people will talk, you know.

If generous and noble, they'll vent out their spleen,
You'll hear some loud hints that you're selfish and
If upright or honest and fair as the day, [mean.
They'll call you a rogue, in a sly sneaking way—
For people will talk, you know.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart,
Or a slight inclination to take your own part,
They will call you an upstart, conceited and vain;
But keep straight ahead, don't stop to explain—
For people will talk, you know.

If threadbare your coat, or old fashioned your hat,
Some one, of course, will take notice of that,
And hint very strong that you can't pay your way;
But don't get excited, whatever they say—
For people will talk, you know.

If you dress in the fashion, don't think to escape,
For they'll criticise then, in a different shape;
You're ahead of your means, or your tailor's unpaid; [said—
But mind your own business, there's nought to be
For people will talk, you know.

If a fellow but chance to converse with a girl,
How the gossips will talk, and their scandal unfurl;
They'll canvass your wants or (talk of your means)
And declare you're engaged to a chit in her teens,
For people will talk, you know.

They'll talk fine before you, but then at your back
Of venom and slander there's never a lack—
How kind and polite in all that they say!
But bitter as gall when you're out of the way—
For people will talk, you know.

The best way to do is to do as you please, [ease;
For your mind, if you have one, will then be at
Of course you will meet with all sorts of abuse,
But don't think to stop them, it is not any use—
For people will talk, you know.

Politeness of mind consists in the conception of honorable and delicate thoughts.

It costs a Calcutta Hindoo about a dollar and a half to have his body burned in good style.

A rural lady, observing the operation of a steam fire engine, ventured to enquire, "What is the object of boiling the water before squirting it on the fire?"

A doubtfully pious paper prints this conundrum: "When is a young man's arm like the gospel? When it maketh glad the waist places."

Actions are immortal, and our deeds now and their deservings hereafter must be the twin companions that shall walk in eternity hand in hand.

A western paper which found itself obliged to die on Thanksgiving day by reason of the visit of the sheriff, wrote its obituary notice as follows: — "No paper will be issued from this office to-morrow—or any other day."

"Has your husband got naturalized?" inquired an energetic Second Warder of a robust female "of Hibernian extraction," a few days ago. "Got natural eyes!" was the response, in an indignant tone, "yes, be goray, and natural tatin, too!"

When Theodore Hook was asked for a donation to the Society for the conversion of the Jews, he replied that he had no money to give away; but if they sent him a Jew, he would try and convert him. This was not quite what the society required, and Hook never heard from them again.

A benzinist in Albany mistook an undertaker's shop for a restaurent the other night, and woke up the office boy and demanded "a dozen fresh ones on the half shell." He was told that the establishment did not furnish food for the living but coffins for the dead.—"All right," he replied in muddled tones, "I'll take a little coffee?"

A boy was sent by his mother to saw some stove wood out of railroad ties.—Going out shortly after she found the youth sitting on the saw-horse with his head down. The mother asked her son why he didn't keep at his work. The boy replied thus: "My dear mother, I find it hard, very hard, to sever old ties."

☞ The annual auction of pews and seats in Henry Ward Beecher's church in Brooklyn, took place last week, and made a total income of $54,683; more by about $5000 than that of the preceding year. On Thursday evening the annual meeting of the Plymouth Society was held. The treasurer's report showed that the receipts the previous year were $62,479.67, of which over $50,000 were from pew-rents. The total expenditures had amounted to $62,479.67. The tax for water for running the large organ was $197.

THE EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.

All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the course with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.

Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.

Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution Plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.

Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)

Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)

The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.

All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.

No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.

Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.
